

THE DREXEL DYNASTY!!!!

Part II The Astor/Drexel Dynasties Historic Silver Suppressors!

House of Drexel

Presented April 2019 by Charles Savoie

Drexels Mentors to Original J.P. Morgan!
Drexels Belittled Monetary Silver!
Drexels Wanted World Wars!
Drexels Chasing World Seafloor Wealth!

www.silverstealers.net

www.nosilvernationalization.org

<https://www.facebook.com/charles.savoie.96387>

<https://www.silvermarketnews.com/archives.htm>

Note new site of possible interest to Texas residents

www.texaspetprotect.org

Continuing to rebut this pitiful widespread illness that causes dimwits to holler “no one has any money but the Rothschilds,” we now present an account of the super-important Drexel family, connected by marriage to the inordinately influential Astor dynasties; with both super dynasties well represented in The Pilgrims Society---including in its management!

The account of the Drexels, like the Astors, starts in the Old World; in Europe. Francis Martin Drexel was born in Dornbirn in the Tyrol area of Austria on April 7, 1792 and lived until June 5, 1863 when he died of injuries sustained in a train accident; it may be that he as a Philadelphia resident and a greedy banker may have worried whether the North would fail to defeat the South in the Civil War, since it hadn't yet been decided. He left “an enormous estate.”

<https://www.loot.co.za/product/books-llc-drexel-family/hhvp-1358-g520> this source states ---

“The company was also involved in financial deals with the federal government during the U.S.-Mexican War.”

We read at

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Francis_Martin_Drexel ---

“In 1803, he was sent to study in a Catholic institution near Turin. When he returned in 1809, he found Austria invaded by the French, and to escape conscription he crossed the border into Switzerland and then went to Paris. In 1812, he returned to the Tyrol incognito. Conscription was still in force, so he went to Bern. In 1817, he sailed for the United States from Amsterdam, and settled in Philadelphia. After a few years, he went to Peru and Chile, painting portraits, including one of General Simón Bolívar. Drexel visited South America twice as well as Mexico.”

Yes! The original Drexel was Catholic, and a streak of Catholicism persisted in this family for decades; which is why I speculate that they are some of the later entrants into The Pilgrims Society, a group sponsored by English Royals, with historic conflicts with the Pope! The first year I can show an Astor in The Pilgrims (NYC) is 1907; the first year I can show a Drexel in The Pilgrims (London) is 1924. The first year I can show a Drexel in The Pilgrims (NYC) is 1969! That is to say, by paternity; there’s an Anthony Drexel Biddle Jr. in The Pilgrims NYC in 1957; so the Drexels were represented first as of then. However, I have sketchy details only for 1958 through 1968; most likely John Rozet Drexel III was a Pilgrims member several years before 1969. We’re getting ahead of the story line; let’s retrace.

According to Wiki on Francis Martin Drexel, the founder of the Drexel family in America---

“In 1837, after his permanent settlement in Philadelphia, he founded the banking house Drexel & Company which became one of the largest banks in the United States. The original business of Drexel & Co. was discounting privately issued bank notes, the value of which was largely dependent on the character of the principal officers of the issuing bank. The exposure to the principals gained from portrait painting is said to have given Drexel inside knowledge. After his death in 1863, the Paris firm, Drexel, Harjes & Co., was founded in 1868, and the New York firm, Drexel, Morgan & Co., was founded in 1871.”

A link at JP Morgan Chase mentions---

But the history of J.P. Morgan in France dates back nearly half a century before the firm purchased its celebrated location on Place Vendôme in 1916. In 1868, the firm's earliest predecessor in Paris opened as Drexel, Harjes & Co., a banking firm run by Anthony Drexel whom J. Pierpont Morgan would later partner with in New York.

In 1870, Drexel, Harjes & Co. developed a relationship with Pierpont's father, Junius Morgan, when it assisted with the transfer of funds for Junius' $50 million loan to the French government during the Franco-Prussian War. One year later, Anthony Drexel and Pierpont Morgan would establish a merchant bank in New York called Drexel, Morgan & Co., later renamed J.P. Morgan & Co.

In 1895, two years after Drexel's death, J.P. Morgan & Co. assumed full control of Drexel, Harjes in Paris and renamed the firm Morgan Harjes & Co., with Pierpont Morgan as its senior partner. As the firm approaches 150 years in Paris, J.P. Morgan stands as one of the longest continuously operating American banks in the country.

In 1867 with partners John H. Harjes and Eugene Winthrop, Anthony Joseph Drexel opened Drexel, Harjes & Company in Paris France. Drexel, Harjes & Company based in Paris helped finance the Panama Canal. John Harjes (1830-1914) was a boyhood pal of Anthony Joseph Drexel---

<https://fortuneinsider.com/success/25-amazing-facts-you-never-knew-about-j-p-morgan/> ---

This URL shows an image of George Fisher Baker, who was decisively wealthier than JP Morgan, and misleads as to his identity by showing a photo of Baker and presenting him as J.P. Morgan! Nowhere among the “25 amazing facts” was any mention of The Pilgrims Society. Either sources are uninformed (most) or are covering up! ---

1. J. P. Morgan joined the banking business in 1857, following his father's footsteps. His father J. S. Morgan had already established the merchant banking firm, Peabody, Morgan & Co, in collaboration with George Peabody in the late 1850s.

2. In the year, 1871, Anthony J. Drexel became J. P. Morgan's mentor and collaborated in a partnership firm, Drexel, Morgan & Company. It was after the death of Drexel that the company was renamed as J. P. Morgan & Company in the year 1895.

