Investment Bankers in The Pilgrims Society Part I

Take 32 seconds to hear what should be The Pilgrims theme music!

Presented July 2015 by Charles Savoie

Ivan Obolensky, Pilgrims Society, is identified as an investment banker. However, we are more appropriately placing him in the royalty section which will be number 28 or 29 (or other later number due to ongoing series revision), if that group is in two parts due to too much length as one presentation. Obolensky is a relation of the super rich Astors. In the next installment, Megabankers in the Society (#21 because #20 will be Part II of Investment Bankers), we'll include a profile on globe-straddling titan Sir Peter Sutherland who, though he could fit into this investment bankers presentation due to his strong linkage to Goldman Sachs, has been a director of several megabanks.

Warner states that since 1998 he's been a council member of Graduate Theological Union at Berkeley. It's a consortium of eight theological seminaries.

Warner was a trustee of the New York Historical Society during 1985 to 1999. He was its chairman during 1994 to 1999 and since then he's chairman emeritus. It traces back to 1804. Barbara Knowles Debs, wife of Pilgrims Society member Richard Debs (already profiled), was president (1989–1992) of the NYHS. She's a trustee of the Geraldine Rockefeller Dodge Foundation and a director of the Foreign Policy Association---

MAKING HISTORY MATTER

Warner succeeded as president of The Pilgrims New York, Henry Luce III of the Time Incorporated fortune, who became president in 1997. As of the 2005 volume, page 4888, M.H. Warner was on The Pilgrims executive committee. Ellen C. Murphy was the granddaughter of Grayson Mallet Prevost Murphy, who passed away in 1937, and he isn't in the 1933 Pilgrims roster. Grayson M.P. Murphy Jr. however was in The Pilgrims 1940 roster. The elder Murphy was a director of Goodyear Tire & Rubber; Bethlehem Steel; Inspiration Consolidated Copper; New York Trust Company; New York Railways; American Ice Company; Cuba Cane Sugar; Finance & Trading Corporation; Omnibus Corporation; Royal Indemnity; U.S. & Foreign Securities; Textile Banking Corporation; Guaranty Trust Company of New York; Fifth Avenue Business Securities (1930-1931 Who's Who in America, page 1630), the wealth he represented made it into The Pilgrims organization by way of his inheritor. Wiki shows he was a director of Fifth Avenue Coach Company; Chicago Motor Coach Company; and Anaconda Copper Mines. How much of that wealth filtered down to Pilgrims president Miner Warner? A Wall Street law firm dating to 1830 today bears the name Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt & Mosle and has over 300 attorneys in New York, Washington, London, Paris, Kuwait City, Mexico City, Dubai, Istanbul, Frankfurt and elsewhere.

Notice that Warner has a degree from the fiat money London School of Economics---another Pilgrims Society entity. Salomon Brothers and Merrill Lynch investment banks are both strongly tied to The Pilgrims, as is another Wall Street law firm, Shearman & Sterling.

SHEARMAN & STERLING_{LLP}

Public Resources International, founded in 1992, is involved in international debt restructuring negotiations and arrangements. It has facilitated arrangements for governments and banks in Europe, Algeria, Brazil, China and India to the extent of “many billions.” PRI is also involved in “international corporate recapitalizations” and “the sale of properties to pay for settlements” and has been actively involved with “Japanese trading companies” and with “joint stock trading companies in former Soviet Union states.” Of Warner, his site states---

“Prior to founding Public Resources International in 1992, its principal, Miner H. Warner, spent twenty years in investment banking divided between London and New York. Mr. Warner’s banking experience includes service with Salomon Brothers, where he co-founded international banking, and with Merrill Lynch, where he was responsible for sovereign and international distressed debt advisories. In addition to the negotiation of international debt settlements, Mr. Warner advised on the recapitalization of the Lithuanian state oil refinery (which at the time of engagement was valued at its scrap price and which a few years later had a market value of $2.5 billion), and on the restructuring through transfer of assets of NKNK, the largest petrochemical complex in Russia.”

Warner's daughter is associated with Montefiore Hospital System, which we discussed as to its Pilgrims Society connections in #11 Silver Squelchers, pages 88–92. As for the Hispanic Society of America, which Warner has been a trustee of since 2005, we notice this statement---

“A review of tax returns of the Hispanic Society of America lists the HSA with $29 million. But if the Society's representations in its legal papers about the small percentage of its assets made up by the coins are true, its assets would be up to thirty times higher.”

They may be reporting three and one third of their total assets. This is typical of all Pilgrims Society interests, to drastically downplay how much they have. David Rockefeller is consistently rated at $2 to $3 billion. Yet rumors of family controlled trusts are high in the hundreds of billions.

We also are compelled to take note of the “Trojan horse revised loan agreement” mentioned near Warner’s name. Warner’s mother was Nancy Hill, and that allows room for speculation as to whether she was descended from railroad tycoon James J. Hill

Warner is a director or trustee of the English Speaking Union of the U.S., a well established Pilgrims Subsidiary. From 1991–1993 Warner was involved with the Council of the Americas---founded by Pilgrims Society member David Rockefeller. The Council of the Americas was behind the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) and the Central American Free Trade Agreement (CAFTA). Secretary of State Colin Powell, among the very, very few Black members of The Pilgrims (I regret to be forced to say also, the Black members are all “brights,” presumably impinging less on the sensibilities of this group of Worthy Gentlemen) as he addressed the Council of the Americas---

Miner Warner was on a Presidential panel in the Reagan administration, the Private Sector Survey on Cost Control, 1982–1983. It was more widely known as the Grace Commission, headed by chemical magnate and multi-industry large investor J. Peter Grace, a Citibank director and who appeared in The Pilgrims 1969 and 1974 rosters---

Albert H. Gordon headed Kidder, Peabody & Company, an important investment bank and was a director of Carnation Company, Allen Group. Deltec Asset Management and Commercial Credit and whose daughter Sarah married into the Coolidge Presidential family. C.F. Gordon was a partner in another investment bank, Tucker, Anthony & R.L. Day, and his daughter in law was an “independent film producer.” J.R. Gordon was head of the International Nickel Company of Canada (INCO) and a member of the Canadian Mining Hall of Fame . Next we notice members of the Gould family tracing to gold, railroad and land speculator Jay Gould, widely regarded as the most hated man of the 1800s. O.R. Grace held interests in Grace National Bank; Sterling, Grace & Company; 90 Madison Avenue Corporation; Andersen Labs; Alpha Portland Industries and Republic Auto Parts. Albert Hamilton Gordon, very likely with lineage tracing to central banking and national debt advocate Alexander Hamilton, lived to be age 107 and in the 1960s was regarded as one of the ten most powerful men on Wall Street. His father was a contracting supplier to the British Army during World War One. Notably, the Grace Commission Report declined to fault the Federal Reserve System for the nation’s troubles with “cost control.” How will costs be controlled when the Fed continually inflates? Blame it on other sources sez The Pilgrims Society!

B.A. Warner appeared in the 1974 roster

Warner, Bradford A.

Rollin Miles Warner, a financial consultant who attended Harvard Law School, appeared in the 1980 list and was possibly related to these two. He was a director of Bayless Markets, Henry Hubbell Inc. and Federal Pacific. “Federal Pacific provides transformers and voltage switchgear to industrial, commercial, utility and mining customers worldwide.”

Regarding B.A. Warner and his association with European American Banking Corporation---in 1970 Harry E. Ekblom (Pilgrims 1969) became chairman of that bank, which represented a European consortium. Before that Ekblom was with Chase Manhattan Bank. Gilman Paper Company appears to have been involved in shady dealings, as we read it “...went bankrupt, leaving thousands without jobs. Today, many former employees still have not received their final paychecks, retirement benefits, or separation pay.” B.A. Warner was a member of the anti-silver Economic Club of New York and for 19 years he chaired the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness which funds research into causation and treatment of blindness. A good cause you say, who would disagree, but when Pilgrims are involved, it ends up meaning they will own the patented treatments and the funds will flow to them. How much would you pay to see again if you were blind? Step right up folks, The Pilgrims Society is waiting to “absorb” your entire net worth! The Mayflower Society is among the many hereditary, genealogical, and ostensibly patriotic organizations well interlocked with The Pilgrims Society.

That is not to say that all members of such groups are anti-American, but I definitely sound an alarm where members of a neo British Empire globalist group---The Pilgrims Society---are involved. It turns out that the most prominent early East coast settlers who voyaged from England---had descendants with genealogy in The Pilgrims Society. The drift is always to drag America towards reunification with Britain and its Commonwealth. The elder Warner was a trustee of the New York Public Library and the National Hospital for Speech Disorders. His home recently sold for almost $1.3 million.

Bradford Warner's father, Henry Wolcott Warner, owned an estate on Long Island. He was apparently not a member; perhaps the threshold of wealth for membership hadn't as of his time been reached.

Miner Warner was for several years an official of the General Theological Seminary in New York (Episcopalian) founded in 1817---

To complete this profile of Miner Warner, consider the following speech found at the Saudi Arabian Embassy (DC) site, of Prince Turki Al-Faisal mentioning $650 billion of investments in association with the World Trade Organization. This speech on November 16, 2006, the Prince made in New York at a meeting of The Pilgrims Society---

Prince Turki Al-Faisal address to the Pilgrims of the United States
Remarks to be delivered by Prince Turki Al-Faisal, Ambassador of Saudi Arabia to the United States address to the Pilgrims of the United States, New York City on November 16, 2006

“My friend Miner, it is a pleasure to see you after so many years. I still remember sharing with you the bringing of water pails to quench the thirst of the Lawrenceville soccer team. Thank you very much for inviting me today. Ladies and Gentlemen, I would like to share some brief remarks and then leave plenty of time for questions. I understand that part of your mission is to promote the spirit and traditions of English-speaking people in the United States and Britain. This is an appropriate venue for me, then. Having been Saudi Arabia's Ambassador to the United Kingdom before assuming my post here in the United States gives me excellent qualifications. Arabic may be my first language, but my work – like yours – to raise cultural awareness and understanding has been primarily in English. What has helped me is the amount of time I have spent in the United States. I first came to this country at the age of 14. My parents sent me here to be educated at a boarding school across the river in New Jersey. I have very fond memories of this time. I can recall when I went to school on the first day, a young boy came up to me, slapped me on the back and introduced himself. I introduced myself in return, and from that point on, he just kept asking me questions: Where are you from? What is it like? How many members are there in your family? What kind of tent do you live in? Do you ride a camel or not?"

