High Powered Wall Street Attorneys in The Pilgrims Society

Take 32 seconds to hear what should be The Pilgrims theme music!

Presented July 2015 by Charles Savoie

Please bear in mind that information as to confirmable members remains very limited; around 88% of members in London and New York are currently unidentifiable as to unquestionable documentation. Therefore, the influence this group has in various spheres is far greater than what these profiles suggest! The one exception is that we know that all Ambassadors to and from England are members, plus all British UN Ambassadors. American Ambassadors to the U.N. are chancier and many may end up at the level of the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR) and may not rise higher, with an occasional exception. This detail on U.S. Ambassadors to the U.N. is current as of this writing or till we find the Society has taken all these U.N. Ambassadors into its fold. Robert Cutting Lawrence III, to be profiled in #26, Royalty & Noble Hereditary Ancestry in The Pilgrims, is a Wall Street attorney and could also be included here as could Sir Thomas Ronald Moore, also to be visited in twenty-six. A documentary about past members from the Wall Street legal community would reveal working control over the entire upper echelons legal system of the country.

1) James D. Zirin (Pilgrims United States, executive committee member) here's his site where he states his membership--- married Marlene Hess, daughter of Leon Hess, who headed Amerada-Hess Petroleum Corporation from 1969 to 1995. Hess apparently wasn't a member, or so it seems to me, because no roster is yet available for 1981 to 1995. Many fortunes are represented by marriage in The Pilgrims. As of 1984 Hess became sole owner of the New York Jets football team. That's confirmation that the elite use professional sports to keep the public distracted from the legislative process, so we can continue to be screwed, in addition to using the mania of pro sports to vacuum money away from the public. At one time, Hess owned the world's largest oil refinery and a chain of retail gasoline stations. Marlene Hess Zirin is a trustee of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in NYC. In a 1990 release, the New York Times called Marlene Hess a "banking executive" without naming any specific bank. It mentioned her father as chairman of the New York Jets football club. The Jets were later sold with Goldman Sachs handling the transaction. Marlene Hess got $55 million from the deal. As of 2014, her brother's net worth was rated as $1.2 billion. Bloomberg reports that Marlene Hess is a trustee of North Shore Long Island Health System, Lenox Hill Hospital, and Rockefeller University. She has an office at Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts---

Searching for members of The Pilgrims Society? There are always several to be found on the board of trustees of the Metropolitan Museum---

Sidley Austin, the high powered corporate law firm Pilgrims Society official Zirin is associated with, traces its founding to John Leverett Thompson, who was a Brigadier General in the Union Army by the close of the Civil War.

At <http://www.fundinguniverse.com/company-histories/sidley-austin-brown-wood-history/> we read---

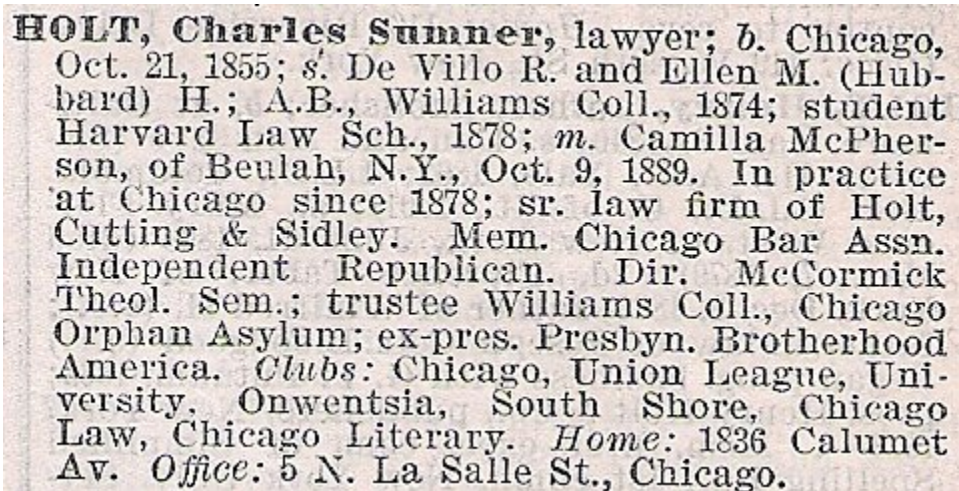

“One of the world’s largest law firms, Chicago-based Sidley Austin Brown & Wood is a legal powerhouse with several branch offices in the United States, Asia, Europe, and the Middle East. The firm has a long history in traditional industries such as electrical utilities, communications, and railroads. After World War II, it began serving clients in new areas such as healthcare, environmental affairs, and high technology. Its specialties cover the full range of a modern law practice, from intellectual property and real estate to mergers and acquisitions and complex financial transactions. As more businesses expand overseas, Sidley Austin Brown & Wood plays a major role in the world’s increasingly globalized economy.”

Pilgrims Society member William David Morrison of The Trinity Group (billions) in London who we profile elsewhere, married into Russian nobility and became linked to The Duke of Westminster (Pilgrims Society and more billions) seen below in London with James Zirin at right---

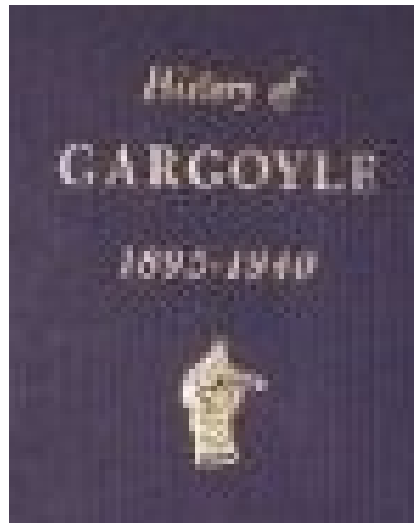

As of 1913, the partnership was known as Holt, Cutting & Sibley. Cutting is a rather scarce name and considering the heavily interlocked nature of The Pilgrims Society, I'm thinking that particular fellow was a likely relation to Robert Fulton Cutting (Pilgrims 1924) who was president of Tropical Land Company and a director of City & Suburban Homes. RFC was known as "the First Citizen of New York" due to his amazing ancestry, including the old-line wealthy landowning Bayard dynasty. His lineage also included the Livingstons, who've been mentioned often in The Silver Squelchers, and an inventor of submarines who was also a canal developer; in fact, his heritage had links to quite a few other great dynasties notably the seriously moneyed Van Rensselaers. Read about Fulton Cutting in #1 Silver Squelchers. The 2005 Who's Who in America, page 2698, shows a Robert Cutting Lawrence Jr. in The Pilgrims. Charles Sumner Holt (Who's Who in America, 1914-1915, page 1147---

Holt wasn't a member of the Gargoyle Society of Williams College, as that society was founded in 1895. However as a trustee of Williams College (Massachusetts) he'd have had some input into it. There's an impressive national network of semi-secret societies at universities---these are above the fraternities.

The main thing to notice about C.S. Holt is that he was connected to the McCormick dynasty of International Harvester (now Navistar International). The McCormicks owned huge amounts of Chicago real estate and had early representation in The Pilgrims Society. Additionally they became linked by marriage to the Rockefellers. The 1914–1915 volume, page 575, shows that the Cutting of the firm was born in Vermont, regionally speaking, a potential relation to the Robert Fulton Cutting of The Pilgrims already mentioned--- notice he was a Mason, and the entire USA legal system is pervaded still today by Masons (see any Who's Who volume) ---

Sidley Austin, where Zirin is senior counsel, has around 2,000 attorneys in offices in Beijing, Boston, Brussels, Chicago, Dallas, Geneva, Hong Kong, Houston, London, Los Angeles, New York, Palo Alto (California), San Francisco, Shanghai, Singapore, Sydney, Tokyo and Washington, District of Columbia. The 1994 Who's Who in America, page 3781 shows Zirin a law partner in Breed, Abbott & Morgan starting in 1972 and as of 1994 still in that position. BA & M is another Pilgrims law firm besides through Zirin. The listing shows during 1982-1984 Zirin was a vice president of the Federal Bar Council, which perhaps should have read Federal Bar Association. Zirin's page at Sidley Austin, among other things, mentions the following--- (my re-wording and condensed) ---

For three years Zirin was an assistant United States attorney in the financially infamous Southern District of New York, where the silver price fixing lawsuit was dismissed by Rockefeller agent Judge Patterson. During that time Zirin worked with Robert Morgenthau, son of the Treasury Secretary who in the FDR years stole gold and silver from the American public. For a 312 page report covering the infamous period of March 1933 through February 1937, with week by week, blow by blow coverage, see "Silver Confiscation---Facts & Prospects." Robert Morgenthau's grandfather, Henry Morgenthau Sr. (Pilgrims 1924) is described as "a real estate mogul and diplomat." Clients of Zirin have included Rockefeller Foundation, Merrill Lynch, Citibank, the City of New York and Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts (another Pilgrims Society project---see Amyas Ames, who was with the War Shipping Administration in World War II, Kidder, Peabody & Company and the Investment Bankers Association of America, whose grandfather was governor of Massachusetts). This quote is verbatim---

"He represented a Brazilian trader who was a significant figure in the silver debacle of 1979 and 1980."

The trader in the 1989 case was Lebanese born Brazilian tycoon Naji Nahas, who was defending against claims made by Mahmoud Fustock, an Arab associate in the Hunt brothers silver venture; his losses I haven't seen, but one of his middle eastern associates lost around $600 million (see #10 Silver Squelchers, page 51). Nahas didn't get all he attempted in court motions, which may have been how Zirin wanted it---notice his bias showing "the silver debacle." The upper reaches of the legal community are contaminated by Pilgrims Society influence; the New York Law School Alumni Association has a Vanderbilt Award (named after a founding family of The Pilgrims) and the Fund for Modern Courts has the John Jay McCloy Memorial Award (named after one of the most important Pilgrims Society members representing the major Rockefeller faction in The Society). The FMC site features the name Engelhard, probably not a coincidence. At the Museum of Modern Art in New York, Zirin at right with his wife Marlene at left. Susan and David Rockefeller Jr. flanked by them. Junior is a Pilgrims Society member like his father and earlier ancestors, except that I currently have no way to prove it---

Zirin recovered over $100 million for Armco Steel against Allied Chemical---both Pilgrims Society interests. While monolithic, there are conflicts within the Society, but they're always on the inside--- never favoring the public and the matter of the existence of The Pilgrims Society is kept in the dark---black as a raven's wing in a coal mine at midnight, with the viewer blindfolded.

Zirin dispossessed teachers of over $2 billion in litigation representing the City of New York. While The Pilgrims Society does provide a globalist agenda to teachers and professors by way of its many entities, led by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, it is certainly ever ready to lower their standard of living along with the rest of us who are at all times in its sights.

Zirin has written more than 200 editorial articles for Forbes, Barron's, London Times, New York Sun, Washington Times, New York Law Journal and others. Let me know if you check them out and find he mentioned his Pilgrims Society activities!

The Washington Times

New York
Law Journal

His info states he's a member of the (anti-silver) Economic Club of New York and the Council on Foreign Relations, but here he comes off as just too shy about The Pilgrims Society to mention his activities therein. Quoting verbatim again about Zirin, we read---

"In August 2003, Mayor Michael R. Bloomberg appointed him to the New York City Commission to Combat Police Corruption. He is a member of the Grievance Committee Attorney Panel for the Southern District of New York. He is a Fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers, a former chair of its International Law Committee and a past chair of its Alternatives for Dispute Resolution Committee; a member of the advisory board of the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs of Princeton University; a trustee of New York Law School; and a member of the Consolidated Corporate Fund Leadership Committee of the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts. He is a member of the Board of Editors of the New York Law Journal. This past year, Mr. Zirin was elected to the International Academy of Trial Lawyers and is a member of its International Committee. He is also the host of “Digital Age,” a cable television talk show which covers, among other things, legal issues as applied to the Internet and technology.”