<https://www.crt.state.la.us/louisiana-state-museum/collections/visual-art/artists/francis-martin-drexel> ---

“Drexel was in Dornbirn, Austria, and began studying painting in Italy at the age of eleven. When Napoleon seized control of the Tyrol, he was forced to leave school and return to his native city, where he apprenticed to a portrait painter. In 1809, having participated in the unsuccessful Tyrolese revolt, Drexel fled to Switzerland, where he worked as a sign painter. He immigrated to Philadelphia in 1817, exhibiting at the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts between 1818 and 1826. He traveled through Mexico and South America, relying on a commission for about 200 miniatures for income. .Drexel returned to Philadelphia in 1830, also having gained first-hand knowledge of foreign banking practices.”

The failed Tyrolese Revolt was against the forces of General Napoleon Bonaparte. Not only did the first Drexel in America learn about “foreign banking practices,” undoubtedly he acquired large info on the use of precious metals, silver especially, across Mexico and in South America. More from previous link---

“Drexel is better known for his second career. After the Second Bank of the United States dissolved, he began speculating in bank notes and founded Drexel & Co. Drexel claimed that he could judge individual character of the men running "Wild Cat" banks by examining their faces - a skill he attributed to his time as a portrait painter. Drexel relocated to Louisville, Kentucky, where he opened a major brokerage house. After the Panic of 1837, Drexel & Co. emerged as a leading banking house in the country. J.P. Morgan served as junior partner. Drexel was killed by a train at the age of seventy-two. His son, Anthony Joseph, founded Drexel University. His grand-niece, Katherine Drexel, was the second American-born saint to be canonized, having founded the congregation Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament for Indians and Colored People, and Xavier University in New Orleans.”

Thirty four years would pass before J.P. Morgan became affiliated with Anthony Joseph Drexel, Francis M. Drexel’s son. More to come on this.

How is it that “after the Panic of 1837” Drexel & Company “emerged as a leading banking house in the country” except that this wily conniving character had connections to the banks causing the Panic of 1837? That Panic was organized for several reasons; 1) to punish the retired President Andrew Jackson for demolishing the second United States Bank; 2) to impoverish the majority, which is always a top goal of organized elites and 3) to blame the Panic of 1837 on the absence of a central bank so still another CB could get a Congressional charter! Katherine Drexel, a really major Catholic figure in USA history needs a review and will get to her.

Francis Martin Drexel
(1792-1863) ---

Francis Martin Drexel (1792-1863) - Find A Grave Memorial

<https://www.findagrave.com> › ... › Philadelphia › Woodlands Cemetery ▼

Artist. Financier. He would become the head of one of one of the world's most significant banking families, but he began working life as a portrait painter in his ...

<https://storiesofphiladelphia.wordpress.com/2014/06/28/francis-martin-drexel-1792-1863/> ---

“For a time he lived in South America, continuing his portrait work. During the Texas War of Independence he moved to Mexico to paint portraits of influential families. Returning to Philadelphia in the late 1830s, his interests shifted from art to finance. His experiences in Europe, South America, and Mexico, in times of peace and times of crisis, gave him an understanding of how money supplies worked. This led to banking and the founding of the brokerage house of Drexel and Company. His three sons, Francis Anthony, Anthony Joseph, and Joseph William, joined him in the company. He was married to Catherine Hookey.”

She seems to have been of French Catholic extraction.

C.H. Drexel---

Naturally while others were dying for their independence this social parasite insured he'd be well distanced from battlefronts, same as he chickened out and fled Austria to avoid being drafted! Later on Drexel & Company would help finance the North in the Civil War. Always OK with bankers for others to be brutally massacred, return missing eyeballs, kneecaps, hands, noses and so forth; those matters are joked about in their exclusive by invitation only social clubs! Drexel & Company also “made money in the opportunities created by gold finds in California.” Drexel & Company with headquarters in Philadelphia had branches in New York, Chicago and San Francisco and did much business with George Peabody & Company of London.

“The Man Who Made Wall Street” page 29---

Francis Drexel chose Louisville for his currency brokerage apparently on the advice of friends he had met in Mexico. His reason for locating there is unknown, but an observer can hazard an educated guess. Louisville lay in the heart of the western states whose banks were most starved for gold and silver; it also lay on the Ohio River, along which Mexican gold and silver could be shipped by steamboat to or from a port city like New Orleans in just five days. For a broker hoping to transfer gold and silver between western banks and the rest of the world, Louisville may have been an ideal location.

In South America and again in Mexico, Francis Drexel had dealt sporadically in foreign money and had developed relationships with important government figures. When Francis launched his new career in 1837, Spanish money and bills of exchange on Germany and Ireland were in great demand. Presumably Francis expected to capitalize on his foreign contacts and his linguistic fluency in both German and Spanish. Instead, once in business he appears again to have adapted his skills to the need of the moment: to track down foreign gold and silver for redemption of the accumulated notes of state banks in the U.S. hinterlands. Within two years Francis would bring his son Anthony, then just thirteen years old, into the currency business; thirty-two years after that, Anthony would beckon Pierpont Morgan to his monumental mission in life.

He was the type guy to have underkarated the gold!

