Megabankers in The Society

"He spoke openly against the Society"

(Line from "The Rifleman," March 3, 1963)

Take 32 seconds to hear what should be The Pilgrims theme music!

Presented July–August 2015 by Charles Savoie

Megabankers are one of the hardest groups in The Pilgrims Society on which to document membership. However past patterns, seen in lists from 1980 on back to 1914 and the charter members, indicate that if those patterns are followed, and there's no cause why they shouldn't be---we may expect, if we have an actual updated roster for both branches, to find members in top management and the boards of directors of banks including---Wells Fargo (263,900 employees); Citigroup (243,000 employees); JPM Chase (265,359 employees); Bank of America (233,000 employees); Bank of New York Mellon (50,300 employees, manages $28 trillion); more Barclays bankers (132,300 employees); more HSBC bankers (80 countries and over 50 million customers); Royal Bank of Scotland (33 million customers); Lloyd's Banking Group (45,856 employees); Standard Chartered Bank (70 countries and 87,000 employees);

Bank of Montreal (46,778 employees); Toronto Dominion Bank (79,000 employees); Royal Bank of Canada (73,500 employees); CIBC (Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, 44,424 employees); Scotia Bank (Bank of Nova Scotia, 87,000 employees); National Bank of Canada (20,000 employees); Northern Trust (14,100 employees); PNC Bank (2,700 branches and 52,000 employees); Capital One Bank (41,100 employees); Australia & New Zealand Banking Group (48,239 employees); Commonwealth Bank of Australia (44,329 employees); Western Pacific Banking Corporation of Australia (36,000 employees); and others including Swiss banks. Controlling the mainland European and the Japanese banking systems through Bilderberg and Trilateral Commission, you see “The One Bank” effect however; what we must force out into the light of day are the current members of The Pilgrims, the top globalist group and the only one still refusing to release their roster! So it isn’t splitting hairs in any sense to go after The Pilgrims, rather than the One Bank. Robert Cutting Lawrence III, to be profiled in #28 or 29, Royalty & Noble Hereditary Ancestry in The Pilgrims, could also be placed in the megabankers group; you’ll see why, but is best adapted for #28 or 29 (two parts).

Have I worn you out with content? Try researching and presenting a series this extensive on any other topic. I did it all for free because the public has a right to know about this Pilgrims Society network. “If it is to be, it is up to me” can also be your slogan on any worthwhile cause.

As a small opener note that Robert Dudley Harrington (1932–November 2014; Pilgrims Society as of undetermined) was with the ever menacing and nefarious J.P. Morgan interests.

1) Sir David Alan Walker (December 31, 1939---Pilgrims Society of Great Britain), Order of the British Empire, is current chairman as of November 1, 2012 of Barclay's Bank International. He was assistant secretary at the British Treasury (1974–1977). He chaired the Securities & Investments Board (1988–1992) and during 1989 to 1995 he was a director for finance and industry of the Bank of England and also deputy chairman and director of Lloyd's Bank, 1992–1994. During 1995 to 2001 Walker was chairman of Morgan Stanley International and again held that position during 2004–2005, and he remained a senior advisor to Morgan Stanley International until August 2012. From 1997–2000 Walker was on the board of Morgan Stanley Dean Witter. He is former chairman of NatWest Financial Markets, of the huge National Westminster Bank, which in 2000 merged into The Royal Bank of Scotland Group, now with 141,000 employees (Pilgrims Society). As of 2004, Walker joined The Group of 30 in Washington, D.C., chaired by Pilgrims Society member Paul Volcker, chairman of the Federal Reserve System (1979–1987; he was president of the N.Y. Fed Bank, 1975–1979), an anti-gold campaigner as of the early 1960s at Chase Manhattan Bank, and one of the two key architects (Pilgrims member William Simon was the other) of the destruction of the Hunt-Arab silver foray, as described in #10 Silver Squelchers---see pages 9-14 of that release on Volcker.

“New Barclay’s chairman Sir David Walker has half a century of experience” was a story in The Guardian in which we read that in 1985, while a senior official at the Bank of England, he arranged a rescue plan for Johnson Matthey Bankers. In fact, from 1985-1988 Walker chaired Johnson Matthey Bankers. JM is a former (now “underground”) member of the Silver Users Association. Had Walker been asked about a bailout of a silver mining concern I have to think he’d have given the request his “red eye!” Barclay’s Bank International world headquarters tower in London---

Barclay's reports 48 million customers in 50 countries served by 7,000 branches. It has 139,600 employees and traces to goldsmiths in the year 1690. See pages 76–80 of #10 Silver Squelchers for more on Barclays and its participation in wrecking the Hunt brothers fortune through a loan syndication which Pilgrims Society members Lewis T. Preston Jr. of J.P. Morgan & Company and Paul Volcker “spiked.” Sir Walker is former chairman of Reuters Venture Capital, a director of Reuters Holdings since 1994, former vice chairman of The Legal & General Group and was for four years president of the London Investment Bankers Association and is a former governor of the anti precious metals International Monetary Fund (IMF). He chaired the steering committee of the Financial Markets Group of the London Stock Exchange (1986–1993). In 1990 and again in 1993–1994 Walker was a director of National Power, which supplies electricity and natural gas in London---

During 2000–2007 Walker was active in the Moroccan–British Business Council. During 1987 to 1989 Walker was on the governing board of CEGB, the Central Electricity Generating Board, which in the 1990s was split into four corporations, undoubtedly all Pilgrims Society controlled---

The Times, London, February 10, 2009, begged the obvious by labeling Sir Walker a “big shot.” During 1993–1997 Walker was active in The British Invisibles (actual name) which name was later changed to International Financial Services London (IFSL) and which again changed its name to TheCityUK, which is an affiliate of The City of London Corporation. TheCityUK has a membership of 150 financial services companies, and guess which single organization the most prominent of them are represented in! TheCityUK says at its site---“The UK is the world’s leading global financial services centre and the most internationally focused marketplace in the world”

Sir Walker assumed the chairmanship of Barclay’s Bank as the successor to Marcus Agius, a man with a name sounding like some Roman general. There’s not more than one chance in 2,000 that Agius isn’t a member of The Pilgrims however; no official mention of this has been found to date, as available information remains fragmentary at best. His father in law was confirmed Pilgrims Society member Edmund L. De Rothschild of London. The great, great grandfather of Marcus Agius, Edward T. Agius, was a charter Pilgrims member in 1902 in London.

Barclays Bank had roots deep in the slave trade and plantation business centuries ago.

As of September 30, 2014, Barclays had major holdings in 3,962 corporations including Wells Fargo (megabank); JPMorgan Chase (silver short); General Electric (silver user); Bank America (formerly on Silver Users Association roster); Citigroup; United Technologies (silver user); Honeywell (silver user); Goldman Sachs (precious metals antagonist); Du Pont (top tier Silver Users Association member; that is to say until recently a member); Occidental Petroleum (silver short made $116 million on the Hunt–Arab downfall); Dow Chemical (the other top tier member of the Silver Users association); Morgan Stanley (silver suppressors); Lockheed Martin (silver users); General Motors (silver users); Blackrock (holds shares in silver users and silver suppressors); General Dynamics

(silver users); Emerson Electric (silver users); these are all a billion dollars and upwards into multiple billions in holdings; those under the magic one billion mark include---Northrop Grumman (silver users); Raytheon (silver users); State Street Corporation (owns shares in silver users and silver suppressors, including in the CME Group, owners of the COMEX); Freeport McMoRan (gold producer); Rockwell Automation (silver user); Newmont Mining (gold miner, $386 million holding);Textron (silver user); Tiffany & Company (Silver Users Association members; $251 million holding); Celanese Corporation (silver users as in catalytic silver acetylides); I stopped the review when the holdings fell below $150 million. The international “community of interest” in holding silver prices low is enormous in scope and incredibly concentrated and coordinated! As a closing glance at Sir David Walker, now chairman of Barclays, we’ll briefly review the Group of Thirty---which we must call the “dirty thirty” due to their scurrilous activities in suppressing gold and silver prices! Walker joined the Group of 30 in 1993 and is a trustee of it, and acted as its treasurer (1997–2004) ---it was founded in 1978 and easily may have played a role in the defeat of the Hunt–Arab silver venture---its current members represent the following central, commercial and investment banks---

Bank of England; Federal Reserve System; Federal Reserve Bank of New York; U.S. Treasury Department; Bank of Mexico; People’s Bank of China; Bank of Japan; Bank of France; Bank of Canada; European Central Bank; International Monetary Fund; Bank for International

Settlements; Reserve Bank of India; Bank of Italy; World Bank; JPMorgan Chase; Morgan Stanley; J. Henry Schroder Bank; Bank of Venezuela; Central Bank of Poland (Poland is a large silver producing country); Central Bank of Sweden (another silver mining country); Goldman Sachs; Bank of Spain; Asian Development Bank; Central Bank of Brazil; Kleinwort Benson Group; Lazard Brothers London; Deutsche Bundesbank; Westpac (Western Pacific Bank, Australia, 33,000 employees); British Treasury; French Treasury; Grupo Financiero de Mexico; Monetary Authority of Singapore; China Construction Bank; Standard Chartered Bank London; Merrill Lynch; UBS and others.

That's a vast network for sourcing gold for price management! No, I didn't find any direct Russian link, but it may be there. Presiding over this entire gold swap network is none other than Pilgrims Society vice president (as of 2006 or earlier) Paul Volcker, who minimized the Hunt brothers down from condors to parrots! Involved in the Group of 30 is Pilgrims Society member Sir David Walker---chairman of Barclays, major worldwide silver suppressing organization!

GROUP OF THIRTY

Consultative Group on International Economic & Monetary Affairs, Inc.

Walker is additionally a member of the Bretton Woods Committee, similar in ways to the Group of 30, and ties the bankers mesh even more tightly around gold and silver by adding to the witches cauldron such entities as OPEC Fund for International Development (Arab oil producers); HSBC Bank; Reserve Bank of Australia; Rockefeller & Company; Rothschild Incorporated; Soros Fund Management; Bank of New York Mellon; Royal Bank of Canada; Credit Suisse; International Swaps & Derivatives association; Banca D'Italia ; FINRA; Carnegie Corporation; Institute of International Finance; Deutsche Bank; Deutsche Bank Russia; Mizuho Bank; Bahrain Economic Development Board; Habib Bank; Gulf Investment Corporation; National Bank of Egypt; National Bank of Kuwait; Olayan Financing Company; Bank of Israel; Bulgarian National Bank;

Planetary Holdings; BNP Paribas; BLOM Bank; Korea Federation of Banks; Korea Investment Corporation; Managed Funds Association; Skandinaviska Enskilda Banken; Orchard Global Asset Management; Citigroup; American Express Bank; Commercial Bank of Ceylon; Bank of Botswana; Italian Banking, Insurance & Finance Federation; Sumitomo Corporation; Middle East & Asia Capital Partners; Fifth Third Bank; New York State Banking Department; Roosevelt China Investments Corporation; Overseas Private Investment Corporation; Stanbic Bank Uganda; Nigerian Federal Ministry of Finance; Capital One; Banco Bilbao Vizcaya of Argentina; Bank Leumi Israel; Central Bank of Lebanon; Hungarian Central Bank; Jordanian Ministry of Finance; Asian Corporate Governance Association and several dozen others. This organization, one of so very many seditious Pilgrims Society tentacles is named after the 1944 Bretton Woods Monetary Conference, where silver was given an additional shaft job excluding it from the postwar global monetary system!

Another Pilgrims member in recent years high in the Barclays superstructure was Sir Robert Lucian Wade-Gery (1929–2015), Pilgrims Society and Knight Commander of the Royal Victorian Order, Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, after a long diplomatic career including British High Commissioner in India, became a director of Barclays Capital from 1987 to 1999 and during 1991 to 2005 acted as treasurer of the warmongering International Institute for Strategic Studies, described elsewhere in this series; and was chairman of the School of Oriental and African Studies at the University of London from 1990 to 1999. During 1988 to 1992 Walker was chairman of the Securities & Investments board.

Bloomberg says “Sir Walker serves as an Executive Officer at British Venture Capital Association.”

In October 1997 the Securities & Investments Board changed its name to the Financial Services Authority---

<http://www.bvca.co.uk/>

During 2010 to 2012 Walker was deputy chairman of NBNK, founded by Baron Levene of Portsoken, who I listed as a highly likely member of The Pilgrims London in a February 2014 item. This one is interested in the megabanking sector---

2) Sir Peter Denis Sutherland (1946---; Pilgrims Society as of undetermined), Knight Commander Order of Saint Michael & Saint George, trained as an attorney, is shown on page 204 of “The Pilgrims of Great Britain” (2002 short run book) shows a 1996 Pilgrims meeting in London---

Sutherland has a tremendous resume of credits, including that during 1985 to 1989 he was with the European Commission, as commissioner of “Competition Policy.”

According to Bloomberg, Sir Peter Sutherland has received the following titles, awards and honors---

Gold Medal of the European Parliament (1988), the First European Law Prize (Paris 1988), the Grand Cross of Civil Merit (Spain 1989), the Grand Cross of King Leopold II (Belgium 1989), the New Zealand Commemorative Medal (1990), Chevalier de la Legion d'Honneur

(France 1993) Commandeur du Wissam (Morocco 1994) the Order of Rio Branco (Brazil 1996) and the Grand Cross of the Order of Infante Dom Henrique (Portugal 1998). He was also presented with the Robert Schuman Medal for his work for European Integration. Furthermore, Mr. Sutherland received the European Person of the Year Award (1988), the Irish People of the Year Award (1989), the Consumer for World Trade Annual Award (1994) for distinguished service, and the Dean's Medal (1996) from the Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania.

