“The Order will thus work silently, and securely; and though the generous benefactors of the human race are thus deprived of the applause of the world, they have the noble pleasure of seeing their work prosper in their hands. Out secret association works in a way that nothing can withstand, and mankind shall soon be free and happy.” ---attributed to Austrian professor Adam Weishaupt, credited with founding the Order of Illuminati circa 1776. The British Empire, since renamed a “commonwealth,” is easily the most globalist entity to ever exist. The Illuminati concepts fit in perfectly, and the British Royal house and its surrounding nobility are connected by ancestry and marriage to Royal houses all over Europe and to the major and mid-tier global banking dynasties.

1) James W. Gerard 5th (1961---; Pilgrims Society as of undetermined) has a fantastic genealogy and is senior adviser to North Sea Partners, a specialty financial house. He's on the board of advisers to the Elliott School of International Affairs of George Washington University in the District of Columbia. This is ironic inasmuch as George Washington in his farewell Presidential address in 1796 warned the country against "the insidious wiles of foreign influence," and this matter of The Pilgrims New York being the correspondent outpost here for London financiers and British royalty! Other members of the board of the Elliott School include officials of Bank of America, Albright Stonebridge Group (discussed in Silver Squelchers #14) and the chairman of Global Gold Corporation (Van Krikorian), New York Times and other typical globalist organizations. Gerard the Fifth as of March 19, 1998, and probably earlier than that, was a member of the executive committee of The Pilgrims New York (page 146, "The Pilgrims of the United States," short run book, 2003). Gerard is a multi-generational member of The Pilgrims. The line in this regard traces back to two previous men before Gerard 5th. This we will probe--- and try to sort out the genealogy. The same book shows on page 114 that James W. Gerard was American Ambassador to Germany (1913-1917) and on page 17 it shows that he was a member of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, a propaganda front agitating for the United States to enter the war on the side of England, which was trying to maintain and expand its empire, which it never had any right to have in the first place. "The Pilgrims of Great Britain” (short run book, 2002) on page 122 shows “John Gerard, special ambassador from President Roosevelt to the coronation of King George VI, at the Pilgrims Coronation dinner on 19 May 1937.” Not all male members of this line have been Pilgrims members, but key representatives have been. Here’s an image of shady Pilgrims official James Watson Gerard 5th---

We need to take a look back at the genealogy of Mister Pilgrims Society official Gerard The Fifth after which we’ll have another glance at his known activities.

THE PILGRIMS OF THE UNITED STATES

President :

DR. NICHOLAS MURRAY BUTLER.

Vice-Presidents :

HERBERT L. SATTERLEE

JAMES W. GERARD, G.C.B.

THE RT. REV. JAMES DE WOLF PERRY.

Satterlee, an heir to both the Livingston and Schuyler colonial land fortunes, also had the still larger Van Rensselaers in his ancestry, and he was son in law of the original J.P. Morgan (Pilgrims Society).

James Watson Gerard III (below, with the garish Halloween spook face, 1867–1951) was the third in this line, and usually left off the identifying III designation, gave a speech on November 25, 1917 entitled “The German Peril,” advocating for more warmongering.

His father, who would have been J.W. Gerard II, owned considerable real estate in Manhattan and in 1872 wrote a book entitled “A Treatise on the Title of the Corporation and Others to the Streets, Wharves, Piers, Parks, Ferries, and Other Lands and Franchises in the City of New York.” An earlier book he authored (1869) was “Titles to real estate in the state of New York; A digested treatise and compendium of law, applicable to titles to real estate in the state of New York.”

This site mentions “Gerard's property holdings, such as Camp Gerard in New York state, homes and apartments in Manhattan and London, as well as land in Montana, Maine, Texas and on Long Island, New York” and mentioned “James Gerard's extensive investments” including “oil and mineral extraction operations throughout North America.” Other Pilgrims Society members Gerard had dealings with included Andrew Carnegie, Vincent Astor and John D. Rockefeller Jr. In 1949 he had some sort of communications with Eastman Kodak and Dow Chemical---Pilgrims Society and Silver Users association concerns. Gerard also held mining interests in Oregon and Nicaragua (copper) and had dealings with Bayonne Gold Mines, Smith Cobalt Mines, Chrysolite Silver Mining, Silver Reef Mining (Utah), Treasure State Mining and Martin Gold Mining. Bear, Stearns & Company is mentioned plus Missoula Mercantile Company, National City Bank, Bankers Trust and Royal Oil & Gas, and an obscure company, Blyvooruitzicht Gold Mining Company.

This last company, in the Witwatersrand of South Africa, started mining in 1942 and is still viable, with recent production of 166,000 ounces per annum. In 1941 Gerard got a dinner invitation from Lady Halifax, wife of British Ambassador to America Lord Halifax (Pilgrims Society), who was the fiend who more than anyone else caused the Great Depression by dumping hundreds of millions of melted Indian silver rupees on world markets, wrecking the global purchasing power of silver at a time when almost the entire Far East was still on a silver basis! I am truly surprised Halifax was never assassinated for the misery he caused to over a billion people! Also at the previous link we find---

“Among the materials in the general publications grouping is extensive pamphlets and reports from the Mexico Pilgrims, an organization dedicated to promoting fellowship and economic development between citizens of the United States, "subjects of the British Empire," and the Republic of Mexico. Though not directly received with the Cinco Minas Mining Company materials (Series VIII), Gerard's Mexico Pilgrims membership can be researched within the context of his significant Mexican mining industry investments.”

The Mexico Pilgrims were apparently certain members of The Pilgrims New York and The Pilgrims London who held mining, railroad, banking, oil, manufacturing and agricultural interests in Mexico, and real estate development operations in larger Mexican cities, and had political “relationships” there. I’ve seen all of four references to this group since 1973---this is number four.

“Cinquo” Minas is most likely a typo and should read “Cinco Minas” (Five Mines). Another view of Gerard III follows. Let us note that I’ve seen no evidence linking this family with that of Pennsylvania based Stephen Girard (1750–1831), a member of whose family married Treasury Secretary William Simon (Pilgrims Society). Girard is ranked as the fourth wealthiest person in American history relative to his times, and was involved in both the first and second United States Banks (forerunners of the Federal Reserve).

“Gerard regarded Germany with little less than loathing. His bile was reserved not only for native Germans, but was also taken to include German–American U.S. citizens.”

The 1930–1931 Who’s Who in America, page 900, shows at that time Gerard III was treasurer of the Democratic National Committee. There have always been more Pilgrims involved with the RNC than have been involved with the DNC, but worry not---there have always been enough of these monetary assassins to get the hatchet job done! That 1931 listing also shows Gerard became a member of the Order of the Bath. The OB was founded in 1725 by King George the first as a military order relating to the ceremonial bath of purification a knight took after killing an enemy of the Crown---washing the blood off! The OB has interlock with both Pilgrims branches but as expected, favors the London branch or “lodge” of The Pilgrims. The 1952–1953 Who’s Who in America, page 902, shows Gerard III still on the scene, even though he did pass on in 1951---apparently a posthumous record for such a reference volume depicting someone as still alive at the time. The listing showed his home as 1014 Fifth Avenue and an office at 41 East 57th Street, New York.

The six story structure in the middle is 1014 Fifth Avenue. It’s “one of the most sought-after addresses in New York.” It faces the Metropolitan Museum of Art (Pilgrims members trustees!)

This mansion above, acquired from the estate of Pilgrims Society member Gerard III, became known as the Goethe House as of April 1957. Goethe House was set up to promote cultural relations (the usual verbiage claims) with in this case, Germany. It was however another globalist enterprise run by Pilgrims Society members. James B. Conant, long time president of Harvard University became the first president of Goethe House, with John Jay McCloy, former Allied High Commissioner in Germany, chairing its board of trustees. McCloy had enough credentials to literally make your head spin and we'll only say here, he was the top non-family agent in his time of the Rockefellers and he was another Pilgrims member in supervisory aspect in Bilderberg. Gerard III hated the German people, and after his passing, his home became a focal point for dumping on them by subverting their leaders! They since have a different address and are named after a famous German who lived 1749–1832. The next image is of 41 East 57th Street where Gerard III had offices. It was built by George Fuller Company (Pilgrims interest) who also built the UN Building---

Page 1026 of the 1940–1941 Who's Who in America shows Gerard was holding information back; no mention of his Pilgrims activities, most of them don't include that detail, and no mention as to any children---

GERARD, James Watson, diplomat, lawyer; b. Geneseo, N.Y., 1867; s: James and Jenny (Angel) G.; A.B., Columbia, 1890, A.M., 1891, LL.D., 1930; m. Mary, d. late Marcus Daly, mine owner, of Montana. Represented President as spl. ambassador to coronation of King George VI. Home: 1014 5th Av. Office: 40 Wall St., New York, N.Y.