Bloomberg is another figure in the bracket with Bill Gates, Warren Buffet, Larry Ellison, Jerry Speyer and George Soros who are very likely members, but to date there is no list available to prove it. There's every reason to conclude the current list has the same type of characters as previous lists. Speyer became chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York in 2007 and is related to the Speyer in the 1940 Pilgrims roster. I don't know what Zirin's idea of combating police corruption could be other than, one of them made the mistake of razzing an elitist and that they're not supposed to do! We notice a second reference to Zirin active in the financially villainous Southern District of New York. Here's real life Pilgrims Society executive committee member Jim Zirin hosting something on You Tube called, "Are we in for a prolonged period of world disorder?" Zirin hosted an interview with Stephen BIDDLE, of the same Biddle family of spidery financial criminals and Pilgrims Society members covered in "Pilgrims Society Takeover of Bitcoin," see pages 59–78 and 83–89---

<http://www.digitalage.org/guests/#nlstephen-biddle> ---

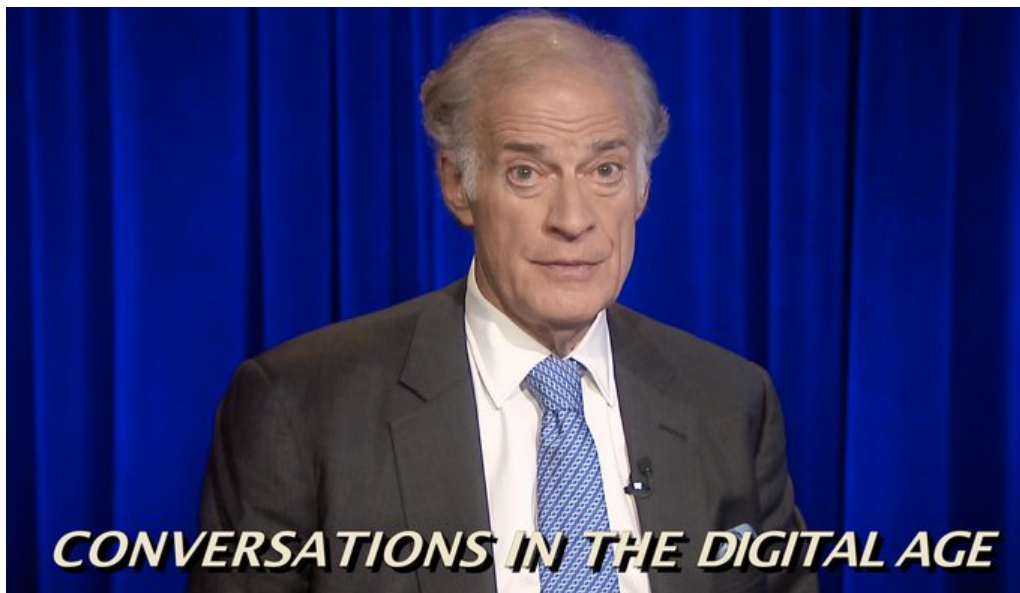

The important Harvard Club in NYC has a "Biddle Room!"

Biddle was born in Wilmington Delaware---same city as ex CFTC commissioner Bart Chilton---and in the late 1820s to mid 1830s, the Du Ponts and Biddles were on the board of the second United States Bank! Zirin is hawking or huckstering his book "The Mother Court," about the U.S. District Court in the Southern District of New York. That of course is the Federal jurisdiction where silver manipulation lawsuits are routinely blocked---the same district where this bizarre, spooky, spelunker looking Zirin worked as a U.S. Attorney---

<http://www.digitalage.org/>

Zirin has interviewed the United Nations Secretary General---New York City Police Commissioner---multiple Presidential advisers---Middle East specialists---experts on China and globalization---Federal prosecutors and Federal judges---counterterrorism consultants---narcotics prosecutors---the head of the Jewelers Vigilance Committee---Rockefeller Foundation former chairman Peter Goldmark (almost certainly a Pilgrims Society member)---best selling authors---experts from Kissinger Associates---FBI Director Robert Mueller---Frederick Hitz, former CIA Inspector General (link to interview)---former CIA General Counsel Jim Rizzo---former New Jersey Governor, Roosevelt family relative, Chairman of the 911

Commission Tom Kean (Pilgrims Society, interview here)---the bureau chief of Business Week India---“the most powerful and dreaded investigator in the world, Terry Lenzner, author of the red-hot new book “The Investigator” (no mention of The Pilgrims; some overblown claim as to his status as an investigator!)---alleged human rights experts---James Michaels, editor of Forbes Magazine (a flunky for second generation Pilgrims member Steve Forbes and his younger brother Christopher, also a Pilgrims member who married into royalty)---Herbert Pardes, a psychiatrist, on the subject of gun violence and mental health care (did he forget to mention that psychiatric drugs, foisted on the public by Pilgrims Society Pharma interests, are almost the only cause of gun rampages?)---president of the National Foreign Trade Council---Democrat Party political strategists---cyber warfare strategists---experts on Russia---State Department officials---experts on Japan---investment bankers---experts on Brazil---representatives of the London Financial Times---and Pilgrims Society member William Van Den Heuvel, profiled in #14 Silver Squelchers, pages 74-85. The National Foreign Trade Council in D.C. was founded in 1914 by assorted Pilgrims Society corporations including United States Steel--- Zirin with Ellen V. Futter, former chair of the gold stealing Federal Reserve Bank of New York (1992–1993). Ms. SPUTTER is still a JPMorgan Chase director (active silver suppressor) and Consolidated Edison of New York, plus Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center (Who's Who in the East, 2014, page 472. She was a director of Pharma giant Bristol Myers Squibb (1999–2005); American International Group (former silver leasing kingpin, (1999–2008) and Viacom (2006–2007). Her father was with Sullivan & Cromwell, prominent Pilgrims Society law firm; he appears to have not been a member). She may be among the few women members of The Pilgrims Society---or she's trusted to get marching orders from Pilgrims members like Zirin---

Zirin is listed in "Best Lawyers in America."

"He spoke on the litigation aspects of "Accessing the American Capital Markets" at the São Paulo Stock Exchange, São Paulo, Brazil; on officers and directors liability at an insurance colloquium in Santiago, Chile; and on the resolution of China disputes through international arbitration at Fudan University, Shanghai."

2) John Merow (1929---; Pilgrims Society at least by 1994; page 2361, Who's Who in America) is associated with Charles Lawrence Brock in Brock Capital Group as a senior managing director. Recall that Brock was with Sullivan & Cromwell law firm (1969–1974) and we find Sullivan & Cromwell prominently in Merow's Who's Who info which we will look at shortly. His profile at Brock Capital Group states---

"He is former Chairman and Senior Partner of the law firm of Sullivan & Cromwell LLP. In his career as a business and financial lawyer he has served major multinational corporate and financial businesses in public and private financing, project finance, mergers and acquisitions and general corporate work. Mr. Merow is an experienced director of business and non-profit corporations, the principal ones being Aleris International and its predecessor Commonwealth Industries (aluminum rolled products and recycling), the 23 investment companies in the Seligman Group, Kaiser Aluminum, before its 1987 takeover (global integrated aluminum company, refractories, oil & gas, real estate and shipping), New York-Presbyterian Hospital and, as Vice Chairman chairing the board, New York-Presbyterian Healthcare System, Inc. (30 hospitals). His board memberships have included service on the audit committees of Aleris, the Seligman companies, Kaiser Aluminum (Chairman), New York-Presbyterian, the Foreign Policy Association (Chairman), and the Municipal Art Society of New York (Chairman). Mr. Merow served as an adviser on the American Law Institute Project on Corporate Governance and is a consultative group member of the ALI Project on the Law of Nonprofit Organizations. He has pursued his international interests as a member of the Executive Committee and Secretary of the United States Council for International Business, an active member of the Council on Foreign Relations, board member of the Archbishop of Canterbury's global investment and grants organizations, member of board leadership of the Foreign Policy Association, Chairman of the American Australian Association and Vice Chairman of the United States–New Zealand Council. Mr. Merow was appointed an Honorary Officer in the Order of Australia (AO) for service to U.S.–Australian relations.”

"PILL-GRAMS"---

During 1991–2005, Merow was a director of Tri-Continental Corporation, which was previously run by Pilgrims member Francis Fitz Randolph (Fitz and Randolph, two old-line families with centuries of years of heritage); F.F. Randolph was treasurer of the Russell Trust Association, controlling entity of the Skull & Bones Society of Yale. A member of The Pilgrims controlling an inferior organization---the pattern repeats over and over in both branches. (1974–1975 Who's Who, page 2524). Sullivan & Cromwell, founded in 1879, takes in annual legal fees well over $1 billion. "Sullivan & Cromwell consistently ranks as one of the most prestigious law firms in the world, ranking as the 3rd most prestigious in the 2014 Vault law firm ranking. The firm has steered the development of many of the world's corporate titans over the past 130-plus years. Founding partners Sullivan and Cromwell wasted no time in elevating the firm to elite status, advising John Pierpont Morgan during the creation of Edison General Electric in 1882 and later guiding key players in the formation of U.S. Steel and the financing of the Panama Canal. From its earliest involvement in the formation of Edison Electric Company in 1882 and United States Steel Corporation in 1901, to its present work with leaders of the global economy in the 21st century, the firm has been closely involved in the affairs of some of America's, and now the world's, greatest industrial, commercial and financial enterprises. Sullivan &

Cromwell's efforts to bring about the building of the Panama Canal are chronicled in David McCulloch's book, "The Path Between the Seas." The firm represents the Panama Canal Authority to this day."

The Pilgrims 1940 roster shows a Jarvis Cromwell on page 10 and a Walter S. Sullivan on page 19. "Goldman Sachs Special Relationship With Sullivan & Cromwell is Alive and Well" was an article from 2010. For many years Sullivan & Cromwell was at 48 Wall Street. S & C later relocated to 125 Broad Street---

1988 book likely makes no mention of The Pilgrims---

S & C has had its share of Pilgrims members---Norris Darrell (president of American Law Institute, 1961–1976) who married into the Churchill family (Pilgrims London) and was a director of Schroder’s Bank. Arthur H. Dean (director American Bank Note Company; Bank of New York; El Paso Natural Gas; Northwest Production Corporation; National Union Electric) who was a CFR director and trustee of the Hochschild Foundation and Ambassador to South Korea (1953–1954), to the 16th and 17th General Assemblies of the U.N. and other top diplomatic posts; Dean was on the executive committee in a 1981 item. Allen Dulles, CIA director (1953–1961); John Foster Dulles (Secretary of State, 1953–1959) and other giants. The Hochschild Foundation is connected to Hochschild Mining, a gold, silver and copper multinational miner with operations in Peru, Argentina, Chile, Mexico and Canada, producing 13.6 MOZ silver in 2013, apparently dedicated to the long standing price suppression scheme, with Sir Malcolm Field a director, and a potential member of The Pilgrims London.

Merow is a director of the Seligman Group of Investment Companies, tracing to fortunes amassed by Isaac Seligman (Pilgrims 1914). The Pilgrims London 1980 listed a Geoffrey C. Seligman and a Sir Charles D. Seligman in the 1940 London list. Isaac Seligman (1856–1917) was in banking, insurance, trust organization, real estate and luxury home building. He was treasurer of the McKinley Memorial Association (page 2291, 1916–1917 Who's Who), interestingly making the tally so far of two Pilgrims members associated with McKinley at or after his assassination, the other being John G. Milburn (same year, page 1696) who said in his listing “President McKinley was taken to his house after fatal assault and died there.” McKinley started out as a silverite or bimetallist, later denounced silver, but I think he did so in order to become President, after which he intended a jiu-jitsu turn-around on these financiers, who then “helped” him to exit the scene. Of the historic Seligman banking empire---linked to the Rothschilds---we read---

“Joseph Seligman, along with his brothers, founded J. & W. Seligman & Co., which became the premier investment banking house raising money for the Union government, repaying the national debt necessitated by the war, and channeling European funds into the construction of American railroads and other industries.”

<http://www.seligmangroup.com> says it is “A family-owned, opportunity-driven group of investors specializing in real estate, banking, private aviation and money management. Seligman, along with its affiliates are continuously looking for value investment opportunities in office, warehouse & industrial, multi-family and retail real estate, with ventures primarily focused in Michigan, California, Nevada, Texas, Arizona and Hawaii.”

“The Seligman Group has a broad portfolio of investments that range from historic high-rise apartments to the leading edge of private aviation.”