As of the info that follows, Anthony Joseph Drexel had of course taken over the reins of the Drexel finance enterprises, his father Francis Drexel having been taken by the Reaper in 1863---

January 11, 1873 page 58 Commercial
& Financial Chronicle---NYC office---

Drexel, Morgan & Co.
.....119 Wall

Page 172, Commercial & Financial
Chronicle, February 8, 1873---

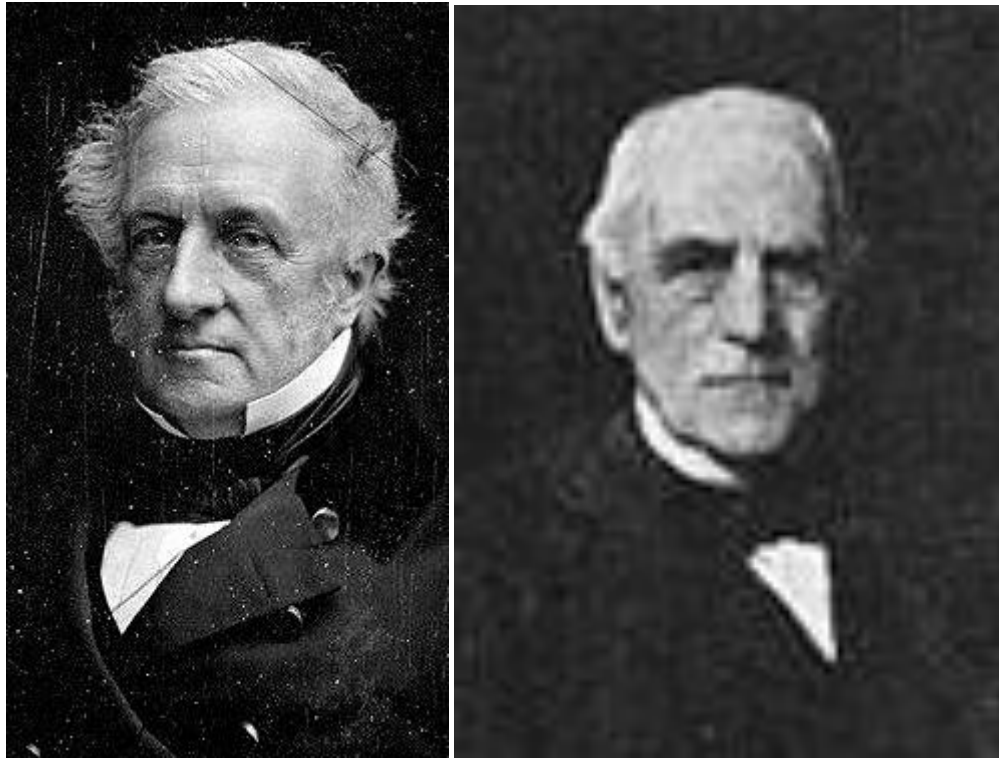

OFFICES
IN THE
DREXEL BUILDING,
S. E. Corner Broad and Wall Sts.,
SUITABLE FOR CORPORATIONS, BANKERS,
LAWYERS, &c..
TO RENT FROM MAY 1.

TWO ELEVATORS, TWO STAIRCASES, FIRE-
PROOF throughout, well-lighted and ventllated, heated by steam; every modern convenience. Apply to JOS. W. DREXEL, 53 Exchange Place.
HOMER MORGAN, 2 Pine Street.

It wasn't until 1871 that the original J.P. Morgan (1837-1913, Pilgrims Society V.P.) affiliated with Anthony Joseph Drexel (1826-1893), son of Francis Martin Drexel. Morgan's father Junius Spencer Morgan (1813-1890, died of injuries in a carriage accident) in 1854 entered George Peabody & Company of London as a partner in the banking firm; Peabody viewed him as his adopted son. In 1864 George Peabody (1795-1869 had "an extravagant fortune") retired and the firm's name changed to J.S. Morgan & Company. Peabody and Junius Morgan financed American railroads, other large interests and dealt in War Bonds for the North. Peabody was a well established operator when in 1845 he paid bribes to Daniel Webster! When Junius S. Morgan died in 1890, Anthony J. Drexel was a pallbearer, along with Levi Parsons Morton, a big time CROOK who was a charter Pilgrims member in NYC in 1903. Morton (1824-1920) was Ambassador to France and Governor of New York and married into the fantastic Livingston dynasty. Other pallbearers were Chauncey Depew, a Vanderbilt attorney (also a charter Pilgrims member in 1903) and Cornelius Vanderbilt II, who wasn't a Pilgrims member as he died in 1899.

George Peabody found "unprecedented success as a Merchant banker" and his "bank rose to become The premier American finance house in London."

Junius Spencer Morgan at right---

J.P. Morgan Senior, son of Junius Morgan;
J.P. went into partnership in 1871 with Anthony Joseph Drexel who was Eleven years his senior and
In addition to Junius Morgan
Was J.P.'s mentor---

Page 638 of “Who’s Who in Finance, Banking & Insurance” (1911, Bankers Publishing. NYC), the original J.P. Morgan Senior, mentored by Anthony J. Drexel, worked against monetary silver---

J. P. Morgan & Co. in New York, and Drexel & Co. in Philadelphia, as at present; also head of the London banking house of J. S. Morgan & Co., and the Paris house of Morgan, Harjes & Co. Has many times rendered valuable service to the United States Government since the Civil War, notably in flotation of Government bonds in 1876, 1877 and 1878, and also 1895, when his firm floated the $62,000,000 gold bonds issued by the Cleveland administration to restore the normal Treasury surplus of $100,000,000 and thereby saved the Treasury from a silver basis;

Of J.P. Morgan Sr. we read on page 290 of
"The Morgans: Private International Bankers 1854-1913 (Harvard University Press 1987) ---

He considered the campaign for free silver and bimetallism serious threats to the nation's credit and business, requiring the united opposition of all "sound" individuals. Early in February 1891 he assured Henry Lee Higginson that "all our advices are to the effect that for the present Session there is no danger of any action on free coinage."