Sutherland is among the more important Pilgrims members. I don't see him as inner circle, but as an important functionary for the inner circle and he certainly knows who they are better than any outsider. Here Sutherland was confronted about Bilderberg by someone who it's doubtful ever heard of The Pilgrims Society---that's what I'd have called Sutherland on, as it would hack him off worse. Sutherland has been on the Bilderberg steering committee (management) and has served as European chairman for the Trilateral Commission for some years and remains in that post as honorary chairman as of 2010. Notice---both groups having Pilgrims Society members in their management, yet neither group has little if any acknowledgement of an older and higher power group being their founders and managers, on the part of those who research Trilateral and those who research Bilderberg. Once I realized that The Pilgrims fit the profile of the top of the pyramid group best, I focused on them instead. Sutherland has so many credentials it's daunting to know where to start. We can use NNDB data as a starting point. Beginning in 1995, Sutherland was a managing director of Goldman Sachs. 1995 was also the year Sutherland became director general of the WTO, World Trade Organization. During 1993-1995 he was director general of GATT, the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade. NNDB also listed Sutherland as a director of the World Economic Forum and the European Institute. During 1984 to 1989 Sutherland was commissioner of the European Union. Obviously someone “upstairs” chose him for powerful roles---perhaps the Windsors (Royals), possibly the Rothschilds or both---and others, as in 1998 Sutherland received the David Rockefeller International Leadership Award. This award is handed out annually by the Museum of Modern Art in New York, which at all times has Pilgrims Society members as trustees. Back in 1981 to 1984 Sutherland was Attorney General of Ireland. During 1989 to 1993 he was chairman of Allied Irish Banks. In 1995 he was elected to the board of Delta Airlines; when his terms at Delta ended I haven’t seen. Continuing up towards the upper reaches of the pyramid, in 1997 Sutherland became chairman of the giant British Petroleum Corporation, a post he held into 2009. He also became a director of the Stockholm based Investor AB, year undetermined (valid as of 2007 link). Finally, during 2006 Sutherland was United Nations Envoy on Immigration. Now to review symbols associated with Sutherland---

"A Secret Society gradually absorbing the wealth of the world."---Last Will & Testament of Cecil Rhodes

David Rockefeller (Pilgrims 1949) founded Bilderberg in 1954---

In 1973 David co-founded Trilateral, with Pilgrims member George S. Franklin Jr., who was his roommate at Harvard University (no Yale Skull & Bones!) In his “Memoirs” (2003) Rockefeller mentions Bilderberg and Trilateral, but makes no mention of The Pilgrims; and he’s a known member since the 1949 roster! Indisputably this is the superior and controlling organization that superintends these more widely known groups, and it’s the one he obviously was the most secretive about!

The Pilgrims New York 1949 excerpt---

ROBINSON, Leland Rex
Rockefeller, David
Rockefeller, Jr., John D.
Rogers, Charles Bolles
Rogers, Hamilton
Rogers, Jr., John Shillito
Roosevelt, George E.

In "Money And Power---How Goldman Sachs Came to Rule the World," a ridiculous book in 2012 by William Cohan, the author, underinformed or covering up, makes no mention of The Pilgrims. Ridiculous because the assertion very perversely minimizes the power of other institutions---State Street Corporation (represents $27 trillion)---Bank of New York Mellon (represents $28 trillion)---J.P. Morgan Chase (the single most important bank to many Pilgrims Society families)---the enormous Barclays organization---the enormous HSBC organization---the fabled Rothschild interests---Lloyd's Banking Group ($1,342 billion as of 2014 as compared to Goldman's $856 billion)---Morgan Stanley---Bank of America---Wells Fargo and others! He wrote the book because it contains a grain of truth but the premise of the title is a wild exaggeration. All these banks are Pilgrims Society interests, so the appropriate title for a book much to the contrary of his would be---"Money And power---How The Pilgrims Society Came To Rule The World." He wrote the book because it would sell. Naturally these other interests liked it, as it distracted significant attention away from their operations!

Do the red slashes represent the blood of common people? Do the blue slashes represent control over the skyways? Do the green slashes represent control over agriculture and the world's forests?

Globalists founded the WTO in 1995---

The General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade founded in 1947, essentially was renamed the WTO in 1995. GATT was interlocked with the British North American Committee, a Pilgrims Society front dominated by members from London who held huge Canadian interests---

Antony Jenkins, group CEO of Barclays, is co-chair of the WTO. He's almost certainly a member of The Pilgrims London---

Sir Peter Sutherland is now a director emeritus of the European Institute. At the link you'll notice other directors are connected to the World Bank, the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, and the gargantuan Rothschild (Pilgrims Society) interests, among others---

The European Union traces to 1958 and now represents 507 million people. It's of course interlocked with the NATO countries, the British-American dominated military alliance. The stickiest part of the European Union may be unseen power struggles between the Vatican and the British Royal family as both desire control over these territories. Vatican influence is certainly stronger on the Continent, having been drastically minimized in Britain most of 500 years ago by King Henry VIII.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Attorney_General_of_Ireland

Allied Irish Banks is an important regional bank with 11,431 employees as of 2013. It has a page regarding its compliance with the USA Patriot Act (we aren't charmed!) ---

One of the world's top airlines, Delta has 80,000 employees (2015).

Can the Pilgrims members on its board redirect a flight over Sakhalin Island?

British Petroleum reported assets of $284 billion and 84,500 employees in 2014.

Its founding traces to Burmah Oil and Anglo-Persian Oil (operating in Iran over 100 years ago) ---

As of 1995 Sutherland was a director also of a British Petroleum subsidiary, BP Solar International and another BP subsidiary, Yorktown Virginia refinery. Bloomberg says Sutherland was on the BP holding company board as of 1990.

This company founded in Sweden in 1916 has assets of around $30 billion and is controlled by the Wallenberg family, probably the wealthiest in Sweden; I've noticed Pilgrims Society representation besides Sutherland. The 1994 Who's Who in America, page 2468 shows Paul Henry Mueller running North American operations of the Wallenbergs (SAAB; Atlas Copco and Skandinaviska Enskilda Banken and treasurer of the Marcus Wallenberg Foundation). Mueller was at the 1944 Bretton Woods Monetary Conference in which silver was 100% painted out of the picture. Mueller married into the old-line Dutch colonial land grant fortune in the person of Jean Bonnel Vreeland. The Vreelands came to North America in 1609 and have had other representatives in The Pilgrims.

Sutherland with Pilgrims puppet Ban Ki-Moon, U.N. Secretary General---

Having covered the preceding credentials of Sutherland, we'll now see if Bloomberg has anything additional. We notice the following---

“Mr. Sutherland serves as the President of The Federal Trust.”
This is another predictable globalist group. This one has a comedian,
Carole Tongue (actual name) of the London Institute also on its board.

He was associated with ABB Ltd. a Swiss multinational with 150,000 employees as of 2012 in the electrical equipment field.

Power and productivity
for a better world™

“He has been a Director at BW Group Ltd (formerly Bergesen Worldwide Limited) since July 2009.” BW is “an international maritime group that through its subsidiaries operates within the tanker, gas and offshore segments, with a fleet of more than 100 owned, part-owned or controlled vessels. The group has seven business areas: crude tankers, product tankers, chemical tankers, LNG (liquefied natural gas) carriers, LPG (liquefied petroleum gas) carriers, offshore floating production vessels (FPSO) and offshore technology (mooring systems for FPSOs and offshore LNG terminals).” The BW site shows Sutherland as a current director. Sir John Rose is there, another highly likely Pilgrims member who was chairman of The Prince’s

Trust and is currently vice chairman of Rothschild Group (same link).
BW owns a fleet of 150 ocean going vessels---

“He has been Director of BW Gas since July 2009.” This is a BW subsidiary.

“He serves as Non-Executive Director of Telefonaktiebolaget LM Ericsson.”

According to their site, Sutherland is an ex-director; he most likely was there representing someone whose shareholdings probably remain. “Some 40 percent of global mobile traffic runs through networks we have supplied. More than 1 billion subscribers around the world rely every day on networks that we manage. With more than 37,000 granted patents, we have one of the industry’s strongest intellectual property rights portfolios.”

“Mr. Sutherland has been a Member of Supervisory Board at Allianz SE since January 2010 and serves as its Member of International Advisory Board.” Allianz is a German based multinational financial services group which as of yearend 2014 had 147,425 employees. Sutherland is a current member of Allianz supervisory board of this company having 1.8 trillion Euros under management---

“He serves as a Member of Advisory Council of TechnoServe, Inc.” Techno Serve based in Washington D.C. has 1,300 employees in 30 countries. “Techno Serve’s mission is to work with enterprising people in the developing world to build competitive farms, businesses and industries.”

“He served as an Independent Non Executive Director of National Westminster Bank PLC since January 2001. He served as an Independent Non Executive Director of The Royal Bank Of Scotland Plc from January 2001 to February 6, 2009.” As of 2000, National Westminster merged with the Royal Bank of Scotland Group. Sir Philip Hampton is a highly likely Pilgrims member and he chairs this RBS Group with 141,000 employees and $1.7 trillion in assets---

“He has been on the board of KOC Holding AS since 2009.” KOC with 73,000 employees is “the top industrial conglomerate in Turkey” and deals in energy, construction, food, automobiles and other sectors---Sutherland is confirmed as a current KOC board member---

“He serves as a Member of the advisory board of Eli Lilly.” William McChesney Martin Jr. (Pilgrims Society) headed the Federal Reserve System in Washington from 1951 into 1970, after which The Pilgrims inner circle placed him on several large boards---including Pharma and vaccine giant Eli Lilly (Who’s Who in America, 1976–1977, page 2038 and earlier volumes). 2013 figures show Lilly had 37,925 employees, assets of $35.2 billion and operating income of $5.889 billion. At <http://www.drugwatch.com/manufacturer/eli-lilly/> we read--- “Eli Lilly & Co., one of the largest drug manufacturers in the world, is best known for creating the antidepressant Prozac. It has defended numerous lawsuits over the safety and marketing of its products. The company is under fire for manufacturing or helping market a number of drugs with dangerous side effects, including Axiron, Actos, Prozac, Symbyax and Byetta.” In addition to the usual class action lawsuits ($3 billion in this one) over severe harm including deaths caused by its “medications,” Lilly has even been slammed with racial discrimination suits. Psychiatric “medications” such as Prozac (made by Lilly) are well known to cause suicidal and homicidal behavior including mass shooting sprees.

“He served as a Member of International Advisory Board of CNOOC Ltd. since March 20, 2003.” That’s China National Offshore Oil Corporation. Kevin G. Lynch (not Chinese) is a director and a former IMF official; he may be a Pilgrims member or merely on the CNOOC board at their behest.

CNOOC Limited

中國海洋石油有限公司

“He serves as the President of European Policy Centre Advisory Council.”

Sutherland is a member of the Royal Irish Academy in Dublin, founded in 1785---

“He serves as the Chairperson of the Court of Governors at The London School of Economics and Political Science.” A check into this finds that Sutherland has been succeeded by Lord Paul Myners. Myners was chairman of the Guardian Media Group and is publicly known as a Rothschild associate. His info reads like a Pilgrims member, and he looks mean enough to be a member!

LSE library volumes teach that gold and silver are not money---

“Sutherland serves as Vice-Chairman of European Round Table of Industrialists.”

He has however passed the torch there to another globalist of obvious lesser standing.

“From 1998 to 2005, he was a member of the Hong Kong Chief Executive's Council of International Advisers.” Paul Volcker, Pilgrims Society and Federal Reserve, is listed as another with such involvement.

He is a Goodwill Ambassador to the United Nations Industrial Development Organisation and a Consultor for the Administration of the Patrimony of the Holy See. He was awarded an honorary KCMG in 2003. He was also admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States of America. He is a Bencher of the Middle Temple, London and is an Honorary Bencher of the King's Inns. His publications include the book 'Premier Janvier 1993 ce qui va changer en Europe' (1989) and numerous articles in law journals. He Chaired the Committee that reported to the EEC Commission on the functioning of the Internal Market after 1992 (The Sutherland Report). He has received fifteen honorary doctorates from universities in Europe and America. He was awarded an honorary fellowship of the London Business School and the Oxford University Institute of Economics. Mr. Sutherland holds Bachelor of Civil Law from University College Dublin. He was educated at the King's Inns.

ORGANIZATION

The Lawyers Business Development Club, before which he gave a speech circa 2006, has a URL that shows Sutherland as a governor of the National Institute of Economic and Social Research. It has branches in London, Dublin, New York, Boston and Dubai---

“The National Institute of Economic and Social Research (NIESR) is Britain's longest established independent research institute and think-tank located in London, England. It was established in 1938 with funding from the Rockefeller Foundation, the Pilgrim Trust, the Leverhulme Trust and the Halley Stewart Trust.”

The Halley Stewart Trust I’m not familiar with. The other three are Pilgrims Society entities---intensely so.

Sir Charles Richard Bean, for almost six years a Bank of England official, is president of the NIESR---

In 2007 Sutherland made a multimillion pound sterling gift to University College of Dublin (founded 1854) towards creation of a new law school to include an Institute of Criminology---

At Sovereign Independent UK we read---

“Arch Globalist Europhile Calls for EU To Undermine National Identity Of Member States.” What Attila the Hun, Hannibal, Napoleon, Hitler and Mussolini wanted to do in Europe, but failed, Sutherland and his pals intend to see it through by somewhat different means. That doesn’t mean that warfare is off their checklist!

In 2014, Pilgrims Society kingpin Sir Peter Sutherland, just outside The Pilgrims inner circle, was awarded the Order of the Polar Star of Sweden. Founded in 1748, it’s awarded by the King of Sweden, Carl XVI Gustaf who is related to the British Royal family---

3) Baron Robert Berry Janvrin (1946---: Pilgrims Society post the 1980 lists) is a member of the Order of the Bath (founded 1725); the Royal Victorian Order; and the Queen's Service Order; and the Privy Council (advisors to the British sovereign). He was a trustee of the Queen's 80th Birthday Trust. He is chairman of the trustees of The Royal Foundation of The Duke and Duchess of Cambridge and Prince Harry. His father was a vice admiral and deputy chief of British Naval Staff and member of the Order of the Bath, which is a reference to the ceremonial bath of purification (rinsing blood off) a knight would perform after dispatching an enemy of the Crown! Some highly place Americans are members, and some of those are also Pilgrims such as General Colin Powell (a rare Black member, put there as window dressing, yet a capable manipulator in his own right). R.B. Janvrin joined the Royal Navy then went to the U.K. Nato delegation (1976–1978) then to the Foreign and Commonwealth Office. He was with the British High Commission(1981–1984) in New Delhi, India. After leaving the personnel department of the Foreign and Commonwealth Office in 1987, he became Press Secretary to the Queen at Buckingham Palace and in 1990 the Queen's private secretary. This guy is an important cog in the Royal family's wheel, which in many real senses is a "breaking wheel" on which the world is being grievously injured. In 1994 he was named a Commander in the Royal Victorian Order, an elite group that celebrates the peak decades of British power in the world, during the reign of the dumpy faced Queen Victoria (1837–1901). Those years saw the Opium Wars with China, which China lost; the American Civil War (British fomented); the Crime of 1873 demonetizing silver (another British project) and many more military and monetary atrocities involving British kingpins and their American collaborators.