The Seligman Group owns Sterling Bank & Trust <https://www.sterlingbank.com/> and <http://www.pioneerrealty.net/> and <http://presidential-aviation.com/> with 22 privately chartered jets and TSG also owns Quantum Capital, a little tyke with a mere \$293 million in assets reported as of 2011. J & W Seligman & Company in New York had estimated assets as of 2003 at $17 billion. The name Seligman assertedly means “blessed by the heavens.” RBS Investment Company, owned by the Seligman family, and we read---

“In the financial services world historically the Seligman name became distinguished with the creation of the J & W Seligman Company in the late 19th century where the firm endorsed milestone projects such as railway expansion into the western United States, the Trans-Alaska pipeline, and the financing of the Panama Canal.

There is now a new and distinct group of Seligmans that stand poised to endorse other global milestone projects in the many places of the world we operate.”

This firm shows a “Global Network of Operations” in 16 countries here. It operates the RBS Resources Group which “was established to address the present capital deficit within the global mining community in accessing reliable and cost effective financing for qualified projects and operations. RBS partners with capable management teams to capitalized projects that are targeted by being low cost producers with sufficiently high mineral concentrations that have access to established infrastructure for processing and exporting; while as well confirming that mineral rights are in good standing with the relevant government authority.”

Countries RBS Resources excludes include North Korea, Venezuela, Sudan and Guinea Bissau. It prefers copper, gold, manganese, coal, oil & gas and water related resource projects. Do they require gold production to be hedged? Bet on it.

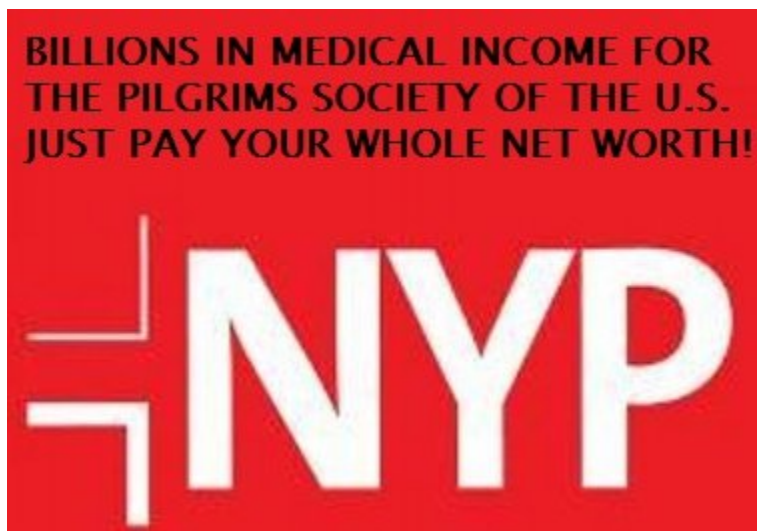

"We Create Solutions."®

Commonwealth Industries of which this Pilgrims member John Merow is a director is based in Kentucky and is involved in nonferrous metals fabrication---aluminum sheet products. That fits with the much larger Kaiser Aluminum, founded in 1946, which produces over 500 million pounds per annum of fabricated aluminum for aerospace, automotive, general engineering and many other uses.

The logo for Kaiser Aluminum, featuring the word "KAISER" in a large, bold, red, italicized sans-serif font, with the word "ALUMINUM" in a smaller, bold, red, italicized sans-serif font directly below it.

Merow is a trustee and vice chairman of New York Presbyterian Health Care System which has 20 hospitals in New York State, 3 hospitals in New Jersey and 2 in Connecticut and several rehabilitation hospitals.

Pilgrims Society members have been trustees of N.Y. Presbyterian Hospital for generations---

Pilgrims member Merow is a trustee of the Friends of the Archbishop of Canterbury's Anglican Communion Fund where we read The Anglican Communion Fund is an English Charity established to benefit the churches and provinces of the Anglican Communion and the international ministry of the Archbishop of Canterbury. It provides assistance to provinces or dioceses of the Anglican Communion at times of crisis, supports Anglican Communion strategic initiatives, and provides funding for the Office of the Anglican Observer at the United Nations and official representation at the other international institutions and consultations."

The Anglican Investment Agency Trust shows John Merow a trustee, and (oh God) a Britisher named Lord Remnant, a prospective

Pilgrims member in the London branch. The Archbishop of Canterbury is always a member of The Pilgrims Society of Great Britain, something discovered in the leaked lists since 1914 and from a few other obscure sources. This site says of Justin Welby, the new Archbishop of Canterbury (number 105 in this line) “he has lectured on reconciliation at the US State Department. In the summer of 2012, he was asked to join the Parliamentary Commission on Banking Standards.”

Reconciliation? As in political reconciliation of America with England, by way of England ruling over us anew, which is a central goal of The Pilgrims organization? It seems unusual for a high clergyman to be on a major banking commission; such are the ways of The Society. Since the mid 1500's, the Royal family's competitor to The Pope of Rome---The Archbishop of Canterbury---

Justin Welby, Pilgrims London, was in the oil industry for 11 years before radically altering his career trajectory. He was with ELF Aquitaine and in 1984 he became treasurer of Enterprise Oil in London. ELF Aquitaine changed its name to Total in 1983. A huge conglomerate multinational, Total had almost 100,000 employees in 2013; Charles Keller is the prospective Pilgrims member on that board. Aquitaine is a large province in southwest France with a long Atlantic coastline. Eleanor of Aquitaine (1122–1204 AD) “was one of the wealthiest and most powerful women in Western Europe during the High Middle Ages and a member of the Ramnulfid dynasty of rulers (House of Poitiers) in southwestern France. She became Duchess of Aquitaine while she was still a child, then later Queen consort of France (1137–1152) and of England (1154–1189).” In 1152 Eleanor of Aquitaine married King Henry II of England. She had eight children and five sons, three of whom would become Kings. The genealogy of this fantastic old Royal line is today present in certain members of The Pilgrims Society of Great Britain. Enterprise oil merged into Royal Dutch Shell Petroleum in 2002, which is among the ten largest Pilgrims Society corporations in the world. What a bunch of high rollers and world makers these Pilgrims members are!

During 1986–1999 John Merow of The Pilgrims, Sullivan & Cromwell and Brock Capital Group chaired the American–Australian Association, founded in 1948---

The U.S.–N.Z. Council backs the Trans-Pacific Partnership---

The Patrons Group of the American–Australian Association shows John Merow is still active with them. Also there is Frederick Whittemore of Morgan Stanley; Whittemore was in The Pilgrims 1980 roster. There may be as many as five other Pilgrims in this Patrons Group. The head of Dow Chemical Corporation (Silver Users association) is there. Are these Pilgrims funneling the silver output of the Cannington Mine to this Silver Users association member? The AAA also has a United States Advisory Council---get this---the brother in law of Charles Lawrence Brock, profiled just before this profile on John Merow---is there---Jerome Paul Kenney! It's only at this link we find that Kenney is vice chairman of BlackRock! The chairman of BHP Billiton, owner of the Cannington Mine, is also there. There have been other Pilgrims members in leadership positions in this AAA over the years; these aren't the first. Whittemore is himself a hell of an operator!

Merow was inducted into The Order of Australia, established in 1975 by the Royal Patron of The Pilgrims Society in 1975---

The Municipal Art Society of New York features MISTER Merow of The Crown's Pilgrims Society as a director---

MASNYC has been around since 1893 and do you sniff among other things, overblown tax write offs? It “advocates for intelligent urban planning,” what is that? Helping Pilgrims Society members to put their construction projects across, including eminent domain to add gravy to their overbloated platters?

Merow is on the executive committee of the United States Council for International Business

UNITED STATES COUNCIL FOR INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS

“The United States Council for International Business promotes open markets, competitiveness and innovation, sustainable development and corporate responsibility, supported by international engagement and regulatory coherence. USCIB’s vision and strength are provided by an active membership of leading corporations and organizations, while our unique global network helps turn the vision into reality. USCIB also provides a range of valuable services to facilitate overseas trade and investment.”

Open markets yes; globalism no! They stand for globalism, because one or more Pilgrims Society members is pulling its strings! It traces to 1945; the close of World War II. Harold McGraw III chairs this council; he is a strong Pilgrims membership prospect; currently impossible to confirm due to “no cooperation from The Pilgrims organization.” McGraw is the inheritor of the McGraw–Hill publishing fortune and is a director of United Technologies (warmongers/defense contractors) and Conoco Phillips, a company which would perhaps be interested in Ukrainian oil fields? Harold married Nancy Goodrich, daughter of the founder of Deep Sea Trawlers and honcho of Bath Iron Works, a ship builder for the Navy.

During 1986–1994 Merow was a director of the Metropolitan Opera Club (founded 1893); many Pilgrims members have been involved with this institution---

Merow is a member of the prestigious American Law Institute (founded 1923; Pilgrims members Elihu Root and Charles Hughes, who ruled against U.S. silver miners as Chief Justice, were among the founders), of which he was a high official (1978–1992)--

THE AMERICAN LAW INSTITUTE

ALI membership, unlike that of other legal groups such as the American Bar Association, is capped at 3,000, maintaining its elite status; many members are judges. Presidents of the ALI who've been definitely identified as Pilgrims members include George Wickersham (president 1923–1936); Norris Darrell (president 1961–1976); Roswell Perkins (1980–1993); this is working with fragmentary information.

Our subject Pilgrims member in this profile, John Merow, is a member of The Links Club in Manhattan, of which the question is asked, “The most powerful club in the world?” Reading on we find, “The concentration of power within the club, which is located in a beautiful townhouse on East 62nd Street in New York City, is stunning.” The site then lists dozens of powerful figures over time who’ve been members; many of these names were in The Pilgrims organization, which the author was blissfully unaware of. Its location is 36 East 62nd Street---

See images and info on The Links Club here. The other clubs of interest Merow is a member of are covered in other profiles of Numbers 12 to 15 Silver Squelchers. Finally we notice that Merow is a director and treasurer of the Foreign Policy Association (globalism) which encourages people to lobby Congress for globalist causes. Founded in 1918, the FPA was and remains a Pilgrims Society front like the CFR of which Merow is also a member. The FPA is way easier to become a member of than the CFR, not that any decent person would join these revolting entities! FPA has a series on PBS Television reaching 1.2 million watchers, corrupting people away from the principles on which our Republic was founded and literally urinating on the hallowed ground where American revolutionaries died---

3) David Owen Brownwood (1935---; Pilgrims Society as of undetermined) has info on page 584 of the Who's Who in America, 2005---

I'm not finding anything definite on Brownwood's lineage or marriage connections, besides that such names as Bellamy, Sloane and Ellington have appeared in Pilgrims rosters; there may or may not be a connection. Besides attending Harvard, Brownwood's launch into The Pilgrims may have started in 1963 at the important Boston law firm of Ropes & Gray. Founded in 1865, it has 11 offices and around 1,000 attorneys. Pilgrims Society member and official Elliott L. Richardson, who was Attorney General (May to October 1973), Ambassador to England (1975–1976) and Secretary of Commerce (1976–1977) was a 33rd degree Mason and was a partner in Ropes & Gray---

ROPES & GRAY

In 1964–1966 Brownwood was with an important regional West coast law firm in San Francisco. After his stay in California, Brownwood was propelled over to Africa during 1966 to 1968, lecturing in law at the University of Khartoum, Sudan, and left to arrive at the Kenya Institute of Administration which had to do with “public service management,” British code language for “managing the natives.” The University of Khartoum was founded in 1902 as Gordon Memorial College, due to influence wielded by Lord Kitchener of Khartoum (1850–1916), Viscount Kitchener (Pilgrims Society London). In the second war with Dutch settlers in South Africa (1900–1902), superintended by Lord Roberts and Kitchener, 21,360 children died in concentration camps. While children were dying under the British campaign, Lord Roberts became president of The Pilgrims London (1902–1914). Viscount Kitchener, mass killer, driving force behind the University of Khartoum---

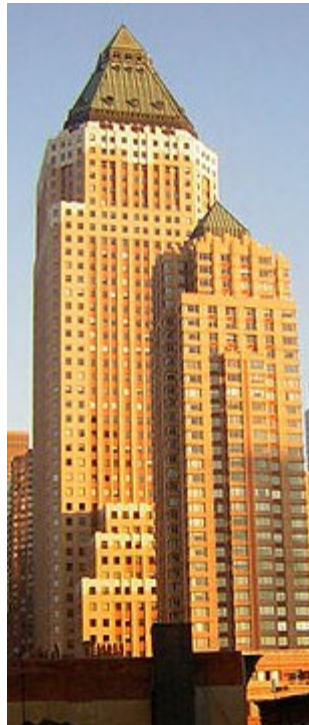

David Brownwood got on with powerhouse Pilgrims Society law firm, Cravath, Swaine & Moore in 1968 and made partner by 1973, for 30 years, during which at some point, he was invited into The Pilgrims. Brownwood remains senior counsel at CSM. He's represented "JP

Morgan Chase and other major money center banks.” He’s engaged in many corporate financings including private placements and public securities offerings.