Take note of Gerard's prominence in Democrat Party finance! Nothing has changed from then until now. The Democrats and Republicans are the two faced mythological Janus. Gerard helped elect the monstrous Franklin D. Roosevelt who burgled and shoplifted gold and silver from the public.

Probably over 100 Pilgrims Society members over the last 85 years have had offices in the 70 story skyscraper (927 feet) at 40 Wall Street. It's now part of The Trump Organization.

Yes! I regard Mister Trump, possibly the next USA President, as overwhelmingly likely to be a member of The Pilgrims Society. One, he's too big to not be a member and two, his connections show him a One-Worlder. The 2014 Who's Who in the East, page 1423, show that Trump was part of the celebrations for the 50th anniversary of the United Nations (1995). He's a member of the construction committee of the Cathedral of Saint John the Divine which, with Trinity Church Manhattan, is one of the top two USA churches as to the number of members of The Pilgrims as participants over the decades. Trump is involved with the Metropolitan Museum of Art and Lenox Hill Hospital, both connected to many members throughout the years. Trump is an overseer of the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania. Make that former, as the current board shows him not. Trump in 2005 with inner circle Pilgrims Society member Prince Charles---

Now we return to Gerard, who we have confirmed as a Pilgrims member.

King George VI (reign 1936–1951) headed The Pilgrims Society of Great Britain and the United States which coincided with much of the time Gerard was a Pilgrims official. George VI had a truly fantastic royal genealogy connecting him to royal houses all over Europe representing centuries of wealth accumulation by tribute from the small folks---

Gerard in 1916 with his wife and maybe some of his Pilgrims pals.
His sister in law was married to a Hungarian count---

This link admitted that Mary Daly's father owned "vast mining interests."

According to this State Department link, the Gerard who lived from 1867 to 1951 was actually Gerard III as noted, making Gerard 5th, our focus subject Pilgrims member here, his grandson. There is the possibility that the father of Gerard 5th may not have been named Gerard 4th or IV. The Sydney Australia Morning Herald, page 3, February 28, 1956, reporting on the passing of Mary Daly Gerard, for five years the widow of Gerard III, said the estate ran into “many millions” and uncharacteristically, even the household servants were left over $500,000 to splurge.

At <http://nwda.orbiscascade.org/ark> we find this on Gerard III---

“In 1892 he received his LL. B. from New York Law School and was admitted to the New York bar. He entered practice with Bowers and Sands, a firm founded by his paternal grandfather, and became a partner in 1899. He was interested in politics and in 1907 was elected an associate justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New York. He resigned before the end of his term to accept an appointment from President Woodrow Wilson as United States Ambassador to Germany in 1913. After World War I began his duties increased, and he was entrusted with the interests of Great Britain, Japan, Serbia, Romania, and San Marino. The German government asked him to leave in January 1917. He left the following month and retired from diplomatic service the following July. Gerard returned to private law practice but retained his interest in Democratic politics. He played a leading role in the nomination of Franklin D.

Roosevelt as the Democratic candidate for President in 1932 and served several terms as treasurer for the Democratic National Committee and as chairman of the Democratic Finance Committee.

He wrote three books: My Four Years in Germany (1917), Face to Face with Kaiserism (1918), and My First Eighty-Three Years in America (1951). Gerard married Mary Daly, daughter of Marcus Daly, in 1901. During his lifetime he maintained an interest in the Montana properties and investments of the Daly family, and had a ranch of his own north of Hamilton, Montana. He died September 6, 1951, in New York City.”

Notice the SPIDER WEB---

The Who's Who in America for 1914-1915, page 890, shows at that time Gerard III was a trustee of the New York Law Institute and a member of the New York Bar Association. An excerpt from "My Four Years in Germany" ---

"I started to speak French to one of these staff officers, but he interrupted me by saying in perfect English, "You do not have to speak French to me. My name is Iselin, many of my relations live in New York and I lived there myself some years."

As if Gerard didn't know the Iselins! Page 11 of The Pilgrims New York 1924 roster shows alongside the Chicago electric power magnate Samuel Insull who wiped out the life's savings of 600,000 investors and was charged twice with fraud and acquitted both times (payoffs) ---

Phoenix Ingraham
Samuel Insull
John H. Iselin

Other Iselins have appeared in The Pilgrims rosters over the years. They are big real estate owners and financiers, and maintain a very low profile! The first Iselin to make it into big money was in importing, railroads, banking and coal mining and left $30 million to an heir in 1905 dollars! They dominated the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh Railway. A more recent Iselin was involved with two large defense contractors Raytheon and Rockwell International. Another Iselin has been involved with Southwest Water Company, Pittsburgh & Rochester Coal and Direct TV. They were represented as of the 1974 roster and again in 1980 ---

Iselin, Peter

Mister Columbus O'Donnell Iselin IV, who has residences and offices in New York and London, is a highly likely member of The Pilgrims.

These statements about Gerard III come from the North West Digital Archives, which include the state of Montana, where Gerard held large mining interests, with the Anaconda Mine being the biggest of these---

“This collection contains personal and professional papers, photographic materials, and scrapbooks generated and/or collected by James W. Gerard. These materials present a substantial documentation of Gerard's activities as Ambassador to Germany leading up to World War I, American Democratic Party activist, New York City philanthropist, and international mining industry investor. The bulk of the collection is general correspondence generated and received by James W. Gerard over the course of his adult life, including sequences of correspondence with many of the most prominent figures in international diplomacy, Democratic Party politics, and American popular culture from the first half of the 20th century. Generally, collection materials document the spectrum of Gerard's professional efforts, community activities, and personal interests. Correspondence, legal documents, and financial records in this collection evidence the details of Gerard's involvement with international diplomacy and business, national politics and social movements, localized civic endeavors and property ownership (particularly in New York City), as well as insights into the historical patterns of these subjects.”

“Materials in this collection document Gerard's rise to prominence as a New York State Supreme Court Justice, two-time U.S. Senate candidate, Ambassador to Germany, candidate for New York Governor, and a life-long Democratic Party leader/activist. Records are particularly detailed regarding Gerard's tumultuous service as U.S. Ambassador to Germany. Correspondence, writings, and newspaper clippings reveal Gerard's public opposition to German industrial and military policies under Kaiser Wilhelm II; the events behind his expulsion from Germany; and his lead role in rallying American popular support for United States entry into World War I to oppose German forces. These materials also document Gerard's concurrent efforts to promote his potential for elected office in the U.S. while serving as Ambassador. Materials in this collection reveal that after 1920 Gerard ceased active pursuit of elected office but accepted a central role in U.S. Democratic Party politics as a public speaker, fundraiser, consultant, and mass media contributor. Articles, radio scripts, clippings, and correspondence evidence Gerard's continuing concern for and involvement with international development and justice issues ranging from European reconstruction to Armenian war victims.”

All sources agree this Gerard III was a big shot---a high level commissar of affairs. The consistently omitted detail was his alliance with many other powerful men in The Pilgrims organization. More---

“Collection documents also record Gerard's multiple local and national civic affiliations such as the New York Dispensary, Kiwanis Club, the New York State Economic Council, the American Red Cross, the American Cancer Society, and C.A.R.E. (Cooperative for American Remittances to Europe). In addition to displaying Gerard's commitment to public service, these materials chronicle patterns in American civic issues throughout the first 50 years of the 20th Century. This collection also contains extensive financial, legal, and biographical records from the Gerard and Daly families, including investment documents, estate files, personal correspondence, and historical clippings. The photograph series contains materials extracted from the full spectrum of document categories and provide evidence for research into prisoner of war conditions during World War I, international industrial mining practices, and leisure activities among upper-class Americans.”

Does this archive on Gerard III mention his Pilgrims activities, these upper-class Americans who engage in “leisure activities?”

Gerard III married Mary Daly, daughter of Marcus Daly who bought the Anaconda Mine in 1881 in conjunction with James B. Haggin (Pilgrims 1914---see him in “The Silver Stealers”). Haggin’s partner Lloyd Tevis ran Wells Fargo for more than a quarter of a century. Daly (1841–1900) was known as one of the “Copper Kings” of Butte, Montana. The site of the Anaconda Mine became known as “The Richest Hill on Earth” and Daly and his son in law James Watson Gerard III would be beneficiaries of “hundreds of thousands of tons” of copper mined there in those years. Vast amounts of silver were recovered from the upper levels in keeping with the epithermal deposition principle. With their takings, Daly and Gerard bought ownership of many other mineral sites far beyond Montana.