Wiki states---

“In the 2008 New Year's Honours List of New Zealand, Lord Janvrin was made a Companion of the Queen's Service Order for "services to New Zealand as Private Secretary to The Queen.” On 7 January 2008 he took up his appointment of Deputy Chairman, HSBC Private Bank (UK). Janvrin is also Chairman of The Leadership Council, a research and thought leadership body in the UK. In 2008, he replaced Sir Christopher Mallaby as president of the British Entente Cordiale Scholarship trust. He married Isabelle de Boissonneaux de Chevigny, daughter of Yann de Boissonneaux de Chevigny, in 1977.

In 2005 Janvrin was awarded the Commemorative Medal for the Centennial of Saskatchewan Province, Canada. He succeeded Baron Robert Fellowes (Pilgrims Society) in his positions in the Royal household. The HSBC Private Bank is questionable, as is the entire HSBC organization. It grew out of the old British run Chinese opium for silver trade. It was Britain's main opium bank for China, the Hong Kong & Shanghai Banking Corporation, with Hong Kong and Shanghai being the two major opium importing sites into China. Vast quantities of silver flowed out of China to pay for the pernicious British export out of India, opium. For details, see "Silver Users And Opium," released in March 2004. "HSBC Private Swiss Bank served everyone from arms dealers to pop stars" is typical. Members or divisions of HSBC Private Bank include Samuel Montagu & Company (founded 1853); Trinkaus & Burkhardt KG (1785); Guyerzeller Bank AG (1866); HSBC Bank USA (formerly Republic National Bank of New York) (1966) and Crédit Commercial de France (CCF, 1894)." We read "The Hong Kong & Shanghai Banking Corporation was founded in 1865 to finance trade between the China coast, Europe and the USA." That's right---all kinds of trade---but especially opium into China. However, there was also the opium dealt to Chinese in California, who were brought in by the mega-capitalist railroad empire builders of the Southern Pacific and other railroad empires, whose wealth ended up years later represented in The Pilgrims New York when it opened in January 1903! The opium trade in California during the railroad empire building days was described in "The Murdered Party," episode of

“The Big Valley” TV series, on November 17, 1965. Several years back I noticed HSBC Bank USA on the Silver Users Association roster; perhaps they exited due to controversy over the old opium for silver trade, something the slicksters of the SUA wouldn’t dare try to justify as a way of sourcing silver. HSBC Bank USA is actually the former Marine–Midland Bank of New York, which HSBC bought out and renamed. Marine Midland was crawling with members of The Pilgrims New York branch; one that comes to mind without checking my files is Baldwin Maull, who was on many large corporate boards from electric power generation to paper products. He was an associate of member Nelson Rockefeller and in his case, very perversely, a collector of ancient Greek silver coins.

HSBC is currently ranked as the world’s second largest bank by assets with $2.723 trillion, meaning that Baron Janvrin is not some small town pawn broker arranging $125 loans. HSBC Mexico has 22,000 employees and do you suppose it’s on the bandwagon with Hugo Salinas–Price to remonetize silver coinage in Mexico? In 2012 HSBC paid a $1 billion fine related to money laundering operations in Mexico---undoubtedly their take was several times as much. In 2002 HSBC Mexico bought Banco Internacional, a Mexican bank group that in 1994 was boosted by a bailout paid for by the Mexican public. Naturally while defending HSBC branches from common holdup artists, the bank itself can with virtual impunity, hold up the people of Mexico. HSBC Mexico execs in their 446 foot skyscraper are very likely pals with officials of the silver antagonistic Bank of Mexico. Matt Taibbi covered the HSBC Mexico scandal but as always, Mister Taibbi has nothing to say about The Pilgrims Society---because he is poorly informed or controlled opposition, which is more likely. Number 8 Canada Square in London---HSBC Tower 656 feet high and 14,000 tons of steel---

The Leadership Council is another of the seemingly innumerable, grains of sand on the beach fronts of The Pilgrims society, which masterminds the entire rat pack of globalist fronts. In December 2014 Janvrin, as British Trade Envoy to Turkey, was provided with an escorted visit in the Arcelik enterprise, manufacturer of appliances and consumer products with 19,000 employees. The Turks have reasons for disliking the British, including British backing of the Greek War of Independence from Turkey in the 1820s. Janvrin is a trustee of the British National Portrait Gallery, which commemorates Englishmen who've gouged the world for centuries. Janvrin is associated with the Norwegian-British Chamber of Commerce and acts as advisor to the U.K.–India Business Council. In that capacity, what is his advice to India on gold? To raise import duties? The Oxford University Centre for Corporate Reputation is connected to the U.K.–India Business Council. What is his advice on corporate reputation in light of HSBC’s dirty history in the opium addiction business?

On March 22, 2011, Janvrin addressed The Briefing Circle, another nexus for planetary gougers. The Bureau of Investigative Journalism, an organization pretending to expose corruption, is another controlled opposition apparatus. It listed in “Lords for Hire” Lord Janvrin as one of 124 members of the British House of Lords who benefit from the financial industry; again, no whisper that many of these Lords are members of The Pilgrims Society!

Another Parliament symbol depicts the Royals atop

The Japan Society of the United Kingdom, founded in 1891, had Janvrin delivering an address in 2012 entitled, “The Monarchy and its Relevance in Modern Day Britain,” it isn’t relevant and the English people should insist it be dismantled and left on the junk pile of history. Janvrin became president of the Marlburian Club in 2012 at Marlborough College (founded 1843).

4) David J. Wickham (born---undetermined; Pilgrims membership = current; start year unknown) is an executive in the immense HSBC London organization with 266,000 employees and assets of $2.634 trillion. This is the bank historically examined in “Silver Users And Opium” released in March 2004. Wickham is director and senior specialist in HSBC Global Asset Management in London for global emerging market equities. He was previously (2007–2009) with INVESCO Private Capital and before that he was a member of the investment committee at Insight Investment in London. Insight later merged into Bank of New York Mellon. Still earlier he was with Australia based Mercer Global Investments and also with JANA Investment Advisers in Melbourne. He earned a degree from the Royal Melbourne Institute of Technology---notice especially the word “Royal,” it’s of overriding importance---

He's also studied international relations ("globalism") at Cambridge University and is associated with the Business School of the University of Oxford. He's a nonresident fellow of the Washington D.C. based Brookings Institution. Brookings is very likely among the five most important research organizations ("think tanks") in the world and extremely anti-monetary silver. Brookings omits to mention his Pilgrims membership which is found here. He's an advisor to Leopard Capital. In addition, he is a fellow of the Chartered Institute for Securities and Investment, Financial Services Institute of Australasia, and Royal Asiatic Society; an Associate of the International Institute for Strategic Studies; and a Member of the CFA Institute and CFA Society of the United Kingdom. Wickham is a member of the Britain-Australia Society; ISIS Angel Network; Japan Society; Asia House; the Royal Asiatic Society (founded 1823; likely opium connections); International Business Advisory Network; Oxford Venture Club; The 48 Group Club; and speaks some German, Arabic and Japanese. In 2008 he authored "Tapping the Arab Gulf States Wealth Engine" while with Invesco.

In 1950s the United Kingdom became one of the first countries to recognize the People’s Republic of China. The 1953 ‘Icebreaker Mission’ paved the way for the now fabled 1954 trade mission with 48 businessmen from British companies, which later became known generically as The 48

Group – The ‘Icebreakers’ and whose trail-blazing initiatives have become a long time part of British–Chinese history.”

There are more Londoners on major Chinese corporate and banking boards than you’d expect. This is a very profound matter, and would require a whole other research piece. It would most certainly be in a Pilgrims Society framework.

5) Daniel Knowlton Chapman (1956---; Pilgrims Society as of undetermined) may or may not be closely related to Peter Herbert Chapman in the profiles of investment bankers. Their birth years suggest its possible, though that may easily be coincidence. Relatively little info is available. However, he’s “Managing director at United States Bancorporation in New York” located at 100 Wall Street. He was previously with Acumen Fund, J.P. Morgan Securities and Chase Manhattan Bank. He's a trustee of the Harvey School. According to <http://wallethub.com/profile> "U.S. Bancorporation primarily works with high net worth individuals." Daniel K. Chapman is mentioned in the 2014 annual report of the Harvey School. U.S. Bancorporation is the number five U.S. bank by assets with \$404 billion and 55,565 employees; Chapman runs the New York office.

"The Harvey School is a highly selective, co-educational, college preparatory school near Katonah, New York, for students in grades 6 through 12. It is located on a wooded, 100-acre campus and has an annual budget (2005) of $10.9 million."

Acumen Fund was started in 2001 with backing from the Rockefeller and Gates Foundations. Acumen claims to be a “non-profit global venture fund that uses entrepreneurial approaches to solve the problems of poverty. Its aim is to help build financially sustainable organizations that deliver affordable goods and services that improve the lives of the poor.” Considering the Rockefeller history, it’s advisable to be highly cynical as to their asserted objectives--- naturally they are vaccine panderers---

That's about all on Daniel K. Chapman. He almost seems out of place without a long list of credits. But he's in a strategic position---that suffices, and he probably has an ancestry to match.

6) Stewart Burnett Clifford (1929---; Pilgrims Society as of undetermined) has info in the 2005 Who's Who in America, page 853---

Page 853 also shows Steven F. Clifford, also born in Boston (1943) who was a member of the “electromagnetic propagation panel” of NATO (1989–1993) and became a board member on Atmospheric Science & Climate at the National Academy of Sciences in 1999 and a member of the “study team on Homeland Security” of the Federal Aviation Administration. They may be cousins in globalism.

In Englewood Cliffs, New Jersey, there's a Woolley–Clifford Foundation. Woolley is a fairly uncommon name. Samuel H. Woolley was in The Pilgrims 1969 roster and again in the 1974. He was chairman of the Bank of New York at 48 Wall Street and was a director of Colgate Palmolive, Amstar (American Sugar Refining), College Retirement Equities Fund, International Nickel and other interests. Clarence M. Woolley was in the 1924, 1933, 1940 and 1949 lists. Pages 54–56 of #11 Silver Squelchers has a description of Clarence and Samuel Woolley. Clarence, the elder of these, had Van Rensselaer ancestry, tracing to an immense colonial land fortune with representation in The Pilgrims Society in several lists.

S.B. Clifford acquired a son in law with General Electric, married to his youngest daughter. Laura Stuart Wareham, granddaughter of Stewart Clifford by his daughter Cornelia Lee Wareham, married Mark P. Tortorella, whose father had a “30–year Federal law enforcement career.” This is the first marriage in Pilgrims Society circles of which I am aware involving someone with an Italian name. I believe this has to do with long standing historical friction between The Crown and the Pope.

Patrick L. Mailer–Howat is son in law of S.B. Clifford; he married Rebecca Lyn Clifford. This one has a crazy British sounding name, and as it happens, he is with E.S. Capital Advisors in Boston and graduated from the University of London.

Stewart Burnett Clifford was with Citibank, Citicorp, Citigroup from 1958 to 1993. He was probably invited into The Pilgrims by the late 1980s. During 1993–1994 Clifford was with something he calls “Private Bank U.S.,” this yields uncertain results. There’s one by that name with $15.6 billion in assets, small next to Citi but even Pilgrims members may stoop to pick up a quarter on the sidewalk.

As of 1995 S.B. Clifford was a consultant to Munn Bernhard & Associates at 420 Lexington Avenue. This firm has interlocks with the former Lehman Brothers and Salomon Brothers investment banks, and with the old Montefiore (Pilgrims Society) Rothschild affiliated interests. The Montefiore dynasty is described on pages 88–90 of #11 Silver Squelchers.

During 1996–2001 Clifford was a trustee of the Presbyterian Church Foundation; he was or is an elder in Brick Presbyterian Church in Manhattan. No, not all Pilgrims members are Episcopalians/Anglicans/Church of England; just most of them.

As of 2005 Clifford was a director of the National Institute of Social Sciences, a group of which details are hard to come by; bio info in scans over the years suggests this one is of particular importance with the U.S. Pilgrims Society. I believe it has to do with how they intend to feudalize the middle class after they eliminate it via such conspiracies as medical system charges. For more on the National Institute of Social Sciences, which has no website, see the profile on Clifford Vail Brokaw III, Pilgrims Society. Also as of 2005 Stewart

Burnett Clifford was a trustee of Princeton Theological Seminary, the largest such Presbyterian institution and associated with the Alexander family, who turned up in The Pilgrims Society in the person of Charles B. Alexander (1849–1927) who married Harriet Crocker, daughter of Charles Crocker of the giant Southern Pacific Railroad fortune and Crocker Bank, San Francisco; mentioned in #4 Silver Squelchers.

As of 2005 Clifford was a committee member of Harvard University. Monumental Corporation of Baltimore, of which Clifford was a director for around 15 years, may be an insurance group that merged with Transamerica Corporation. I'd expect to find one or more Pilgrims on the Transamerica board today---if we had a roster. As of 2005 Clifford was president of 120 East End Avenue Corporation, which is a large building containing apartments or condos. This is where he resides. A price located for one unit is $18 million. I've noticed Pilgrims as presidents or directors of many large Manhattan buildings. This one appears to have 17 stories. It was owned by Pilgrims Society member Vincent Astor (1891–1959) whose family remains easily the wealthiest real estate family in New York. Donald Trump may be a member; his holdings make him just a small tyke by contrast. Asphalt Green, of which Clifford was/is vice chairman, is a perhaps oddly named sports and recreation facility with two branches---a green area in the midst of asphalt.