Page 695 mentions the Specie Payment Act of 1875
Providing for redemption of greenbacks in gold as Of 1879 was denounced by "debtors, farmers and Silver mining interests" (because of silver's Exclusion, which the Constitution included
As lawful money!)

Read on; you will soon see that Anthony J. Drexel, Morgan's mentor, disdained Monetary silver!

J. P. MORGAN & CO.,

DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN BANKERS,

Cor. of Wall and Broad Streets, NEW YORK.

DREXEL & CO.,
PHILADELPHIA.

MORGAN, HARJES & CO.,
PARIS.

AGENTS AND ATTORNEYS OF

Messrs. J. S. MORGAN & CO., London.

DRAW EXCHANGE AT CUSTOMARY USANCES.

ISSUE COMMERCIAL AND TRAVELERS' CREDITS.

Page 638, J.P. Morgan Sr. was Episcopalian and had Huguenot ancestry “Who’s Who in Finance, Banking & Insurance” (1911).

He descended from Miles Morgan who arrived from England in Boston back in 1636! Huguenots are French Protestants who had terrific clashes with Catholics in France in the early 1570s; Huguenot survivors fled France. Note that Morgan Sr.'s mentor Anthony Drexel had as his daddy a man who was raised Catholic! At some point the Drexels converted to Episcopal Church; that very likely is how they finally started appearing in Pilgrims Society rosters!

George Peabody Library at Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore Maryland---

Anthony Joseph Drexel (1826-1893) second generation

Financier and banker and mentor to the original John Pierpont Morgan; these people are Antecedents of Morgan Chase Bank, Silver price riggers! ---

Anthony Joseph Drexel (1826-1893)
(Main mentor of J.P. Morgan Sr.)

“The most influential financier of the Nineteenth century.”

Drexel is called a “wizard” of finance & “Inherited one of the nation’s Great banking fortunes.”

At Drexel University link

https://drexel.edu/now/archive/2016/November/US_President_s/ we notice ---

“No stranger to working with and advising U.S. Presidents through his banking company, University founder Anthony “Tony” J. Drexel befriended Grant in 1863 and remained friends for more than 20 years. Tony often hosted Grant either at Philadelphia homes or at summerhouses in New Jersey. In 1884 Grant died in a cottage in upstate New York owned by Tony’s younger brother Joseph and Tony served as a pallbearer at his funeral. University Archives has in its possession a letter Grant wrote to Tony in 1878 during his post-presidency trip around the world. Tony turned down a position as Secretary of Treasury in President Ulysses S. Grant’s presidential cabinet, but he continued to advise Grant on financial affairs when he was president. Tony also personally managed Grants’ finances for years.”

<https://www.phillyhistory.org/blog/index.php/2016/01/tony-drexel-goes-for-a-walk-part-i/> ---

“Soon after his father’s death in 1863, Anthony Drexel purchased a large plot of land centered at the intersection of 39th and Walnut streets, far out in West Philadelphia. He then commissioned an unknown architect (possibly Samuel Sloan, designer of nearby Woodland Terrace) to design a sprawling Italianate villa, where he, his wife Ellen, and their nine children could live away from the noise and dirt of Center City. He was also generous to his extended family, frequently looking after his niece Katharine Drexel, whose father Francis Jr. raised his children as strict Roman Catholics. His brother Anthony however crossed the Reformation aisle, raising his family as Episcopalians. As an adult, Katharine renounced her privileged upbringing altogether and became a nun, donating her time and vast inheritance to Native American and African-American civil rights causes.”

Anthony Joseph Drexel (1826-1893) realized that to rise higher in the financial cosmos, remaining Roman Catholic would not get him there! He became Episcopalian, the name the Protestant Anglican Church of England goes by in America. He knew the Royal family (runs Church of England) solidly OUTRANKED the Pope of Rome in world power! It’s quite possible his connections to Peabody and Morgan in London accomplished this religious conversion driven by ambition!

Drexel mansion Philadelphia---called a “palace”
With 41 rooms decorated with hundreds of Unique artworks worth more than The mansion itself---the rooms were sparkling with the gaieties of the solar spectrum from every wall.”

One of the 41 rooms in the Drexel Mansion Philadelphia---

In 1858 at age 21, John Pierpont Morgan (the original J.P. Morgan) began handling the New York business office of George Peabody & Company, with his father Junius Spencer Morgan remaining at the head office in London. In 1871 the firm of Drexel, Morgan & Company started operations with Anthony Joseph Drexel as senior partner and his mentor, same as George Peabody acted as mentor to Junius Morgan! In 1893 Anthony Drexel passed away, and by 1895 Drexel, Morgan & Company was renamed J.P. Morgan & Company, similar to how George Peabody & Company was earlier renamed J.S. Morgan & Company 31 years before.

Anthony Joseph Drexel was no mere pencil pusher as we are about to see. We still need more flashback and supplemental info on his father Francis Martin Drexel and also on his brothers and sisters. F.M. Drexel married Catherine Hookey (1795-1870) at Holy Trinity Roman Catholic Church in Philadelphia on April 23, 1821. Their daughter Mary (1822-1873) married but left no survivors. Another child, Heloise Drexel Smith (1837-1895) appeared to have left no survivors. A son, Francis Anthony Drexel (1824-1885) also in finance, was married twice; to Hannah J. Langstroth with whom he fathered two children, Elizabeth (deceased 1890) and Catherine Mary Drexel (1858-1955) who became a Roman Catholic nun and was appointed to Catholic sainthood by the Pope in AD 2000. Second marriage of Francis Anthony Drexel was to Emma Bouvier, daughter of wealthy land speculator Michel Bouvier. Bouvier was the paternal great, great grandfather of Jacqueline Bouvier

Kennedy Onassis (JFK's widow!) Another Drexel sibling was Joseph William Drexel (1833-1888) who married Lucy Wharton (1841-1912). J.W. Drexel also in finance at Drexel & Company (where his brother Anthony was senior partner) was a trustee of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in NYC, the NYC Metropolitan Opera and the United States National Academy of Sciences. Another daughter of F.M. Drexel, Catherine (1838-1911) married investment banker John Goddard Watmough. F.A. Drexel's estate was reported as $15.5 million, undoubtedly an extreme lowball.