This 1920s cartoon portrayed the massive power wielded over the State of Montana by the owners of the Anaconda Mine---

In “America’s 60 Families” by Ferdinand Lundberg (1937, Halcyon House, N.Y.) we find on page 272 ---

“The Anaconda Copper Mining Company, dominated by the National City Bank clique (Stillman—Rockefeller—Taylor—Pyne etc.) is one of the great newspaper publishers of the country. It owns nearly every newspaper in Montana that has an Associated Press franchise. Under the aegis of the great Anaconda Copper Mining Company the press in Montana, except for fugitive, independent publications mostly under labor auspices, has been exceptionally venal, reactionary and hostile to the public interest. Directly owned Anaconda Copper newspapers today are the Butte Miner, the Anaconda Standard, the Butte Daily Post, the Helena Independent, the Helena Record Herald, the Missoula Missoulian, the Missoula Sentinel, the Billings Gazette and the Livingston Enterprise.”

Anaconda was hardly the sole personal property of Marcus Daly, though he was among the major owners. In 1895 the Rothschilds bought 25% of Anaconda. However, by 1899, this interest apparently was transferred by purchase to the Rockefellers.

Page 273 mentions that Marcus Daly---father in law of James Watson Gerard III (1867–1951, Pilgrims Society official) had as of his death in the year 1900, poured $5 million into the Anaconda Standard alone! Continuing on page 273 we note that in 1928 a newspaper editor not aligned with Anaconda---

“...charged in his newspaper that the copper company had defrauded the state of taxes; had subsidized the state press in general by venal payments and had suppressed news of murders, notably those of dissatisfied or radical workers; had throttled the school system to extinguish liberal ideas; and controlled the entire state government top to bottom. Anaconda's response to this was surreptitiously to purchase control of the paper from under Clark's nose. Clark thereupon founded the Montana Free Press to continue the fight, which hinged upon his desire to elect a Republican to the governorship against Anaconda's Democratic candidate. A damaging advertisers boycott engineered by the copper company, forced Clark to sell out."

A competing interest, United Copper, was forced into bankruptcy by 1913. At its peak its output was under 30% that of Anaconda. However, historians who receive scholarships from foundations having Pilgrims Society members as trustees, continue ascribing the Panic of 1907 to withdrawals from banks associated with United Copper. To the contrary, the J.P. Morgan interests caused the Panic of 1907 to "educate" the country for the need of a central bank! Naturally among the tactics used against the smaller company was that of continued selling below cost for only long enough to cause the smaller company's funds to dry up.

How much wealth did the Gerard clan extract from Montana and other jurisdictions, including foreign, in mining operations? This is an unknown however; it added to an already extant fortune in New York City real estate. Something meaningful about Jenny Angel, mother of Gerard III is that on October 31, 1866 (Halloween) when she and Gerard married, was the "daughter of Benjamin F. Angel, of Geneseo, N.Y., who was U.S. minister to Norway and Sweden under President James Buchanan's administration. They had three sons. He died in New York city, Jan. 28, 1900." That is to say, Gerard II died in 1900 (he was born in 1823). Gerard II was a member of the Union Club, the Tuxedo and the Player's Club as well as the Saint Nicholas Society and the New York Historical Society---all in operation before The Pilgrims formerly opened in January 1903.

In "The National Cyclopaedia of American Biography" (James T. White & Company, N.Y. 1901) page 333 we find the original man named James Watson Gerard was a "lawyer and philanthropist" and "was born in New York City, in 1794, son of William and Christina (Glass) Gerard. His paternal ancestors were prominent citizens of France, but the family immigrated to Scotland in the time of the troubles of the reign of Louis XV, and his father was born near Banff, Scotland, in 1746. For a time the latter resided in Gibraltar, from which place he removed to New York City about 1780. He became a prominent merchant, and did a very large business until his premature death by drowning, Jan. 27, 1802. He left a widow and seven children. Two of his sons were in the auction business on Wall street, under the name of Glass & Gerard."

Christina Glass was great niece of a Governor of the British East Indies, hotbed of slave trading.

Another Gerard family member, Sumner K. Gerard (1874–1966), probably the younger brother of Gerard III, was in The Pilgrims New York 1957 roster. However, it's possible the Sumner Gerard in the 1957 roster was actually Sumner Gerard Jr. (born 1916); I think otherwise. The Pilgrims New York 1980 roster shows James W. Gerard, with no numerical designation. Was he a member of The Pilgrims by age 19? If so that's an absolute record of the earliest age for anyone to ever be admitted of which I am aware. That would mean, strictly speaking (if it's the same Gerard the Fifth), that he doesn't fit the standard for the close of the Silver Squelchers series; namely, that it's concerned mainly with persons who became members after the 1980 roster. His profile stands for presentation in any case, because he's under age 50 as this is written and has a fascinating background. However, since the 1974 Pilgrims roster also shows a James W. Gerard, without numerical designation, I feel this man from the 1974 and 1980 lists is an earlier member of this Gerard family, as we know that Gerard 5th was born in 1966, and certainly wouldn't have been a member of The Pilgrims by age eight! If you want to do some additional genealogical probing into this Gerard family, start here. I noticed no Gerards in The Pilgrims 1969. The 1949 and 1940 rosters both show James W. Gerard (without numerical distinction) and Sumner Gerard.

Sumner Gerard (Pilgrims 1933, 1940, 1949 & 1957) held interests in Chemical Bank and had dealings with Metals Bank & Trust of Butte, Montana and First National Bank & Trust of Billings, Montana. Sumner Gerard Jr. acquired holdings in Yellowstone Feed & Cattle Company which included acreage. Sumner Senior owned mineral interests in Alabama, property in Texas, and large sums in Aeon Realty stock. Sumner Senior had another son, C.H. Coster Gerard, a

Louisiana oil and gas operator. C.H.C. Gerard was also an Episcopalian. The Metals Bank & Trust Building was designed by Cass Gilbert, architect of the 60 story Woolworth Building in New York, the West Virginia State Capitol, the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis and the U.S. Supreme Court Building in D.C. (among many others). A 2000 Columbia University Press book, “Inventing the Skyline---the Architecture of Cass Gilbert” suggests his prominence. There always seem to be several prominent architects in the roster of The Pilgrims Society---Cass Gilbert was among them (Pilgrims NYC 1924 and 1933, page 10 below) ---

Gerard, James W.
Gerard, Sumner
Gifford, Walter S.
Gilbert, Cass
Gilbert, Jr., Cass

Gifford was president of A.T. & T. and a director of First National Bank of New York, United States Steel, trustee Rockefeller Foundation and Carnegie Institution of Washington and so on; member anti-silver American Economic Association (Who's Who in America, 1928-1929, page 860 also 1940-1941, page 1036).

The March 1, 2005 New York Times reported the passing of Sumner Gerard Jr., born on July 15, 1916---this would have been the son of the Sumner Gerard (1938 photo) who was in The Pilgrims 1940, 1949 and 1957 rosters. I'd definitely say that Sumner Gerard Jr. was most likely a Pilgrims member by the early 1980s; this is reasonable speculation---

“Sumner Gerard, a former Montana cattle rancher and legislator who served as ambassador to Jamaica in the 1970's, died on Feb. 24 in Vero Beach, Fla. Mr. Gerard, 88, was a former resident of Montana and New York. His death was announced by his son, also named Sumner. Mr. Gerard was a scion of an old New York family who gave their name to Gerard Avenue in the Bronx. He was born in Melville, N.Y., graduated from the Groton School, and received a B.A. in 1937 and an M.A. in 1939 from Trinity College, Cambridge University. In World War II, he served in the Army, the Navy and the Marine Corps, where he reached the rank of captain in intelligence. He became a principal in the family's real estate interests in Manhattan, Long Island and New Jersey, then called the Aeon Realty Company. After the war he also established himself in Montana business and Republican politics. He was a member of the State Legislature in the 1950's and 1960's, and served as minority leader in both houses. Mr. Gerard was a cattle rancher as well as a mining executive for Newmont Resources and a director of Cardinal Petroleum, both of Billings.”

Vero Beach, Florida is a haven for retired members of The Pilgrims Society. Properties range to \$35 million. Same goes for Jupiter Island, Florida.

Newmont, a major gold producer, has had long shareholders suffer due to the presence on its board of directors of various Pilgrims Society members across the years, including Albert Henry Wiggin of Chase National Bank who was a Newmont director (also Montana Power and over 60 other corporations---page 2217, 1928-1929 Who's Who in America) and International Monetary Fund apologist Lewis W. Douglas, a Pilgrims vice president who advocated for the $35 per ounce gold price cap (Who's Who in America, 1966-1967, pages 565-566). Newmont almost certainly has at least one member of The Pilgrims on its board currently; Brook and Doyle are prospective.