Prince Al-Faisal attended The Lawrenceville School, a Pilgrims Society elitist institution which many members attended---

"He was very much like many Americans I've met during my recent travels across this country – very engaging, very appealing and very inquisitive. I remember that interaction because it made me feel at home immediately. But this experience is not unique to me. The people of our two nations have been developing friendships and partnerships for more than six decades – since long before our governments had developed an official relationship. Over the years, literally hundreds of thousands of Saudis have traveled to the United States, seeking education or healthcare, to conduct business, or simply to visit. The Saudi and American people found that despite some of the cultural differences we have, we are in fact a great deal alike. We're plainspoken and straightforward, and we both believe in the importance of faith and family. Moreover, we want the same things for us and for our children that you do: security, opportunity, good health and education, and a bright future. We know that this can be a challenging proposition, so in Saudi Arabia we have been diligently working for years to modernize and to confront head-on the problems that exist within our society. King Abdullah has set out an aggressive plan to improve the Saudi education system, which includes updating teacher training, and new textbooks and curricula. He has also revitalized a program to build on the legacy of strong interpersonal relationships between our people. The Kingdom has been offering Saudi students an opportunity to study abroad. More than 10,000 are already studying here in the United States. While this is a way for them to receive a world-class education, they also will be forming the next generation of friendships and bonds between Saudis and Americans. They will be the true ambassadors that build new bridges of understanding between our people.”

From 1979 through 2001 Prince Al-Faisal was Saudi Arabian national intelligence chief and Ambassador to America (2005–2007).

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Turki_bin_Faisal_Al_Saud

Saudi Arabian embassy in Washington D.C.---

“By undertaking these types of initiatives, we are ensuring that young Saudis are equipped with the skills and knowledge required to succeed in today’s global economy. A year ago, the Kingdom became a member of the World Trade Organization. This is providing us with great opportunities to diversify our economy and attract foreign investment. As a result of this and other economic reforms, there will be over $650 billion worth of investment opportunities over the next 15 years. This will create jobs and opportunities for Saudis. Diversifying our economy also means moving away from our economy's reliance on oil. We are growing our information technology and financial services industries. We are also creating centers of commerce and business, like the King Abdullah Economic City. This $26 billion mega-project will be a next generation center of finance, healthcare, and technological development. These developments, which are only a few of many, are not just for the Saudi people. We live in a global community, so if we are to benefit ourselves, we are benefiting those in the world with whom we interact. And we interact with the U.S. in particular a great deal. This is why it is so important that we continue to redefine our relationship as it evolves, which is what we have been doing all along."

A major wealthy foreign personality and representative of an important government addresses this virtually unknown group about business deals of enormous magnitude, and the public hears just nothing about it from major and second tier news organizations. Word of The Pilgrims Society has had time to get around the web since I started writing about them in December 2004 and Joel Van Der Reijden, whose work is better than mine in ways, started a year and a half later. People are starting to wonder why the absence of coverage about this group on the part of many major sites. There's no excuse to ignore this group. I don't wear suits and ties and don't make conferences. Those are reasons for no coverage? No organization has had remotely the impact on modern world history as this one, and coverage inexplicably is being refused! More from the Prince---

“Perhaps, the clearest, most recent example of how our nations’ relationship has been evolving to meet new needs is the Saudi–U.S. Strategic Dialogue. This new mechanism is intended to institutionalize relations between our countries, to overcome inevitable differences and to align our resources and capabilities to a greater extent. The Strategic Dialogue is progressing through regular meetings every six months between the Saudi Foreign Minister and the U.S. Secretary of State. They last met in May, and will meet again in December. There are also working groups from both governments that work constructively and comprehensively – on a continuous basis – in a range of issues of importance to both countries – from military cooperation to society and culture. I am glad Saudi Arabia and the United States have been able to expand on our historical friendship. The bonds formed between our people have served as a foundation for the bonds formed by our governments. In an increasingly complicated world, Saudi Arabia and the United States need to understand each other now, more than ever. From the Saudi citizens who come to this country for education – of whom I was one – to the first meeting between Saudi and American leaders in 1945 – when Franklin Roosevelt met King Abdul–Aziz – our countries have built a solid base upon which to continue to build friendships into the future.”

“I remember as I was preparing to leave for my new assignment here in the U.S., I asked King Abdullah: “Your Majesty, how should I deal with President Bush and the American people?” He turned to me – and without batting an eye – said: “Just be frank with them.” With this in mind, a little over a year ago, when I delivered my diplomatic credentials to Secretary Rice, I reminded her of a story about Winston Churchill. I told her about how he was a guest at the White House during the war years when President Roosevelt wanted to honor him by putting him up in the White House instead of Blair House. One night, Mr. Roosevelt wheeled into Mr. Churchill’s room and found him stark naked. Embarrassed, Roosevelt tried to wheel back out quickly. But Churchill turned to him and he said: “Mr. President, the Prime Minister of England has nothing to hide from the President of the United States.” I assured your Secretary of State that I was not going to come to her naked on any occasion, but that that is the kind of relationship Saudi Arabia would like to have with the United States. We have nothing to hide. Now, with that in mind,

I would be glad to answer any questions you may have. Thank you again for inviting me, and for your patience and attention.”

They have nothing to hide either, these Pilgrims, which is why their operations are blacked out by the media they own and by the media whose editorial policies they dictate by means of advertising revenues and interlocking directors and banking relationships! During 1997 to 2008 Warner was a trustee and executive committee member of the vastly larger Episcopal Cathedral of Saint John the Divine which, with the still older Trinity Episcopal Church, <https://www.trinitywallstreet.org/> constitute the two most important churches to more members of The Pilgrims in New York than any other!

The Brook Club, of which he's a vice president, we cover in another profile in this presentation. Same goes for the River Club. The Links Club, often regarded as one of the three most important membership by invitation only Manhattan social clubs, we've covered in another presentation. He belongs to the Metropolitan Club in D.C., where he easily may have access to key Senators, Congressmen and Federal officials---including judges and foreign Ambassadors (because Pilgrims members do business in so many nations)---we already saw his involvement with a top Saudi government official---at 1700 H Street NW---

You want to ask---is Tom Brokaw of NBC News related to this character? It's possible; I don't know. Tom the news (massager, not messenger) was born in South Dakota. Tom happens to be a current director of the Council on Foreign Relations, some of its board are always Pilgrims members, and the rest are fill-in material---flunkies more so than outer circle Pilgrims members. I haven't found anyone named Brokaw in earlier Pilgrims lists, which indicates that the family, or its head, didn't become wealthy or influential enough until several generations of wealth acquisition, to be invited to join. However, the New York Times, January 24, 1916, reported that the grandfather of Brokaw III was receiving death threats and hired guards from the Burns Detective Agency. The Philadelphia Enquirer, May 20, 1960, page 21, said her grandfather was a John Shillito Rogers of Tuxedo Park, New York. J.S. Rogers was in The Pilgrims New York 1924 roster and J.S. Rogers Jr. was in the 1940 list. J.S. Rogers business address was number 40 Wall Street, and he was a law partner in the same firm as Charles Rushmore, a charter member of The Pilgrims in New York, and the man for whom Mount Rushmore (the Presidential sculpture mountain) in South Dakota is named. Whoops! We just saw that Tom Brokaw was born in South Dakota, and now we find another trail leading there, which may still in his case be coincidence. I haven't found J.S. Rogers in Who's Who nor J.S. Rogers Jr. Listing in this reference volume is voluntary. The name Stokes is also in the ancestry of Brokaw II's wife, and this may indicate a familial link to the Phelps-Stokes family (Pilgrims Society; Nevada mining and railroad fortune; Arizona copper mining). Make that definite; I find that J.S. Rogers Senior married Catherine Dodge, connected to the Phelps-Dodge fortune (Dodge family---mining---not automobiles). The father of J.S. Rogers belonged to multiple yacht clubs. Financial World Magazine, March 1, 1920, page 35, showed Henry Pendleton Rogers (father of J.S. Rogers) in a partnership with a member of the obscure but wealthy Auchincloss family (later represented in The Pilgrims Society). The link showed H.P. Rogers a member of the

New York Stock Exchange and the Chicago Board of Trade. From the 1914 Pilgrims New York roster---

Henry H. Rogers John Shillito Rogers

This particular Rogers family line traced back to arrival on the East coast in 1635. James Rogers was a close friend of John Winthrop, Governor of Massachusetts Bay Colony. Winthrop descendants became Pilgrims Society members and were connected to the founding of the Federal Reserve. Rogers family members got possession of significant acreage on Long Island, New York and Connecticut Colony. They were involved in ocean going transportation of settlers from England to the New World and were close to the Governor of Connecticut. I find in their lineage the name Woolsey; we have included a profile on Robert James Woolsey (CIA Director 1993–1995) as someone known to have addressed a Pilgrims meeting and I consider very likely a member. It gets deeper, more profound, and more mystical! There was a Samuel Rogers in this line who became a director of the first United States Bank in 1791! That's our original Federal Reserve System! This Rogers was a vestryman of Trinity Episcopal Church in New York, which many Pilgrims Society members have attended since 1903! Trinity Church and its incredible wealth of land and buildings in Manhattan is described in #2 Silver Squelchers, pages 22–23. We also discover in the first link of this paragraph that this Rogers line intersected by marriage with that of the Livingstons, again confirming the Livingstons, huge colonial land grant owners, as being linked by marriage to more Pilgrims Society members than any other family! Having delved into the fascinating ancestry of Clifford Vail Brokaw III, we find that his son Clifford Vail Brokaw IV married into the Du Pont lineage (Silver Users Association/Pilgrims Society) in this New York Times story dated November 19, 2006---

Eleuthiere Irenee du Pont de Nemours was also a director of the second United States Bank! Central banking and opposition to the use of silver as money go together to the nth degree! At this URL <http://abovethelaw.com/2006/11/legal-eagle-wedding-watch-a-note-on-our-family-scoring/> we notice the following remarks about the marriage of Clifford Vail Brokaw IV to the Du Pont heiress---

“For centuries, marriages have been used to bring together agglomerations of wealth and power and this remains true today. An individual who overcame tough circumstances to achieve success in the legal profession is an impressive individual; but a Mayflower descendant marrying the child of a billionaire is an impressive couple. She is a daughter of Edmund N. Carpenter II of Wilmington, Del. Her father is a partner in and a former president of Richards, Layton & Finger, a law firm there. The bride is a descendant of Eleuthère Irénée du Pont de Nemours, the founder of the DuPont Company. He is a son of Elizabeth Rogers Brokaw and Mr. Brokaw III of Southampton, N.Y. His father retired as the chairman of Invail Capital, an investment firm in New York. The bridegroom is a descendant of William Bradford, a governor of Plymouth Colony.”