CRAVATH, SWAINE & MOORE LLP

CSM and Brownwood’s office are located in One Worldwide Plaza, otherwise known as 825 Eighth Avenue, New York---

In 2003 Brownwood became a director of the Royal Oak Foundation, which is a group of (Pilgrims Society led) “Americans” who are more concerned about preservation of historic buildings, homes and sites in England than they are about the same matters domestically! Brownwood is since off that board; however, the honorary chair of it is Teresa Heinz Kerry, billionaire heiress and daughter in law of second generation Pilgrims Society member Henry John Heinz II. This is the wife of Secretary of State John Forbes Kerry (Pilgrims Society/Skull & Bones) whose personal fortune is a mere bagatelle at around $200 million; but that's only the amount disclosed to the public! Heinz II was a Bilderberg steering committee member, supervising the inferior group for the superior Pilgrims Society and as Heinz was a Mellon Bank director, he also represented their immense interests.

In 2002 Brownwood became president of Benjamin Franklin House Foundation; he's since listed as chairman, owning the last known residence of Benjamin Franklin, who was a member of the Hell Fire Club in London. Greenwich (Connecticut) Country Day School, founded in 1926, has tuition ranging to $32,000. Brownwood has been a trustee, vice president, president and chairman. GCDS is active in "cultivating a global perspective." Brownwood has spearheaded major fund raising efforts for Harvard University and its law school as well as Stanford University, founded by U.S. Senator Leland Stanford, railroad magnate, who sold a racehorse for $125,000 back in the 1890s. Stanford and its warmongering Hoover Institution on War, Revolution & Peace always have Pilgrims Society representation.

Brownwood is a member of leading legal organizations which we've covered in other profiles, and several clubs.

Brownwood is a member of the Round Hill Club in Greenwich, which is so tight-lipped they won't even say when they were founded---

The Field Club of Greenwich was founded in 1908---

Brownwood's home at 296 Old Church Road in Greenwich, Connecticut is valued at $3,645,000. His home in Nantucket at 61

Orange Street is valued at $2,518,000. These super rich wealth absorbers in The Pilgrims organization cause unemployment, foreclosures and homelessness by exporting jobs; then look at THEIR housing arrangements!

Sankatay Head Golf Club was founded in 1921. Brownwood is a former director of the Stanford University Alumni Association---

4) Babcock Maclean (1946---; Pilgrims Society as of undetermined) has info in the 2005 Who's Who in America, page 2909---

Hugh S. Maclean appears in The Pilgrims New York 1957; Fitzroy Maclean appears in The Pilgrims New York 1969, 1974 and 1980---possible relations. Hugh was a director of large silver user Imperial Chemical Industries---he had an New York office. Sir Fitzroy Maclean was a member of Parliament (1941-1974) and UK based members aren't usually in the New York list; members on either side however hold membership in both branches. He became a Parliamentary member of the Council of Europe and was decorated by France, Yugoslavia, the Soviet Union and was a member of the Order of the British Empire. Since they were both from the U.K. they may not have been close relations to Babcock Maclean; but there's no telling. Babcock Maclean is a Yale graduate and is almost certainly a member of one of the super fraternities there such as Scroll & Key or Wolf's Head Society. In 1983 to 1985 Maclean was associated with the Research Institute of America, which is apparently a taxation think tank and/or lobby. Taxation is for serfs, plebeians, commoners, untouchables and simple folk---not for Crown associated Pilgrims Society elitists and the influence circles orbiting them as subsidiary satellites! Again in 1992 to 1997 Maclean was on the publications advisory board to Research Institute of America.

Since 1985 Maclean has been an attorney with the law firm Robinson-Brog at 875 Third Avenue in New York which practices in real estate, capital markets, bankruptcies and reorganizations, estates, media and others. He's licensed to practice in New York, Ohio, United States Tax Court, the Court of Federal Claims and the United States Supreme Court. He deals with tax planning, tax controversies (disputes), international tax planning and tax treaty interpretations plus administrative and judicial tax proceedings. He structures acquisitions to accomplish tax reduction objectives. He's been an official of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York and he had major input into commentary on Treasury Department regulations in TD circular #230. 875 Third Avenue is also where Pilgrims Society member Peter John Pettibone, a Russian banking specialty attorney, profiled elsewhere in this series, has offices. His scan shows the Robinson Brog office is at 1345 Avenue of the Americas; their site says 875 Third Avenue; they may have several locations.

The Society for the Preservation of Long Island Antiquities, founded in 1948, has Maclean as a trustee since 2003. Oddly, this group uses an image of a pineapple in its emblem., possibly because Wall Streeters dominated the Hawaiian pineapple industry? I've seen several Pilgrims members associated with this group.

St. Anthony Club is new to me and I've been reading these bios for a very long time; it appears relatively down the importance scale. Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club has had interlock over the years with The Pilgrims. It traces to 1871 and is located at Oyster Bay, New York. Seawanhaka refers to a native tribe once owners of the area. Their Latin motto means "We follow in their wake."

Babcock Maclean has fewer irons in the fire than most of these other Pilgrims members being profiled. It most likely means that he's a courtroom workhorse and lacks time to do justice to the usual plethora of other connections held by other members of The Society.

5) John French III (1932---; Pilgrims Society as of 2005 Who's Who in America, page 1557; probably years before) has info on page 461 of the 2014 Who's Who in the East---

(The emblem represents---what?)

French's first marriage was to a member of the very old-line wealthy Dutch Ten Eyck family. At Wiki we read---

"The Ten Eycks are an influential family of Dutch origins who came to New York in the 1630s. The Patriarch of the American branch of the family, Coenraedt Ten Eyck, came from Holland to settle in New Amsterdam (later renamed New York City). His son, Jacob moved to Albany where he was a silversmith, and the later efforts of several family members gained the family land, wealth, and positions of power in both the city of Albany and the state of New York as a whole. Using their influence, the Ten Eycks formed several businesses, including the Ten Eyck hotel and the Ten Eyck insurance group, helping to establish the city of Albany as it is known today.

The Ten Eyck Group was established and run by Peter Gansevoort Ten Eyck in 1905. The Group is one of the oldest insurance firms in upstate New York and has changed both leadership and locations many times since its establishment. Over the years, the firm continued to grow, becoming incorporated in 1932. The company was headed by Peter G. Ten Eyck until his death in 1944, and his son Peter Gansevoort Dederick Ten Eyck became his successor. The company expanded under Peter G.D. Ten Eyck, and the first general manager was hired in the forties. Despite the expansion, however, the company presidency always belonged to a Ten Eyck, going next to Peter G.D.'s son John in 1974. It was John who was the first to pass on leadership to a non-Ten Eyck upon his retirement in 2002. Today, the Ten Eyck group is located on Western Avenue in Albany, New York and still going strong. They are making efforts to expand marketing beyond its already expansive seventeen counties, and to increase the size of the company by sixty percent.”

Gee whiz---with silversmithing in the Ten Eyck family background, that fits nicely with The Pilgrims Society being history's premier silver antagonistic organization!

At http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/John_Jacob_Astor_VI we read about John Jacob Astor VI (1912–1982) who was in The Pilgrims 1980 roster---

“A few weeks after returning from Shanghai, John Jacob Astor VI became engaged to socialite Ellen Tuck French (1915–1974), the elder daughter of Francis Ormond "Frank" French II (1888–1962) and Eleanor Livingston Burrill (1891–1974). They married in 1934 at Trinity Church in Newport, Rhode Island. Ellen was a first cousin of Rhode Island Governor William Henry Vanderbilt III (1901—1981).”

Obviously Mr. F.O. French II had more than one wife; but notice this linkage to the Astor inner circle Pilgrims family, and additionally to the Livingstons, whose lineage remains in first place as to linkage to more Pilgrims Society families than any other Pilgrims dynasty.

French III's second marriage was to Anne Hubbell. There was a John William Hubbell in The Pilgrims New York 1969, 1974 and 1980 rosters; no direct connection has been confirmed; however, it's likely. Here's his third wife, Marina Kellen, with Pilgrims Society vice president Paul Volcker, lead man in crushing the Hunt-Arab silver play---

The New York Times, November 22, 1987, reporting on the French marriage to Marina, noted that his grandfather was chairman of Rock Island Railroad; and his great grandfather Frederick Billings, was president of the still larger Northern Pacific Railroad. His grandfather from RI Railroad was also with White & Case, an important Pilgrims Society law firm in Wall Street. French's father was a partner in Curtis, Mallet-Provost, Colt & Mosle, another Pilgrims Society connected law firm. Marina's father was with Arnhold & S. Bleichroeder, a significant investment bank founded in 1935, though overshadowed by the founding of Morgan, Stanley & Company that year. The wedding was at Brick Presbyterian Church in Manhattan, which always seems to have some interlock with The Society.

NPR is now known as Burlington Northern---

French's most recent wife, Carole Parsons Bailey, was the widow of William O. Bailey (deceased 2005) was former president of the huge Aetna Life & Casualty Company; I have no info as to whether he was a member; the vibes aren't quite there however. Did French have pre-nuptial arrangements to shield his likely railroad inheritances? He probably did, being a sharpie attorney. During 1961–1968 French was with the ultra, super Pilgrims Society law firm of Milbank, Tweed, Hadley & McCloy. The Milbanks are an old-line wealthy Pilgrims Society family; and John Jay McCloy (Pilgrims Society) was an absolute top Rockefeller family operative, mentioned in #2 and #11 Silver Squelchers. Founded in 1866, in 2014 the firm took in $761 million in legal fees.

Milbank

The Pilgrims 1974 roster shows Milbank representation. Milburn was the grandson of a senior partner in J.P. Morgan & Company. His other grandfather was Pilgrims Society member, New York Life Insurance Company director John G. Milburn ("President McKinley was taken to his house after fatal assault and died there," page 1618, Who's Who in America, 1914–1915). Devereaux was a governor of New York Hospital---

Milbank, Samuel R. Milburn, Devereux

After Milbank, French hopped over to Satterlee & Stephens till 1973. Satterlee is an uncommon name, and inevitably must be connected to the son in law of J.P. Morgan Senior (Pilgrims Society) ---Herbert Satterlee and there is confirmation ---

“Herbert L. Satterlee (1863–1947) founded the firm—originally known as Satterlee & Canfield—in 1894. Mr. Satterlee, whose clients included Mark Twain and many of the most prominent corporate leaders of the day, was responsible for incorporating General Motors, a name which Mr. Satterlee suggested. In November of 1900, the marriage of Louisa Pierpont Morgan, daughter of J.P. Morgan, to Mr. Herbert Satterlee, in New York City was the social event of the season. During its first century, the firm was the home for many talented and colorful attorneys. In 1987, Satterlee joined with Burke & Burke, a New York firm with an equally long and distinguished heritage, and took on its present name, Satterlee Stephens Burke & Burke LLP.”

SATTERLEE STEPHENS BURKE & BURKE LLP

The 1940 Pilgrims roster shows Satterlee in management---

The Pilgrims of the United States

PRESIDENT
NICHOLAS MURRAY BUTLER

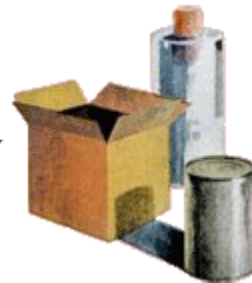

VICE-PRESIDENTS
HERBERT L. SATTERLEE
JAMES W. GERARD, G.C.B.

The Continental Group, with which French was an exec during 1973–1981, was better known as Continental Can Company, formed in 1904. Its primary competitor, American Can Company, has also had its share of directors from The Pilgrims organization.

CONTINENTAL CAN COMPANY

*... has the right package
for every product*

French was with Peabody International Corporation (1981–1982) ---

During 1982–1984 French was a law partner in Appleton, Rice & Perrin. We encounter the name Appleton in profiles of other members---Charles C. Lucas Jr.; David H. Burnham; and Charles L.