“In 1969, the Nixon administration sent him to Rome as a delegate to the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization, after which he directed the American aid mission in Tunisia until 1974. He was ambassador in Jamaica from then until 1977. Moving to Florida, he was active in underwater expeditions and became an adjunct professor of maritime archaeology at the University of Miami. In addition to his son, a resident of Queens, Mr. Gerard is survived by four daughters, Jenny G. Brown of Manhattan; Molly Gerard of Bellevue, Wash.; Helen Gerard of Paris; and Anne Gerard of West Hartford, Conn. Their mother, Louise Grosvenor Gerard, from whom he was divorced in 1966, died in 1987. Mr. Gerard was also divorced, in 2004, from his second wife, Teresa Dabrowska Gerard of New York. Also surviving are a brother, C.H. Coster Gerard, and a half-brother, John Train, both of Manhattan; and six grandchildren.”

Louise Grosvenor was a step-daughter of Charles S. Whitman (Pilgrims Society), who was New York Governor, 1915–1918. I haven't determined whether she was related to the Grosvenor family of the National Geographic Society and Magazine, or the other, infinitely wealthier family in London.

Another family member, C.H. Coster Gerard, passed on in 2012 and was an oil and gas producer with holdings in Louisiana. The article noted that John Train of New York was half brother of C.H. Coster Gerard. John Train appeared in The Pilgrims 1980. Train authored “The Money Masters” (1980) and “Preserving Capital and Making It Grow” (1983) and “The Midas Touch” (1987) and “The New Money Masters---Winning Investment Strategies” (1989) and “The New Money Masters” (1994) and “The Craft of Investing” (1994) and “Investing and Managing Trusts” (1999) and “Dance of the Money Bees” (2000) and “Money Masters of Our Time” (2003).

There is a Sumner Gerard Foundation, assets unreported. How much Montana land does this Pilgrims Society represented Gerard family own, with mineral, timber and water resources? Cattle ranching and ongoing mining interests? It's probably considerable. Pilgrims owned media that publishes big rich lists annually, especially Forbes and Fortune, obliges the intense secrecy focus of the group's members by not reporting, or by grossly underreporting, wealth held by members, their families, foundations, trusts and offshore banks.

The Montana Standard newspaper reported---

“HELENA (AP) — Sumner Gerard, a New Yorker who became a Montana rancher and legislator before serving as a U.S. diplomat, has died at 88. Gerard died of natural causes Thursday at a hospital in Vero Beach, Fla., said his son, also named Sumner Gerard. Educated at Groton School and Cambridge University, Gerard moved from New York to Montana in 1949, operated ranches in the Dillon and Ennis areas, and had business interests in Billings and Bozeman. He was a Republican in the Montana Legislature from 1956–60 and 1962–66. He left Montana in 1969 to pursue a career as a diplomat and became a delegate to the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations. In 1970, Gerard was named mission director in Tunisia for the U.S. Agency for International Development. He was the U.S. ambassador to Jamaica from 1974–77, appointed by President Nixon.”

A higher percent of residents of Montana are aware of gold and silver as money than for example Rhode Island, where most people would think jewelry and silversmithing. The Gerards are unquestionably opponents of gold and silver as money else they wouldn't be Pilgrims Society represented, yet they've benefitted by the mining of these metals in Montana---this is an affront. The Gerards are globalists also as confirmed via their involvement with the United Nations.

North Sea executes securities transactions through its wholly owned subsidiary, North Sea Securities."

North Sea Partners has raised in excess of 11 figures in the capital markets.

4 other principals at North Sea Partners in Locust Valley, New York have connections to Barclays, Citigroup, J.P. Morgan & Company and Merrill Lynch. A check into their names reveals possible but unconfirmed Pilgrims ancestries. Herbert L. Oakes Jr. joined Dillon Read & Company in 1973, run by Pilgrims executive committee member Douglas Dillon, the anti-silver activist who as Treasury Secretary (1961-1965) helped force America off silver coinage. They also have the 8th floor at 350 Madison Avenue, New York---

The North Sea Partners profile on Pilgrims official Gerard 5th is as follows---

<http://www.nspartnersllc.com/our-people/james-w-gerard/>

“James W. Gerard is a Senior Advisor to North Sea Partners where he is responsible for raising equity for alternative fund groups, both private equity and hedge funds. His target markets include family offices, foundations, endowments, and institutional investors in the US and Europe. Prior to joining North Sea, he was a Principal at Juniper Capital Group, a private placement agency, where his clients included LCF Rothschild's European Buyout Funds of Funds, J. Hirsh & Co (an Italian buyout firm), Piper Jaffray's Clean Tech Funds of Funds, Excelsior Capital, Galtere Capital, Rosinus Financial Fund, Zilkha Investment Partners, and De Visscher & Co.”

LCF Rothschild was renamed ---

DE ROTHSCHILD

The Rothschilds are well represented in The Pilgrims, directly and by family agents. They provided funds for Cecil Rhodes takeover of South African diamond mines, and it was Rhodes who created the idea for The Pilgrims organization so---that concept may have had Rhodes as a front for them. If this is the case as I think likely, it means the Rothschilds realized their fortune alone would never suffice for world takeover, and other large empires were brought in---the Vanderbilts, Rockefellers, Astors, Du Ponts, Mellons and many others. It's less well known that Rhodes was funded in other ventures by the Royal family. I've also noticed more Pilgrims involved with the Royals than with the Rothschilds. Make of that what you will. The firm with the above symbol recently claims

$174.4 billion assets under management; very likely the iceberg's tip. Piper Jaffray dates to 1895---

“Galtere’s agribusiness vehicle aims to capitalize on the lack of agriculture related infrastructure in Brazil and plans to make strategic investments involving agricultural warehousing and grain storage. Headquartered in New York, the firm also maintains a presence in the Midwest, from which we are able to monitor physical production across key agricultural markets.” (This is a hedge fund)

Galtere Ltd.

Rosinus Fund is in the Cayman Islands offshore banking and tax haven. The Zilkha family of Middle Eastern origin is similar in ways to the Sassoon dynasty (Pilgrims) whose line intersected the Rothschilds. The Zilkhas are compared to the Rothschilds, though this may only be true in a regional sense. They are of billionaire status, and connected to The Pilgrims organization by way of James Watson Gerard 5th. There's a Zilkha in the large KKR buyout firm.

“De Visscher & Co. is an independent financial advisor to business owning families and closely held businesses worldwide. Through a unique combination of financial consulting and investment banking services the team at de Visscher & Co. creates high value-added solutions to the liquidity needs of shareholders and the capital needs of their businesses. Since its inception in 1990, we have advised over 300 families from North America, Latin America, Europe, and the Middle East.”

That is to say, they have worked with some 300 of the most prominent globalist gouging family groups in their respective regions. And that's what The Pilgrims Society is about. It is the worldwide “Senate” of the Illuminati-globalist super rich!

Besides Gerard 5th, other principals of De Visscher & Co. link it to such major financial constellation entities as Morgan Stanley, Credit Suisse and Toronto Dominion Bank.

“Between 2000–2003, he was a Managing Director at The Chart Group, a merchant bank, where he led fundraising for the firm's in-house private equity and hedge fund of funds. Mr. Gerard was with Ironbound Partners, a family office for a Washington DC–based investor, which he established and co–managed from 1998–2000. Previously, Mr. Gerard was director of business development at Tocqueville Asset Management.”

The Chart Group has connections to several Pilgrims of Great Britain dynasties---the Kleinworts and Warburgs.

He is a former director of the ASPCA (serving as treasurer from 1999–2008), and Phoenix House. Mr. Gerard holds a BA from George Washington University's Elliott School of International Affairs.”

Founded in 1901, Connecticut based Salisbury School has a $150 million endowment and 42% acceptance rate (325 enrollment). “To be rather than to seem” is the motto. In addition to James Watson Gerard 5th, the trustees potentially include two other members of The Pilgrims---

“The American Friends of Blérancourt, Inc. was established in 1985 to support the French National Museum in the Château de Blérancourt in Picardie, France. The Museum is dedicated to documenting the political, social and cultural contacts between the two countries, and particularly how they have viewed each other over three centuries. It is unique in that it is the only French National Museum dedicated to France’s relationship to another country.” This is just another globalist endeavor to subordinate France to the United States, and I expect an investigation would show considerable interlock with the France–America Society, a Pilgrims Society front of long standing---

American Friends of Blérancourt

At http://www.devisscher.com/our_team_9.html we read---

“James W. Gerard began his career in the private bank at Citibank in 1988. After several years with Tocqueville Asset Management, a firm devoted to international families, he ran a family office for a prominent Washington, DC based investor. After a shift in strategy for that office in 2000, Mr. Gerard has been advising a variety of alternative investment firms seeking to raise capital primarily among family offices in Europe and the US. He and his sister own a family real estate investment company in New Jersey and he’s on the board of the Tocqueville Trust, a mutual fund company.”