William Bradford (1590–1657) ---

Eleuthiere Du Pont (1771–1834) ---

We notice that Brokaw graduated from the University of Virginia and Yale meaning; he may be a member of the Raven Society of U.V. (founded 1904) and is almost certainly a member of one of the Yale “super-fraternities.” This source says it was founded in 1909. Since 1990 he’s on the Dean’s Council of the University of Virginia---

See the article “Wrapped in Mystery” here about the counterpart secret societies to Yale at the University of Virginia. Founded in 1819, the University of Virginia today has an endowment of $6.4 billion---a likely reason for Pilgrims Society members like Clifford Vail Brokaw III to be involved in their management, in addition to fostering “globalist” education.

Brokaw was with the Wall Street law firm of White & Case (1956–1959), a firm well connected to The Pilgrims organization. “White & Case LLP was founded in New York in 1901 and has grown into one of the world’s leading global law firms. The firm has expanded beyond New York, opening offices in leading cities in the US and around the world, and it has practice groups in emerging markets including Latin America, Central & Eastern Europe, Africa, the Middle East and Asia. White & Case has 40 offices in 27 countries around the world. White & Case clients include many of the world's most respected and well-established companies, technology and other start-ups, governmental organizations and state-owned entities.” The firm has nearly 2,000 attorneys and almost 5,000 employees.

From 1959 to 1977 Brokaw was associated with the investment banks Blyth & Company, W.E. Hutton & Company, Eastman Dillon Union Securities, which were involved in God knows how many hundreds of billions in public offerings and there were earlier members guiding those firms at the time. They were later merged into Paine Webber (Pilgrims Society and Du Pont connected) then that merged into UBS (Union Bank of Switzerland; Pilgrims Society).

BLYTH EASTMAN DILLON & CO. INCORPORATED

Next Brokaw chaired Invail Capital (1977–1995). Invail appears to be some “derivative” of his middle name, and I’m unaware if it has an ancestral connection. Invail closed down perhaps after sucking dry of finances whatever was in its purview. He started Invail Capital in 1977 and in 1982 it opened a branch office at 6000 Interfirst Plaza, 901 Main St. Dallas, TX 75202. In Texas Invail was listed with the Secretary of State of Texas as a “foreign, for profit corporation.”

The head office of Invail was in New York. Possibly Texas officials regard New York as “foreign” and it could fit that characterization. More likely however there were overseas investment funds of large dimensions being channeled into Invail. What was its interest in Texas? I believe it was oil and gas, or mostly so, as Brokaw’s directorship in Brazos River (Texas) Gas Company from 1962 to 1991 suggests. BRG Company was started in 1926 and provided natural gas to 26 Texas cities. A major Texas political financier, Chet Upham (1925–2008) was closely associated with Brokaw in this enterprise. Upham may have been related to Pilgrims Society members George Upham Harris and Henry Upham Harris (Pilgrims 1969), Wall Street investment bankers. Henry Upham Harris was a director of Texaco; Southern Pacific Railroad; Chemical Bank New York; Stone & Webster Engineering and Oceanarium Incorporated (Who’s Who in America, 1970–1971, page 960.

There was also an Invail Energy with the same Dallas office address as Invail Capital.

Chet Upham chaired (1979–1983) the Texas Republican Party and has been a financial backer of Texas Governors William Clements and Rick Perry and of Arizona Senator John McCain, warmonger, whose father admiral John S. McCain, was in The Pilgrims 1969 roster. Upham’s son is a backer of U.S. Senator John Cornyn of Texas. One wonders how many high political figures Pilgrims Society members such as Clifford Vail Brokaw III are closely associated with. Upham Oil & Gas Company, at 999 Energy Avenue in Mineral Wells, Texas, may still have participation by Pilgrims Society member Brokaw III and owns “hundreds of wells” in several Texas counties. We read--- “Upham Oil & Gas Company has foundations that date back over 100 years. The Upham Family has been involved in the exploration and production of oil and natural gas for generations, having started out in Pennsylvania back in the late 1800's when David A. Upham worked on a drilling rig. At that time there were only three drilling rigs in the world and when there were five; David Upham owned one of them.

Upham Oil & Gas Company as we know it today truly began in 1914 when David Upham heard about the Ranger Field, one of the largest oil fields that had ever been discovered in the United States, and came to Texas looking for oil and gas in Palo Pinto County.

David Upham drilled his first gas well in Palo Pinto County in 1917. A few years later, his son, Chester R. Upham came to Mineral Wells and they purchased the Consumer's Gas and Fuel Company, a natural gas producing, transmission and distribution company serving Mineral Wells. In 1925 the Uphams' extended service to rural communities in Palo Pinto County and in 1926 the company name was changed to the Brazos River Gas Company, serving fifteen communities. In 1950 the name was changed to Upham Gas Company.”

While Brokaw called in Brazos River Gas, it was actually Upham Oil & Gas, but it was still the same business---

During 1977–1988 Brokaw chaired Cayman Resources Corporation headquartered in Tulsa, Oklahoma. It was very likely another oil and gas driller/wildcatter. It had offices also in New York (naturally) and in Florida. It was another “foreign for profit corporation.” The use of the word “Cayman” is almost certainly a reference to the British owned Cayman Islands, a vast global banking secrecy and tax avoidance haven. These details also suggest there was more offshore capital in Cayman Resources, exploiting natural resources in Oklahoma, Florida and possibly Texas. Brokaw was a director of Cayman, 1992–1995; exiting just before this 1996 complaint that Cayman failed for more than two years to make available to the investing public current and accurate information about its financial condition and results of operation through the filing of periodic reports with the Commission as required by the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.” While Brokaw exited Cayman before a hammer (?) fell, he was among those responsible during some months of the period specified. In 1991 Cayman acquired petrochemical operations and a refinery with 15,000 barrels per day capacity. In 1997 its name changed to Oklahoma Energy Corporation and without being certain, it appears Brokaw may have completely exited. OEC seems to have also been acquired.

During 1977 to 1995 Brokaw was CEO of IRT Corporation in San Diego, California, another operation classified as a “foreign” corporation. Brokaw sure was connected to overseas capital, and if we knew more, The Pilgrims Society of London would be all over the details. IRT was classified as an Environmental Protection Agency regulated operation. IRT, no longer in business (did Brokaw skim off all the cream?) was involved in--- “Industrial X-ray vision inspection systems and process monitoring systems for electronics, automotive, aerospace, and defense applications. It provides controls for printed circuit boards; manufactured parts and assemblies; airbags and related components for computer automated x-ray systems; and detection scanners for concealed metallic and nonmetallic objects, including weapons, plastic explosives, precious metals, drugs, and other contraband. The company also operates a commercial radiation processing facility, which provides high-energy electron-beam processing for various commercial applications, such as sterilization of medical products and color-enhancement of gemstones.”

Isn't all that just swell? Brokaw is clearly one of those “national security” types who want everyone in chains and locked up. If you want to take a gold or platinum bar out of the country, The Pilgrims Society and their scanning devices may be ready to block you! It can also apply in reverse---if you want to repatriate bullion, they'll be ready to INTERCEPT it, best to not send it away in the first place! IRT was also a manufacturer of “nuclear survivability products.” The color enhancement of gemstones is something anyone should know about in buying a ruby, emerald, sapphire, diamond or an opal. These enhancements improve appearance but if sold as all natural, a serious fraud has been committed, and most people can't tell if a jewel has been treated or not. Some opals are boiled in sugar! Sapphires and rubies are heat treated and treated with beryllium and are far less valuable than untreated gems of similar eye visible appeal. Diamond color has been turned to “fancy” colors for many years by irradiation; again, far less valuable than natural fancy colors. Some very white diamonds aren't naturally white, having been color improved by HPHT, high pressure high temperature, and are far more likely to chip---or even fracture apart---due to the treatment “enhancement,” than naturally white diamonds. These risky treated diamonds have been on EBAY for a million and a half dollars and are almost a total loss on attempted resale! This blue topaz was donated in 1983 to the Smithsonian Institution by Clifford V. Brokaw III and is probably all natural. How much did it cost? How much was it valued for tax deduction objectives?

Brokaw III is associated with the French Church De St. Esprit in New York, a French speaking service though this is an Episcopalian church, strongly suggesting Brokaw speaks French. The second language he appears likely to have may be connected to the foreign capital he's apparently worked so much with in investments. This church mentions its Huguenot origins, as does Brokaw in his listing. In fact Brokaw was an official of the Huguenot Society of America for 18 years and its president during 1989–1992. The Huguenots were a group of French Protestants who warred with French Catholics in the 16th century, with many Huguenots eventually fleeing to England and many migrating to America. This is another case in point illustrating that The Pilgrims Society is predominantly Protestant in its membership. The Huguenot ancestry members of The Pilgrims represent an eyebrow raising amount of wealth. Yeah I noticed he's a Mason and according to this, in 2013 the number of Masons in the U.S. tallied 1,246,241. Andrew Jackson and Sam Houston, two of my personal heroes, were Masons, but I question that it's the same as in their time meaning---changed for the worse. Their membership has nothing to do with my admiration of them either. Join what you want; I am a member of myself only so as to be beholden to none. Henry Darlington Jr., a second generation

Pilgrims member whose uncle was also a member, was president of the Huguenot Society of America (1986–1989) and was a Wall Street investment banker (Who's Who in America, 2005, page 1054; Pilgrims 1980).