We discuss the Harvard and Union Clubs in profiles of other members but note that as of 2005, Pilgrims member Clifford was president of The Union Club. As with NYC buildings, I see members being presidents of many important clubs. The Palm Beach Bath & Tennis Club site is exceptionally unrevealing. We read about PBB&TC elsewhere--- (WASP = White Anglo Saxon Protestant---as in Episcopalian, Presbyterian or other) ---

“Palm Beach Bath and Tennis Club is one of the oldest, most exclusive clubs in America and to this day it remains 100% WASP. It is unclear exactly how much it costs to join these clubs, as substantial charitable contributions and lobbying fellow blue bloods complicates that actual financial commitment.”

It's doubtful that Clifford is the only Pilgrims member at BTC and there occasionally are Pilgrims members from the London branch as members or guests at such exclusive clubs. Clifford is a member of the Massachusetts based Duxbury Yacht Club---where he has a residence---

Notice that Mr. Clifford refers to The Pilgrims Club. This indeed is the same group we've been on the trail of since December 2004. Variations of the name include this one and a spate of others--- occasionally you encounter "Pilgrims of America." Members who hold memberships in elite social clubs---which appears to be most of them---have opportunity to extend The Society's influence to many thousands of affluent and politically powerful individuals without increasing its concentrated membership. 6 East 43rd Street in Manhattan is the most recent office address on this particular

Pilgrims Society member; there are likely others here and again, they most likely own the skyscraper---

7) Lord Robert Fellowes, Baron Fellowes (1941---; Pilgrims Society post the 1980 lists); Order of the Bath; Royal Victorian Order; was mentioned in The Times, London, October 2, 2004, which was first noticed by my great European colleague, Joel Van Der Reijden. The Times had a small blurb about Lord Fellowes being elected to the executive committee of The Pilgrims London. It's very doubtful that event marked the first occasion of his being a member and he was likely one at least 15 years previous. Fellowes was an official in the Royal household before Janvrin landed there. Fellowes mother was the daughter of the 8th Earl of Spencer making him brother in law of the deceased Lady Diana, Princess of Wales and first cousin of the father of the Duchess of York. Fellowes was with Allen Harvey and Ross Ltd., a City firm (1964–1977) and left to work directly with the Royal family for twenty years and in 1999 became a member of the House of Lords. We read “After retirement from the Royal Household, Lord Fellowes became Vice–Chairman, and then Chairman (since 2000), of Barclays Private Banking. He is also a company director, and a trustee of the Rhodes Trust (since 2001), the Mandela Rhodes Foundation (since 2003) and the Winston Churchill Memorial Trust (since 2001). He is also Vice–Chairman of the Commonwealth Institute (since 2000). He was Chairman of The Voices Foundation from 2004 until 2012. He became Chair of the Prison Reform Trust (2001–2008). He is also the President of Degremont UK.”

Medallion of The Royal Victorian Order (founded 1896) ---

In 1999 Fellowes became a director of SAB Miller (a board on which Pilgrims member Sir Robin Renwick also appears). SAB = South African Breweries and SAB Miller = this company and Miller Brewing merged. In 2004 Fellowes became a member of the U.K. governing commission of the International Chamber of Commerce and in 2007 he was placed on the British Library Board. Joining the trustee board of the Rhodes Trust in 2001, Lord Fellowes I find is no longer there, having been replaced. Currently two trustees are with, or have been with, De Beers Diamonds, the cartel organized by Cecil Rhodes, who dreamed about a group like The Pilgrims back in the 1870s. The Rhodes Scholars have done devilish injury to our country. These scholars return from Oxford University in England after which they're placed by Pilgrims Society members in strategic positions---Presidents (Bill Clinton); Governors (David Boren of Oklahoma); Supreme Court Justices (Byron White and David Souter); Speakers of the House of Representatives (Carl Albert); Secretaries of Defense (Les Aspin); Secretaries of the Navy (Richard Danzig); CIA Directors (Stansfield Turner and James Woolsey); Ambassadors to the United Nations (Susan Rice); Senators from Indiana (Richard Lugar); Senators from Maryland (Paul Sarbanes); Governors of Ohio (Richard Celeste) and many, many others including Ambassadors, college presidents, military brass and more. The Rhodes Scholars exert massively more influence than the Skull & Bones Society. As Cecil Rhodes said of his Rhodes Scholars--- (Review of Reviews, New York, May 1902, page 558) ---

"I am on the lookout for those who will do the governing of the nations in the years that are to come."

All Rhodes Scholars are direct underlings to The Pilgrims Society.

Rhodes House at Oxford University England---

The Mandela Rhodes Foundation or Trust, closely connected to the Rhodes Trust, is another former assignment of Baron Fellowes. Julian Ogilvie Thompson is a current Mandela Rhodes trustee and represents such interests as De Beers, Minorco and Anglo-American Corporation; he's the likely Pilgrims member there at this time.

Another position Fellowes still holds as trustee---

Churchill was British Prime Minister (1940–1945 and 1951–1955) and a member of The Pilgrims London; his close relations married several other members including American members. The Commonwealth Institute, of which Fellowes became vice chairman in 2000, changed its name in 2007 to the Commonwealth Education Trust (“globalism”) and is located in the New Zealand Building in London---

COMMONWEALTH EDUCATION TRUST

The Prison Reform Trust which Fellowes headed till 2008 makes sensible sounding statements; I suggest that when Pilgrims Society members are present however, the altruism expressed is a veneer behind which something hopelessly sinister lurks.

Information showing Fellowes as president of Degremont United Kingdom, the British subsidiary of a French multinational, shows this company is involved in water treatment plants, desalination facilities, wastewater solutions, treatment of water used in chemical, petrochemical, industrial, metals and mining, pulp and paper, food and beverage, pharmaceutical, hospital and other industries.

Degremont is active in 70 countries and has built over 10,000 water treatment plants.

SAB Miller, a beer and beverages multinational conglomerate, has 70,000 employees. It appears Baron Fellowes has exited that board; his replacement is not presently identifiable. Fellowes chaired Barclays Private Bank starting in 2000 and apparently after November 2009, that assignment ended. Pilgrims members leave; other younger members replace them. A major silver price antagonist for generations, Barclays moved from 54 Lombard Street to One Churchill Place---

William Fellowes Morgan (1860–1943, Pilgrims 1933 and other years) was a member in New York. See #4 Silver Squelchers, pages 39–46 and is known as the father of refrigerated warehousing.

8) John Rozet Drexel IV (year of birth; undetermined; no Who's Who listings found; Pilgrims Society as of March 19, 1998; most likely some years before then; executive committee member also as of that date or earlier; reference---page 146, "The Pilgrims of the United States," short run book, 2003) is described in "Pilgrims Society Takeover of BITCOIN” and we will re-catalog him here with much of the same details (condensed here) for the benefit of those who missed that presentation. Drexel IV mentions his Pilgrims activities in a few places, very low-key. Drexel III, his father, was in the 1980 roster and he also was on the executive committee. The Drexels trace to Austria and a Drexel was the original mentor of the first John Pierpont Morgan!

John R. Drexel III was in the 1969 New York Pilgrims roster---

John R. Drexel III (Pilgrims 1969, 1974, 1980, deceased 2007, member till death)

1969 Pilgrims New York roster---

Arleigh Burke	Eben W. Pyne
John R. Drexel, III	Sir Anthony Rouse, K.C.M.G.,
Henry S. Morgan O.B.E.	Benjamin Strong

Burke was an admiral who got placed on numerous corporate boards. The above view is of their executive committee. Morgan was the grandson of the original J.P. Morgan. In 1935 Henry Morgan, Order of the British Empire, cofounded silver suppressor Morgan Stanley with Harold Stanley (Pilgrims Society). Henry was on such large boards as General Electric. Pyne inherited several large 19th century fortunes, especially that of Moses Taylor, who was worth $70 million in 1882 dollars. Henry was noticed on the executive committee 1981. Benjamin Strong was a third generation Pilgrims member, descended from the original Benjamin Strong of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. See pages 16–18 of the January 2014 release “Who Controls The Gold Stealing New York Fed Bank” for a rundown on the Stronges. Rouse I’ve found little on besides his ancestor Sir Anthony Rouse (1545–1620). There are many lineages in The Pilgrims Society from prominent figures in medieval times, and their conniving, exploitative attitudes have been maintained.

“The Pilgrims are very relevant to the history of the Federal Reserve and the financial history of the United States.”

The 1974 Pilgrims roster shows this---

Draper, Jr., Maj. Gen. William H., USAR (Ret.), D.S.M., M.M.
Drexel, III, John R.
Driscoll, The Hon. Alfred E.
Duke, The Hon. Angier Biddle

Major General Draper was with National City Bank, Bankers Trust, and Dillon Read & Company (all Pilgrims Society entities) from 1919 to 1953. Dillon Read sold German industrial bonds here in the 1920s and 1930s. Pilgrims Society member, General George C. Marshall, invited Draper to serve on the President's advisory board on Selective Service (where Pilgrims Society members seize your sons to die in Pilgrims Society sponsored wars) 1939–1940. Drexel III was noticed in 1981 on the executive committee. Draper became the first U.S. ambassador to NATO and in 1954–1959 he became chairman of Mexican Light & Power---followed in that position as we saw above, by General Maxwell D. Taylor (Pilgrims Society, 1982 executive committee). Draper was chairman of Combustion Engineering (1967 to 1969), after which he was named the U.S. delegate to the United Nations population Commission (1969–1971). He was a founder in 1965 of the Population Crisis Committee, as The Pilgrims Society seeks massive world depopulation by wars, famines, vaccines, and any other potential modalities. Driscoll was former Governor of New Jersey who became an exec of Warner Lambert Pharmaceutical. He was a director of Chemical Fund and a trustee of Williams College and the Kress Foundation. The 1980 Pilgrims roster, New York branch, shows these other names in part of the “D” listings by Drexel III---

Donovan, Hedley
Dorrance, Jr., John T.
Douglas, Donald W.
Douglas, Edward M.
Douglas, Mrs. Lewis W.
Draper, Daniel C.
Drexel, III, John R.
Duke, The Hon. Angier Biddle,
C.B.E.

Donovan was editor in chief and director of Time Magazine and in 1979 became an advisor to the President. He was a trustee of New York University; Mount Holyoke College; Ford Foundation (funds globalism); Carnegie Endowment for International Peace (warmongers); recipient Gallatin medal of New York University, named for a Treasury Secretary who supported the second Bank of the United States. Donovan, a Rhodes scholar, was a director of the Council on Foreign Relations, an important Pilgrims Society subsidiary whose emblem has several points in common with The Pilgrims---a rider on a horse and the Latin word meaning “everywhere”---

Dorrance was a director of J.P. Morgan & Company and principal heir to the Campbell Soup fortune and a director of Penn Mutual Life Insurance. Donald Douglas was the honcho of the giant defense contractor, McDonnell–Douglas, director of Hilton Hotels and chairman of Capistrano National Bank, California and had investments in cryogenics, real estate and energy and chaired the Aerospace Industries Association and was an exec of the American Ordnance Association and the National Defence Transportation Association and was a trustee of the National Security Industrial Association and had decorations from France and Italy. Daniel C. Draper was great grandson of the founder of the American Chemical Society (in fact, more SILVER USERS and also had a photographic section); his great grandfather also founded the medical school section of New York University. Draper, another Episcopalian, was a law partner in the ultra–elite Wall Street firm, Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft---with a history as silver suppressors via the Taft in their name. Draper was president of the New York County Lawyers Association (1984–1986) and was a trustee of Bloomfield College. Edward Mills Douglas was an IBM Corporation and president of Doctor's Hospital in Manhattan. Mrs. Douglas was the widow of a former Ambassador to England who was on many boards including Newmont Gold Mining, and he argued for the continuation of the $35 gold price and supported the International Monetary Fund. He was an advisor to President George Herbert Walker Bush (Pilgrims Society).

Of John Rozet Drexel III, who passed on in 2007, the New York Times said he came from "a powerful Philadelphia banking family" and "Drexel was a great, great, great grandson of Francis Martin Drexel who in 1837 founded the banking house of Drexel & Company." His wife, Noreen Stonor, was a daughter in the line of the Earls and Lords of Camoy, who trace back in England to the 12th century AD. The Drexels originally came here from Austria. The NYT said of Drexel and his wife "they were born to enormous privilege." Besides Manhattan and Philadelphia, naturally they had expensive homes in Newport, Rhode Island and Hobe Sound, Florida. The NYT added—

"The Duke and Duchess of Windsor were frequent guests at the Drexels' homes. In 1965, the guest list for their 25th wedding anniversary included notable names like Aldrich, Astor, Auchincloss and Rockefeller."

The Windsors (Pilgrims Society) and all four of the other names as well (Pilgrims Society), not surprisingly, were/are all planetary scale gougiers like these Drexels and Camoys. Mrs. Drexel was also descended from Roger Williams, the founder of Rhode Island. She was an NGO (non-governmental organization) representative at the United Nations, confirming her status as a globalist. “America’s 60 Families” (1937, page 36) referred to the Drexel wealth as a “tremendous accumulation.”

Let’s have a brief look at Drexel Burnham Lambert, the Wall Street firm named by Ted Butler as the big COMEX silver short in previous times---around 1983, soon after the obliteration of the Hunt-Arab silver play <http://www.silverseek.com/commentary/manipulation-timeline-7831>

Drexel being the leading name in the former firm, we’ve considered them some, and will review other details. In 1990 DBL “imploded” you could say it was a black hole before the Lehman Brothers crash in 2008. My belief is that both incidents were set ups to cause losses to the small folks, while the “right” people had removed their funds beforehand and gone short. If you short a company that goes bankrupt---guess what---your obligation to cover your short sale is expunged, as the shares are now valueless. The Drexels didn’t sink. They’re still on the scene and apparently very dangerous to our Declaration of Independence, being the deep activists they are for the British Royal family, sponsors of The Pilgrims Society. Drexel Burnham Lambert was named by Ted Butler in April 2012 as the big COMEX silver short before AIG (Pilgrims Society) took it over, after which Bear Stearns (probably Pilgrims Society) took it over, after which J.P. Morgan Chase (Pilgrims Society) took it over.