Dennis Delafield, a managing partner at Tocqueville, is almost a 100% bet for membership in The Pilgrims. They also run a gold fund. “Tocqueville Asset Management LP is a privately owned investment manager. The firm primarily provides its services to individuals and high net worth individuals. It also caters to banking or thrift institutions, investment companies, pension and profit sharing plans, other pooled investment vehicles, charitable organizations, state or municipal government entities.”

Tocqueville HQ is at 40 West 57th Street New York---

An earlier James Watson Gerard (1822 to 1900) wrote a book about real estate title law in New York. The Gerards were involved during the nineteenth century with the Society for the Prevention of Pauperism (founded 1818), sardonically laughable as their kind relentlessly forces others into dire poverty. They were also involved with the New York City public school system; probably so children could be “educated” to not question the wealthy monopolists. A link shows an 1855 document from the Board of Education of the City of New York showing Gerard involvement. A 1904 document shows another Gerard as a director of Knickerbocker Trust Company. Knickerbocker was a prime focal point of the start of the Panic of 1907, which was largely organized by the J.P. Morgan (Pilgrims Society) interests to be able to propagandize the public for a “national” (central) bank. That event gave rise to the National Monetary Commission of 1908, another Pilgrims Society venture.

The Gerards have intimately known the Rockefellers, Rothschilds, British Royals and other mega-big shots---no wonder they turned up in the management of The Pilgrims New York in the person of at least two family members---James Watson Gerard III and J.W.G. the Fifth.

This source, probably wrong, states Orben's birth as 1943.

Orben was employed by New York Telephone during the time it was headed by Clifton W. Phalen (Pilgrims New York 1969). In 1965 Governor Nelson Rockefeller (Pilgrims Society) named Phalen as chairman of the State University System of New York; he was also a director of the large Marine Midland Bank.

Orben is chairman of Fiduciary Counsel in New York. Orben appears on page 3511 of the 2005 Who's Who and gave his address as 30 Wall Street. The 1994 volume, page 2602, shows him director of Unified Holdings (finance industry); president of Venturevest Inc.; chairman of Starwood Corporation (today with 181,400 employees in around 100 countries---luxury hotels and resorts); chairman of Economic Analysts Inc.; Seward Groves Richard & Wells; Estate Management; Associated Family Services; the last three suggest Pilgrims Society families, with the name Seward being mentioned--- a transatlantic family---Orben provides "consulting services to banks and to individuals and institutions with substantial assets to be managed."

Since 1970 Orben has chaired The Fiduciary Alliance at 36 West 44th Street in New York, which is the New York Bar Association building; he's in suite 1310, where he also runs Emco Estate Management Company, dealing with foreign individuals---

Nantucket Asset, as in Nantucket Asset Management or other similar title, appears with uncertain results in a search, and may include a hedge fund. Orben is listed as a board member of Riverhead Industrial Development Agency.

Orben’s Fiduciary Alliance is listed in both New York City and Riverhead, New York. He’s listed as an advisor to Jamesport Meeting House (built in 1731).

He’s involved with the Peconic Land Trust, owning over 10,000 acres of land on Long Island. In 2004 to 2005 Orben was chairman of Oaktree Asset Management. As of yearend 2014 it had about $91 billion under management and offices in 13 major foreign cities---

OAKTREE CAPITAL
MANAGEMENT, LLC

Yes---there is a subtle difference between Oaktree Asset Management and Oaktree Capital Management. They are however the same entity. As of 2014, Jack Orben was on the finance committee of the City of White Plains, New York, population 58,000. Orben is a member of the American Institute of Economic Research, founded in 1933 at Great Barrington, Massachusetts. Arthur Frank Burns, Pilgrims Society, who chaired the Federal Reserve System (1970 to 1978, succeeding Pilgrims Society member William McChesney Martin Jr. and preceding Pilgrims Society member Paul Volcker), was part of the AIER management.

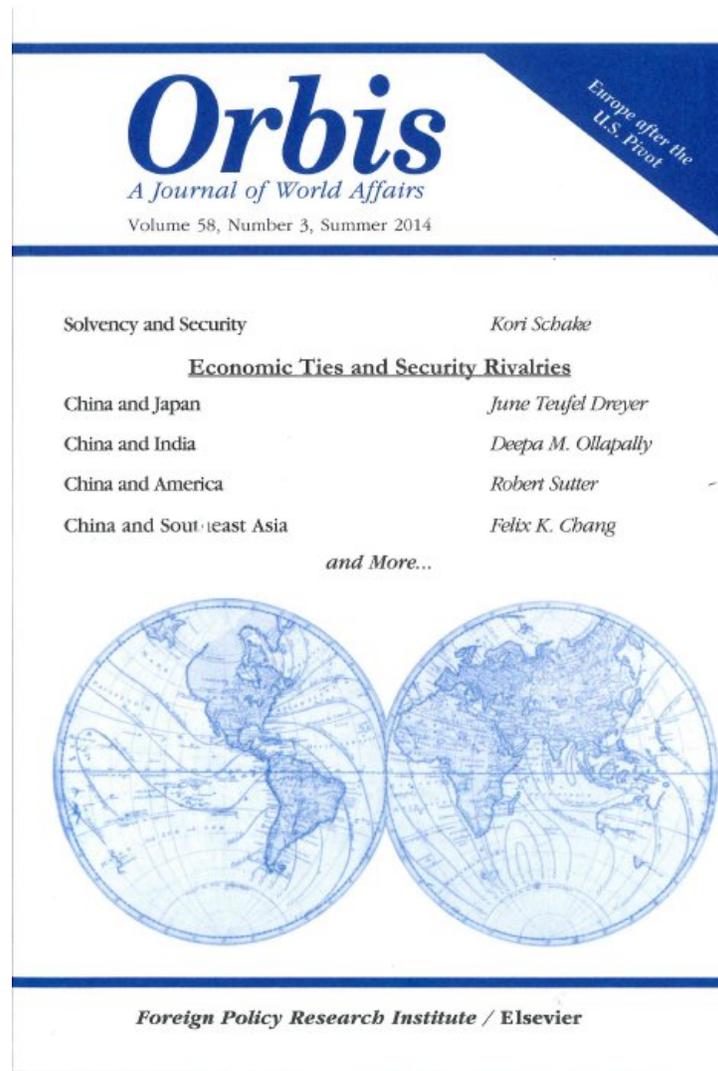

He is past president of the White Plains Child Day Care Association. Did he have input boosting mass vaccinations of vulnerable children as Pharma targets? Did he have input boosting belief in the United Nations? Their address is stated as 1301 Avenue of the Americas in Manhattan---not in the suburb of White Plains. Orben is past president of the Thomas Slater Center in White Plains, founded in 1979 in collaboration with the National Urban League. That League gets funding from Pilgrims Society interests including the Ford Foundation.

He states membership in the Foreign Policy Research Institute, founded in 1955 in Philadelphia

“The Institute conducts research on geopolitics, international relations, and international security in the various regions of the world as well as on ethnic conflict, U.S. national security, terrorism, and on think tanks themselves. It publishes a quarterly journal, Orbis, as well as a series of monographs and books. It publishes bulletins distributed electronically about 50 times a year.” There are some painfully obvious warmongers on its trustee board, and several likely Pilgrims Society members, especially Wistar Morris III.

Orben is a member of the Larchmont New York Yacht Club, started in 1880 by a railroad investor and member of the old-line New England Carver family (Pilgrims Society) who are described #7 Silver Squelchers, pages 38–42. In 2012 Orben was named as an official of the yacht club. Orben occasionally appears at the Windermere Island Club in the Bahamas, described as “the legendary Windermere Island Club. Members of the British royal family visit the island regularly, often arriving by private helicopter.”

Orben belongs to the North Fork Country Club, founded in 1912, some distance away from Manhattan---

Orben's residence is listed at a paltry $1.154 million. Apparently real estate isn't his big investment interest. Orben was born in Brooklyn, New York in 1938. However, as of 1940 his father, Stanley Orben, had relocated to pricey Highland Park, a city surrounded by Dallas. Sir Michael Craig Cooper, Pilgrims London, is involved with a private Swiss concern named Carre, Orban & Company---a possible connection albeit the subtle spelling difference.

A document from the Gerald Ford (Pilgrims) White House dated July 6, 1976 at the Gerald Ford Library and Museum was a memorandum to a Robert Orben regarding Ford's attendance at a dinner in D.C. with the Royal couple at the British Embassy. Various Pilgrims Society members were listed as invited---Paul Mellon (of what some consider history's biggest fortune; this is debatable but not provable); Ogden Phipps of Bessemer Securities (the old Carnegie steel empire); Henry Heinz II (second generation member like Paul Mellon; Bilderberg steering committee; father of a Senator); Arthur Burns, then chairman of the Federal Reserve System; Averill Harriman, who ran the World War Two Lend–Lease Administration, in which silver leasing was started; Walter Annenberg of TV Guide; Henry Kissinger and Nelson Rockefeller; and Hugh Bullock, “chairman, Pilgrims of the United States” (see page 9 on PDF page counter). James Biddle, not known as a Pilgrim, was there, of the same family as Nicholas Biddle, of the second U.S. Bank, forerunner of the FED!