Brokaw is a member of The Military Order of The World Wars, which same wars were both planned and fomented by The Pilgrims Society---

Founded in 1919, The Military Order of the World Wars maintains a Homeland Security Program, and the two outlandish COONS they show look like Mongol horseman in modern apparel. You really must click on that link to see what a predicament we're in. Quite a few Pilgrims members with military command background have been members of the MOWW. These ersatz patriotic organizations have rank and file who are unaware of many vital facts, such as that Germany was provoked by the British and American leadership in 1919 at the Treaty of Versailles into starting World War 2, and that FDR allowed the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor by ordering the fleet off alert status---so he could have excuse to drag America into another war with our "Pilgrim Partners," with whom it is said we have a "Special Relationship," which means our sons lives are lost in wars that need never have happened, as we are dragged slowly back towards British Crown rule by this publicly invisible PILGRIMS SOCIETY. The global financiers of The Pilgrims find large scale warfare immensely profitable, so naturally they have a big interest in these two groups and others similar.

He's also a member of a parallel organization, The Military Order of Foreign Wars of the United States (founded 1894), which has also seen its share of overlapping membership (but only at the top level of the MOFW) with The Pilgrims---

The Military Order of the Carabao, founded in 1900, commemorates the defeat of the Boxer Rebellion in China---Chinese nationalists objecting to British, American and French interests gouging and exploiting China, especially the British and their hell spawned opium for silver trade. Carabao is a Philippine word for water buffalo, and water buffalo are one of the well known symbols of China. Some of the troops sent to put down the Boxer Rebellion in China had seen service in the Spanish-American War in the Philippine Islands in 1898-1899---this group makes a mockery of China's desire for independence from foreign control and its resistance to its people's lives being trashed by opium "importers," and many Pilgrims Society members were involved in the opium "trade" and inherited gigantic wealth from it---

"55 Days At Peking" (1963) showed the Western powers put down the Boxer rebellion of 1900 and showed the bias of the producers against Chinese sovereignty over their own country.

The Military Officers Association of America is another of Brokaw's memberships. Founded in 1929, it has today 380,000 members and a generally hawkish attitude regarding military intervention in other nations---exactly as the financiers who profit from wars desire---here is one of their board members, a retired Major general who joined General Dynamics (defense contractor) and Lockheed Martin (defense contractor); yes we need defense, however we don't need our foreign policy being decided by British conspirators for their ends of greed and a never ending dream of global control---

The National Institute of Social Sciences, 161 East 91st Street in Manhattan, appears to have no website. It's been in existence for some decades based on details in Who's Who listings of multiple Pilgrims Society members and is apparently a very important, though publicly quiet and little known, operation to them. It's important enough to a busy operator like Brokaw that he was a director of it (1991–1994) and its president (1992–1994), this is a man who sources say acquired a billionaire for a daughter in law, and apparently his inherited ancestral wealth and his other wealth that he aggrandized to himself is nothing to be disregarded. This link shows that the National Institute of Social Sciences was founded in 1912, probably by some early Pilgrims members. I could develop an impressive list of members who've been involved with this NISS and my opinion is that it has to do with conditioning the public mentality to very slowly accept return to feudalistic conditions for themselves while these modern nobility lord it over us! Brokaw is a member of the American Bar Association---

He also claims membership in the National Gavel Society founded in 1963 whose members are “the present and past highest governing officers of recognized hereditary societies or orders in the United States that honor events in the history of the country prior to 1914.” These are the same organizations that control the hereditary scene in the United States, and have Pilgrims Society members in key positions as overseers. Brokaw is a Knight or the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, whose patron is the same as that of The Pilgrims--- the British sovereign! We discussed the Order of St. John in “Pilgrims Society Takeover of Bitcoin,” pages 115–117 and 120.

The Bathing Corporation of Southampton, an exclusive beach club with a $30,000 initiation fee and $5,000 annual dues (just because you can pay doesn’t get you admitted either). It has also seen its share of Pilgrims Society members over the decades. We read at the link “Social climbers clamor to get into snobby Southampton Bathing Corp.”---

“The uber-exclusive Southampton Bathing Corp. shuns the nouveau riche, the exclusive members only beach club for the privileged Mayflower set. This is, after all, the seaside haunt for nearly 800 of New York’s most established old-money names. Founded in 1923, the Bathing Corp. is said to be one of the hardest clubs to gain entry to on the entire East Coast. Members regularly appear in “The Blue Book,” the annual Hamptons society phone book that lists Long Island residents-of-worth, along with their club affiliations, colleges and prep schools, and estate names.”

They mention people with $30 million homes and a gazillion dollars. The club has a “blackball list” which “prioritizes legacies” in other words, an us four and no more place and notice they mention these legacies are “the privileged Mayflower set.” There’s more to the tale of the Pilgrims, the Mayflower and the other ships that sailed the Atlantic Ocean centuries ago. This ended up being another perennial base for ongoing Crown influence among us! BCS has around 800 members, many of them in The Pilgrims.

“No one near the nose bleed section of society need apply. Etiquette and breeding are essential.” BCS is mentioned in “Born Rich” along with mention of the Hartford and Hornblower families---both Pilgrims Society represented. Brokaw III’s wife was in a 1971 issue of Vogue Magazine.

The Ends of the Earth Club in London founded in 1903 is about explorers and great world travelers but has a real sense of the continuing dream of The British Empire aspiring to gain more domination over the planet’s inhabitants. It too is well interlocked with The Pilgrims Society. Speaking French and having strong connections in London must have been helpful in getting overseas funds for the several “foreign corporations” Brokaw was active in.

Trans-Leasing International of Northbrook Illinois was another corporation in which Brokaw III held interests. The chairman of this company was murdered (or assassinated) and his brother assumed the helm. TLI was involved in leasing X-ray imaging equipment and computers.

Isaac Vail Brokaw (1861–1939) is mentioned as a financier and his sister in law was Clare Luce, an inheritor of the Time Magazine fortune. In 1997 Henry Luce III became president of The Pilgrims United States. Isaac's mother was Elvira Gould, of the fantastically large Gould fortune from railroads, land speculation and gold, profiled in #2 Silver Squelchers, pages 34–48. “By 1887 Brokaw was one of the wealthiest men in the city” and here was his mansion---

To close out his profile we must take a glance at his son, Clifford Vail Brokaw IV, who married into the enormous Du Pont fortune, of which so much was built on ceaselessly ripping off silver mining companies and their shareholders and employees and worse still, all the people whose bodies were blasted apart in wars by explosives made by Du Pont. In 2007 Brokaw IV joined Corsair Capital in New York as a managing director---

“Mr. Brokaw was previously a Managing Director in the Financial Institutions group at Goldman Sachs & Co. (“Goldman Sachs”), and prior to that worked in the Mergers & Acquisitions group of J.P. Morgan. Mr. Brokaw’s client transactions include the demutualization and initial public offering of Prudential Financial, the sale of Lincoln Re to Swiss Re, the merger of St. Paul with Travelers, the acquisition by ING of Commercial America and the merger of Radian with MGIC. He has also completed numerous capital offerings for established Bermuda insurance companies including XL Capital and Everest Re as well as for start-ups including Montpelier Re, PX Re and Platinum Re. While at Goldman Sachs, Mr. Brokaw was also involved in transactions and advisory work involving selected Corsair II portfolio companies including Catlin Group, FGIC Corporation and The First American Corporation. Mr. Brokaw is a director of United Community Banks. Mr. Brokaw holds a B.A. in History and a J.D. from the University of Virginia.”

Yes, it’s the same Pilgrims Society wolf pack of financial institutions. A cook at a doughnut shop he was not going to be. Corsair invests in financial services companies. It struck me that it’s very positive that faces differ, because men in suits would all be indistinguishable if they rode the guillotine---

While his clothes are unremarkable, his background as we’ve noticed is decidedly a different story. Corsair means a pirate ship; a pirate; or a “privateer,” a sailor authorized by a government to seize cargo from vessels operated by enemy nations. And pirates are what these PILGRIMS are! Working with Brokaw IV at Corsair Capital is Lord Davies of Abersoch, who is chairman at Corsair and who in all probability is a member of The Pilgrims London, but I've found no definite proof so far. I'd expect him to be in a 2015 roster and for some years before. The Lord was chairman of Standard Chartered Bank in London (2006–2009) and in 2009 he became United Kingdom minister for Trade, Investment and Infrastructure. He was a Standard Chartered Bank director (1997–2009) today with 87,000 employees and is chairman of the important Royal Society of the Arts, with 27,000 members. A member of the British House of Lords, Davies is a Commander of The British Empire. Davies is chairman of Chime Communications with 1,700 employees and is a fellow of the Institute of Bankers (London) the correspondent to the American Institute of Banking (Pilgrims Society). The U.K. Parliament site shows Lord Davies holds shares in 28 companies including coal mining in China; properties; restaurants; alcoholic beverages; music; film making; sportswear; food processing; waste management; technology and others. Corsair Capital says of itself---

“Corsair Capital is one of the longest-standing private equity firms focused on investing in the global financial services industry. Launched in 1992 in the aftermath of the U.S. savings and loan crisis, Corsair was the first fund of its size to invest in the financial services industry. Over its history, Corsair developed an institutional knowledge of the key financial services subsectors including banking, insurance, asset management and specialty finance.