Brock. During 1985–1999 he was with Beveridge & Diamond law firm---

“Beveridge & Diamond's 100 lawyers in 7 U.S. offices help clients around the world resolve critical environmental, natural resource, project development, and sustainability issues relating to their facilities, products, and operations. We focus on delivering outstanding client service and value through strategic advice, regulatory compliance counseling, transaction and land use support, or representation in litigation and alternative dispute resolution. Our team includes former senior officials from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (including two former General Counsel), U.S. Department of Justice, and other federal and state resource and environmental agencies.”

French states that since 1999 he's chairman of Tudor Associates; this is something that works with (alleged) nonprofit groups to expand their money raising capabilities. It's a bit frightening---but consistent---that yet another Pilgrims Society member makes direct reference to one of the historical ruling dynasties of England---the Tudors---during which relative inferiority was forcibly imposed on Vatican influence in Britain. French is a lifetime trustee of International House in New York, not stated in his scan but found here. At the same page we see French with Paul Volcker and David Rockefeller! We additionally see that ---

“He has served as a member of the New York State Environmental Board and was a Founding Trustee of the Hudson River Foundation for Science and Research, Inc. He is a recipient of the Dartmouth College Alumni Award and the Appalachian Mountain Club Distinguished Service Award. He is a member of the board of the New York Philharmonic Symphony.”

HUDSON RIVER FOUNDATION for Science & Environmental Research

Management of the Hudson River Foundation shows old-line money---the Dodge copper mining fortune and the Flagler faction from Standard Oil---both Pilgrims Society families. The Latin motto means “the voice of someone crying out in the desert” ---

The Practicing Law Institute we described in the profile of Sir Thomas Ronald Moore and the American Law Institute is reviewed in the profile of John Merow. Resorts Management Inc. is somewhat indefinite as to identification as there appear to be several name variants. I believe it to be one of the larger ones with employment rolls of over six figures. The New York Philharmonic Society, founded in 1842, is a typical social venue for globalists; French is apparently a former director as the list doesn't show him as current. Gerald Hassell of the Bank of New York Mellon, a virtual certainty to be a Pilgrims member---is there---

French's Smithsonian Institution board membership also appears out of date; often, info in the Who's Who series isn't rigorously updated from year to year. Ditto for what he says about the Salzburg Festival Society. Here we find John French III, heir to twin fortunes in railroads, a life trustee of International House in New York---

At the same page we find Mrs. George Soros and Pilgrims Society member David Rockefeller as officials of International House, along with Henry Kissinger (Pilgrims) and central banker Paul Volcker (Pilgrims)! Founded in 1924, International House is a total globalist propaganda fountainhead---

The Metropolitan Opera Club we describe in the profile on John Merow. French states he's a director of 33 East 70th Street Corporation, which owns a fairly large, multi-story building. Associated with this is something called Corcoran Group Real Estate. That's another fairly uncommon name and most likely traces to a nineteenth century financier named William W. Corcoran, described on pages 456–457 of "History of the Great American Fortunes" by Gustavus Myers (1909) ---

"This was William W. Corcoran, a Washington banker who after the Civil War, became reputed as one of the most substantial financiers in the United States. During the decades when Gould and Sage were being hotly denounced for their frauds, Corcoran loomed up as a staid, conservative banker of accredited most honorable past. He was the chief partner of the Banking firm of Corcoran and Riggs, and bequeathed $2,000,000 for a splendid art gallery for the city of Washington. Corcoran was another of the many capitalists who contrived to assume a coating of protective respectability. His methods, however, were of the same fraudulent nature as those of all the others. Evidences of what these methods intrinsically were came out in 1854; they made such a rumpus that the House of Representatives was compelled to undertake some investigation. Corcoran had extensively bribed public officials in order to make large sums of money out of the handling of United States funds and of speculation in them. Under the Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, the United States agreed to pay Mexico a large indemnity for territory ceded after the Mexican War. Part of this sum was paid by 1850, but a considerable sum still remained to be settled.”

“Mexico needed money badly, and proposed that the United States pay it directly to the Mexican Government without the intermediary of banking houses. Corcoran bribed Thomas H. Bayly, Chairman of the House Committee on Ways and Means to misrepresent Mexico’s proposition and manipulate matters that the firm of Corcoran and Riggs should be made the middlemen in the transaction. Bayly held control over all the appropriation bills in most of what Corcoran was directly interested. Corcoran thus obtained the handling of the indemnity funds, and made a profit of about $500,000 from the transaction.”

Pilgrims Society member William McChesney Martin Jr., who chaired the Federal Reserve System (1951–1970), turned up as an advisor as of 1970 to the board of directors of Riggs National Bank of Washington (Who’s Who in America, 1976–1977, page 2038). 33 East 70th Street---

The Teatro Alla Scala Foundation in Milan, Italy, is another of French’s credits where he appears to be an ex-director. French holds membership in several groups whose rank and file members shouldn’t be mistrusted as to patriotism---the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion. The VFW, founded in 1899, claims 1,300,000 members. The American Legion, founded in 1919, claims 2,400,000 members. It was founded by Theodore Roosevelt III, of whom I can show no record of Pilgrims Society membership, but who came from a family so represented. These two groups have considerable membership overlap. None of the wars they reference need have had any American participation---our megabankers and war profiteers are masterful at misguiding patriotism and misinforming public opinion.

The Holland Masonic Lodge Number 8, in which French states membership, makes this declaration---

“When John Jacob Astor left Germany in his late teens years, he worked his way to London and eventually to America. During his voyage across the Atlantic, he met a man who was a fur trader. That acquaintance convinced him to explore the fur trade, and with determination he amassed a fortune from his fur empire. At one time, he was considered the wealthiest man in America. Astor was Master of Holland Lodge #8, New York City in 1788 and later served as Grand Treasurer for the Grand Lodge of New York.”

The Association of the Bar of the City of New York, founded in 1870, has had numerous Wall Street Pilgrims Society attorneys in its ranks for more than a century; New York State Bar Association—ditto. The rest of the memberships French lists, we’ve discussed in profiles of other members. There’s a reason these Pilgrims are often called “the people with endless bios;” after reading the Silver Squelchers series, you will have drunk deep of the reality of this matter.

6) Peter J. Wallison (1941---; Pilgrims Society as of undetermined; post the 1980 roster) is a high level hack, an outer circle member. Here’s his info from page 1460 of the 2014 Who’s Who in the East, minus the detail as to his Pilgrims Society membership---

This link covers the Senate Finance Committee hearings on June 11, 1981, chaired by Senator Robert Dole of Kansas, for Peter J. Wallison to be general counsel to the United States Treasury Department. Dole was the Senator largely responsible for the creation of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission! On line #4 in his scan, you notice Wallison held that key post from 1981–1985. During 1972–1973 Wallison was special assistant (a hatchet man for) to Pilgrims Society member Nelson Rockefeller, who most likely arranged for Wallison to get on the waiting list for Pilgrims Society membership, as he wasn't a member as of the 1980 roster. In fact Wallison was still camped out in Nelson Rockefeller's vest pocket while he was still with the dangerous Commission on Critical Choices for Americans. A glance at the members of that commission showed seven Pilgrims Society members including Rocky, a fact not noted at the link as The Society remains largely unheard of. All told, Wallison spent around seven years at the White House advising the vice president and the President, starting with his 1969–1970 membership in the President’s advisory council on Executive Organization.

Wallison is an operative for the big Rockefeller faction within The Pilgrims Society! “Special Assistant to Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller; Counsel during Rockefeller’s Vice Presidency, 1972–76.” During 1986 to 1987 Rockefeller agent Wallison, possibly by then a Pilgrims member or on the waiting list, was special counsel to President Ronald Reagan (Pilgrims Society).

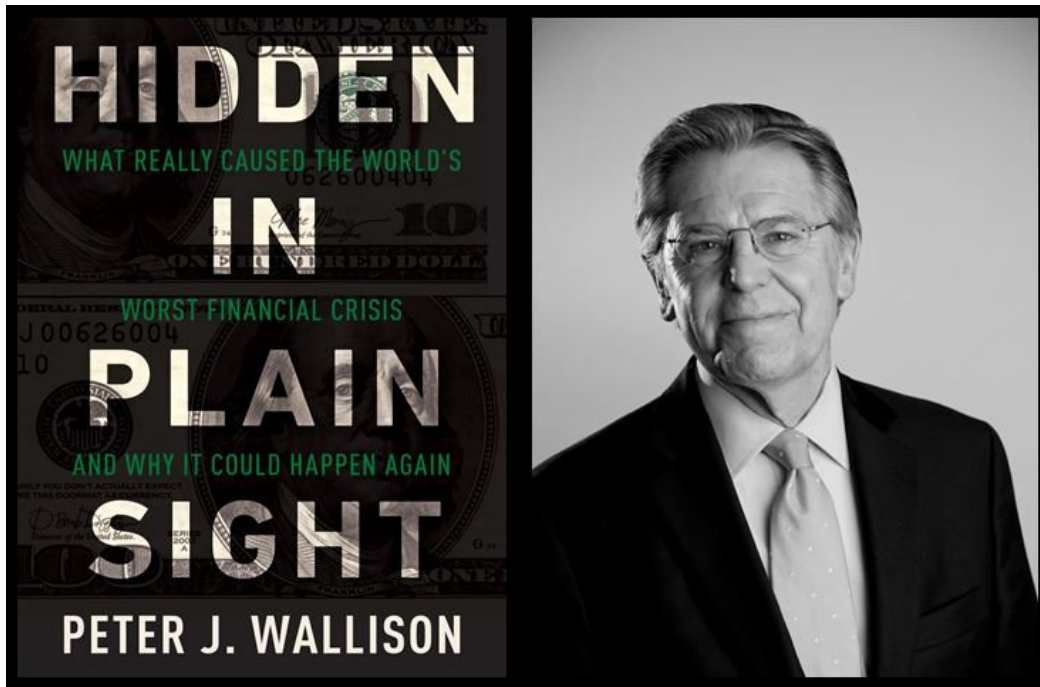

Rogers & Wells, the law firm Wallison was with during 1966 to 1981, was founded in 1873 and in 2000 merged with the London based Clifford Chance law partnership, undoubtedly, with its own representation in The Pilgrims Society of Great Britain in The City of London. Rogers & Wells has had multiple members in The Pilgrims, including Kenneth Royall who was a brigadier general and Secretary of War as of 1947 and related to the old-line Pell family (Pilgrims Society) of Rhode Island through the Claibornes; and William P. Rogers, Secretary of State (1969–1973) who refused to intervene when Libya nationalized Hunt family petroleum interests there. The Hunts weren't Pilgrims Society represented, and they suffered a bigger hit still when The Society crushed their silver play. See #10 Silver Squelchers for details! Rogers was also Attorney General (1957–1961).

During 1985 to 1998 Wallison was associated with this District of Columbia law firm which practices in areas including health care, energy, real estate, crisis management, land use, global finance, media, technology, Latin America, electronic discovery and information law and others---

Here's info on the books this Pilgrims Society HACK Wallison has authored---

<http://www.amazon.com/Hidden-Plain-Sight>

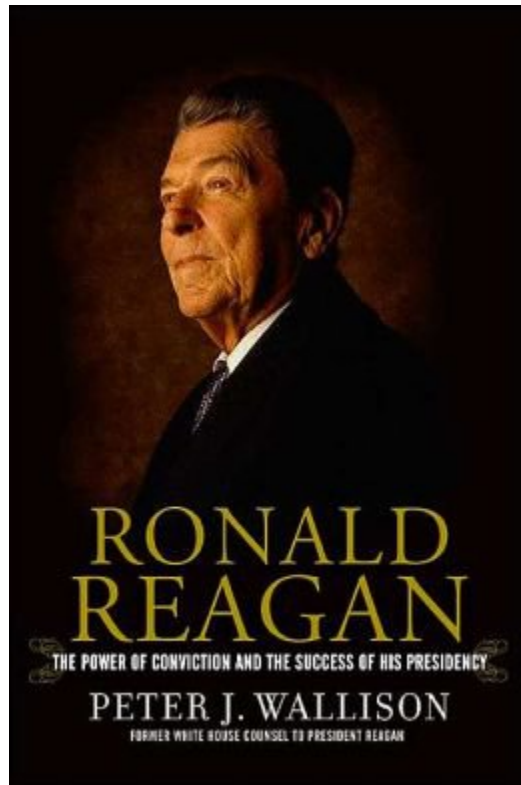

The search inside function shows no mention of the word “Pilgrims” or “Pilgrim.” None of his books make any such mention. You can say he “hides his Pilgrims Society membership and his Pilgrims Society subversive activities in plain sight.”

be in business?