In 1988 Orben and several others were sued in regard to selling the offspring of thoroughbred mares and stallions and situations related to the horse racing industry.

Jack Orben was one of several defendants named in a 2006 lawsuit over “appellants assert that they were told that investors could redeem their shares at any time for liquid net asset value, but that Nustar repudiated that agreement after the stock market declined, likening the decline to an act of God or nature. They were not told that the company managing Nustar, Venvestec, was closely held by the defendants, nor were they informed that several of the investments made by Nustar were in companies closely held by the defendants. Appellants claim that those investments were made to shift money to the appellees, and that doing so reduced the net asset value of Nustar. They assert that they were unable to redeem their shares, and that their investments are now worthless.”

The case was filed in---and months later dismissed in---the infamous Southern District of New York---the same district in which silver price fixing lawsuits have been quashed. Pilgrims Society members can do what they want. Orben was chairman of Nustar “until 1995.”

In a document without a definite year associated with it, Jack R. Orben is named as manager of the Unified Select Internet Fund, a subsidiary of Unified Financial Services, naming Orben also as a director.

Is it safe to do business with any Pilgrims Society member or with anyone in their influence circles? I’d urge against it since the group’s basis is to “seize” and “absorb” wealth (Review of Reviews, May 1902, page 557).

177 Soundview Avenue, White Plains, New York is an address attributed to Orben which he apparently bought in 2005 for $2,050,000 (or sold).

Olinger was lecturing at Columbia University Law School.
Note the Crown symbol. It was King's College 1754–1784---

His father was a naval officer. His mother's ancestry traces to Scottish nobles. Sir Thomas Urquhart of Cromarty was knighted by King Charles I of England in 1641. Olinger's father was a real estate broker; the link from 1981 shows Olinger at that time was president of Metropolitan Research Company, editorial consultants, a post he held into 1991. His wife was in the management of a "medical advertising company." Olinger confirmed his status as an anti-American globalist in 1970 when he was active with the United World Federalists. A similar group, Citizens for Global Solutions, merged with the UWF. Allen Dulles (Pilgrims Society), Central Intelligence Agency chief, placed Cord Meyer Jr. as the first leader of the UWF.

<http://www.wfm-igp.org/>

Olinger's next step was with First Albany Corporation---

Next TPTB placed this globalist Olinger in the State Department in 1972 and from 1973 to 1982 Olinger was an “educational consultant” to Columbia University. What did that consist of? Making certain the university’s slant was sufficiently pro-globalist? He’s had a long association with this Pilgrims Society controlled institution starting as president of the student council in 1963–1964 and as of this 2005 info was still active with it and even wrote a book about it in 1993 and has received two awards associated with Columbia, founded in 1754 as King’s College; witness the Crown symbol they cling to. His first book was in association with globalist and eugenicist Margaret Mead. Eugenics is a Pilgrims Society venture which maintains that only the superior should be permitted to have offspring! His second book (1991) was about the scientist whose discovery in 1944 made possible the MRI, Magnetic Resonance Imaging medical machines we have today. Naturally the profits flow into the pockets of trusts controlled by Pilgrims members. He authored a book in 1995 about C.C. Brown who was dean of business at Columbia; no record on Brown having been a Pilgrims member. Next in Olinger's scan we notice he's an Episcopalian---whoop---tee---doo, right on target. Yes, you can find Episcopalians in your area who are fairly ordinary. I suggest not trusting the national leadership as they're so tight with the British. In 1988 Olinger was a trustee of the Episcopal Cathedral of Saint John the Divine. That in fact may be when he became a member of The Society.

Next in his info Olinger flashes back to 1975 to 1978 and states he was national chairman of the Coalition to Stop SST Environmental Damage. The Super Sonic Transport was a civilian commercial jet airliner faster than the speed of sound. The last flight of the French Concorde was in 2003. Are there power struggles within The Pilgrims organization? Undoubtedly yes; but these aren't publicly visible. During 1975 to 1980 Olinger was on a committee of New York Hospital/Cornell Medical Center, again confirming the interest of The Society in the Big Hospital sector. Though he wasn't a member as of 1980, he was either on the waiting list (even more secretive than the ordinary list---no waiting list has so far surfaced) or he was in their orbit.

These operators are often into cultural festivities; witness his being in the management of the Bar Harbor Music Festival in Maine (1969–1974). Many, perhaps most times these situations could be entirely innocuous but have your globalism meter set to on if you attend things of this nature. In that field he was involved with the Manhattan music scene in the late 70s. Did he arrange for “God Save The Queen” to be played? How about it, CHAUNCEY?

Olinger lists several memberships he holds starting with the American Philosophical Association. Founded in 1900 it has a favorable view on the United Nations Organization.

He says that he's a member of the National Institute for Social Science, of which he was a board member during 1988 to 1992. This thing is rather secretive. It's based in Manhattan and is an infested swarming place for Pilgrims Society members. Its drift appears to be that they'll mold USA society the way they conclude it should be---zero parental rights and all the rest. We discuss the NISS in more detail elsewhere; that's why you should take the time to read all these profiles as they come out. Pages 8-10 of this pdf lists people running the NISS and some of these are unconfirmed Pilgrims members and I see several widows of members! The Financial Planning Association is elitist, globalist, and opposed to monetary metals in the payments system; note their association with the lousy Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. That's not necessarily true of all its members however. It was founded in 2000---

Olinger, like a significant percent of Pilgrims members, is a member of the Order of Saint John of Jerusalem, a hereditary Crusaders organization; that is to say, it's the British version and not the Roman Catholic version, as the British sovereign is the head of it. Remember we touched on his ancestral connection to the Urquhart dynasty---that's most likely the focal point for his being a member of this Crusaders group, whose actual history was that of looting, pillaging and plundering the Middle East. Arab states still today feel there is a 1,000 year war going on with the Christian West wanting to attack, invade and occupy them. Considering the history of British and American activities there, I don't see how they can conclude otherwise. Never forget to ask who struck the first blow! This is not to excuse any undesirable cultural practices on their part. How to define undesirable practices? "The right to be left alone is the beginning of all freedom"--- Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas (1898-1980), who definitely wasn't the best person to have made this otherwise great statement.

The London Gazette, July 11, 1988, page 7916 (pages are cumulative) reported a list of persons who were inducted into and/or promoted within the ranks of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, headed by the head of the Anglican Church of England---the British Sovereign. Olinger's name appears, as does that of various other Pilgrims Society members including the more prominent John R. Drexel IV (profiled elsewhere in this series). The July 26, 1993 edition, page 12468, showed that Olinger was promoted in the OSJ, and I noticed the name Thomas Leffingwell Pulling, who was on The Pilgrims executive committee circa 1998.

Olinger was an official (1991–1995) of the Saint Andrews Society, a group significantly interlocked with The Pilgrims. My view is Olinger was a Pilgrims member before he became a Saint Andrews Society official, as Pilgrims appear as directors, trustees, governors or sponsors of very many groups in their capacity of controlling the other groups to extend The Pilgrims influence. We discuss the SAS elsewhere. He also states membership in the Saint George's Society, another British sympathizer group which we also discuss elsewhere. These two groups can indeed point to good things they've done. I suggest this is a cover for being British sympathizers and wanting to see us dragged back under Royal rule. The Century Association we also discuss elsewhere and note his deep involvement with the Church Club of New York, an Episcopalian leaning group whose secondary tier is Presbyterian, in keeping with The Pilgrims religious representations. Again he's long involved in the leadership of the Episcopal Cathedral of Saint John The Divine, one of the two most important religious institutions in America of The Pilgrims; the other naturally being the very formidable Trinity Church near Wall Street. Olinger in spite of his bio details in the scan identifies himself as an “investment company executive” and gave his business address as 575 Lexington Avenue, offices of Janney Montgomery Scott, which traces back to 1832---

One of Olinger's "cultural" activities. Since he's a British sympathizer, does BSM never play the Star Spangled Banner? Who runs BSM?