Corsair has invested across substantially all of the subsectors of the financial services industry in North America, Latin America, Europe, Asia and Africa. Furthermore, over the past four decades Corsair's senior executives have advised governments and companies worldwide. Corsair has developed an unrivalled global network of industry and governmental contacts which enables its professionals to anticipate sector trends and positions the firm for attractive investment opportunities. We believe that industry-specific expertise is essential to understanding the intricate regulatory frameworks, risk management, and complex accounting practices that are specific to the financial services industry. By working with financial services companies through periods of growth and stress, we have developed a unique insight into the various factors that can ensure success or lead to failure. We believe that the judgment and resources of investing exclusively in the financial services sector will continue to enable Corsair to successfully evaluate and efficiently execute financial services investments around the globe."

The Brokaws are related by marriage to the Gould fortune (Pilgrims Society; gold speculation, railroads, land, frauds on a vast scale enabled by buying judges and legislatures! Interior of another Long Island mansion owned by another family member, Howard Brokaw---

Another Long Island mansion named Frost Mill Lodge was owned by Irving Brokaw---

3) David Tevele Schiff (1936---; Pilgrims Society by 1994 or earlier; page 3045 of 1994 Who's Who so states) is a fourth generation member. Jacob Schiff (1847-1920) was David's great grandfather and a charter member in 1903; Jacob was notoriously opposed to the monetary use of silver (December 23, 1908 New York Times). Jacob's son Mortimer (1877-1931) was a member at least by the 1914 Pilgrims roster, listed here with charter member Jacob Schmidlapp (1849-1919), whose great granddaughter married Pilgrims member James Humes, Ambassador to Austria (1969-1975)

Rudolph J. Schafer
Jacob H. Schiff
Mortimer L. Schiff
J. G. Schmidlapp

Schaefer was in the brewing industry and owned a lot of land.
Mortimer Schiff's son was John Mortimer Schiff Jr. (1904–1987 and as of 1983 still on the executive committee). The February 14, 1927 Time Magazine cover featured Mortimer Schiff, an exceptionally flawed choice for Valentine's Day---

Jacob Schiff's mansion at 965 Fifth Avenue---

Jacob Schiff---

Jacob Schiff was a director of National City Bank of New York; Central Trust Company; Western Union Telegraph and the principal at the Kuhn, Loeb & Company investment bank, then at 52 William Street, New York (Who's Who in America, 1914–1915, page 2066). Jacob was associated with the big Montefiore financial bloc (see #11 Silver Squelchers, pages 88–90). Both the Schiffs and the Montefiores were associated with the still larger Rothschilds. Jacob Schiff was father in law of Felix Warburg (Pilgrims Society), brother of Paul Moritz Warburg (Pilgrims Society), chief architect of the Federal Reserve Act of 1913. Both Felix and Paul Warburg were partners in Kuhn, Loeb & Company, whose offices later moved to number 40 Wall Street. Jacob was a vice president of the New York Chamber of Commerce, which later sided with the movement to end silver coinage. The author of the book referenced at this link didn't discover The Pilgrims Society, but did a good job detailing Jacob Schiff's role in funding the Russian Red Revolution of 1917. Page

418 of “Our Crowd” (1967) by Stephen Birmingham mentions John’s membership in The Pilgrims, with zero elaboration on its significance and he probably was unaware of it being the controlling organization described in diamond magnate Cecil Rhodes obscure papers. Rhodes cartelized 90% of diamond production at the time and held major interests in the South African gold industry. He of course may have failed without backing from the Rothschilds; however, he was also backed by the Royal family---a matter usually overlooked.

Mortimer Schiff, Jacob’s son, was also a Kuhn, Loeb & Company partner. His info from the same page as his father shows that he “studied railroading with New York, Ontario & Western Railway and Great Northern Railway, then spent 2 years at Hamburg and London studying European banking methods; partner firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Company, New York, since January 1, 1900. Director Union Pacific Railroad; Oregon Short Line Railroad; Oregon–Washington Railway & Navigation Company; Fourth National Bank; U.S. Mortgage & Trust Company; Fidelity Bank etc. Trustee Provident Loan Society of New York; director Chattel Loan Society of New York.” Adele Neustadt, Mortimer’s wife, was linked to Hallgarten & Company, founded in 1850 and connected overseas to German financial interests with London operations. Mortimer was a member of the New York Yacht Club and wore the label “Republican,” significant inasmuch as this Pilgrims Society member we’re profiling, David T. Schiff, is a big backer of Democrats---as we shall see. The Society absolutely controls both major parties, who wrangle over different approaches to dragging America back to Crown feudalism! An associate in London of John Mortimer Schiff was Sir Siegmund Warburg (Pilgrims London) who “counts among his friends some of the most powerful men in the world” (Business Week, November 23, 1974, pages 92–93) ---

John Mortimer Schiff, Mortimer’s son, was treasurer of The Pilgrims New York (1968–1985). Stephen Birmingham in “The Grandees” (1971), page 224, called the Schiffs “aggressive, hungry fortune hunters.” That statement is underscored by info from page 2169 of the 1916–1917 Who’s Who, showing that Mortimer Schiff joined the boards of Long Island Motor Parkway, United States Safe Deposit Company and Western Union Telegraph. John Mortimer Schiff appeared in The Pilgrims rosters for 1949, 1957, 1969, 1974, 1980, and was almost certainly in all the annual rosters till his demise, and very likely was a member before 1949. The 1960 Who’s Who, page 2546, shows that J.M. Schiff was with Bankers Trust Company of New York and Missouri Pacific Railroad during 1927–1929. He became a partner in 1931 in Kuhn, Loeb & Company which as of 1960 was at number 30 Wall Street (it moved to number 40 later). As of 1960 he was a director of Los Angeles & Salt Lake Railroad; Tidewater Oil Company; Westinghouse Electric; C.I.T. Financial Corporation; Madison Fund; United States Rubber Company; member board of trustees Provident Loan Society of New York; member advisory board on international business to Chemical Bank since 1957; trustee Yale University Council.” J.M. Schiff was a member of the Piping Rock Club like his father Mortimer.

By the 1976–1977 Who’s Who in America, page 2770, we find that J.M. Schiff, third generation Pilgrims member and father of this current member David T. Schiff, was a director of Getty Oil; Kennecott Copper Corporation (lots of silver byproduct for silver price suppression objectives) and Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea, at that time controlled by Pilgrims Society member Huntington Hartford, owner of Paradise Island in the Bahamas and chairman and heavy majority owner of the Oil Shale Corporation, acquired by Conoco Phillips (Pilgrims Society). To digress briefly about Hartford (Pilgrims 1969, 1974, 1980 and other rosters not yet accessible to outsiders) we find at Wiki “Hartford was known as one of the world's richest people. Present day valuations of Hartford's finances and assets have been drastically underestimated.” Take 40 seconds to view this 40 second interview of Huntington Hartford by reporter Mike Wallace back in 1959 about Hartford’s “half a billion dollar” net worth as of then. Hartford personally funded the 420 foot building in 1964 that housed his Gallery of Modern Art. He owned hundreds of old masterpieces including one that sold for $33 million; he also inherited shock absorber patents from his father that brought in hundreds of millions of dollars---or more---over time. His idea for developing Paradise Island was to have it become the Monte Carlo of the Western Hemisphere; the plan appears to have succeeded (see following skyscraper at 2 Columbus Circle in New York) ---

How's that for an associate of the father of current Pilgrims member David T. Schiff?

Before moving on to David T. Schiff, another detail about his father John Mortimer Schiff must not be missed! On May 3, 1934, he married Edith Brevoort Baker, granddaughter of George F. Baker (1840–1931) and a charter Pilgrims member in 1903. Baker’s son became a member, as did his son in turn later! Naturally that made George Baker Jr. (he was actually Baker III) the brother in law of John M. Schiff---one Protestant, the other Jewish, but both members of their highest chosen religion---“money.” For details on George Baker Senior and his extreme wealth---very likely greater than that of Jacob Schiff in their time---refer to #1 Silver Squelchers, pages 4–12. At this site we read---“Baker was the son of George F. Baker, for many years the Chairman of the First National Bank. His wife, the former Edith Kane, was the great, great granddaughter of Henry Brevoort. Their combined fortunes made the Bakers among the wealthiest couples in the city.” Of Henry Brevoort (1791–1874) we read that he--- “inherited a large landed estate on Manhattan Island, which became extremely valuable as the city increased in population.” John M. Schiff was also a trustee of the Guggenheim Memorial Foundation; for a discussion on the Guggenheim mining empire and some of its other connections to The Pilgrims see pages 38–39 of #4 Silver Squelchers. Guggenheim Partners currently owns \$220 billion in assets!

David's marriage to Martha Elisabeth Lawler was actually---an EPISCOPALIAN wedding ceremony! His enrollment in Yale University almost certainly included induction into one of the "super fraternities" there. No matter---all of them combined aren't ten percent as important as The Pilgrims, of which we notice that David at some point became a member of its all important executive committee, meaning that he is a representative not only of his own great wealth and that of his family, but that of someone larger than the Schiffs, possibly the Bakers whose wealth came from many large railroad systems and the First National Bank of New York (today's Citigroup!) It's even more probable that David Schiff is on The Pilgrims executive committee for the Rothschilds! During 1959–1962 David was an entry level banker at Chemical Bank, which was definitely loaded to the gills with Pilgrims Society members including Harold Holmes Helm, who became chairman of Chemical Bank as of 1956. Helm was on The Pilgrims executive committee by 1972 or earlier and went on to chair its important admissions committee and was on numerous large corporate boards. In 1962 David went to Madison Fund, of which his father John M. was a director at that time. Political demagogue Al Gore, who might have become President, with Pilgrims Society member David Tevele Schiff; Gore's daughter became Schiff's daughter in law---

On July 12, 1997 at the Washington Cathedral in D.C., in another EPISCOPALIAN ceremony, Andrew Newman Schiff, son of David T. Schiff, married Karenn Gore, daughter of then Vice President Albert

Gore and the Second Lady, Tipper Gore. Karenna was employed by Microsoft. Her mother we read (as of then) is a mental-health policy adviser to the President.” What in hell does a “mental health policy adviser” advise the President? To denounce as mentally ill those who perceive an organized, collusive, related by marriages conspiracy to drag us towards a World Government under the British Crown? On the long list of the mentally ill we must include anyone who opposes The Pilgrims Society in any of its endeavors--- vaccinations; ending parental control over children; eliminating privacy in America---except for their own; leaving the Southern border thrown open so as to form the North American Union; maintaining control by the Federal Reserve over the economy’ continuing to block gold and silver returning to the payments system; increasing the drum beat of national security, national emergency, and absence of due process; cartelizing vitamins, minerals and herbs by making them by prescription only, jacking the prices up by 2,000 percent; elimination of search and seizure rights and more! Psychiatrists have defined that it’s a mental illness to question the idea of mental illness and also that to challenge them---is also a mental illness, so it can mean anything The Powers That Be want it to mean! Andrew Schiff is a medical doctor at New York Hospital (which he might be able to buy the building!) At The Nation Dot Com I noticed this post (excerpt) ---

“Gore met with Prince Philip, Britain’s royal consort and with his son Prince Charles in the early 1990s, aboard Charles’ yacht and shortly after that Gore began his campaign on global warming, an idea that had been talked about since the 1950s in the Anglo-American Pilgrims Society salons to which the Gore family belonged. The discussions among the anglophile oligarchs was how to use the idea of climate change to shut down development in the Third World and lead to de-population.”