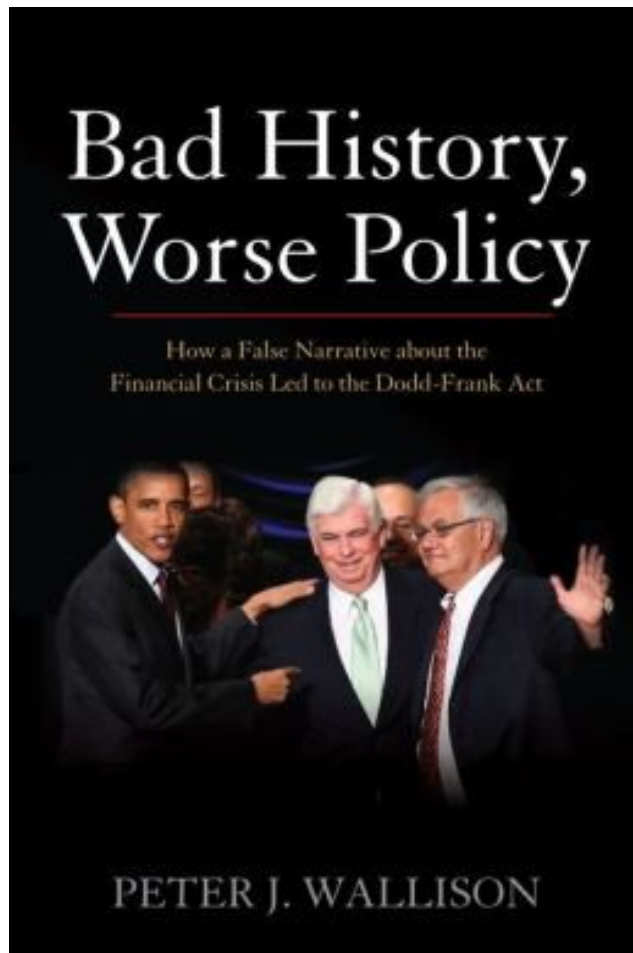

An establishment operative never truly dissents---

Wallison is with The Pilgrims faction running the Republican Party
As opposed to The Pilgrims faction running the Democrat Party---

Notice in his scan, Wallison says nothing about his parents nor if he's married. He married Frieda Koslow who was also trained as an attorney in corporate law. Their daughter Rebecca married Englishman Christopher Hufferdine who works at the NYMEX, New York Mercantile Exchange. Christopher's view on silver price forecasts is---what? They have a vacation home in expensive Aspen, Colorado. At least hundreds of transatlantic marriages have transpired in Pilgrims Society circles. Frieda Wallison chairs the Pitkin County, Colorado, Republican Party (Aspen) and is active as a real estate developer in that expensive area. Wallison and his wife have a home in the expensive Roaring Fork area.

In 2001 to 2009 Wallison was a member of the frighteningly named Shadow Financial Regulatory Committee, inadequately explained at a page of the American Enterprise Institute. This site shows Wallison was a member of this “committee” during 2006.

In 2007–2008 Wallison was on the advisory committee to the Securities Exchange Commission (SEC), another Pilgrims Society instrumentality for gouging the middle class, helping Pilgrims Society corporations “recover” their payrolls through stock market chicanery, and routinely shearing back the non-aligned new rich---

Since 1998 Wallison has held the post of Arthur F. Burns fellow in Financial Policy Studies at the American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research in D.C. Yes, the elitists insist on determining what public policy shall be, then they forcibly impose it on us! Arthur Burns was the Pilgrims Society member who chaired the Federal Reserve System national board of governors from 1970 to 1978, succeeding Pilgrims Society member William McChesney Martin Jr., anti-silver activist and gold antagonist, in that post. Burns was succeeded by Pilgrims Society member Paul Volcker, co-architect of the ruination of the Hunt silver play with Pilgrims Society member Lewis T. Preston Jr. of J.P. Morgan & Company. According to NND Wallison is a member of something called The Prosperity Political Action Committee, a likely sounding group!

Somehow he reminds me of chiseling televangelists (maybe Pilgrims manage those funds too) ---

When Wallison was 14, he was selected by New York Congressman Emanuel Celler, an outspoken opponent of rising silver prices and a champion knight for the Silver Users Association, to be a Congressional Page Boy! Most certainly, Celler voted for the Coinage Act of 1965, which gave the Silver Users Association---and more importantly---The Pilgrims Society---nearly all they wanted, except for the small concession of the 40% Kennedy halves and the continuation of the silver certificates, till that too was quashed in June 1968! It's a worthy pun to observe that Celler is down in another type of "cellar" since he croaked on January 15, 1981.

7) Robert Ralph Grew (1931---; Pilgrims Society as of undetermined; probably by late 1980s) has quite a history. He has some info on page 553 of the 2014 Who's Who in the East. His wife's middle name suggests a possible genealogical connection. Gano Dunn was chairman of The Pilgrims New York executive committee (1945-1953) who was the son of a Union General in the Civil War. Gano Dunn was a war profiteer in J.G. White Engineering Corporation (the namesake was also a Pilgrims member). Gano Dunn married Julia Gardner Gayley, a likely relation to Pilgrims member James Gayley (Pilgrims 1914).

The 2005 Who's Who in America, page 1823, shows R.R. Grew a Pilgrims member---plus his older brother, Raymond Edward Grew. Their parents were Edward F. Grew and Coletta Minck. During 1957 to 1983 R.E. Grew was principal engineer for Hoffman LaRoche, a Swiss based Pharma giant today with 88,500 employees.

Page 1067, Who's Who in American, 1950-1951 shows an earlier relation. J.C. Grew apparently didn't become a Pilgrims member so;

representation of the families he had ancestry with and sons in laws with would have been achieved through others. J.C. Grew was Ambassador to Denmark, Switzerland, Turkey and Japan and held other diplomatic posts in Cairo, Mexico City, Berlin, Vienna, Paris and Moscow. Grew had Sturgis lineage, also seen in Henry Sturgis Morgan (1900–1982, Pilgrims Society, third generation member, grandson of J.P. Morgan Senior); in 1890 J.P. Morgan Jr. married Jane Norton Grew “daughter of Boston banker and mill owner Henry Sturgis Grew.” Another son of J.P. Morgan Jr. and Jane Norton Grew, Junius Spencer Morgan, turned up in The Pilgrims 1957 roster and was on the executive committee as of 1960. A grandson of J.P. Morgan Jr., Paul G. Pennoyer turned up in The Pilgrims 1957 and 1969 rosters. Paul G. Pennoyer Jr. was in the 1974 and 1980 rosters. Pierpont Morgan Hamilton, an intersection of two perverse lines---that of the Alexander Hamilton and J.P. Morgan lines, was in the 1957 roster. The Boston Evening Transcript, February 8, 1910, front page, reported the passing of Henry Sturgis Grew who “had taken a prominent place in Boston business and in the directorates of banking and manufacturing corporations.” We read---“Mr. Grew was born in Boston on June 23, 1834 and was the son of Henry Grew and Elizabeth Sturgis Grew. He went to China to enter the employ of Russell & Co., of which his uncle, Robert Sturgis, was a member. Mr. Grew remained there as clerk and later as partner until the early 1860s when he returned to Boston. Since then he had been actively identified with Boston and Massachusetts corporations as director or in other office.” This link states he returned to Boston in 1867.

Russell & Company was opium dealers in China till 1891, for which they were, like their senior British associates, paid in silver because that was demanded for the narcotic they peddled. Russell & Company formed the Skull & Bones Society at Yale University in New Haven, Connecticut, in 1832 at the height of the “bank wars” between Andrew Jackson and Nicholas Biddle; Skull & Bones was set up both as an opium front and a British influence front.

Going back to the 1910 newspaper story, we read that Henry Sturgis Grew was an alleged do-gooder via the Boston Children’s Aid Society. But what of Chinese children he caused to be orphaned due to opium addiction of a parent? Anglo-American conspirators allied with the British Royal family, you see, may do whatever they wish--- their lineage and their goals for the world justify all their barbaric means! Grew took some of his opium income and became a director of Everett Mills, Pepperrell Manufacturing Company, Hamilton Manufacturing, the Suffolk Savings Bank and the Provident Institution for Savings. A daughter, Henrietta Marian Grew, married Stephen Van Rensselaer Crosby, linking the Grew and Sturgis lineages to the Van Rensselaers, of whom far less is heard of than the Morgan dynasty, but who are almost certainly far wealthier; the Van Rensselaers are Pilgrims Society represented. Henry Sturgis Grew Jr. (1874–1953) was apparently not a Pilgrims member, but he was pals with James Bryant Conant who was a member. “For twenty years he was president of the National Union Bank in Boston until its merger with the State Street Trust Co., of which he became a director and chairman of the executive committee. He had been chairman of the board of West Point Manufacturing Co., president of the Massachusetts Memorial Hospitals, and vice-president of the New England Conservatory of Music. His wife and four children survive, as do also two brothers, one of whom is Joseph C. Grew, the diplomat and former ambassador to Japan.” West Point Manufacturing and Pepperell Manufacturing merged, resulting in a fabric and milling company that achieved a billion plus in annual revenues. State Street Trust Company is today known as State Street Corporation. A member of the Cabot family once chaired State Street Corporation in Boston, founded all the way back in 1972, which today states, “WE’RE RESPONSIBLE FOR 12% OF THE WORLD’S ASSETS.” That equates to $28.19 trillion! See below in the info on J.C. Grew that Cabot ancestry surfaced in the name of one of his daughters---

J.C. Grew was a director of three significant sounding companies, especially The Liberia Company and World Commerce Corporation and notice he was vice chairman of the National Security Committee---back in 1949 (the 1950 info was supplied in 1949).
 He had memberships in more than ten groups having Pilgrims

Society interlock. He appears to have not been a member, but he definitely was in their orbit and very likely was well acquainted with member Henry Sturgis Morgan. Russell Forgan and Nelson Rockefeller---both Pilgrims Society---were directors of World Commerce Corporation. Naturally Grew was an Episcopalian.

Robert Ralph Grew was with Carter, Ledyard & Milburn for 45 years. It was founded in 1854. For interesting details on this Pilgrims Society law firm, see the profile of Pilgrims Society member Charles Lawrence Brock. Grew's scanned info appears to be atypically brief. It may be that he was more of a workhorse in the Manhattan Federal district courts and lacked time for trusteeships and corporate board memberships. No question he was admitted into The Pilgrims Society due to his genealogy and that of other families connected with his. Number 2 Wall Street, still listed as Robert Ralph Grew's office location---

Also---701 8th Street Northwest in D.C. ---

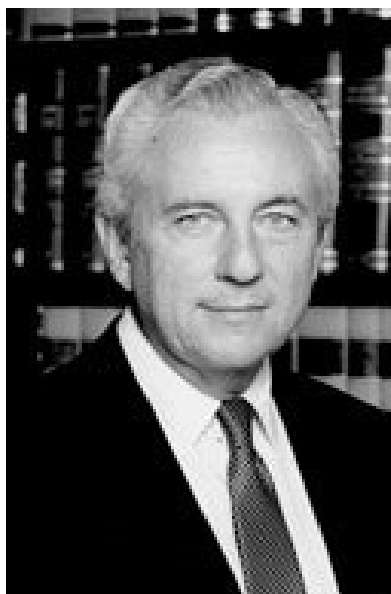

Another Pilgrims Society member, William F. Ray, a partner in Brown Brothers, Harriman & Company, the country's oldest and largest private bank tracing to 1818, had a daughter named Katherine who married Robert Sturgis, a potential member. Ray, whose offices were at 59 Wall Street, was a director of Atlantic Mutual Life Insurance, Centennial Insurance and was president of the Bankers Association for Foreign Trade (Who's Who in America, page 2581, 1976-1977).