Olinger has a residence at Norfolk, Virginia. According to this page at the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) Olinger as of 2006 had a residence at 4455 Douglas Avenue in The Bronx. The building is called “Hayden on the Hudson” (River) ---

4) Bruce E. Balding (1931---; Pilgrims Society start year undetermined; post the 1980 roster). Here we read (see after images) ---

“Bruce E. Balding is a portfolio manager at Tocqueville Asset Management, and was previously a managing director. Mr. Balding joined the firm in 2005 and manages discretionary portfolios as well as retirement plans and trusts. He is also the President and Portfolio Manager at Controlled Equity Inc. Previously, Mr. Balding managed investment portfolios at Carret & Company from 1998 to 2004. Prior to that, from 1983 to 1997, he was the President at Balding & Co., which he founded. Previously, Mr. Balding held positions as the President at Hamilton Gregg Capital Corp. and the President at Van Cleef, Jordan & Wood, and Investment Counselors. He is a Member of Advisory Board of Murdock Capital Partners Corp. Mr. Balding has earned an M.A. in 1954 and a B.A. in 1953 from Harvard University.”

Founded in 1986, Tocqueville manages the Tocqueville Fund; Opportunity Fund; International Fund; Select Fund; Alternative Strategies Fund; Gold Fund; and Delafield Fund. The last two are the most interesting, as gold with Pilgrims Society involvement is a riveting proposition, and the Delafields (Pilgrims Society dynasty behind the founding of the Bank of America) were profiled in #3 Silver Squelchers, pages 44–52. One more detail however; we read here about “the prominent John Delafield who had emigrated to America from London, England in 1783 carrying the provisional peace treaty between England and The United States.” The Delafields were originally French nobility several hundred years before the Norman conquest of England in 1066 AD and at some point migrated across the Channel.

The Tocqueville Fund “was founded as subsidiary of Tucker Anthony & R.L. Day to manage private accounts for high net worth clients. The firm became independent in 1990.” T.A. & R.L. Day had a Pilgrims member, Grinnell Morris, as a principal starting in 1971 (page 2242, 1976–1977 Who’s Who) ---

The Controlled Equity Group, founded in 1906, “through its subsidiaries, provides facility management and security services to commercial facilities in the United States, the United Kingdom, Spain, China, and Japan.” Carret Asset Management or Carret & Company, founded in 1963, manages “portfolios for high-net-worth individuals and families.” High net worth individuals and families suggests in many cases “Pilgrims Society.”

CARRET
Asset Management

In 1985 Bruce Balding acquired as a son in law a vice president of the international luxury auction firm Sotheby's. We read "the bride is a great-grand daughter of the late Travis H. Whitney of Brooklyn, who was the New York City Civil Works Administrator and the New York State Public Service Commissioner, and of the late Justice Rosalie L. Whitney of the Domestic Relations Court in Brooklyn." The bridegroom's father was chairman of Commerce Bank of Saint Louis. This link references another man named Balding in connection to the Whitneys (Pilgrims Society) and the Vanderbilts (Pilgrims Society); no doubt yet another strand in this near boundlessly complex interrelated spider web! This book which has no date on it, "The Moral Authority of Government" sponsored by the National Institute of Social Sciences (a very quiet Pilgrims outpost) shows that as of publication, Bruce Balding was chairman of the NISS and William H. Brinckerhoff was president. William was probably related to Charles Brinckerhoff who became chairman in 1965 of Anaconda Company and was in The Pilgrims 1969, 1974 and 1980 rosters.

Bruce Balding, Pilgrims Society, authored the 2007 book, “When American Owned the World and We Owned America” 94 pages by Palm Beach Journal Publications sounds like another definite acquisition. Hamilton Gregg Capital Corporation had or has branches in New York and London. It’s possible the Hamilton name in this case may be traceable back to Alexander Hamilton, the banker and national debt advocate who favored a central bank and was the architect of the first United States Bank (1791–1811); because I have seen this before in other members! Gregg I have no record of membership. Van Cleef, Jordan & Wood was founded in 1930 and says of itself that it is--- “an investment counsel firm established in 1930 with a rich history of investing in securities across asset classes over multiple market cycles. Our clients include corporate pension plans, foundations, endowments, and high net worth individuals. The firm is privately owned with offices in New York.”

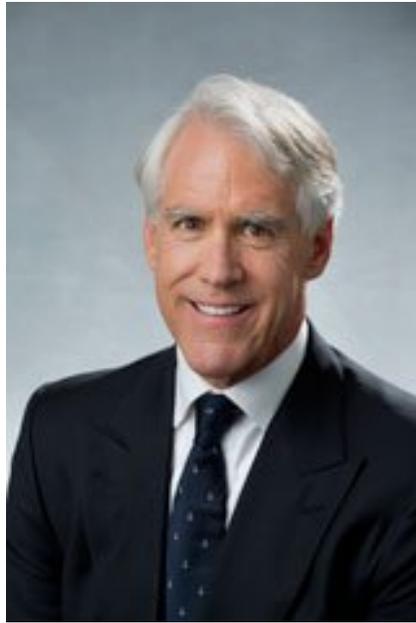

ESTABLISHED 1930

Bruce Balding is on the advisory board of Murdoch Capital Partners “is a private merchant banking firm providing corporate finance and financial advisory services. Murdock Capital acts as financial intermediary and/or principal for small and medium size companies and advises its corporate clients on all aspects of investment banking, including mergers and acquisitions, public and private financing, management buy-outs and corporate divestitures.” The firm recommends Focus Metals which owns “a world class graphite deposit” in Quebec Province, Canada.

His uncle, William N. Gray, received the Croix de Guerre from President of France, Charles de Gaulle; the uncle worked for Standard Oil of New Jersey (now Exxon Mobil), Cities Service and Tenneco. The Maryland Historical Trust mentions earlier family members. Gray's second marriage was to Christine J. Smith, who at that time was general counsel to AEA Investors. Founded in 1968, AEA was/is a joint venture of the Warburgs, Harrimans, Mellons and Rockefellers, with the last of these being inner circle and the others being close.

In 1980–1982 Gray was with the Treasury and the Comptroller of the Currency. That may have been when his path upwards towards membership in The Society started or; it may have been his marriage to this woman who was with AEA Investors.

After Treasury, Gray was an executive with several significant regional banks. He wrote a manual for the Southwest Securities Transfer Association which is based in New York. In 1989–1992 Gray was involved with the New Mexico Estate Planning Council, consisting of attorneys, accountants and bank trust officers. We may assume that after Gray “Pilgrimized” the appropriate wealthy of that state, he returned to New York! He was involved with the Presbyterians in Albuquerque health care system and insinuated himself into being an arts patron, late 1980s to early 90s. Then later in 1992–1994 he was chief operating officer at MFR Incorporated which provides economic and market analysis to banking and corporate accounts. Gray’s next stop, Concord Holdings Corporation, produces uncertain results in a search. 1995 to 1999 saw Gray with the historically important Schroder banking interests out of London, in their New York office. #8 Silver Squelchers, pages 57–59, has info on Baron Bruno Schroder (Pilgrims London) and the $400 billion plus his organization manages---

Schroders

Next, in 1999–2000, Gray was an official of Brandywine Asset Management based in Wilmington Delaware, which makes it almost 100% certain this is a tentacle of the Du Pont family (Pilgrims Society/Silver Users Association), which dominates Delaware even more than the Rockefellers dominate New York State. It may have launched with Du Pont seed capital, or acquired their interest afterwards. Paul Tudor Jones, commodities kingpin, is associated with Brandywine management. Considering his financial profile combined with his astonishingly frightening middle name, I highly regard Jones as a very likely member of The Pilgrims. But compared to Baron Schroder, Jones isn't so scary!

In 2001, in a deal representing $2.5 billion, the Scudder Funds became part of the Deutsche Bank organization and Gray was with the Deutsche Investment Asset Management division.

In 1997 Gray became treasurer of the New York State branch of SAR, Sons of the American Revolution. That is no longer current. It shows how this British Empire group, The Pilgrims, has penetrated groups with a veneer of Americanism; and many, possibly most, rank and file members, aren't so slanted.

Gray is a member of the West Side Tennis Club (1912) in Forest Hills, New York---

Guggenheim is a giant; BNY Mellon is a mega-giant, managing $28 trillion! I've never found a Guggenheim of paternal ancestry directly represented in The Pilgrims, either branch, but always by appointed agents and a few of maternal ancestry. That still works, however; while the Mellons have been directly represented and by a platoon of appointed agents like George D. Woods, who became president of the World Bank. Clifford Oberlin III may or may not be a Pilgrims member. More likely, the Inner Circle placed member James L. Gray in the Oberlin organization so it could have a direct connection to The Society.