I'd be remiss without mentioning Michael Milken, the king of junk bonds, credited with bringing DBL down. Milken made over $1 billion in a 4 year period, but ended up doing 2 years jail time. In fact, a Federal grand jury indicted him in 1989 for 98 counts of fraud and racketeering. Meantime, people like the Drexels were "holding court" in elite Manhattan social circles. He started in 1969 at Drexel Harriman Ripley, an earlier alliance of these Drexels with the Harrimans of the Union Pacific Railroad and other fortunes. Then the firm became Drexel Firestone, after another Pilgrims Society represented family in the transportation industry. Does it seem likely that someone who came in as a flunky and who did time in confinement was actually running the show at one time, or that he made more retained money than his sponsors? How much wealth was transferred and to whom in the DBL failure?

According to the New York Social Diary, we read this about the son of John R. Drexel III and his wife---

"Jacqueline Astor and John R. Drexel IV are the most direct ancestors of the original "Four Hundred."

I believe that's a reference to the four hundred most powerful or wealthiest people in the earlier days of American history. More like they were in the original dozen! While the original Astor was well on his way to great wealth before the close of the 1700s, Drexel didn't even arrive here till the early 1800s. "The Pilgrims of the United States" (short run book, 2003, page 146) identified Drexel IV (below) as a member of The Pilgrims United States executive committee--- taking over his father's place of influence in our topmost Secret Society! The notorious Abby J. Cohen of Goldman Sachs, who was with the Federal Reserve as a hack economist (1973-1977) was placed in the Drexel organization (1983-1988). Here we see names including Astor and Drexel still to this moment in top management of The Pilgrims Society---

“The Man Who Made Wall Street: Anthony J. Drexel and the Rise of Modern Finance” (University of Pennsylvania Press, 2006) is a book about this guy’s great, great grandfather. Drexel IV’s marriage to an Astor links them to a definitely more massive fortune. Vincent Astor’s Manhattan real estate holdings alone are now reckoned at over $100 billion, exclusive of the securities and bonds he held, and that’s just one of the Astors---John Astor’s name was in the 1980 Pilgrims New York list, while the majority of Astor wealth moved to reside in London. Naturally this university sponsored book made no mention of the words “Pilgrims” or “Pilgrim” as I used the search inside feature to confirm. Page 243 mentions a “Karen Biddle of Drexel University,” indicating that the respective spiderwebs of the Drexels and the Biddles are more subversively interwoven in “Twilight Zone” style than we first thought, the better by which to snare the small folks always in their sights as prey. Across the top of the book’s front cover we see this note from Bloomberg Personal Finance---“The full story of this powerful and elusive figure, who cultivated the young Morgan and brokered the nation’s extraordinary growth.”

Sifting through records of the Newport Daily News, Rhode Island, I see that John R. Drexel III was a member of some Manhattan clubs---the Knickerbocker, the Union and the River. In Hobe Sound, Florida, he was a member of the Jupiter Island Club. I see these same and other clubs over and over in bios of many Pilgrims members, and those of lesser globalists who aren't Pilgrims. Drexel III apparently had a grandson by Drexel IV and Jacqueline Astor--- Nicholas Astor Drexel, with the Nicholas in his name of course being a reference to the central banking crook, Nicholas Biddle! Father and son John R. Drexel III and John R. Drexel IV were both too privacy oriented to be listed in Who's Who in America.

It was inevitable that another Pennsylvania dynasty, the Pew family (Sun Oil Company), would be involved with the Drexels. Willard Sands Boothby Jr. (Pilgrims 1980) who was born in Philadelphia, was with Drexel & Company (1946–1950) and by 1974 became chairman of Blyth Eastman Dillon, the third largest Wall Street investment bank at that time; he became chairman of the Securities Industry Association. He was a director of Getty Oil; Georgia Pacific; Sperry Rand; Burlington Industries; Eastdil Realty; Commonwealth Telephone; Investment Bankers Association of America and advisor to Chemical Bank and a trustee of Glenmede Trust Company, the Pew family flagship entity today with over $27 billion under management. He was an overseer of William Penn Charter School---the Biddle family ancestors came to America in the 1600s with William Penn, for whom the state is named. Boothby's middle name "Sands" I've seen in several other members of The Pilgrims in the leaked lists, suggesting another second tier dynasty. Like many Pilgrims members, he owned a home on Jupiter Island, Florida.

John R. Drexel IV is a trustee of The Pilgrims Foundation in New York, created by The Society. This link shows him with Drexel Associates in New York, which seems to have no website---too much secrecy, you see.

That's Drexel at left of The Pilgrims U.S. executive committee in the medieval costume with the emblem of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem; later we'll see it again worn by one of his British Pilgrims colleagues. This organization very loosely traces all the way back to the year 1080 AD. We read---

"This Order may be regarded as the first of the Chivalric Orders of Knighthood that were imitated across Europe, both as religious military foundations, in operation when the First Crusade captured Jerusalem in 1099. and later as princely awards for allies and supporters."

This is not a Roman Catholic group; at this link notice they don't even have a branch in Italy. Membership is limited to 35,000 total. John Rozet Drexel IV is a life governor of this somewhat unknown group. The USA branch only dates back to 1957 and was founded by investment bankers David Grainger and Hugh Bullock; Columbia University president Grayson Kirk; Horace Donegan, Episcopal bishop of New York; and William V. Griffin, a founder of Time Incorporated. All these men are ID'd as having been members of The Pilgrims, and Griffin was a Knight of the British Empire. The British sovereign heads the Order, and another of its officials is the Duke of Gloucester (Pilgrims Society London) ---

Drexel III was also leader of the U.S. branch of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, a role his son took over, same as he took over for him on The Pilgrims executive committee. Current USA HQ of the OSJJ is at 1875 K St. NW, Washington, D.C. These people had ancestors who were knight crusaders from England to the Middle East, looting gemstones and precious metals.

Looking at John R. Drexel IV in more detail we find his English relation, Lord Camoys the 7th also known as Thomas Stonor (born 1940). Naturally he has a profound genealogy including the first Duke of Suffolk who was an English commander in the Hundred Years War, circa 1420's. The Earls of Waterford and Shrewsbury also figure in his heritage, but that's enough of that.

"Lord Camoys' main career was in banking. He was general manager/director of National Provincial and Rothschild London in 1968, and Managing Director of Rothschild Intercontinental Bank Ltd. in 1969. After the purchase of Rothschild Intercontinental Bank by American Express in 1975, he was named CEO and Managing Director of Amex Bank Ltd. 1975-77, and Chairman between 1977-78. Lord Camoys was Managing Director of Barclays Merchant Bank from 1978-84, and Executive Vice-Chairman from 1984-86.

Barclays Merchant Bank became Barclays De Zoete Wedd (BZW), of which Lord Camoys was the first chief executive from 1986 to 1988, and Deputy Chairman from 1988 to 1998. BZW later became Barclays Capital. He was a Director of Barclays Bank International Ltd between 1980-84, and Barclays Bank between 1984-94."

Barclays is a notorious major scale silver suppressor for generations. Here their bearish forecast is for silver in 2015 to average a toilet bottom price of $15.20. Such calls are for the purpose of frightening people out of buying and to panic them into selling. From 1980–1984 The Lord was a director of Mercantile Credit and of the National Provident Institution, 1982–1993. During 1993 to 1997 he was a director of international luxury goods auction house Sotheby's. In 1994 to 2000 he was on the board of Invesco Perpetual, now representing north of $120 billion. In 1991 to 2002 he was a director of 3-i Group, founded in 1945 with Bank of England participation as the Industrial & Commercial Finance Corporation. Their site is here and this is their logo---

Lord Camoys played a prominent role in the administration of Vatican finances (1991–2006). He's among the very few Pilgrims members identifying as Catholic. There has been a large historical conflict between the papacy and the Crown of England tracing to the time of Henry VIII. The final blow against Vatican control in England was in 1588 when the Spanish armada, representing Catholic Spain, was defeated in the English Channel in its invasion attempt against England. My belief is that the substantiality of Vatican world influence is enough that the British Royals and their financiers in The City of London maintain high level contacts, in spite of the historical enmity between British nobility and the Vatican. Many members of The Pilgrims U.S. are also members of the Huguenot Society of America, which has its origins in 1500s France among the Protestant elements, and most U.S. Pilgrims are Episcopalians, affiliated with the Anglican Church of England, founded by King Henry VIII. Camoys became a member of the Royal Victorian Order in 1998 and also a member of the Privy Council to the British Sovereign, patron of The Pilgrims Society. Lord Camoys daughter married the son of the 4th Earl of Inchcape, a title referring to a fortune in opium and ocean shipping represented in The Pilgrims Society of Great Britain. Another of his daughters married the 14th Earl of Stair, probably another Pilgrims member, who happens to be second cousin to Prince Charles, Pilgrims Society. Drexel relative Camoys---

Drexel IV is an adviser to Novatron Incorporated, “Advanced Technology for Critical Clean Air Needs” that most likely means he’s a dominant, or the dominant, shareholder. We’ll have a glance at this company but first have a look at what they say about him---

“John R. Drexel IV (“Nick”) is the former Managing Director of Kidder, Peabody & Co., Inc. and President and CEO of its subsidiary, Kidder Peabody International Investments, Inc. At present, Mr. Drexel is a Co-Founder and Managing Director of HD1, LLC. The firm focuses on providing consulting and project management services to clients engaged in forestry, agriculture, sustainable energy and K-12 education. In addition, Mr. Drexel is Chairman of Sage 3, LLC, a family owned company providing investment and business services, primarily to several (unrelated) family offices and charitable trusts. He also serves on the Boards of several privately owned companies. Previously, Mr. Drexel was President of Concord International Investments, LP. His career in the financial services industry began at Fiduciary Trust Co., Inc. where he was an Investment Officer. Mr. Drexel also served on the staff of former Senator Claiborne Pell (D-RI) for five years. Mr. Drexel currently serves on the Boards of the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute (an Incorporator), The Pilgrims (Executive Committee and President of its Foundation), The Atlantic Partnership (Director), The New Hudson Foundation (Trustee), The Pave the Way Foundation (Director), The Order of St. John of Jerusalem (as a Bailiff Grand Cross, and in its Priory in the US as Prior Emeritus and Life Governor). He recently completed terms as a Trustee of Drexel University and the New Zealand Government Trade and Industry (Advisory Board). He also has served the UN in advisory capacities, including on the Advisory Boards of the UN School and UNOPS (UN Office of Project Services) as well as the Business Advisory Committee (based in New York City).”

Novatron is also active in China.

Novatron: The Leader in Air Treatment---

“Novatron has developed an innovative Advanced UV System (AUVS) technology that multiplies UV intensity. It provides performance levels up to 1000 times greater than those of other UV air treatment systems. The AUVS technology provides a breakthrough capability for sterilizing air to protect against harmful biological substances such as viruses and bacteria and for eliminating ozone pollution from industrial airstreams. Air Sterilization--- The AUVS technology is ideally suited to produce sterile air for pharmaceutical, medical and product manufacturing. It is also effective in protecting people in critical government and commercial buildings against airborne biological contaminants. Other applications include health care environments where sterile air is critical. Ozone Abatement--- The extremely high UV intensity, high doses and large volume uniformity achievable with the AUVS technology enable efficient destruction of harmful ozone emissions from industrial processes.

The intensities and doses required for abatement of ozone in large volume air streams emanating from industrial processes cannot be produced using conventional UV technology. Novatron's ozone abatement products provide a cost effective, reliable and efficient means of destroying ozone pollution in air streams.”

At the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution site we find that during 2005 to 2008 a trustee was Peter A. Aron of the J. Aron Charitable Foundation and president of Ridgefield Inc., apparently a real estate development. J. Aron & Company was a Goldman Sachs subsidiary and is reputed to have been a leader in developing the silver leasing business, most likely with China and the Philippines. This page at Woods Hole mentioned “A New Role for the Commercial Fishing Fleet in Managing Sea Resources,” indicating that the group represents major ocean fish marketing industries. It mentioned Caroline Bunker as clerk of the corporation---a possible relation of Pilgrims Society member Ellsworth Bunker (1894–1984) who was Ambassador to Argentina, Italy, India and South Vietnam. He held sugar and insurance interests. Another mentioned was someone with Morgan Stanley and another with Goldman Sachs. Also mentioned was Charles M. Lucas with “former” silver suppressor AIG, American International Group. Lucas may be related to confirmed Pilgrims Society member Charles C. Lucas, who we will profile in the closing episode of this series---under royalty and nobility! An official of Wellington Management Company was mentioned. Named after Herbert G. Wellington (Pilgrims 1957), an investment banker and director of various large corporations such as Greyhound. The Forbes family interests (Pilgrims Society) were also mentioned; that is to say, the older branch of the Forbes family, not the magazine publishers---who are also members. Also elected as a trustee was Percy Chubb III, a highly likely member of The Pilgrims and big in insurance interests.

An official of the Foreign Policy Association became a Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution trustee. That's another complete admission this group is striving for control of world ocean resources, both the fish and the seafloor minerals. A member of the old-line Howland family, tracing to the first half of the 1600s was mentioned. The Howlands have had direct Pilgrims Society representation. Stephen Swope of the former Kidder, Peabody & Company (Pilgrims Society) was listed. Herbert Bayard Swope (Pilgrims 1940 and other years) may be an ancestor/relative. He had lineage to the old Dutch landowning Bayards, well represented elsewhere in The Pilgrims organization. Swope (1882-1958) was related to the head of General Electric. He once won over $400,000 in a poker game and he hosted British Royalty. A member of the Merrill family of Merrill Lynch (Pilgrims Society) was listed as well as John Sculley III, whose uncle, Leonard T. Sculley, was in The Pilgrims (1969 and other years) and with United States Trust Company of New York at 45 Wall Street. Old-line wealth is absolutely still in near total control over American finance, diplomacy, industry, government, universities, politics and much more.