One of King's marriages was into the Sturges family (variation of Sturgis), an old-line English family whose genealogies are well woven into the backgrounds of various Pilgrims Society members, including those of the J.P. Morgan dynasty. Ha, his most recent marriage was to a woman whose name was "Gram;" is this connected to The Society spiriting grams of silver out of the Treasury Department back in the 1960s, and grams of silver off the COMEX at prices cheating miners, and grams of foreign owned gold out of Fort Knox, the Treasury, and the Federal Reserve Bank of New York? Having graduated from Yale in 1951, King can be anticipated to be in Skull & Bones, or Wolf's Head, Berzelius Society or other of the super-fraternities there. Ten years after joining David, Polk & Wardwell, King became a partner there, and was chairman and managing partner from 1982 into 1996. DP & W is among the very top Pilgrims Society law firms, with a long history of deep influence. DP & W practices in capital markets, cyber security, derivatives, environmental, financial institutions, health care, mergers, real estate, technology and much more.

“The firm traces its origins to Gunthrie, Bangs & Van Sinderen” says Wiki. The 1969 Pilgrims New York list, page 5, lists 37 deaths that occurred during 1968 and 1969---one of these was Henry Brinsmade Van Sinderen. The Van Sinderens are old-line inheritors; Van Sinderen Street in Brooklyn bears their name. That indicates that of those on the waiting list for membership, three dozen are admitted per annum; except that membership has been lowered to around 700. This means that control is more concentrated than ever. The Van Sinderens were Dutch colonial immigrants to Long Island in the first half of the 17th century. Most likely that means they were large landowners. Henry King was chairman of the board of trustees of Columbia University for 12 years (1983–1995) and became emeritus chairman at that time---

Columbia has had lots of Pilgrims Society members in charge of its affairs, including Nicholas Murray Butler and Grayson Louis Kirk. It was founded in 1754 as King's College.

As of 2005 Henry King was chairman of the Columbia–Presbyterian Hospital advisory council; it was since renamed New York Presbyterian Hospital in a merger with Cornell University Hospital. Did you notice? Finally an institution associated via The Pilgrims with a denomination other than Episcopalian. The Presbyterians are of Scottish origin, and many leading Scots for centuries have been British Crown loyalists, and many Pilgrims members in London, and quite a few here, are Presbyterians. It appears to be the second most represented religious faction in The Society. Major New York hospitals always have Pilgrims Society members as trustees, governors, regents or directors---

Many Pilgrims members take charge of national university alumni groups; or men on the way to becoming Pilgrims members---

During 1984 to 1986 King was president of Yale Law School Association, whereupon he became the YLSA chairman into 1988---

As of 2005 King was president of the trustees of the Episcopal Cathedral of Saint John the Divine, one of the two most important Pilgrims Society controlled religious entities in New York---the other is Trinity Episcopal Church. In fact, during 1991 to 1998 King was a vestryman at Trinity Church. This suggests he migrated to the newer group due to some difference in globalist emphasis. 2013 info shows King was as of then an emeritus trustee of Cathedral of Saint John. If the facts could be assembled, it would likely be seen that Pilgrims members in these two Episcopal churches represent at least 45% of the total power of the Society's members in America! An interior view of Saint John---these Pilgrims who are members there see no conflict in religious piety with warmongering and destruction of the middle class, and dragging America back under Royal family rule which is central to their incredible objectives---

As of 2005 Henry King was a director of the New York Academy of Medicine founded in 1847. Updated, King has been replaced. It however adds to the proliferation picture of these Pilgrims in Big Medicine, Big Hospitals and Big Pharma in order to eventually suck our finances dry so we can live under Crown feudalism---

As of 2005 King was a member of Citizens Committee for New York City. That detail is still current as of April 2015. More like, The Pilgrims Society Committee for Pilgrimizing New York City (by bankrupting all the small folks) ---

As of 2005 Henry King was a director of this group researching skin cancers; meaning, developing more ways Pilgrims Society members can drain the finances of skin cancer victims. This position is no longer current; but another Davis, Polk & Wardwell attorney is there. It was founded in 1987 and they claim 100 million Americans have bouts of skin cancer. That sounds overestimated; in any case, The Pilgrims Society has its greedy, grasping, acquisitive, wealth seizing eyes on all forms of medical treatment (milking/bilking disease conditions, rather than curing them) ---

American Skin Association

As of 2005 King was a director of Fishers Island Development Corporation. That detail is no longer current; however, highly prospective Pilgrims Society members are there, including Reynolds DuPont; William C. Ridgway III; Philip Weymouth III; and Charles T. Wilmerding (a DuPont relative) ---

In 2005 King was a trustee of Episcopal Charities New York; he is now an emeritus trustee---

During 1977 to 1989 Henry King was a trustee of the Chapin School; Pilgrims member Donald Sands Rice, profiled elsewhere in this series, was a Chapin School trustee during 1980 to 1991. During 1978 to 1992 King was a trustee of Columbia University Press, which publishes with a globalist, internationalist, interventionist stance. King wasn't in The Pilgrims 1980 lists; very likely he was a member by the mid to late 1980s. These characters are aware of The Society years before they become members. At appropriate juncture, senior members describe it to trusted junior associates. King received the Nicholas Murray Butler award from Columbia; named after the Pilgrims Society member who was president of Columbia for many years. In 1992 King received the John Jay award from Columbia University. For info on John Jay, first Chief Justice of the Supreme Court (1795–1801), and his descendants, several of which became Pilgrims Society members and Columbia University trustees, see #2 Silver Squelchers, pages 20–26. King is a fellow of the important American College of Trial Lawyers; this group is described in the profile on Pilgrims members James Zirin. King is a member of the prestigious American Law Institute, described in profiles of other members. As expected he's a member of the American Bar Association and during 1988–1989 headed the important New York State Bar Association. He's a member of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York and the American Judicature Society. King may be the only AJS member in these profiles. In 2014, in its 101st year, the AJS decided to close up shop, apparently having felt its alleged mission of improving our courts was accomplished (“entrenching corrupt judges who’d rule against precious metals as money.”) Herewith from page 294 of the 1970–1971 Who’s Who in America---

King is a CFR member and a member of the Fishers Island Club (1926) ---

And the Fishers Island Yacht Club---

King is a member of the Jupiter Island, Florida, Club. Jupiter Island has its share of Pilgrims Society members with summer homes. It's known as "Florida's richest club." Jupiter Island is a hotbed of old-line globalist inheritors.

Other clubs and groups King belongs to are described in profiles of other Pilgrims members. We notice some items here that didn't appear in the scan, as the source was ten years ago---

"Henry L. King serves as a Senior Counsel at Davis Polk & Wardwell's Litigation Department. Mr. King serves as a Trustee Emeritus at Edward S. Harkness Eye Institute. He was the principal litigator for International Paper, Imperial Chemical Industries, LTV, Morgan Stanley and other clients of the firm for many years. He regularly advised on antitrust issues in the context of mergers and acquisitions as well as litigation. In recent years, he represented such companies, or their boards, as Exxon, Bankers Trust, Owens-Illinois, USAir, Metropolitan Life Insurance, Kohlberg Kravis Roberts & Co., State Farm Mutual Insurance, the New York Mets, United Airlines and Sotheby's. He served as chairman of the Section on Antitrust Law of the New York State Bar Association and as a member of the Council of the Antitrust Law Section of the American Bar Association. Mr. King is a director of the Fund for Modern Courts, and a trustee of the Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under Law.” King is no longer a director of the Fund for Modern Courts; there is however another Davis, Polk & Wardwell attorney there, and representatives from a score of other Pilgrims Society/Wall Street law firms---

This one founded in 1963 no longer has king, but 2 other Davis, Polk & Wardwell lawyers, plus attorneys from a herd of other Pilgrims Society law firms---

The Edward S. Harkness Eye Institute was named after large Standard Oil Company heir Edward S. Harkness (Pilgrims 1933). Information as of 1924 shows the Harkness family was the fourth wealthiest family in America. However, the researcher (Ferdinand Lundberg highly regarded) didn't take into account fortunes held by the Van Rensselaers, Bayards, Livingstons and other old-line landed dynasties, probably because details were/are so much more difficult to come by. Edward Harkness founded The Pilgrim Trust in 1930 in England, always run by members of The Pilgrims London. Various Pilgrims members have been discovered to have acted as chairmen of The Pilgrim Trust---Lord Evershed (1959–1965) and Lord Harlech (1974 to 1979). Raymond Evershed was a highly placed British judge and Harlech was an Ambassador to America and owned television stations and other interests in England. Harlech was the one whose nose could be taken for a ship's prow.

Henry L. King, Pilgrims Society member, resides at 115 East 67th Street in Manhattan. A typical unit there sells for over $6,400,000.

His last wife, Margaret Gram (precious metals connection?) is also an attorney with offices at 100 Church Street, New York---

9) Edward Ridley Finch Cox (1946---; second generation Pilgrims Society member as of unknown; post 1980) is married to Tricia

Nixon, daughter of President Richard M. Nixon (Pilgrims Society) who was a major gold and silver squelcher.

As of March 24, 1969, Richard Nixon became an “honorary” president of The Pilgrims New York branch---almost seventeen (17) months before he closed the gold window to foreigners, mostly the French, at the Treasury, and later imposed a Fascist $1.61 per ounce price cap on domestically mined silver in his bullshit Cost of Living Council. (Documentation on Nixon’s linkage to The Pilgrims---page 141, “The Pilgrims of the United States,” short run book, 2003). Edward is the son of Howard Ellis Cox (1923–1989) an attorney who was in The Pilgrims 1980 roster. He held real estate development interests on Long Island. The Coxes genealogy is linked to the most widespread genealogical linkage of any Pilgrims Society family---the Livingstons. Edward S. Cox was noted as of 2001 info to be a trustee of The Pilgrims Foundation. The Palm Beach Florida Sun Sentinel called Howard Ellis Cox “a socially prominent lawyer” and noted “he became the youngest national commander of the Military Order of World Wars. Mr. Cox founded his Cox, Treanor & Shaughnessy law firm in Manhattan in 1946, three years after marrying Anne Finch, the daughter of a New York judge and a descendent of Robert R. Livingston.”

At <http://www.ushistory.org/declaration/related/livingston> we discover that Robert R. Livingston (1746–1813) became chancellor of New York State in 1783 (the title is long since obsolete). Before that he was Secretary for Foreign Affairs, a title since renamed to Secretary of State. “In 1801, President Jefferson appointed Robert Livingston resident minister at the court of Napoleon. It was he who negotiated the Louisiana Purchase from the French. He was also a patron of Robert Fulton, who refined the steam engine.”

He was the grandson of Robert Livingston the Elder (1654–1728) who received a British Crown land grant of 160,000 acres along the Hudson River and known as Livingston Manor, which over time became worth an unknown number of millions and eventually, billions. He was a descendant of the Earl of Linlithgow; also known as Alexander Livingstone (the name had this variation and was slightly altered later, possibly to deflect criticism for his link to Old World nobility). This original Livingston in the New World married Alida Schuyler, herself of a Dutch colonial dynasty who received similarly immense land grants. She was the widow of Nicholas Van Rennselaer, of another Dutch colonial dynasty whose lands probably outranked both the Livingstons and the Schuylers combined. In England, 1543 marked the year a Livingston became an honorary member of the English Royal household.

Edward Cox's mother was Ann Delafield, of a very old French dynasty tracing to around AD 750, Count De La Feld. The Delafields were prominent in the Bank of America in its early days. Ed Cox also has Winthrop family ancestry, tracing to John Winthrop, multi-term Governor of Massachusetts Bay Colony in the first half of the 1600s. Ed Cox's grandfather, Edward Ridley Finch was a highly placed judge in New York State and a member of The Pilgrims (1940, 1949 and 1957 rosters). In 1915, Finch was appointed to the New York State Supreme Court by Charles S. Whitman, New York Governor who surfaced in The Pilgrims 1924 list---

Ed Cox is a former law partner at an important Pilgrims Society linked firm---

Patterson Belknap Webb & Tyler LLP

Founded in 1919, Patterson Belknap Webb & Tyler. Richard Parsons (born 1948, probably a Pilgrims member) came from this firm and became a director of Time Warner and chairman of Citigroup in 2009; he's a Rockefeller family associate. Another who came from this firm was Robert Morgenthau, who was Manhattan District Attorney. Robert's father was FDR's Treasury Secretary who stole gold and silver from Americans, Henry Morgenthau Jr. Henry Morgenthau Senior was a Pilgrims Society member.