The post was by “the shadow knows” and it may be Joel Van Der Reijden, my overseas associate; however it may as easily be someone else who has some info on The Pilgrims. I haven’t noticed any connection between the Gore family and The Pilgrims in the 1950s. In the early 70’s Gore’s father was with Vanderbilt University and that is a definite connection, but doesn’t by itself equate to membership.

David was associated with Kuhn Loeb & Company and its successor, Lehman Brothers Kuhn Loeb (Robert Lehman, Pilgrims 1969 and 1974). David was a director of Crown Life Insurance of Toronto for 11 years. It was acquired in 1999 by Canada Life---

David was associated for 8 years with Chemical Bank (now part of JP MorganChase) and for 19 years he's been an adviser to Venture Capital Fund of America

From 2000–2008 D.T. Schiff was on the leadership council of the Yale University School of Forestry and Environmental Studies which dates to 1900. No alternative to cynicism is available when scrutinizing the activities of the big rich. Is this connected to the Lumber Trust and the Paper Trust? Very likely so; and more besides as they mention the environment---is this a con job whitewashing chemicals in the environment? The Pilgrims Society runs the chemical industry too, and uses great amounts of silver for catalytic reactions, ransacking the silver miners 24/7. They speak of “natural resource management” and “the exploration of the West and the proper use of that region’s resources.” How can those resources be as they say properly used unless owned by the right people? That as always means people connected to The Money Power---like David T. Schiff, having several huge fortunes in his genealogy! Just as expected---Sir Peter Crane heads this school at Yale and he’s on the board of the Global Crop Diversity Trust and is a trustee of the Lady Bird Johnson Wildflower Center at the University of Texas in Austin. She was the widow of Pilgrims Society member President Johnson who savagely attacked our silver coinage!

Since 2006 David T. Schiff has been an adviser to the Yale University Center for Environmental Law and Policy, which already sounds like another doozy of a whopper! Of what do its relations with Congress consist? Yes; advocacy for Pilgrims Society owned interests at the expense to the rest of society. It happens to be a joint venture established in 1994 between the School of Forestry and Environmental Studies and the Yale University Law School, which really takes the cake! If you're shopping for globalists, Yale Law

School is as good a place as any to find this troublesome breed. Director of this joint venture is Daniel C. Esty, a Rhodes Scholar, which is as much a subsidiary of The Pilgrims Society as anything can be. As Cecil Rhodes, who schemed the founding of The Pilgrims organization said of the Rhodes Scholars---“I am on the lookout for those who will do the governing of the nations in the years that are to come” (Review of Reviews, New York, May 1902, page 558). The Pilgrims network places Rhodes Scholars in strategic positions of influence as another machine under their direction, pulling for globalism. Yale Law School, founded in 1824, is part of the $21 billion Yale endowment. Many Federal judges and U.S. Attorneys graduated from Yale Law School. Nine Attorney Generals, two Presidents, ten Supreme Court justices, 25 Senators and 47 U.S. Representatives came by way of Yale Law School; Yale has Pilgrims Society members on its board at all times, same as other major universities. Yale Law School graduates are among the attorneys working for the oppressive bullion banks!

Emblem of Yale Law School---

Yale Law School library---

Yale Law School is at 127 Wall Street in New Haven, Connecticut!

During 1973 to 1997 David T. Schiff was on the board of governors of the Yale University Art Gallery founded in 1832 (this is the older building) ---

The new building has 69,975 square feet and is very likely a great tax write off for Pilgrims Society members donating artworks! Federal Hall Memorial Associates, another of David Schiff's playthings, is an organization associated with Federal Hall National Memorial Building at 26 Wall Street, New York. The original building there was the site of George Washington's original White House; the building there was erected in 1842 as a U.S. Customs House. The national capitol may have been moved to Washington due to invasion concerns. By having Pilgrims Society members---Crown loyalists like David Schiff, in charge of this memorial, it's a symbolic British recapture of their "colonies" here. Schiff may hold the London Rothschilds (Pilgrims Society) in greater awe than the British Royals (Pilgrims Society); in the end it makes no difference to us, we are in the Society's crosshairs in either case.

The Wildlife Conservation Society, of which David Schiff is now beginning his 50th year of involvement with, was started in 1895 as the New York Zoological Society. We can hardly be opposed to conservation efforts, if they're legit and there's no concealed ulterior purpose involved; but these Pilgrims are the very essence of ulteriority. As a character I knew in junior high was fond of saying, "I've got my skeptics about this!"

David was a trustee of the Metropolitan Museum of Art for 37 years! Again, I sense "tax write-offs in the guise of philanthropy." Many Pilgrims members have been involved as trustees with this major world museum---

Founded in 1870, this museum has two million square feet---

During 1973 to 2009 Schiff was on the New York City Citizens budget Commission, in which he was associated with Pilgrims Society member Felix Rohatyn of the famed Lazard Freres international investment bank, a Rothschild affiliated entity.

David was associated in leadership positions with Beekman Downtown Hospital for 16 years. The Beekmans are an old-line Dutch colonial family who were large scale Manhattan (and elsewhere) real estate owners. The Pilgrims 1957 roster shows Fenwick Beekman, M.D., in whose genealogy appear such landmark large landowning names as Schuyler, Van Cortlandt, Livingston, Delafield, Gallatin, Brevoort and others. Gallatin came from a big supporter of the second United States Bank (abolished by President Jackson) and Brevoort lineage occurs also in the ancestry of David T. Schiff, by way of his mother! “We’re mostly family in The Pilgrims Society” continues to ring so true. Fenwick was on The Pilgrims executive committee as of 1958 and was far wealthier in land and buildings than his winnings from the medical profession. Beekman Place in Manhattan is next door to 860 and 870 United Nations Plaza, luxury penthouses that have been the residences of various Pilgrims Society members. Wiki states “It is named after the Beekman family, who were influential in New York City’s development.” The British used the Beekman residence as a headquarters in New York, and Revolutionary patriot Nathan Hale was hanged by the British nearby. A townhouse in Beekman Place owned by Ellen Biddle Shipman recently sold for \$35 million. The Biddles, descended from Nicholas Biddle, president of the second United States Bank (our second central bank), are another old-line Pilgrims Society dynasty described in “Pilgrims Society Takeover of Bitcoin,” pages 59–77.

David T. Schiff says he’s a member of The Provident Loan Society of New York. It was founded in 1894 by Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jacob Schiff and J.P. Morgan Senior---men who’d later be in the thick of The Pilgrims organization. PLSNY has a maximum size loan of $100,000 for a six month term at 26% interest. I’ve noticed Pilgrims involved with this entity for many years. It’s a glorified pawn shop.

At their site they say---“Put your gold, jewelry and watches to work with same day cash loans. It’s safe, it’s discreet, and there’s no credit check.” Notice---the founders were connected to the Federal Reserve from its early days. What are we told today about cash? “Common people do not carry this much U.S. currency” and “only drug dealers, tax cheats and terrorists use cash,” government and police constantly yammer about how sinister cash is---when ordinary folks have it! Does PLSNY notify any banks or government agencies if anyone exits their offices with a cash bundle of $10,000 or more? Very likely so! Financial privacy is for elitists only!

For 18 years D.T. Schiff was an official managing the Brooks School in North Andover, Massachusetts. Established in 1926, it reports an endowment of \$58 million and is an Episcopalian institution. It’s a college prep academy. It has a faculty of 150 and enrollment of 359---a very unusual concentrated ratio of teachers to students, because this is one of the schools for children of elitists; there absolutely are others. I noticed at their site they rave about the United Nations.

For almost twenty years this power broker David Schiff was a director of the American Hospital in Paris Foundation supporting the American Hospital in Paris of which we read--- “From the day it was organized by prominent Americans in 1906, the American Hospital of Paris has brought together the American and international community in a very special way. It is America's Hospital in Europe, the meeting ground for European and U.S. medical science, technology and doctors, a place where medical experts and specialists from around the world come to study its management, diagnostic methods and facilities. More than 150,000 patients from over 100 countries pass through its doors each year. The Hospital is an International Affiliate of New York–Presbyterian Hospital, the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons. Granted a special Federal charter and incorporated by special Act of the U.S. Congress in 1913, the Hospital has been an extension of U.S. diplomacy since then, with the U.S. Ambassador always serving as Honorary Chairman of the Board of Governors. Because the Hospital treated more than 100,000 Allied soldiers during the two World Wars, providing care to thousands of French soldiers as well as American, the French government designated the Hospital an institution of public benefit in 1918 and gave it privileges and status that no other hospital in France enjoys, including the right to appoint American physicians to the staff based solely on their U.S. credentials.”