A Reuters (Pilgrims Society) news release dated March 26, 2010 was as follows---

"Outlook Resources Inc. ("Outlook" or the "Company") (TSX VENTURE: OLR) is pleased to announce it has contracted HD1 LLC ("HD1") and Sustainable Enterprises, Inc. ("SEI") to help expand Outlook's global business development efforts. Mr. John R. Drexel IV and Dr. Janet E. Hawkes of HD1 will advise Outlook on the Company's development of low-carbon renewable fertilizers from organic waste streams. Outlook develops fertility offerings that overcome the environmental challenges represented by the use of chemical synthetic fertilizers and allow conscientious agriculture companies to reduce the carbon footprint of their products. Mr. Drexel, Managing Director of HD1, is also Chairman of Sage Advisors LLC, a provider of investor and business services. HD1 LLC focuses on life sciences, agriculture and forestry, environmental conservation and renewable energy. Mr. Drexel sits on the boards of Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute, The Pilgrims Foundation and The Atlantic Partnership. Mr. Drexel was previously President of Concord Capital Management and President and CEO of Kidder, Peabody International. Investments, among numerous other positions. He has served on the staff of former U.S. Senator Claiborne Pell and on the boards of Drexel University, The New Zealand Trade and Industry Advisory Board and several advisory boards of the United Nations and its Agencies, among others."

Janet Hawkes might be part of the same family tree as MacDougall Hawkes (Pilgrims 1924) who married into the old Dutch Van Cortlandt family, owners of large New York state land holdings for centuries. Hawkes was an “authority on water front and transportation matters; representative of foreign investing interests in American enterprises; Canal Association of New York (exec. Committee)” (Who’s Who in America, 1914–1915, page 1061).

Outlook Resources has this info at Bloomberg---

“Outlook Resources manufactures low-carbon fertilizers from renewable sources. The company blends locally-sourced renewable raw materials with biologicals and enzymes to develop their product mix for fertilizers. It was formerly known as Cantex Energy Inc. Outlook Resources Inc. was founded in 1984 and is headquartered in Toronto, Canada.”

Outlook Resources is at 40 King Street West, Toronto, also known as Scotia Plaza after the silver price antagonistic Scotia Bank (Bank of Nova Scotia, Pilgrims Society London), the skyscraper is 902 feet tall---

The Atlantic Partnership (founded in 2001) is very obviously another Pilgrims Society extension agitating for these United States to re-integrate into the British Commonwealth (“empire”). It’s a precise parallel to the more widely known Atlantic Council in D.C., a Pilgrims operation. In the UK it’s also known as the Atlantic Education Project and the USA branch is officially named the Friends of Atlantic Partnership and is chaired by Pilgrims Society official Drexel IV. We read---

“The issues which feature in our seminars range widely, for example: the unparalleled economic and financial challenges facing both Europe and North America; the tensions within our societies which give rise to problems of social breakdown and of public order; strategic risks from failing states, terrorism, nuclear proliferation, cyber and energy security. Because of the unique convening power which Atlantic Partnership has demonstrated over the past decade, it has been able to attract speakers at the highest level, who have themselves faced the challenges listed above, and can pass on their experience to our audiences. They have included heads of government and ministers; leaders of international organisations; members of congress and parliamentarians; senior military leaders; heads of banks and businesses; economists and academics. While the majority come from North America and Europe we have also reached further afield to, for example, Australia and Pakistan.”

Chairman of the UK (home office) of the Atlantic Partnership is Lord Powell of Bayswater. He’s an extremely heavy hitter with enormous connections. The chances he’s not a member of The Pilgrims are very, very close to zero! Sir Evelyn De Rothschild is a trustee and though I have no documentation to show him a member of The Pilgrims, his chances of it are even stronger than Powell’s. The Rothschilds and Drexels were collaborating in the nineteenth century and remain in collaboration in the twenty first! Arizona warmonger neocon Senator John McCain, whose father was in The Pilgrims 1969 and 1974, is listed as a “patron” of the Atlantic Partnership, giving him opportunity to rub elbows with a Rothschild! President Obama (Pilgrims outer circle) made a statement commending this Atlantic Partnership!

1777 F Street NW in DC, HQ of their USA offices---

Sage Advisors LLC has search results that lead to unrelated findings. However their HQ is Carnegie Hill Tower at 40 East 94th Street in NYC---

Concord Capital Management has relatively little info. There's this alleged $70 million fraud related item which seems to be regarding the same CCM entity. We notice Drexel IV was president of Kidder Peabody International. Long time head of the Kidder Peabody holding company was Pilgrims Society member Albert Hamilton Gordon, who lived to be 107. Gordon was alleged to be the single biggest donor to Harvard University and one of the ten most powerful men on Wall Street. Kidder Peabody participated in many, many major scale securities underwritings. It disappeared by merger in 1994.

KIDDER, PEABODY & COMPANY

FOUNDED 1865

In the “Index of Executive Documents of the House of Representatives 1879–1880” (U.S. Government Printing Office), page 2, we notice “Contract dated August 24, 1876, between the Secretary of the Treasury and N.M. Rothschild & Sons et al” we find the Drexel interests acting in concert with these fabled Rothschilds purchasing $16,500,000 of United States Bonds in a syndicate of financiers including Morgans, Belmonts, Seligmans and Levi Morton, known as a large scale swindler (a charter member of The Pilgrims New York in 1903!) We’ve seen HD1 LLC mentioned several times. Its site which shows a photo of a waterfall apparently falling into a sinkhole or chasm says--- “HD1 LLC is a consulting and project development company focused on sustainable agriculture and environmental practices. The HD1 team utilizes its years of experience and expertise to promote holistic, integrated approach to the complex issues facing our clients.”

At <http://www.zoominfo.com/s/#!search/> we read that HD1 LLC based in Ithaca, New York---

“...provides strategic advisory services, scientific/technical back-stopping, and business development in agriculture, forestry, renewable energy, watershed management and other environmental areas. HD1 LLC also provides educational services for K-12 and Higher Education. We provide access to expert networks from around the globe and assemble resources required to achieve sustainable competitive advantage for our clients. HD1 LLC leadership holds integrity, honesty, and discretion as our operating values. HD1 LLC partners with other technical, scientific, and strategic companies to provide the best opportunities for our clients. Access to our global networks of experienced professional assures the best solutions and most favorable options. HD1 LLC works with a range of companies, funds, NGOs, agencies, and organizations on an array of projects, initiatives, and ventures.”

A page of their site shows stacked timber, lakes, fields, tree fruits and mentions water resource projects, emerging technology companies, agroforestry, bio-energy, mine reclamation, complex issues et cetera. My conclusion based on the readings on my “Pilgrims Meter”---this company is planning for world maintenance after The Pilgrims Society achieves its plan of world population reduction to under 500 million serfs under their rulership!

9) The Right Honourable Lord Douglas Hurd, Baron Hurd of Westwell (1930---Pilgrims Society as of undetermined; probably well before 2011 found in the link), Commander of the British Empire (1974); member British House of Lords. His father and grandfather were also members of Parliament and he's a member since 1974. He was British Minister for Europe (1979–1980); Secretary of State for Northern Ireland (1984–1985); Home Secretary (1985–1989); and Secretary of State for Foreign and Commonwealth Affairs (1989–1995). I'd speculate he became a member of The Pilgrims London by the mid-1980s. Highly placed individuals on both sides of the Atlantic may be on the waiting list for membership for a period of years, during which time they become fanatical about impressing the Society's inner circle. In earlier years Hurd had diplomatic assignments to China, the U.S. (at the U.N. during 1956–1960 under Sir Pierson Dixon, grandfather of a current member who became a billionaire) and Italy. “In December 1997, Hurd was appointed Chairman of British Invisibles (now renamed International Financial Services London or IFSL). He became a member of the Royal Commission on the Reform of the House of Lords in February 1999, and in September 1999 he was appointed High Steward of Westminster Abbey, reflecting his long active membership of the Church of England. He later went on to chair the Hurd Commission which produced a review of the roles and functions of the Archbishop of Canterbury.”

As British Minister for Europe during 1979 to 1980, did Douglas Hurd play any role in The Pilgrims Society's attack on rising gold and silver prices? Info might be developed from sources such as The Times of London. The ramifications of this group certainly overwhelm two researchers---Joel Van Der Reijden and I.

International Financial Services London members include top tier precious metals price suppressors Bank of England; Barclays; HSBC; Lloyd's Banking Group; and the London Bullion Market Association which says of itself--- "The London Bullion Market is the biggest wholesale market for gold and silver in the world, with a turnover of about 18 million ounces of gold and 108 million ounces of silver per day."

One billion and eighty million ounces of silver---is the two week "turnover" of the LBMA---when annual world output of silver is a couple hundred million ounces less than that? Turnover? More like "churnover."

The British Invisibles was the brainchild of Sir Cyril Kleinwort (Pilgrims London 1969), whose family generations ago enabled Goldman Sachs & Company entry into the world market. Kleinwort was a descendant of William the Conqueror who took over England in AD 1066, (as so many British Pilgrims are) and in 1966 he acquired renowned bullion dealers Sharps–Pixley. (See “Our Crowd” 1967 by Stephen Birmingham, page 152–153, for details on the Kleinwort firm supplying the big spark to Goldman Sachs!) Another member of The Pilgrims of Great Britain in London who was associated with the Kleinwort interests is Alexander Hood, better known as Viscount Bridport 4th a descendant of the 2nd Duke of Bronté who was the elder brother of Lord Horatio Nelson, who won the naval battle of Trafalgar in 1805 over the combined Spanish and French fleets. After being with Kleinwort Benson London, The Viscount transferred to Geneva Switzerland to manage European investment operations of Chase Manhattan Bank.

World famous Church of England base, Westminster Abbey;

Construction of this structure began in AD 1245 under King Henry III---

The Archbishop of Canterbury is always, and I mean always, a member of The Pilgrims of Great Britain and also the Anglican Archdeacon of London. I've made few if any references in my presentations on The Pilgrims as to the matter of Anglican and Episcopalian clergy being members, and some Presbyterians. This has been and remains the case. This isn't strange; it reflects British Royalty's defiance of the Papacy dating to almost 500 years ago. I have found no Catholic clergy in this Crown group. During 1902 to 1913, chairman of The Pilgrims London executive committee was William MacDonald Sinclair, Anglican Archdeacon of London ("The Pilgrims of Great Britain," 2002, short run book, page 178. As one example of a leading USA Episcopalian, we include in this series of profiles under “Miscellaneous” that of William Alexander Johnson, longtime official of the Episcopal Cathedral of Saint John the Divine in Manhattan; he received Rockefeller money in 1978. More on Hurd from Wiki--- Hurd is currently a member of the Top Level Group of UK Parliamentarians for Multilateral Nuclear Disarmament and Non-proliferation, established in October 2009. In 1988, Hurd set up the charity Crime Concern. Crime Concern worked to reduce crime, anti-social behaviour and the fear of crime by working with young people, their families, and adult offenders offering opportunities through training and employment. Crime Concern merged with young people's charity Rainer in 2008 to become Catch22. Hurd was Deputy Chairman of NatWest Markets and a Board Director of NatWest Group, posts he held from October 1995 until 1999.”

Lord Hurd is a landowner in Oxfordshire from which he derives a substantial, but unknown, income. This link at the United Kingdom Parliament states that Hurd is president of Montrose Associates which deals in “strategic intelligence” and also president of the Prison Reform Trust. He receives royalties from four or more publishers and in 2014 he was invited by the president of the Seychelles Islands to make a paid visit there. Confirmed---Lord Hurd’s position at Montrose Associates is current as of May 2015. Their site states---

“In an increasingly complex and unpredictable world, the threats and the opportunities multiply and take on new forms. Business leaders have to take decisions across a wider range of fields than before, and they need a deeper appreciation of context than ever. They face new challenges arising from corporate relationships and partnerships, political and reputational threats, and regulatory and security concerns. Handled correctly, these different dimensions of international business represent opportunities to stand out and grow more successfully. Montrose Associates provides its clients with the strategic intelligence, insights and perspective to help them to take the best possible decisions. We recognize that strong international companies and organisations can assess and manage most choices and opportunities from within their own corporate framework. But there are frequently occasions when an objective, forthright assessment from a trusted friend, or a set of new ideas and fresh pointers, is what is required.”

Nor is Hurd the only Pilgrims Society member at Montrose Associates. Were a recent Pilgrims roster available, Lord Simon of Highbury and Lord Haskins of Skidby very likely would appear.

The Prison Reform Trust has a “mental health” page as to prisoners having “personality disorders.” So? What about the “personality disorders” of Pilgrims Society members, the world’s top globalist organization, who want to covertly control a balance of power in the world? And are so damn secretive they must hide their membership rolls from public view? Inasmuch as psychiatry is a disgraceful fraud, here’s something showing the Prison Reform Trust as just another tool of social control by the elite. In 2002–2005 he was Secretary of the British Treasury. His info at the House of Lords of Parliament states that he is “Permanent Secretary since 2005 of HM Treasury.” From 2005 to 2011 he was Cabinet Secretary and head of the British Civil Service. He has been a member of the House of Lords since 2012 and also in 2012 he became senior adviser to an organization called Frontier Economics and became chairman of FE in 2013. One of the addresses McVeigh has used is Windover House, St. Ann Street, Salisbury, Wiltshire, England. It turns out that this same address was occupied as of 1225 AD by Franciscan (Catholic) friars. However, as of 1538 AD, under order of King Henry VIII of England, its activities were stopped. This site lists 3 Belgrave Place in London as an address for Pilgrims Society member Charles McVeigh III and shows he has or had some connection to CEDEL International. That was a clearinghouse based in the European tax and banking haven, Luxembourg, and it was founded in 1971 by a consortium of no less than 92 banks. It's since known as Clearstream, mentioned elsewhere in McVeigh's profile. A recent Belgrave Place residence is listed at over $14 million U.S. He also owns a residence at 18 Fawcett Street in London where average values exceed $3 million U.S.