Francis Anthony Drexel
(1824-1885) ---

His daughter Catherine Mary Drexel became a Roman Catholic nun---this situation may have delayed/hindered the Drexels from eventual Pilgrims membership, as the English Royals and the Pope of Rome have been in conflict at least since the assassination way back in AD 1170 of the Archbishop of Canterbury, Thomas Becket, by knights of King Henry II, who was disenchanted with Pope Alexander III and vice versa. Finally in AD 1534, disgusted with foreign based religious meddling in his kingdom, King Henry VIII founded the Anglican Church of England and instituted it as “the” church of the land. It remains so till this very moment, and there is a perpetual ban against any Roman Catholic ever sitting on the throne of England---

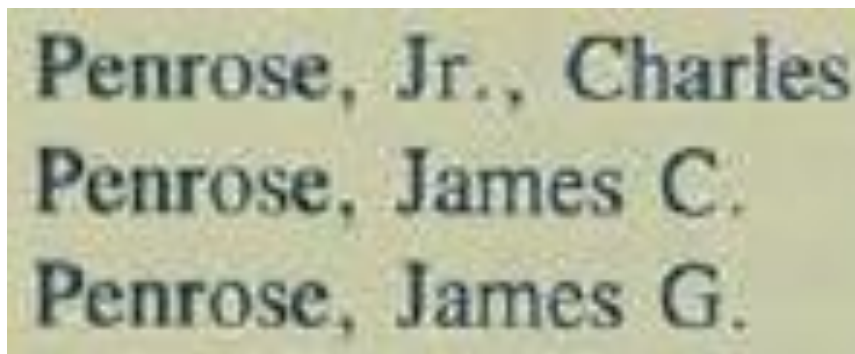

Page 181 "The Man Who Made Wall Street"---

Mother Drexel's canonization by Pope John Paul in October 2000 was the occasion for some 200 Drexel family members—Catholics, Protestants, and nonbelievers alike—to fly to Rome for the ceremony.

Catholic baiters will seize on this to say "see, the Pope runs the world and bosses the Drexels," well he probably bosses some Drexels, the secondary lines at best, but the main family line has long since been loyal to the Royal family of England--- Protestant Anglicans, known here as Episcopalians.

Joseph William Drexel (1833-1888) and his wife Lucy were parents of Katherine Drexel (1866-1918) who married Dr. Charles B. Penrose (1862-1925) who was the brother of United States Senator Boies Penrose (1860-1921) who was a big player in Utah Copper Company. The Penrose family are a significant second tier dynasty in The Pilgrims United States, and several Penrose family members have been Pilgrims for many years and also connected to gold mining.

From The Pilgrims NYC 1990---

Penrose, Jr., Charles
Penrose, James C.
Penrose, James G.

<https://www.nytimes.com/.../boies-penrose-73-travel-historian-chronicler-of-renaissance..>
Mar 1, 1976 - 20, 1902, the son of Dr. Charles Bingham and Katherine Drexel Penrose, and the nephew and namesake of Senator Boies Penrose, a powerful ...

Penrose Gold Medal - Wikipedia

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Penrose_Gold_Medal ▼

The R.A.F. Penrose Gold Medal was established in 1923 and is awarded by the Society of Economic Geologists (SEG) to recognize a full career in the ...

The Penrose family has Biddle ancestry and were members of the 1800s Whig Party, favoring a central bank! We could do a whole other investigation on the Penrose family alone! Boies Penrose, Republican Senator from Pennsylvania very predictably voted for the Federal Reserve Act of 1913!

Another daughter of J.W. Drexel, Elizabeth Wharton Drexel (1868-1944) had as her third and final husband John Beresford (1866-1944; found in The Pilgrims London 1940) who was the 5th Baron Decies and she was then known as Baroness Decies. The Beresford fortune, quite vast in scope, rarely gets any attention from media who cover up such matters, includes the Beresford Building in Manhattan, a 23 story luxury apartment complex---

A Beresford estate in Ireland---

“Curraghmore” Estate in Ireland---on 400 square Kilometers of land---

The Beresford Magazine

Anthony Joseph Drexel (1824-1893) was the most important offspring of Austrian immigrant Francis Martin Drexel. Time now to consider Anthony Joseph D.! Yes; this is the same image we saw of him earlier, flipped horizontally; images of him are scarce---

“Noted for impact on World finances”

Anthony Joseph Drexel (1826-1893) - Find A...

findagrave.com

Businessman. He was a banker noted for the impact on world finances. At the age of 13 he started working in his father's banking offices. In 1863, after his father's death he closed the...

<https://prabook.com/web/anthony.drexel/140029>

(September 13, 1826 to June 30, 1893)

“He played a major role in the rise of modern global finance after the Civil War. As the dominant partner of Drexel & Co. of Philadelphia, he founded Drexel, Morgan & Company (later J.P. Morgan & Company) in New York in 1871 with J.P. Morgan as his junior partner. He also founded Drexel University in 1891.”