Pyle's father was a member of the New Jersey Securities Commission, president of the New Jersey Bond Club and was with Hornblower & Weeks (Pilgrims Society), prominent Wall Street investment bank, for 53 years. Pyle's wife was with various Pilgrims connected investment banks such as Scudder, Stevens & Clark, and was executive director of the Investment Counsel Association of America. His middle name, Milner, may also be a familiar connection, as the London Pilgrims had Lord Milner of Leeds (1957, 1969, 1974 and other rosters). As a Williams College graduate, Pyle may be a member of its Gargoyle Society. Pyle has been involved on a part time basis with Williams College since 1977, probably requiring students to travel to his Manhattan office. As a University of Virginia degree holder, he may be a member of its Raven Society; both meaningful, yet small fish next to The Pilgrims. During 1963 to 1968 Pyle was an attorney with Mudge, Rose, Guthrie & Alexander, known as “the launching pad of Richard Nixon.” It closed in 1995 after a 126 year history and was the number 35 law firm in Manhattan by business. Nixon is the only man known to me as a Pilgrims member from that firm; that’s why it was down in the rankings. Pyle was a Pingry School trustee, then a director and president of its alumni association; this is a New Jersey institution with an $87 million endowment and caters to children of the upper crust. The motto means “greatest respect is due students”---

During 1968 to 1977 Pyle was with Studebaker–Worthington then went to Singer Company (founded 1851) during which time its chairman was Donald P. Kircher (Pilgrims Society); Kircher was aligned with the J.P. Morgan & Company faction in The Pilgrims.

Pyle was with American Express under two Pilgrims Society members---Howard Longstreth Clark and James D. Robinson III, in that order. Both were on numerous important corporate boards. During 1979 to 2003 Pyle was involved in official capacity with several private and public groups in Connecticut and New Jersey, probably fostering globalism in their rank and file. I haven't confirmed a tie between his middle name, Milner, and the English family by that name represented in The Pilgrims Society of Great Britain. The chance is easily there as many such transatlantic connections have been confirmed.

During 1977–1978 Pyle was with the American Society of Corporate Secretaries, which has since changed its name to the Society of Corporate Secretaries and Governance Professionals---

Pyle is a member of the Hillsboro Club at Hillsboro Beach, Florida (near Miami). We read--- “Originally part of the land grant of the Earl of Hillsborough, the property occupied by the Hillsboro Club was first acquired and developed in 1923 as the winter campus of the Lake Placid School, an elite boy's school. It's not unusual to meet families who have been Hillsboro Members for several generations.”

The Earl of Hillsborough, also known as the Marquess of Downshire (1718–1793) was Secretary of State for the Colonies (1768–1772) and a New Hampshire county and town, a North Carolina city and this site in Florida are named after him. Pyle is a member of the Short Hills Club (founded 1875) in New Jersey; various Pilgrims members have resided in Short Hills, New Jersey---

Here's another of Pyle's upper crust memberships---

Pyle is a member of the Racquet & Tennis Club in New York, described in the profile on Pilgrims Society member Theodore Robert Gamble Jr. Pyle has had activity with a typical assortment of “civic” and historical groups---the Arts Council of Suburban Essex; Suburban Music Center; Municipal Commission of Essex County; Colonial Dances Limited; Millburn–Short Hills Historical Society. The story of how British influence is spread, usually very low key, through such groups will perhaps never be told. He includes in his memberships the American Bar Association and the Association of the Bar of the City of New York, well interlocked with The Pilgrims Society’s Wall Street attorneys faction.

Of his late wife we read---

“Page served in the investment consulting field, principally with Scudder, Stevens & Clark and Stein Roe & Farnham for seven years, and thereafter as the first paid Executive Director of the Investment Counsel Association of America for three years, where she established the first office for that organization in New York.”

SCUDDER, STEVENS & CLARK

Pyle's daughter Laura is a lawyer in Norfolk, Virginia.

7) Mahler, Herbert William (1935---; Pilgrims Society New York as of undetermined) ---is with Mahler & Emerson and Forefront Capital Markets whose "primary clients are Individuals, high net worth individuals and Corporations or Other Businesses."

"Forefront Capital is a global financial services firm and, together with its subsidiaries, provides alternative investment management, investment banking and capital markets services. We view our clients as long-term partners and we aim to add value beyond capital raising and advisory services. We often invest proprietary capital to ensure our alignment of interests.”

Forefront Capital is involved in investment banking, private placements, merchant banking, initial public offerings, reverse mergers, acquisitions, restructurings, recapitalizations, global emerging markets, high yield debt, due diligence, corporate advisory, income trusts and more.

FORE FRONT INCOME TRUST

According to Bloomberg, Mahler also has offices at 570 Lexington Avenue and states---

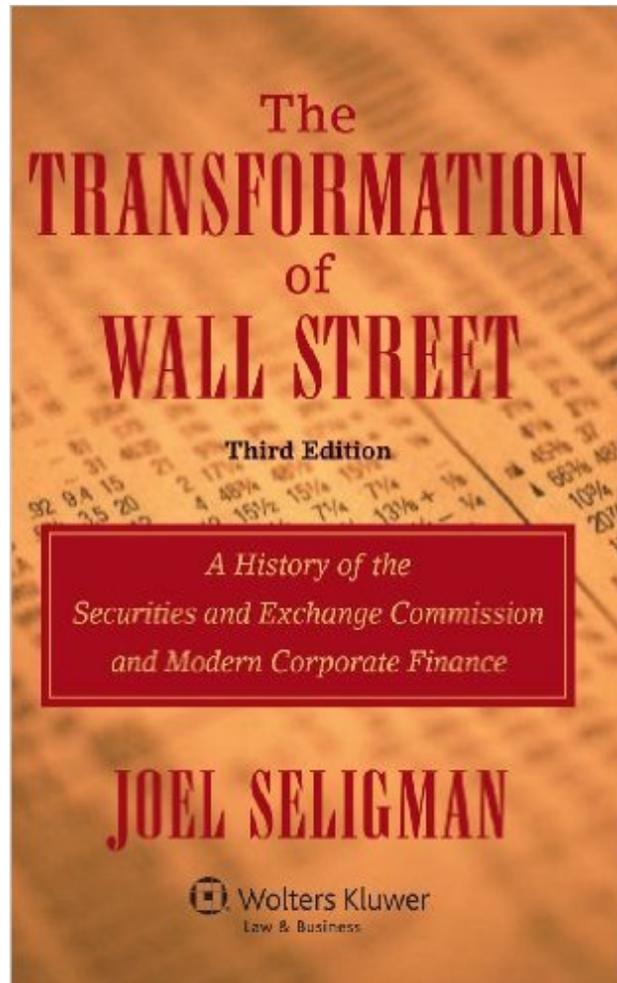

“Mr. Herbert W. Mahler serves as President and Chief Executive Officer of Mahler & Emerson, Inc. Mr. Mahler has been Senior Vice President of Brean Murray & Co. Inc. since 1988. Mr. Mahler served as Senior Vice President of Seligman Securities, Inc. from 1982 to 1988. He served as Investment Advisor of Mahler & Emerson, Inc. since 1972. He serves as Director of Mahler & Emerson, Inc. Mr.

Mahler attended Bowdoin College and New York University and studied at New York University in International Finance from 1960 to 1962.”

Brean, Murray & Co. is since known as Brean Capital. Its activities are similar to those of Forefront Capital. Its management is highly interlocked with Pilgrims Society entities including the Bank of New York Mellon.

Aha---Mahler has a connection to the old-line dynastic Seligman family (Pilgrims Society), who are either Rothschild family (Pilgrims Society) satellites or affiliates. The Seligmans, who originated in Bavaria, have been extremely prominent on Wall Street for well over one hundred years. Joel Seligman was an Eastman Kodak director (Silver Users Association member or “ex”-member) from 2009 to 2013. <http://www.amazon.com/The-Transformation-Wall-Street-Securities>

The Pilgrims New York 1914 shows Isaac N. Seligman while Charles D. Seligman is in The Pilgrims 1914 London list. By 1940 he's listed as Sir Charles Seligman. Geoffrey C. Seligman was in The Pilgrims London 1957 roster, who as of the 1980 list was still there. The 1969 list and other years show Francis Fitz Randolph, an official of the Seligman interests (multiple Wall Street funds) and treasurer of the Russell Trust Association (controls Skull & Bones Society!) Randolph wasn't just a Seligman flunky as the Fitz and Randolph families have staggering ancestry in their own right. Isaac Seligman had a kid brother named Edwin who was an economist and called for more paper money to be printed and an acceleration of deficit spending. Dozens of pages of the 1967 classic “Our Crowd” by Stephen Birmingham mention various Seligmans. Isaac Seligman was a charter member of The Pilgrims New York in January 1903 and owned valuable property in Kensington Gardens, London, now known as “Billionaire’s Row.” The Seligmans and Guggenheims (copper and other mining) intersected by marriage. You can tell he viewed the small folks as insects---

The Frankfurt, Germany branch of the Seligman financial house sold over $200 million in Northern war bonds. The Seligman interests equipped the Union Army with clothing. The Seligmans made significant fortune from selling supplies used by prospectors and miners in the great California Gold Rush. Is Herbert W. Mahler in The Pilgrims organization as a nominee of the Seligmans? It's quite possible.