As of December 15, 2014, Hedge fund Rubicon Fund Management LLP said it appointed Charles McVeigh, as chairman. “Rubicon Fund Management LLP is a privately owned investment management partnership. Office---103 Mount Street in London---

McVeigh has donated artworks to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, in all probability as a complex way to slash his taxes. In 2009

McVeigh co-signed a letter to the Financial Times along with several other confirmed Pilgrims members---Sir Rupert Hambro and Stanislas Yassukovich (Pilgrims 1980, and what a hell on wheels Russian genealogy he has!) Several other signers of this letter are extremely likely members, but so far unconfirmable. In 2012 McVeigh headed a Citigroup delegation to the Government of Serbia. In tow he had an underling with the amusing name Freddy Boom. McVeigh has contributed to some British politicians.

McVeigh is a former member of the advisory council of The Prince's Trust founded in 1976 (Crown Prince Charles, Pilgrims Society).

Morgan Stanley and Bloomberg are business patrons of The Prince's Trust, another indicator that Micheal Bloomberg is a member of The Pilgrims Society New York---

THE Prince's TRUST

Pilgrims Society member Charles McVeigh III at right with Al Muir to his right---a man details are uncertain about however The Pilgrims New York 1969 roster shows as of that time, Malcolm Muir---possibly related---was chairman of both their nominating and admissions committee, suggesting he was there as agent for inner circle members. Baron Margadale at left is a very likely Pilgrims member. As of 1857, an ancestor was thought England's second wealthiest man in land, textiles and merchant banking---why 1857? Possibly because the conspirators staged the Panic of 1857 that year! That mid-1800s figure is reckoned to have held a fortune equal to 80% that of Nathan Rothschild---probably exaggerated due to Rothschild's known propensity to understate their wealth.

In 2002, McVeigh bought the 2,000 acre Encombe Estate in Dorset, England, for 11 million pounds sterling and sold it for 20 million PS in 2009. This site has a history tracing to 948 AD but the current structure traces to 1735.

McVeigh's offices in Citigroup London are at 25 Canada Square---

12) George Wilhelm Gustav von Mallinckrodt, his first name is often spelled “Georg” (1930---; Pilgrims Society as of undetermined) Knight Commander, Order of the British Empire (1997), Order of Merit, Federal Republic of Germany (1986) is married to Baroness Charmaine Brenda Schroder. This makes Von Mallinckrodt the brother in law of Baron Bruno Schroder, alleged to be worth $5.6 billion, which I consider a serious lowball. Bruno was in The Pilgrims London 1980 roster. Forbes (Pilgrims Society source) called Schroder’s a “210 year old financial services powerhouse” which has around “420 billion in assets under management.” Their daughter, Claire Louise Von Mallinckrodt (1960---) married Henry Julian Nicholas Fitzalan-Howard, who since their 1987 marriage most likely has become a member of The Pilgrims London. The 1980 roster shows Lord Mark Fitzalan-Howard, I believe his uncle, a member at that time. Another family member, Edward Fitzalan Howard (1956---) is the 18th Duke of Norfolk and Earl Marshal of England, a very large landowner and is virtually certain to be a member of The Pilgrims London. The Fitzalan-Howard family has ancestry traces back to the Earls of Arundel and the Earls of Surrey, whose fortunes have been estimated in modern terms to equate to $242 billion combined. Mallinckrodt and his wife Charmaine were at the 2009 funeral for Edmund DeRothschild (Pilgrims London 1974 and other years).

Mallinckrodt was with AGFA AG, Munich in 1951 to 1952 and with the Kleinwort merchant bank in London in 1953 to 1954. The Kleinworts (Pilgrims London) are another very old family with their roots in the Norman conquest of England back in AD 1066. During 1954 to 1960 Von Mallinckrodt was posted to New York where he was a functionary in the Schroder Bank Group office. At least several members of The Pilgrims New York associated with the New York Schroder Bank were in The Pilgrims 1969 roster---John I. Howell and Edmund Bartlett, and another director was Wall Street attorney Norris Darrell Senior (Pilgrims). Howell had a short, ten line entry in the Who's who in America 1970-1971 showing he was chairman of Schroder Bank NY and director of Schroders London; Ward Howell Associates; International House NYC; Dominick Fund (Rockefeller associated); International Holding Corporation; United California Bank and Schroder Rockefeller & Company. Darrell was a director of a major book publisher of college textbooks and a large Scandinavian interest as well as president of the American Law Institute.

AGFA, now known as a digital imaging equipment business, has around 12,000 employees but when Von Mallinckrodt was with them it was more of a photography and chemical concern. He was probably there due to his family's shareholdings. The 2004

International Who's Who, page 1081, contradicts some info above and has him stating he was with AGFA 1948–1951.

Von Mallinckrodt was associated with something called the Prague Heritage Fund in 1992 and several other entities---National Art Collection Development Fund and a medical institution. He was connected to an entity known as the Foreign & Colonial German Investment Trust circa 1992 and was involved with the European Arts Foundation.

The Von Mallinckrodt family is identified as Protestant---probably Lutheran, being German in ancestry and has a branch that immigrated to America in the 1800s as we shall see.

His son Philip (1962---) runs Schroder Stiftung in Zurich, Switzerland, a tax exempt foundation. He's with Schroder & Company in London and is a director of Cazenove Capital Management. From 2000 to 2002 Philip was with Citigroup Investment Banking. His career in world finance started in 1985 with Credit Suisse First Boston. First Boston was overwhelmingly a Mellon family (Pilgrims Society inner circle) holding and it may be they became heavy holders of Credit Suisse in the merger. Philip was an adviser to Bain & Company, apparently during the late 1980s. During 1989 to 2000 Philip was a director of Siemens Holdings founded by Alexander Siemens, charter member of The Pilgrims London in 1902. 2013 figures show Siemens had 362,000 employees that year---

Philip is or was vice chairman of the German-British Chamber of Commerce and Industry and is a former chairman of the Council of the World Economic Forum.

His other son, born in 1965, Edward Gustav Paul Von Mallinckrodt, has relatively little info available. He is known as a director of Knowledgepool Group Limited at 17 Rochester Row in London which sounds like an employment agency. I assume he's with the Schroder Bank in London, or maybe its Swiss branch. At Zoom Info we find some details on Edward---

He is or was an adviser to Mauryan (correct spelling) Capital. This name is a takeoff on the historic Mauryan Empire (322 to 185 BC) which covered most of India and modern Pakistan. Mauryan Capital has an office in Elegance Tower in New Delhi with over $15 billion in capital behind it. He's a partner in Root Capital (private equity, technology and media); vice chairman of Oyster Partners Ltd. (marketing and technology, $50 million revenues); and a board member of Interactive Investor International ($25 million revenues); Adval Group Plc. (E learning services); Autocue (teleprompters, broadcast automation); IGG Component Technology Ltd. (engineering and technical); Mettoni Group Plc; (communications, $25 million revenues) and Maxim (a media enterprise covering sports cars, fashion models, entertainment and other). Edward is associated with the Center for Global Initiatives, another clear giveaway that this is a typical globalist Pilgrims Society dynasty. He's a trustee of the Jack Hidary Foundation. He was associated with the following enterprises, apparently benefitting when they went public---Bookshop U.K.; Nutra Vida dot com; Securities dot com; Travel Store dot com; and Fingertips Media. Through the Center for Global Initiatives, Edward Von Mallinckrodt, son of a Pilgrims Society member, is associated with TV personality Dr. Mehmet Oz.

In 2013 Schroder's acquired 100% of Cazenove Capital Holdings for around $30 billion U.S. ---another Pilgrims Society interest of long standing. As of March 2015, Schroder's headquartered in London at 31 Gresham Street manages $474.3 billion U.S. in assets.

Assuming George Von Mallinckrodt is of sufficient standing in The Pilgrims, at least his eldest son is likely to fill the slot he'll vacate. There's a Mallinckrodt Foundation in London showing as trustees the father and mother, the two sons, Philip and Edward, and a member of the FitzAlan Howard family.

The Von Mallinckrodts, of German origin, had some family members come to America in the 1800s and started what became a fortune here. At Immigrant Entrepreneurship site we see them described as “a Westphalian family of aristocratic lineage whose genealogy can be traced back to the thirteenth century.”

The Mallinkrodts acquired land in Saint Louis in 1840 and by 1867 were in the pharmacist business. By 1880 they also became the leading chemical supplier to the photographic industry, calling themselves Mallinckrodt Chemical Works as of 1882 and opened a New York office in 1884 and expanded to refrigeration chemicals in 1889. In 1898 they got into morphine and codeine sales. In 1889 they did a deal with Delaware Chemical Company, very likely a Du Pont family (Pilgrims) holding. In 1904 they were part of the Saint Louis World Fair attended by 20 million visitors. In 1905 they became associated with Dow Chemical, another Pilgrims Society connected concern. In 1913 they added X-ray chemicals to their line. Other achievements were posted, and in 1942 Mallinckrodt supplied all the fissionable uranium to the Manhattan Project, which used vast quantities of silver. They went public in 1954 and expanded into more pharmaceuticals (“harmaceuticals”) in 1962. In 1971 they laid the basis for Tylenol (now owned by Pilgrims interest Johnson & Johnson; Tylenol has destroyed many livers and invited lawsuits) and in 1979 Mallinckrodt profited from treatment of people exposed to radiation in the Three Mile Island disaster. Somewhat strangely, in 1982 they were acquired by Avon Products. In 1986 it was sold to International Minerals & Chemicals. Its name changed to IMCERA Group in 1990 and reverted to Mallinckrodt in 1994. In 2000 it was known as Tyco and by 2013 reverted to Mallinckrodt, “an independent, $2.5 billion company that develops, manufactures, markets and distributes specialty pharmaceutical products and diagnostic imaging agents.” It achieved several acquisitions since including one in 2014 that tallied $5.6 billion and has around 5,500 employees. Naturally as a big pharma concern it’s had its share of lawsuits including $38 million related to a takeover and another worth $3.5 million to settle a lawsuit relating to “kickbacks” to doctors---greedy, corrupt, doctors abusing the gullible public, who are expected to stand in reverential awe of medical degrees of persons who attended schools controlled by drug companies! The president of Mallinckrodt is a former Du Pont (Pilgrims Society) exec (not a member himself). Another director was with IBM (Pilgrims Society interest) for 26 years. Another Mallinckrodt director is an IBM exec at present. Another Mallinckrodt board member with the non-plus name of “Nancy Lurker,” was with Bristol Myers Squibb (Pilgrims Society interest) for 14 years. All such interlocks are near boundless spider webs of perverse influence! Angus Russell, another director, has a background suggesting he may be a member of The Pilgrims London.

Associated with Mallinckrodt Incorporated is the Mallinckrodt Foundation which is a “private foundation that funds basic biomedical research in St Louis and throughout the United States.”

At <http://www.independent.co.uk/news/b> we read of our subject Pilgrims Society member Mr. Von Mallinckrodt---

“George Mallinckrodt, president of Schroders, the most successful British merchant bank to remain independent, has got his just deserts: an honorary knighthood. The honorary bit comes because he is a German national, having been born and brought up there. In fact his full German title is Georg Wilhelm von Mallinckrodt, and he has already been honoured by the then Federal Republic of Germany in 1986 with the Verdienstkreuz am Bande des Verdienstordens, roughly translated as "a medal for services rendered". Mr.

Mallinckrodt joined Schroders in New York in 1954 and in 1958 he married Charmaine Schroder, sister of Bruno Schroder, the family member who sits on the bank's board and represents roughly 40 per cent of the bank's shares. In 1960 Mr. Mallinckrodt was transferred to London and he became a director in 1977. He served as chairman from December 1984 until May 1995 and turned Schroders into a premier merchant banking and fund management house. Mr. Mallinckrodt is a fully paid-up member of the great and good, sitting on a host of committees. He also played a leading role in the Bank of England's attempt to save Barings, and sat on the Treuhand, the East German privatization board. He'll be a hard act to follow.”

At this link we find George Von Mallinckrodt is a former director of Englehall Trustees as of 1990 and during his career he's held 15 board memberships including One Forty Five Trust Limited. This link says he's a current director of JHSW Limited in London however that seems to have ended in 2001. It shows him a director of Lancaster Hall Hotel as of 2015. He's been a director of various Schroder's Bank subsidiaries including its Middle East operations.

13) Cowley, 7th Earl, Garret Graham Wellesley 7th, Baron Cowley of Somerset (1934---; Pilgrims Society London as of undetermined) has been married four times. Much more significantly, he is a direct descendant of the Duke of Wellington, who defeated Napoleon at Waterloo in Belgium in 1815. According to his profile at The Peerage (“A Genealogical Survey of the Peerage of Britain as well as the Royal Families of Europe”) he graduated in 1957 from the University of Southern California at Los Angeles and later in 1957 until sometime in 1960 he was with the United States Army Counter-Intelligence Corps. He attended Harvard for several years leaving with an MBA and he went to San Francisco to act as an “investment analyst with Wells Fargo between 1962 and 1964” after which “he was an investment counsellor with Dodge and Cox between 1964 and 1966.” He was in the same field “with Thorndike, Doran, Paine & Lewis between 1967 and 1969” in Los Angeles.” Moving on we read “he was a senior vice-president with Shareholders Capital Corporation between 1969 and 1974” in Los Angeles and moved to San Francisco to be a vice president of the Bank of America, 1974–1978. From 1978 to 1985 in London “he was a group vice-president with Bank of America. He was an independent financial advisor between 1985 and 1990. He was an investment partner with Thomas R. Miller & Son (Bermuda) between 1990 and 2000.”

Children by his first marriage are Lady Tara Lennon Wellesley (1962---) and Garret Graham Wellesley also arrogantly known as Viscount Dangan (1965---) after a centuries old estate in Ireland. An ancestor of the family was a King of Ireland back in the 5th century! Tara is involved with several major London art galleries, the British Arts Council and British Broadcasting Corporation News. At her site she says---

“Most intriguing was the politics behind the art world not only in the institutional structuring of certain galleries i.e. the Royal Academy, and also reasoning behind the cultural exchanges of art between different nations and its diplomatic uses in securing good relations.”