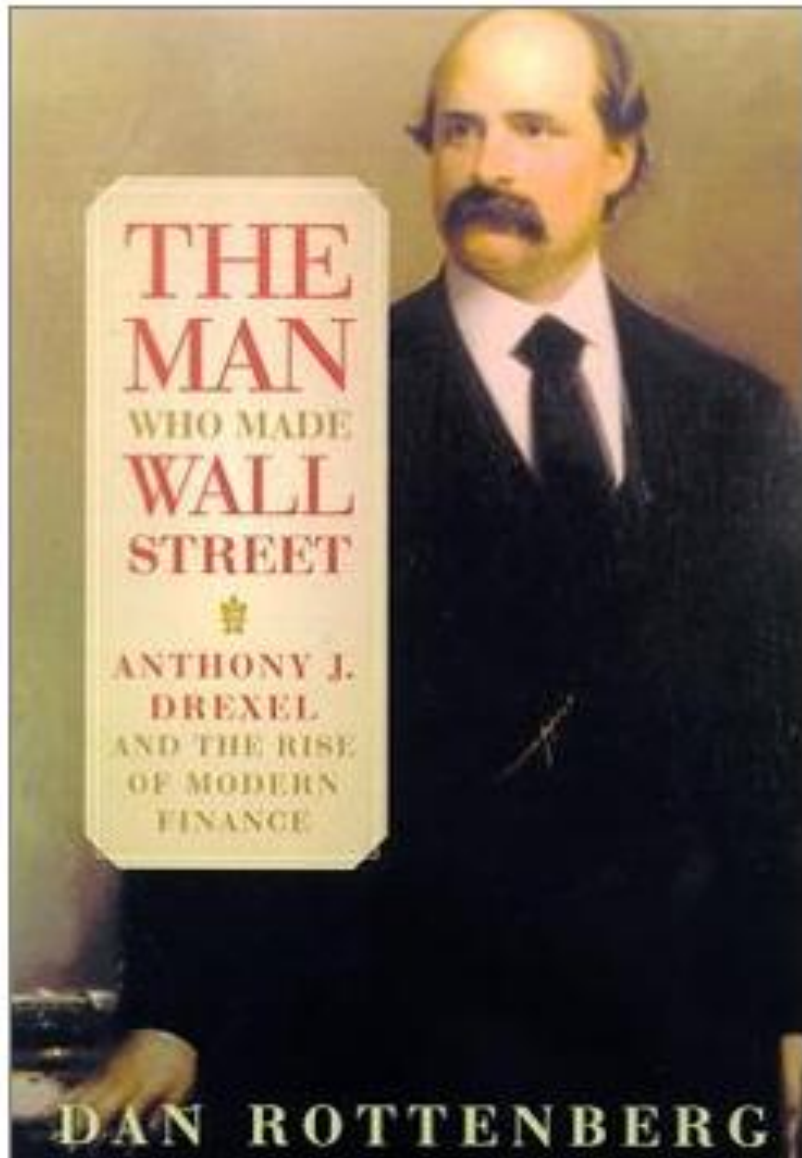

The Man Who Made Wall Street | Dan Rottenberg

www.upenn.edu/pennpress/book/13548.html ▼

Anthony J. Drexel and the Rise of Modern Finance ... “Drexel served as Morgan’s mentor and molded him into one of the world’s most powerful bankers.

Of Drexel & Company we read---
“The firm created a national capital market for industrial companies.”

2006 book; zero mention of Pilgrims Society---

Page 26 of “The Man Who Made Wall Street” mentioned that “The Whig” publication at Princeton New Jersey, August 9, 1836 had a notice promoting Francis Drexel’s services---

THE MAN WHO MADE WALL STREET

ANTHONY J. DREXEL
AND THE RISE OF MODERN FINANCE

“Drexels are prominently
Married” (page 178)

Page 203---

“The Drexels played a role
In Chicago’s early development” (Homes on South Drexel Boulevard in Chicago)

The prestige associated with the Drexel name at the time of A. J. Drexel's death produced marriages with so many wealthy and prominent families that Tony's blood descendants came to constitute a virtual financial-cultural-political clearing house for the Western world. At one time or another Drexels were related to Vanderbilts, Dukes, Roosevelts (both the Theodore and FDR branches), Bouviers, Biddles, Whartons, Wyeths, Whitneys, Mellons, Astors, Ingersolls, Cassatts, Cadwaladers, and Goulds, as well as the British nobility. By the end of the twentieth century only five American universities—Drexel, Vanderbilt, Duke, Brown, and Rutgers—were still linked to their founding families; all five families were related to the Drexels.

(Error; there's also Rockefeller University; Carnegie-Mellon University and others)

Page 27---Rottenberg shows he boot licks
Fiat currency bankers---“spare us” from Carrying PM? So paper currency can Be inflated to infinity? ---

Just as banks today issue credit cards to save customers the inconvenience of carrying cash, so the early American banks issued notes to spare customers the need to carry gold or silver.

Page 28 “The Man Who Made Wall Street”---

Within ten weeks of Jackson's departure from office in March 1837, thousands of banks and businesses from New Orleans to Boston had closed their doors, credit had virtually vanished from the United States, some parts of the country had been reduced to the simple process of barter, and even the government (whose own resources had disappeared as well) was reduced to printing currency to pay its clerks.

This corrupt author is like so many others; blaming
President Jackson for the Panic of 1837 when it

Was the central bank allied financiers who caused it!

DREXEL, MORGAN & CO.,
COR. BROAD & WALL STS., NEW YORK.

DREXEL, HARJES & CO.,
31 BOULEVARD HAUSSMAN, PARIS.

DREXEL & CO., Bankers,

CHESTNUT AND FIFTH STS., PHILADELPHIA, PA.