Felix Rohatyn (Pilgrims Society financier) and his wife Elizabeth are listed as honorary trustees of the American Hospital in Paris. On August 15, 1971, President Richard Nixon, acting on orders from his concealed Pilgrims Society bosses, ended dollar conversion into hard gold for foreigners. This outraged the French the most, as they were the largest group demanding conversion. Yes---some Frenchmen may have wanted to hospitalize the American Ambassador at that time in his own hospital. That was Arthur K. Watson (Pilgrims Society second generation member) of the IBM fortune and a director of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. It was therefore a hoot that Watson was decorated by the Philippines with the Order of the Golden Heart. His brother in law, John N. Irwin II (Pilgrims executive committee as of 1971) was an IBM director. “We’re mostly family in The Pilgrims Society!” Irwin was a director of U.S. Trust Company at 45 Wall Street and like David T. Schiff, Irwin was a trustee of Provident Loan Society of New York. Irwin was a director of the Foreign Bondholders protective Council, ironic, since foreigner’s gold definitely wasn’t accorded any protection by The Pilgrims Society global money mob!

David is a member of important, high powered clubs including the Century Association, founded in 1829 but another year more often cited is 1889 (name changes). Century says it has a “debt to London clubs” and its membership is of “international character” of around 2,000. It bills itself as “the most unspeakably respectable club in the United States.”

One of the two founders of CAA Foundation is Pilgrims Society member William J. Vanden Heuvel who said, “Resolved, the world would be better off had not the thirteen colonies not broken away from the British Empire.” He’s been a director of U.S. Banknote Corporation (prints trash for foreign central banks); Time Warner; and North Aegean Petroleum. His daughter has attended board meetings of the New York Corrections Association (prison industries!) He is ex chairman of the NYC Board of Corrections! Vanden Heuvel is son in law of the founder of Music Corporation of America (MCA). He chairs the America–Austria Foundation and was Ambassador (1977–1979) to the Geneva offices of the United Nations (1977–1979).

David is a member of the Yale Club of New York founded in 1897 at number 50 Vanderbilt Avenue (the Vanderbilts may have been the second largest New York City landowners after the unchallenged Astors). Its clubhouse is 22 stories tall and has a membership of over 11,000, making it the largest private club in the world. Senator Chauncey Depew, a founder of The Pilgrims Society less than six years later, was a New York Senator and attorney for the immense Vanderbilt railroad, banking and land interests. Naturally its interlock with the much smaller Pilgrims Society is significant.

David is a member of the world famous (among the jet set, diplomats, financiers and bankers) Mill Reef Club in Antigua, an island to the northeast of Venezuela. Founded in 1947, many Pilgrims members over the years have held membership in the Mill Reef Club. Like British Bermuda and The Cayman Islands, Antigua is another international bankers offshore paradise---secretive for them, but probably not for you! We read---“International commercial banking has been conducted on Antigua for many years. Offshore banking is more recent, having started in 1983. Since that time the industry has grown rapidly. Working in cooperation with the private sector, the government has improved Antigua’s offshore company and banking environment through the introduction of new foreign residency, trust, and partnership legislation.” Mill Reef Club sees its share of megamillion dollar yachts. The Mellon Estate

(named for Rachel Mellon, widow of Pilgrims Society inner circle member Paul Mellon, second generation member) was listed for $14.5 million and is on the grounds of the Mill Reef Club.

Another of David's private club memberships is the Maroon Creek Club in the pricey town of Aspen, Colorado. MCC is a member of Platinum Clubs of America. The Wall Street Journal called Aspen "The Most Expensive Town in America," noting a $559,000 price for a trailer park site and mansions going up to $48.5 million.

He holds membership in the River Club of New York with 900 members (significant interlock with The Pilgrims) and the 26 story Art Deco style tower was recently quoted at $130 million. Among the residents of this building have included “Rothschild heirs” (Pilgrims Society) and Henry Kissinger (Pilgrims Society). This building was erected in 1931. Annual dues are $10,000.

Founded in 1903, the same year as The Pilgrims New York founding, The Brook Club in Manhattan is another exclusive club David holds membership in. The club's building, built in 1925, was designed by architects Delano & Aldrich. While not members of The Pilgrims, these men were of the same Delano (19th century opium "trade" in China) family related to the Roosevelts, and the Aldrich family, related to the Rockefellers and the founding of the Federal Reserve. Members of The Pilgrims represent many members of extended families; only a select few family members or proxies enter this group, making it the hidden “Senate” of the super rich. Entrance to The Brook Club; small folks need not apply---

David is a member of the Economic Club of New York founded in 1907. Chairmen of the Economic Club identified as Pilgrims Society members over the years include Barton Hepburn (1907–1909; on record against silver as money); John G. Milburn (1910–1912 “President McKinley was taken to his house after fatal assault and died there,” Who’s Who, 1916–1917, page 1696); James Speyer (1912–1914, Rothschild connected); Frank Vanderlip (1916–1918, Federal Reserve Act planner); Henry Morgenthau (1918–1920; father of the Treasury Secretary who stole gold and silver from Americans on orders from FDR); Winthrop W. Aldrich (1942–1944); Robert V. Roosa (1970–1971; high Treasury official who was sucking silver coins out of circulation in early to mid-1960s to process into bullion for the Silver Users Association); Edmund T. Pratt Jr. (1980–1981; director Chase Manhattan Bank) and quite a few others. In this photo at the Economic Club, Sir Siegmund Warburg (Pilgrims London) is number 12 from the right. Headquarters is in the 1,250 foot Empire State Building. Described as a “real estate magnate who succeeded spectacularly at three careers”), the Empire State was bought by Roger Stevens who doubled his investment selling out three years later; he also appeared in rosters of The Pilgrims---

PILGRIMS SOCIETY TOPS THAT!"

David T. Schiff, Pilgrims Society executive committee, resides at 770 Park Avenue where Warburg Realty listed a unit for $23.8 million---

Schiff, with other members of The Pilgrims for many years, has been a top national official of the Boy Scouts of America, which they intentionally corrupted! The BSA has a “citizenship in the world” merit badge (globalism) ---

Almost the last thing Schiff says in his info supplied to Who's Who is his stated religion---'EPISCOPALIAN'---not Jewish, though he certainly is by ancestry. This could mean he's gone all the way and embraced the correspondent church of the Church of England---he's a Royal family Crown loyalist all the way, and it just hasn't yet occurred to him to dress in a costume of General Cornwallis!

Closing the profile on David t. Schiff, a brief glance at his kid brother, Peter G. Schiff (probably a Pilgrims member) is called for. At this site we read---

"Prior to founding Northwood Ventures in 1983, Peter worked in the private equity division of E.M. Warburg, Pincus & Co., and previously had been an officer in the corporate division of Chemical Bank (now JPMorgan Chase & Co.). Aside from serving as a director of many of Northwood's portfolio companies, he is also a member of the Advisory Board for the North Shore Land Alliance and is a trustee of Hofstra University where he has served as Vice Chairman and Secretary of the Board. He is also a member of the Board of Overseers for its new medical school: Hofstra North Shore-LIJ School of Medicine. Peter is a graduate of Lake Forest College where he majored in International Relations and Politics. He received an M.B.A. from University of Chicago's Booth School of Business with concentrations in Finance and Marketing. In 2009 he was awarded an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws by Lake Forest College after serving as a trustee for 16 years, culminating in being its Chairman. Additionally, Peter served for many years on the boards of the New York Racing Association."

Of Northwood Ventures we read---

"For over thirty years, Northwood Ventures has been a leading venture capital and buyout investor. Partnering with experienced, successful management teams, we invest at all stages of company growth."

This link states about Northwood which among other sectors invests in banks and insurance companies---"It prefers to take a seat on the board of directors of its portfolio companies. The firm prefers to take majority stake. It seeks to exit its investments between four and seven years."

Hofstra University, founded in 1935 at Hempstead, New York, has a $318 million endowment and considers itself “nonsectarian.” Its enrollment is 12,400---

The inscribed motto means “I Will Maintain” and is the slogan of the Royal Netherlands House of Orange–Nassau, which has an alliance with the British Royals. Many members of The pilgrims United States are of Dutch descent, tracing to huge Dutch colonial land grant estates that took on enormous value as population increased. The British and the Dutch struggled for centuries in colonial acquisitions, especially in the Eastern hemisphere but also the American colonies. At some point a concordat was reached and a lasting alliance was formed, and the Dutch are also represented in The Pilgrims Society of Great Britain in London.

My great associate, Joel Van Der Reijden, very pointedly noted that members of The Pilgrims Society are “the people with endless bios.”

4) Felix G. Rohatyn (1928---; Pilgrims Society post the 1980 roster) world famous investment banker delivered the Sir Harry Brittain Lecture to The Pilgrims in London on September 20, 1999, following the annual Pilgrims meeting, which took place in the American Embassy in London. This doesn't indicate when Rohatyn became a member, but he was almost certainly a member by the early 1980s. Page 180 of the short run book, “The Pilgrims of Great Britain” shows this (adjusted for readability) ---

American embassy

At http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Felix_Rohatyn we find international financier Felix Rohatyn (Pilgrims Society) has been an advisor to the national level of the Democratic Party. He's also a member of the far more visible Council on Foreign Relations, managed by The Pilgrims Society. The CFR has been used by The Pilgrims Society since 1921 as a staffing agency for Presidential administrations! He was born in Vienna, Austria and was with Lazard Freres in New York starting in 1948 and was managing director, 1960–1997 when he was appointed Ambassador to France into 2001. Founded in 1848, Lazard has offices in 42 cities around the globe, was part of financing the California gold rush, and today manages some $141 billion <http://www.lazard.com/> Felix was a governor of the New York Stock Exchange, 1968–1972 and is credited with maneuvers in 1975 that saved New York City from bankruptcy. As of the 2005 Who's Who, page 3958, Rohatyn was a director of LVMH a luxury items purveyor (jewelry, watches, wine and spirits, fashion, perfumes and cosmetics) with 60 brands and over 100,000 employees <http://www.lvmh.com/the-group/lvmh-group> (Louis Vuitton Moet Hennessey Inc.) and of GDF Suez and Lagardere Group. Lagardere has over 26,000 employees and operates as a multinational media corporation in 30 nations. GDF has 217,000 employees in natural gas and electricity and has ranked as the world's largest utility corporation. "For decades, Rohatyn has been a senior figure in Lazard Freres, one of the most influential New York–London investment banking houses" and is a "key influence in the U.S. Democratic Party." #6 Silver Squelchers, pages 48–51, has details on Lord Kindersley (Pilgrims Society) who once ran the Lazard London office and if anything, was more frightening than Felix Rohatyn. Current chairman of Lazard New York is Kenneth Jacobs, ex of Goldman Sachs. Jacobs is a trustee of the anti-silver Brookings Institution and the Rockefeller controlled University of Chicago and on the Bilderberg steering committee; he is most likely a Pilgrims member, a matter more secretive than Bilderberg. Lazard has a lengthy history of association with the doubtlessly larger Rothschild (Pilgrims) interests, centered in Rothschild Concordia in Switzerland.