Translation---this daughter of a Pilgrims Society member is active in boosting British influence (“globalism”) via art transactions. Her brother, “THE Viscount Dangan,” a title in the peerage of England tracing to 1857, founded two City of London brokerage houses, from which he became disassociated in 2003. Part of those activities was involvement in large scale professional sports team wagering. “Subsequently Lord Dangan has taken ownership of and has a day to day role in the operations of ODL Securities and has involvement in numerous charity activities. In November 2013, he co-founded peer-to-peer lending firm Wellesley & Co.”

THE PEERAGE

Yeah---The Viscount is involved in “numerous charity activities” translated, “groups fostering globalism.” ODL Securities, his firm, was named as the London connection in a $101 million fraud involving a U.S. hedge fund named Bayou connected to Wachovia Bank. ODL totally sidestepped any legal action against it.

Wellesley & Company makes asset backed loans against residential properties and holds over $600 million in assets---

Having glanced at the spawn of this Pilgrims Society member, we complete his profile by examining a bit more history behind him and some of his activities and what others have said about him.

While his Earldom traces to 1857, the title of Baron in his line dates to 1828. Like many other British Pilgrims, they collect more titles, insignias and decorations as time passes, in order to advertise their asserted supremacy over the world's small folks. And it also may subtly imply their ascendancy over the American Pilgrims members, as they largely don't have titles besides Mr., Esquire, Chairman, President, Ambassador, Admiral, General, Governor, Senator and so forth.

From 1852 to 1867 the British Ambassador to France was the 2nd Earl of Cowley, Henry Richard Charles Wellesley. His mother was Lady Charlotte Cadogan. The Cadogan family, not well known by most Americans, is nevertheless a multi-billion fortune family represented in The Pilgrims Society of Great Britain in London. For details on the Cadogans, see the July 2014 release, "Silver Suppressors Hiding In The Dark," pages 25 to 27. They even have a cousin who owns a $200 million plus yacht! Father of Henry Richard Charles Wellesley was a diplomat to the Netherlands and Sweden. He was a Member of Parliament and the son of the Earl of Mornington. British nobility gets into complex genealogical lines---tangled like the roots of an enormous tree. It's all about the concentration of power and wealth. As noted previously, the Duke of Wellington is part of this Wellesley genealogy, and to that we observe also the Earls of Clarendon (Pilgrims Society). How much land ownership in the British Isles is represented by this conflux of old-line noble families cannot be determined due to the wall of secrecy, nor how much land, including mineral and agricultural resources, they most likely own elsewhere in assorted nations across the present 53 nation British Commonwealth. Wellesley College in Massachusetts, founded in 1870, is named after this family.

The fourth wife of Garret Graham Wellesley, Earl of Cowley, Pilgrims Society, comes from a "landed family" and her father was a Baronet!

In an undated news story in the Nevada Journal, we find that he was actually born in Reno, Nevada which opened by calling him "a full-blown hereditary voting member in Britain's upper house" as naturally he's a member of the English House of Lords. The Nevada Journal remarked---

"The Wellesleys claim descent from King Henry II's standard bearer in England's 12th Century campaigns in Ireland. In the centuries since, the Wellesleys have held positions from Governor General of India to various ambassadorships, and even once a crack at Prime Minister." Next the article mentions his father who---

"...during the Great Depression, Christian Wellesley steamed from England to Reno to secure something even the mighty British Empire couldn't then provide—a quickie divorce. The Earl fell in love with pre-war Northern Nevada, finding the haute couture of the Washoe Valley vastly superior in every way to the wastelands of Europe. Wellesley decided to stay permanently, and built an 18th-Century-style English estate on the edge of Washoe Valley. In English tradition the Wellesley Ranch was completely self-sufficient, with its own blacksmith, carpentry and butchery shops. It attracted such notable visitors as Eleanor Roosevelt, Earl Warren and Tallulah Bankhead, and was later purchased by the father of future Nevada Governor Bob List.”

The gloomy but often informative site Find A Grave states---

“The Wellesley's later sold their ranch to former Governor Robert List's father, Frank List in 1951. After that, they bought a summer estate at Crystal Bay, Lake Tahoe, and lived their winters in Brentwood, California, and later the Arizona Biltmore in Phoenix, Arizona. After returning to Reno to live, Bill passed away in 1962 at the age of 72.”

Robert List was Republican Governor of Nevada (1979–1983). He was a member of the Prospector’s Club of Reno (1976–1977 Who’s Who in America, page 1916).

Back to the Nevada Journal story---

“Lord Cowley, who went by only "Bill Wellesley" in Nevada, also bought the grand home on Crystal Bay, Lake Tahoe of Senator Tasker Oddie. Throwing himself thoroughly into the Nevada lifestyle, Wellesley even became the director of the Nevada State Museum in Carson City. He remarried—this time to Mary Elsie May from a prominent old Reno family—and they had two children, Garret and a younger brother, Tim. The boys attended the one-room Franktown School in the Washoe Valley, ensconced amidst the dude ranches. The mix of students at Franktown School was interesting: Half the kids were Nevada locals while the rest were offspring of wealthy East Coast mothers temporarily in Nevada to get divorces. The children of famed Nevada author Walter Van Tilburg Clark (Pulitzer-Prize-winning author of the Ox-bow Incident) also attended. Bill Wellesley died in 1962, and his Earl Cowley title passed back to the son of his first wife in England. But, eventually, through various Acts of God, including the premature deaths of several relatives, Reno's Garret Wellesley found himself inheriting the family seat in Britain's House of Lords."

Premature deaths of several relatives? This I have come across several times before in regard to members of this Pilgrims Society.

Tasker Oddie was Nevada Governor, 1911–1915 and Senator in 1921–1933. "He attended New York University Law School and came west to look after business interests of the wealthy Stokes family." That was actually the Phelps–Stokes family (Pilgrims Society) who owned Nevada silver mines and the Nevada Central Railroad and a lot of Manhattan property. The Phelps side of the family dominated the large copper miner, Phelps–Dodge Corporation. Tasker's Senate record in silver votes was excellent; meaning, the Phelps–Stokes group was only for higher silver prices as it would benefit them, but The Pilgrims inner circle was---and is---opposed to silver rising, and had their way. They didn't turn and denounce The Society because of this! Tasker Oddie was a 32nd degree Mason, member of the Masonic Knights Templar, the Shriners, Elk Lodge, Episcopalian, American Institute of Mining & Metallurgical Engineers, member of Nevada State Senate (1904–1908) and as of his listing on page 1769 of the 1946–1947 Who's Who in America, was president of the Gold Mining Association of America. He was associated with the Tonopah silver mines.

“By then—the mid-1970s—Garret was a pension manager with Bank of America in San Francisco. Curious about what it all meant, he not long afterwards packed up his new wife and several younger children to London—to head B of A’s investment management operations outside the U. S. and also, not incidentally, to re-establish the Cowley presence in England. Nowadays Garret’s mother Elsie—still officially the "Dowager Countess Cowley"—and his brother Tim continue to live in Reno among the unwashed peasantry. In England’s parliamentary system, Britain’s House of Lords—made up of hundreds of lords of all shapes, sizes, and political hues—acts as a de facto Senate and Supreme Court against the more powerful lower House of Commons. Some of the Lords are given their titles as lifetime-only political favors, such as ex-Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, now "Baroness Thatcher." But other lines are passed down from father to son or daughter for centuries, as remnants of kingly favors reaching back into the Middle Ages."

"Garret Wellesley, the new Earl Cowley, became very active within the House of Lords in the late 1980s and was even offered the position of Conservative Party whip by the Thatcher government, though he declined due to time constraints. Garret says he was surprised that there seemed to be no problem among the noble peers that he was an American—although one doddering old Lord did sniff a bit about why a "cowboy from Nevada" should be able to vote on legislation concerning Britain. Nowadays their Lordships don't just putter around in ermine coats. They also deal with some very important legislation, and act as a constitutional check on the raging populist waves pouring out of the Commons. Most recently the Lords were in the news over the Pinochet extradition affair—deciding whether the old dictator who prevented Chile from becoming another Cuba should be extradited to Spain from England because of all the Marxist guerillas and college professors he shot.”

“The House of Lords, and especially its hereditary members, tend to be a conservative lot. Having hereditary legislators, of course, looks bad in the papers of democracy. There’s no real written constitution as in the U.S., but the British through centuries of political evolution have developed some decent checks and balances.”

“Garret’s California-born son Graham, now in his thirties, runs a successful brokerage business in London, and holds the official title "Viscount Dangan"—pronounced VI-count, though some friends rag him as "Discount" Dangan. Eventually, Graham will inherit the Earl Cowley title, and then later, Graham’s own English-born toddler son, Henry, will be Earl after him—perhaps during the future reign of Di’s son, King William the Blond. Of course, no sagebrush has blown through little Henry’s nostrils, and no crisp Nevada sunlight has darkened his pale complexion—the circle has closed. The newest Cowleys are all English again as they were for centuries, though their line has been fortified perhaps immeasurably by the wild Comstock gene pool. God Save the Queen!”

Besides divorce, what was this English dynasty doing in Nevada? They had dealings with the top political figure in the state at one time. They may have attempted to corrupt Senator Patrick McCarran (term 1933–1954), if so, it certainly was a failure as he was a magnificent champion of silver money.

Brian Tim Wellesley, younger brother of the Earl of Cowley, resides in Reno, Nevada. We can't complete the profile on his Pilgrims Society elder brother without a once over on him, because he's a stem-winder (actually, a side-winder!) Is Brian also in The Pilgrims? Possibly so; no confirmation is available without the full roster.

Care to call him and ask? He was an Internal Revenue official under Treasury Secretaries (Pilgrims Society members) and now he assists the same type of people to defend them as he formerly went after such! District Attorneys often do the same turnaround stunt. In his years with IRS, did he ignore corruption on the part of Pilgrims Society members? And those members of interlocking globalist groups? Was he aware of chicanery on the part of Rhodes Scholars and members of the Order of the British Empire and the Council on Foreign Relations, and intentionally excused their activities, if illegal? Was he used as a hammer to break those whom The Pilgrims Society disapproved? His father, grand nephew of the famous Duke of Wellington, married a "night club girl."

“After receiving his BS degree from the University of Nevada, he spent 30 years with the Internal Revenue Service as a Criminal Investigator focusing on complex tax fraud and other forms of financial investigations. His success resulted in his appointments to top level positions as Chief, Criminal Investigation Division, in four states: Alaska, Hawaii, North Carolina and South Carolina. In 1982 he was appointed national Director of Investigations in Washington, D.C., with nation-wide Criminal Investigation program responsibilities. After completing the IRS Executive Selection and program in 1985, he served in several executive positions including District Director of North Dakota and Assistant Regional Commissioner (Criminal Investigation). Mr. Wellesley received numerous awards for excellence during his career including the National Leadership Award in 1993 from the National Association of Treasury Agents.”

“Upon his IRS retirement in 1994, he became an international consultant in Anti-Tax Fraud, Anti-Corruption, Tax Administration, Management, and Criminal Justice Systems, serving as an advisor on a number of USAID, UN and World Bank funded projects. He designed and provided tax and financial enforcement training to officials from Kazakhstan, Uzbekistan, Moldova, Serbia, Macedonia, the Republic of Georgia, Egypt, Jordan, Jamaica, India and Indonesia. His management expertise has been used to assist officials in the design, organization and implementation of a new tax fraud department in Jamaica; the development of new legislation in Macedonia and the creation their national Financial Investigation Department; and assistance in Indonesia to organize and implement their first criminal tax fraud department called the Directorate for Intelligence & Investigation consisting of 600 Inspectors. He has provided management analysis, as well as, the implementation of required changes for the governments of Egypt, Moldova, the Republic of Georgia and Serbia.”

So called foreign aid is a Pilgrims Society scheme to loot American taxpayers. Some of the funds end up in coffers of U.S. companies overseas, some goes to maintain local corruption---

“As a Criminal Justice Department expert he has worked with investigators, prosecutors and the judiciary in the assessment of multi-departmental coordination and communication and implementation of changes in the Republics of Georgia, Serbia, Macedonia and Egypt. Mr. Wellesley’s expertise in criminal tax and financial investigations has been of benefit to the Office of the Nevada Attorney General, as well as, to foreign countries listed above in training and technical engagements.”

As you see he’s very globalist!

At <http://washoevalley.org/archives/tag/ranch> we read under “Famous Residents” and “Royalty”--- “Cowley’s Lakeview ranch is one of the most picturesque places in Nevada. It is situated on a rolling hill which overlooks Washoe Valley to the north where the half-million-dollar stone mansion built in 1861 by Sandy Bowers and Eilley Orrum, first “King and Queen of the Comstock.”

The original Wellesley to take up residence in Nevada, described as “wealthy,” owned cattle and race horses. I haven’t found an earlier Wellesley or Cowley in Pilgrims rosters, but there are many gaps in the available record. Several islands near Australia and one in New York are named after this family.

We did mention the Duke of Wellington in the Wellesley genealogy. The Duke’s brother Richard (a Marquess) was Governor General of British India during 1798 to 1805 and a huge beneficiary of income from the opium business! What type of holdings or assets trickled down to the present day Wellesley family from opium? A 292 square mile region of Eastern Malaysia was named after him and in 1798 it was added to the holdings of the intensively demonized British East India Company---the biggest narcotics racketeering organization in entire world history, which enabled the British to loot China of centuries of silver accumulations! Wellesley Wealth Advisory in West Sussex, England, manages over $550 million. Predictably, there is also a Wellesley Foundation. One member of the Wellesley family is estimated to be worth $78 million, probably a serious lowball, and it’s a 2001 figure. An in law of the Wellesley family was Sir Pierson Dixon, Pilgrims London 1957 roster, who was British Ambassador to the United Nations during 1954–1960. I haven’t seen any info as to the Wellesley dynasty owning any precious metals interests in Nevada. Possibly they and their kind may seize some from legions of small folks panicking out the exits in this engineered spike down. Land owned by such men as these would never be targeted for pressure and fines by the United States Government as was that of Cliven Bundy. Unless---it was a member who completely broke ranks with The Society!

All details herein were up to date as of time of completion. Some profiles were developed months earlier in 2015 and any detail is subject to change since then. An example of such a recent change is here.