Ed Cox in 2008 was New York State manager of the Presidential campaign of Arizona Senator John McCain, a rabid warmonger and so-called national “security” fanatic, whose father was in the 1969 Pilgrims roster---Admiral John S. McCain. The son of Ed Cox and Tricia Nixon married Andrea Catsimatidis, daughter of John Catsimatidis, recently claimed by Forbes to be worth $3.1 billion in grocery stores and petroleum interests. He may or may not be a member; this in any case solidly places him in the orbit of The Society. Hillary Clinton (Pilgrims) and Henry Kissinger (Pilgrims) attended, among others.

10) Kenneth R. Page (1946---; Pilgrims Society as of undetermined) is an attorney with Hughes-Hubbard in New York. He specializes in estate and trust administration, estate planning, foundation administration and investments, multi-jurisdictional estate planning including in foreign countries. In 2013 he was named a top rated lawyer in trusts and estates by American Lawyer. He’s a member of the American Bar Association, the New York State Bar Association and he lists himself as a trustee of two obscure foundations or funds; the Ernst C. Stiefel Foundation and the Isaac H. Tuttle Fund (that’s Tuttle, not Tuttle)!

One Battery Park Plaza New York (495 feet) houses the HHR law firm---

Here's some background this elite law firm offers visitors---

"While Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP has a distinguished history dating back to 1888, the firm has been recognized as part of the "new elite" among "the profession's top tier," according to a survey by The American Lawyer magazine ("The A-List", July 2012). With offices in New York, Washington, D.C., Los Angeles, Miami, Jersey City, Kansas City, Paris and Tokyo, Hughes Hubbard offers expertise in a wide range of practice areas. Our team of experienced practitioners work in over 30 specialized practices, from mergers and acquisitions, public offerings, corporate reorganization, real estate and cross-border transactions to securities litigation, arbitration, product liability, antitrust, intellectual property, labor, employee benefits and tax, as well as niche practices such as art law and a credit card practice. From our early roots in the courtroom, Hughes Hubbard has developed a litigation practice that is among the most lauded in the country. A Survey in the International Financial Law Review identified several of our partners as "stars" in the field of international litigation and noted that our "results have been excellent." Our arbitration practice was recognized that same year by International Commercial Litigation magazine both for its volume (first among U.S. law firms in number of cases handled) and scope (first among American firms in number of industries represented). The American Lawyer and Chambers Global have both cited the firm as being in the forefront of international arbitration work."

"Our corporate practice is diverse and extensive. It handles everything from M&A, corporate governance, and joint ventures to capital markets, private equity, equipment finance and banking. Clients range from leading Fortune 500 corporations to privately held companies to venture capital firms and private equity funds. They operate in many industries, such as manufacturing, transportation, financial institutions, pharmaceuticals, high technology, media, publishing, telecommunications and more. The breadth of our expertise enables us to provide high-quality, high-value work and handle large projects affordably. A distinguishing characteristic of Hughes Hubbard has long been its emphasis on providing superior, individualized client service. Every attorney in the firm understands that the practice of law requires extensive knowledge, outstanding skills and unwavering responsiveness. At a time when most Wall Street firms were focused only on securities work, our founder Charles Evans Hughes (the future Governor, Secretary of State and Chief Justice) decided at the turn of the century that the firm should meet all of its clients' legal needs. In particular, Hughes insisted that the firm's lawyers "stand up" for their clients in court. As a result, we not only built a prominent litigation practice; we built long-term, loyal relationships with many of our clients, some of them enduring for more than half a century. Hughes Hubbard's goal has always been the same: To do everything it can in support of its clients. At the same time, the firm has steadfastly fulfilled its obligation to be a Good Citizen within the larger community in which its lawyers practice. The firm has outstanding diversity scores and consistently receives high marks for its pro bono activities. Hughes Hubbard truly is, as The American Lawyer observed, one of America's Top Law Firms."

THE AMERICAN LAWYER

Charles Evans Hughes (1862–1948) was Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States (1930–1941). He was Governor of New York (1907–1910); associate justice of the Supreme Court (1910–1916); U.S. Secretary of State (1921–1925; a member judge on the International Court of Justice at The Hague, Netherlands (1928–1930) and was the Republican nominee for President in 1916. He was with the predecessor firms of HHR including the original Chamberlain, Carter & Hornblower. Hornblower is the family name of a significant old-line New England dynasty who were also big in investment banking. For a description of this family and its Silver Users Association connections, see #7 Silver Squelchers, pages 22–34.

Frank K. Houston of Tennessee came from a slave owning family. He attended Vanderbilt University and became president of the Thomas Jefferson Foundation and also of Chemical Bank, now part of JP Morgan Chase. “He was president of Bankers Club of America and was a director of numerous insurance companies. In 1969, he established a professorship of banking and finance at the Vanderbilt Graduate School of Management.” He was unfortunately related to Texas President General Sam Houston, who unlike Frank Houston, was strictly a hard money man; see “Texas President Sam Houston and Silver,” released in November 2010. Herbert Houston, publisher of Our World and president of Cosmos Broadcasting Corporation, was an official of the League to Enforce Peace, a scheme to institute a world government following World War I. He was of the same extended Houston family (1930–1931 Who’s Who, page 1138). Sam Houston was the number one understudy of Andrew Jackson and would never have been on the same page politically and financially as these other Houstons. Howe who held newspaper interests was a director of the American Society of Newspaper Editors and was involved with the Pulitzer Prizes. Colgate Hoyt (1849–1922, Pilgrims Society) was a large scale railroad financier and investment banker “with many interests.” Those interests included the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway; Oregon & Transcontinental Railway; Wisconsin Central Railroad; Saint Joseph, South Bend & Southern Railroad; Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company; Cuba Copper Company; British Consolidated Copper Company; United States Cast Iron & Pipe Foundry; Moja Rubber Plantations (Who’s Who in America, 1914–1915, page 1181). He married the niece of Union General William Tecumseh Sherman, who destroyed Georgia. His daughter Elizabeth Sherman Hoyt married Sir Ronald Lindsay (Pilgrims London) who was of the line of the shockingly rich Earls of Crawford (land, iron, coal, fisheries) who trace to 1398. Lindsay was British Ambassador to America during the crucial silver activity years of 1930–1939. Obviously since Colgate Hoyt died in 1922, the Colgate Hoyt in the 1933 Pilgrims New York roster was his son. Hunter operated Standard Shipbuilding Corporation of New York and was the representative of the Emergency Fleet Corporation in World War I, which built 150 vessels of 5,000 tons each (Who's Who in America, 1930–1931, page 1167)!

Hurd ran Lawyers Mortgage Company of New York; Mortgage Bond Company; Liberty Brokerage Company and Northern Assurance Company and authored “Principles of City Land Values” (Who's Who, 1930–1931, page 1170). Huse was president of Guantanamo & Western Railroad Company of Cuba (its chairman was Franklin Q. Brown, a Pilgrims official!) That and other Cuban railroad systems were built to accommodate the burgeoning sugar producing industry which members of The Society owned lock, stock, and barrel. See the link to read about GOLD BONDS, formerly used to finance many industries! Hussey was a Rear Admiral who was a member of the New York Yacht Club (the Society padded his benefits for protecting their foreign holdings) and the Army Navy Club in D.C., frequent site of Silver Users Association members (1930–1931 Who's Who, page 1172). C.C. Hyde was a very prominent New York lawyer who held appointments from President Harding and in 1928 he became American representative in Paris on the so-called Permanent Commission for the Advancement of Peace ("Pilgrims of America" he said, page 1177, same Who's who volume). The other Hyde founded West Coast Grocery Company in 1891 which became "one of the largest wholesale grocery businesses in the U.S., serving Alaska, Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana."

The influence of this group is incredibly far-ranging in nature and its members have impacted our lives for generations in so many unrecognized ways due to the group's extreme secrecy.

11) James A. Dempsey (1953---; Pilgrims Society as of undetermined) ---his father was in the 1980 list, unless he was 26 or 27 at the time; more likely it was his father.

Founded in 1967, GT Law has around 1,800 lawyers in 37 offices in the United States, Europe, the Middle East and Asia---

<http://www.gtlaw.com/>

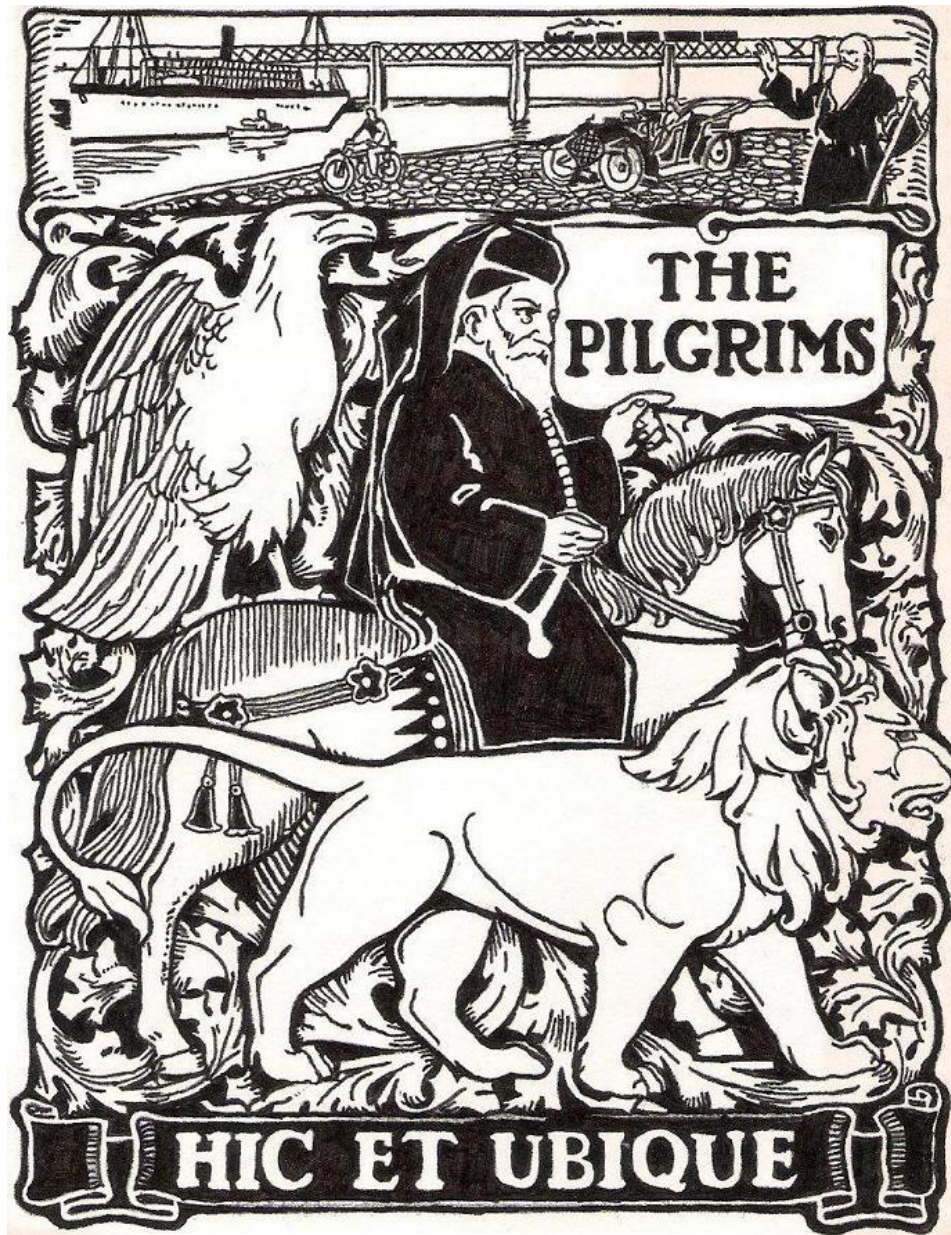

<http://www.gtlaw.com/People/James-A-Dempsey>

“James A. Dempsey represents financial institutions and creditors and concentrates his practice on all aspects of commercial lending and secured transactions, including asset-based financing, mortgage warehousing, middle market, construction financing, and syndicated credit arrangements. He also advises clients on a wide variety of loan workouts, forbearance matters, and credit restructuring. James is experienced in merger and acquisition financing and frequently counsels clients on various corporate matters as well as bank financing transactions.”

I don't have much to work with on this one. Doubtless the expanded details and those of his father would be revealing of more influence and connections.