"DREXEL" BUILDING, PHILADELPHIA.

Commercial and Travelers' Letters of Credit issued.

Bills of Exchange on all parts of Europe bought and sold.

Cable Transfers made.

Buy and sell United States Bonds.

State, Municipal, and Railroad Securities negotiated.

First-class Investment Securities a specialty.

Orders for the purchase and sale of Stocks and Bonds on Commission executed at the Stock Exchanges of this country and Europe.

Deposits received subject to check at sight and interest allowed.

A General Banking Business transacted.

Drexel Building Philadelphia---

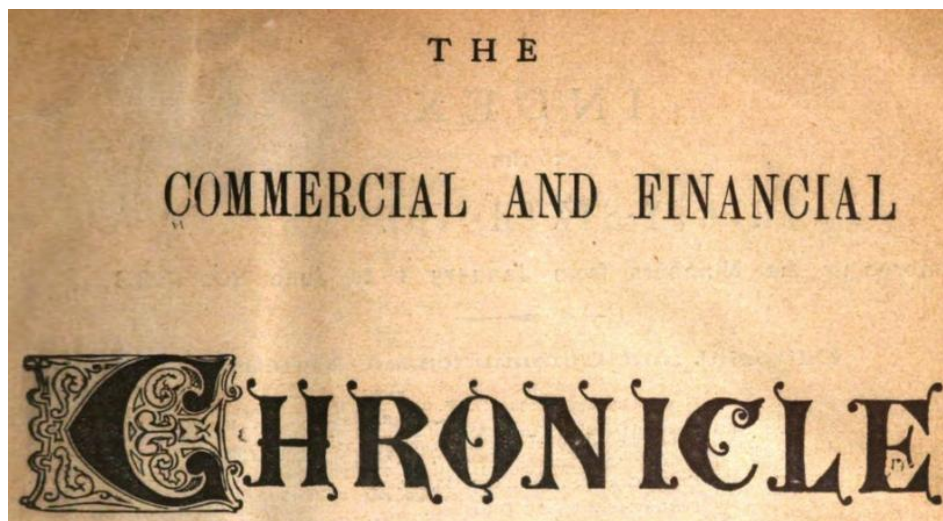

Page 724, Commercial & Financial
Chronicle, June 30, 1883---

—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company sells bonds bearing 4½ per cent interest. Messrs. J. S. Morgan & Co. in London, Drexel, Morgan & Co. in New York and Drexel & Co. in Philadelphia will offer simultaneously an issue of $5,000,000 of the direct bonds of the Pennsylvania Railroad, secured by the deposit in trust as collateral security of the mortgage bonds subsidiary lines of the par value of $12,500,000. The price is 97½, and subscriptions will open on Monday, July 2, at 10 A. M. and close on notification from London.

—Messrs. Winslow, Lanier & Co. advertise as usual a large list of railroad bonds and other securities which are specified in an advertisement on another page, on which they will pay interest and dividends on and after July 3.

THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD COMPANY

Drexel Building New York at Wall
Street and Broad Street circa 1905---

At this link we discover---

“Anthony Drexel, Sr. was a successful Philadelphia portrait painter until 1837. But his profession would not provide a living for his young son, Anthony Jr. So that year, according to The New York Times later, he “determined to engage in business as a broker in order to open up a career for his son.” On New Year’s Day 1838 he opened his small brokerage office “in which were laid the foundations of the enormous business” that would be eventually run by his son. Three years later the younger Anthony entered the business at the age of 13. He took on his father's ambitious and aggressive business nature. By the time of the California Gold Rush in 1848 Anthony Drexel Sr. left his son in charge of the firm while he traveled, often for extended periods."

"In 1850 the senior Drexel took advantage of the Gold Rush and established the firm of Drexel, Sather & Church in California. Simultaneously he opened a New York City house, Drexel & Co. Before long what had started out as a one-man operation was a leading force in American banking. "The house's business was always that of money lending on a gigantic scale," noted The New York Times in 1893, "and its timely help saved many a suffering corporation from bankruptcy, while it piled up the millions to its own credit, and strengthened year by year the already strong foundation of its tremendous trade." In 1869 Anthony Drexel, Jr. partnered with J. Pierpont Morgan whom he entrusted to run the New York branch which was renamed Drexel, Morgan & Co. In 1872 the powerful banking firm laid plans for a headquarters building that would turn heads. On March paid $250,000 (over $4.5 million today) in gold for the land at the southeast corner of Wall and Broad Streets. The Times reported on March 17, 1872 that "more money was paid for it than any other piece of ground of a similar area of which there is any record in any city in the world."

"Drexel, Morgan & Co. commissioned architect Arthur D. Gilman to design the structure which The Times predicted would be "magnificent." Work commenced on May 1, 1872 with an anticipated completion of April 1, 1873. The six-story building would be clad in gleaming white Vermont marble and while Gilman described the style as “Italian renaissance” it would be deemed French Second Empire today. There would be a grand mansard roof above the fifth floor cornice, crowned by a faceted cap at the corner. On either side dormers would line up with military precision. As the Drexel Building neared completion in April 1873 advertisements for office space appeared. Offices for “Corporations, Bankers, Lawyers &c.” were offered and the structure’s up-to-date accommodations were marketed. “Two elevators, two staircases, fire-proof, well ventilated and lighted, heated by steam; every modern convenience on each floor.”