“Lazard is the world's leading independent financial advisory and asset management firm. We serve clients with thoughtful advice and effective solutions to strategic and financial matters. Founded in 1848, we operate in 43 cities across 27 countries around the world.” New York offices are at 30 Rockefeller Plaza---

A current director of De La Rue came there from the Lazard organization. “De La Rue is the world’s largest commercial banknote printer and passport manufacturer and is a trusted partner of governments, central banks, and commercial organizations around the world.” I’ve noticed Pilgrims members on the boards of American Banknote Company and United States Banknote Company over the years as well as Crane & Company, currency paper supplier to the Treasury/Federal Reserve as described in the July 2006 release, “The Paper Hangers.”

Felix Rohatyn's son Nicholas, who was with J.P. Morgan for 19 years, runs The Rohatyn Group, investments with 12 worldwide locations <https://www.rohatyngroup.com/team> New York Magazine, March 11, 1996, page 33, said "the son is getting too successful" of Nicholas Rohatyn.

Other boards which have seen Rohatyn as a member include American Motors; Comcast; Eastern Airlines; Owens-Illinois; Howmet Turbine Corporation; Englehard (Silver Users Association); International Telephone & Telegraph; MCA; Pfizer; Fiat Motors; Rothschild Continuation Trust; and petro services giant Schlumberger. Rohatyn completed the acquisition of Columbia Pictures Corporation by Sony Corporation (Trilaterals). President Clinton suggested Rohatyn in 1996 to be vice chairman of the Federal Reserve System! His first wife, Jeanette Streit, was the daughter of Clarence Streit, a rabid "Atlantacist," not a Pilgrims member but a flunky they had running around hollering for America to merge with England through NATO. Rohatyn's son Nicholas was with J.P. Morgan & Company for 19 years and founded The Rohatyn Group in 1992 with daddy's money. It has a 50% owned subsidiary called Arch Capital Management. The RG operates in New York, Bangkok, Buenos Aires, Hong Kong, Jakarta, Kuala Lumpur, Lima, London, Madrid, Montevideo, New Delhi, Shanghai, Singapore and

Sao Paulo, Brazil. RG owns 60% of Capital Advisors Partners Asia and in 2013 RG acquired 100% of Citi Venture Capital International from Citigroup. RG is an operator of multiple hedge funds. Nick Rohatyn is a founder and former chairman of Emerging Markets Traders Association. “He has served on the Boards of Market Axess, the Local Initiatives Support Corporation (LISC), the Risk Metrics Group, Archipelago, and the Lewis T. Preston Foundation for Girls.”

Lewis T. Preston Jr., Pilgrims Society, was one of the three members most responsible for crushing the Hunt–Arab silver play of 1979–1980, along with members Paul Volcker and William Simon of the COMEX governing board, as detailed in #10 Silver Squelchers, pages 54 and 62–64 on Preston, who married into the Pulitzer newspaper fortune and later headed the World Bank. “TRG specializes in investing alongside entrepreneurs, families and management teams in middle-market businesses in the Global Emerging Markets of Asia-Pacific (including China and South-East Asia), India, Latin America, Emerging Europe, Africa and the Middle-East.” Their investing interests include energy, metals and mining, pharmaceuticals, telecom, media, technology, financial services and infrastructure. The Rohatyn Group is at 280 Park Avenue---

The New York Post, April 8, 2007, in a feature titled “Felix the Cat” called Rohatyn “among the wealthiest and most powerful figures in the city” and remarked---

“He was a wealthy and powerful partner at the mighty Wall Street firm, Lazard Freres & Co., the financial world’s leading dealmaker, and had just led an effort to save New York City from bankruptcy. Presidents and potentates took his call, and cabbies – believing the then 47-year-old titan had saved their lives along with the city’s – refused to accept his money when they drove him around town.”

We also notice in that story that Texas billionaire Ross Perot (a man who made his male employees be clean shaven because he perhaps couldn’t grow any) was doing deals with Pilgrims member Rohatyn. Rohatyn’s second wife Elizabeth has held the position of vice chair of WNET TV New York public television, assuring watchers a globalist outlook and continuing blackout of the existence of The Pilgrims society. In 1995 she became chairwoman of the trustees of the New York Public Library, another important information outlet to the manipulated public. She has been a board member of the Child Welfare League of America (championing the right of hellborn social workers to steal children from parents?) She’s also, most likely due to the impact of hubby’s money, been a member of the Dean’s Council of the Harvard Graduate School of Education; a member of the President’s Council of Teachers College of Columbia University; and a board member of the Fund for New York City Education. The Rohatyns endowed and control the Felix and Elizabeth Rohatyn Foundation, a tax dodge giving money for globalist causes. She is a patron of the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts. “Nina Griscom's Elegant Manhattan Apartment.” Nina is Felix Rohatyn’s stepdaughter. Homeless shelter? What’s that?

Felix Rohatyn, who is still served a trustee of the Center for Strategic & International Studies in D.C. (warmongering think tank) was called “the titanic Lazard banker” <http://observer.com/2011/02/> He’s principle of Rohatyn Group (financial services to corporations), which the New York Times, August 22, 2006, said is connected to the London Rothschilds (Pilgrims Society). Aton Pharma, a research company in cancer drugs, has seen Rohatyn as chairman. Beware of any pharmaceutical “treatments” for cancer! Try unsweetened lemon juice in water, butyric acid, selenium, and IP6 Inositol instead! Sorry I can’t resist mentioning that his wife is Elizabeth Fly Rohatyn! He addressed the Economic Club of Chicago’s annual meeting in May 2003, a group very similar to the anti-silver Economic Club of New York. As if all this wasn’t enough, Rohatyn is currently on the board of Publicis Groupe <http://www.publicisgroupe.com/> the world’s third largest communications and media corporation with 49,000 employees operating across 104 nations!

Rohatyn is a member of assorted Pilgrims subsidiaries---the Council on Foreign Relation, the Council of American Ambassadors and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. We also notice “Ambassador Rohatyn was most recently the president of FGR Associates LLC, a firm that provides financial advice to corporations.

Ambassador Rohatyn is presently an honorary trustee of Carnegie Hall in New York City and a trustee emeritus of Middlebury College.” He’s a member of the American Academy of Diplomacy; a director of the French–American Foundation; a member of the New Leadership for America Political Action Committee (PAC); a backer of Joseph Biden; with Obama Victory Fund 2012; a member of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee; a member of Friends of Hillary; a member of Hillary Clinton for President; and an associate of Pilgrims member John Kerry, of the Heinz food processing fortune by marriage. This Citizens Budget Commission document shows Felix The Pilgrim is pals with Michael Bloomberg (almost certainly a member!)

Pilgrims Society globalist conspirator, national level Democrat Party manipulator Felix Rohatyn who is “very cozy with Henry Kissinger”---

At <http://www.scoop.co.nz/stories/HL0301/S00080.htm> Catherine Austin Fitts discusses “Felix Rohatyn’s Financial Holocaust” and mentions the Council on Foreign Relations but didn’t state his Pilgrims Society membership. How come? She was unaware of it even though she was once with Dillon Read firm (Pilgrims Society entity).

This 2010 book by Rohatyn makes no mention of The Society!

“A Banker for the Century” makes no mention of The Society!

This 2011 book “Lazard Freres, Bankers of Two Worlds,” makes no mention of The Society!

“The Last Tycoons: The Secret History of Lazard Frères & Co. Paperback – April 8, 2008” is by William Cohan, an ersatz investigative researcher; the book contains no mention at all of The Pilgrims Society! Cohan intentionally covered it up---or his information was inadequate in which case had it been otherwise, I think he’d still have not mentioned it---so as to continue getting business!

The Wall Street Journal, January 28, 2010, reported that Rohatyn called for the creation of a “National Infrastructure Bank,” which if consummated, would clearly yield a trillion or more in profits for The Pilgrims Society! The NIB would finance roads, schools, bridges, hospitals, seaports, airports and air traffic control towers and systems, dams and reservoirs and water lines. Rohatyn called for $2.2 trillion for his NIB idea over a five year term. Rohatyn authored “Bold Endeavors---How Our Government Built America, and Why It Must Rebuild Now” in 2009. To whom will the proposed profits accrue, but to his associates in The Society? Rohatyn was called “the man in LaRouche’s nightmares.” The LaRouche Organization and additionally the <http://www.larouchepub.com/> and I have never been in contact and I don’t necessarily agree with him straight down the line. Felix The Pilgrims member was a consultant to Lehman Brothers.

New York Magazine, March 11, 1996, page 30 called the Paris branch of Lazard “the most powerful merger house in Europe.” Page 31 stated that “Felix is legendary” and noted him as a Treasury Secretary prospect. Page 27 mentioned Rohatyn sponsoring a $1,000 a plate fundraiser for globalist Bill Clinton (Rhodes Scholar/Pilgrims Society). Rohatyn was a New York Stock Exchange governor (1968–1972).

Lazard Asset Management represents $178.4 billion.

Silver Squelchers number Twenty will feature Part II on Investment Bankers in The Pilgrims Society with many, many choice details!