“The advertisements did not touch on the upscale finishes and amenities. The New York Times remarked that the building was “finely finished throughout with black walnut and mahogany, marble floors, &c,” and said that the grand staircase was “one of the largest in New-York.” Above the main entrance were two larger-than-life statues representing Europe and America. Drexel Morgan

& Co. took nearly half of the ground floor and the remainder of the building filled quickly. a surprising number of railroad concerns moved in. Within the first few years the building became home to the Missouri Pacific Railroad offices, the New-Jersey and New-York Railroad Company, the Hackensack and New York Railroad Company, the New-York City and Northern Railway Company, and the Hackensack and New-York Extension Railroad offices. On September 4, 1882 the attention of the world was centered on the Drexel Building as inventor Thomas Alva Edison flipped a switch, illuminating 600 electric lights throughout the building. It was a ground-breaking moment that would jump-start the transition from gas to incandescent lighting.”

By June 1914 the Drexel Building was demolished and the new J.P. Morgan & Company Building was completed on the site---

Anthony Joseph Drexel (1826-1893)

married Ellen B. Rozet (1832-1891)
(A different source says 1829-1897) ---

One of her sisters married into The Livingston dynasty.

https://www.findagrave.com/memorial/13162046/ellen-b_-drexel

Ellen B. Rozet Drexel
BIRTH	1832
DEATH	27 Nov 1891 (aged 58–59)
BURIAL	Woodlands Cemetery Philadelphia, Philadelphia County,

She was married to Anthony Joseph Drexel and had the following children: Emily, Fannie, Mae, John, Anthony Joseph, and George William Childs Drexel. Her husband and she cared for the two daughters of Francis Anthony Drexel from the time of his wife's death in 1858 and his remarriage in 1860. The 1880 US Census identifies her birth year as 1837.

Buried in this crypt/mausoleum---

<https://www.houseofnames.com/rozet-family-crest>

First Rozets in North America arrived in 1673 in What's known as "French" Quebec.

Early Origins of the Rozet family

The surname Rozet was first found in Dauphiny (French: Dauphiné or Dauphiné Viennois), a former province in southeastern France, where the family has held a family seat since very early times.

DAUPHIN has a definition---the eldest Son of the King of France!

Rozet seems to have something to do with "rose" as in flower. Some records spell it Roset; the Drexels spell it Rozet so that's the correct form.

There isn't a lot of info available on this Rozet family. Indications are it's very old and aristocratic French nobility. That fits the pattern well. Another site mentions a Rozet family member as wealthy. The rich and powerful usually marry the rich and powerful.

Anthony Joseph Drexel and Ellen Rozet Drexel had nine children; two died very young. Emilie (1851-1883) married Edward Biddle III of the Biddle family associated with the second United States Bank (1816-1836). Frances Drexel (1852-1892) married James William Paul Jr. (1851-1908). Daughter of Frances and James was Mary Astor Paul (1889-1950) named Astor due to her father was brother in law of William Waldorf Astor. Continuing the review of the children of Anthony and Ellen Drexel we find Mae E. Drexel (1857-1886) married Charles T. Stewart. Sarah Rozet Drexel (1860-1929) married John R. Fell Sr. (1858-1895) and after his death she married secondly Alexander Van Rensselaer (1850-1933) whose family received Dutch colonial land grants of “millions of acres” in New Amsterdam (later New York state). Alexander V.R. became a Drexel Institute trustee in 1908 (name changed in 1969 to Drexel University). The Van Rensselaers have been well represented in The Pilgrims Society.

Sarah Drexel Fell Van Rensselaer
Page 173 “The Man Who Made Wall Street---

Tony's buxom, regal, eclectic daughter Sarah ("Sallie") Drexel Fell Van Rensselaer skillfully presided over Philadelphia society for more than thirty years from her mansion on Rittenhouse Square and from her court at Camp Hill, her suburban castle in Fort Washington. Sallie and her second husband Alexander Van Rensselaer were among the founders of the Philadelphia Orchestra in 1900; he served as its first president for thirty years. When they traveled the world, the Van Rensselaers were guests of the Japanese imperial family, the Court of St. James, the Rajah of Singapore, and the Viceroy of India. George Childs Drexel's wife Mary was another dominating Philadelphia grande dame, holding forth from her box at the Academy of Music until her death in 1948.

Stephen Van Rensselaer (1764-1839) was worth $101 billion in modern terms! Other sources say more!

He financed the Erie Canal and founded Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

https://www.findagrave.com/memorial/59356890/sarah-rozet-van_rensse-laer

MRS. ALEXANDER VAN RENNELAER

Mrs. Van Rensselaer is among the most prominent matrons of society in this city. She will give a dinner dance at her country seat, Camp Hill, Tuesday night, November 10, in honor of Miss Cordelia Biddle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle.

Sarah Rozet Drexel Van Rensselaer

BIRTH	28 Aug 1862 Philadelphia, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, USA
DEATH	3 Feb 1929 (aged 66) Whitemarsh, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, USA
BURIAL	Saint Thomas Episcopal Church Cemetery

The Pilgrims NYC 1919---

VAN RENSSELAER, CHAS. A.
VAN RENSSELAER, WILLIAM

Page 173 "The Man Who Made Wall Street"---

Anthony, Jr., by most accounts a man of intelligence and wit, moved to England and happily devoted himself to yachting (a hobby that cost him $250,000 a year), consuming fine food and wines, and collecting stamps and mistresses with royal chums like King Edward VII.

Queen Alexandra and King Edward VII, Royal Patron of
The Pilgrims Society from their founding in 1902 to His death in 1910---

Dark object in king's crown is a 170 carat red spinel.

HIS MOST GRACIOUS MAJESTY
KING EDWARD VII

Page 178---“The Man Who Made Wall Street” ---

. And in 1961 a descendant of Frank Drexel's in-laws, the Bouviers, was installed in the White House in the person of the First Lady, Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy.

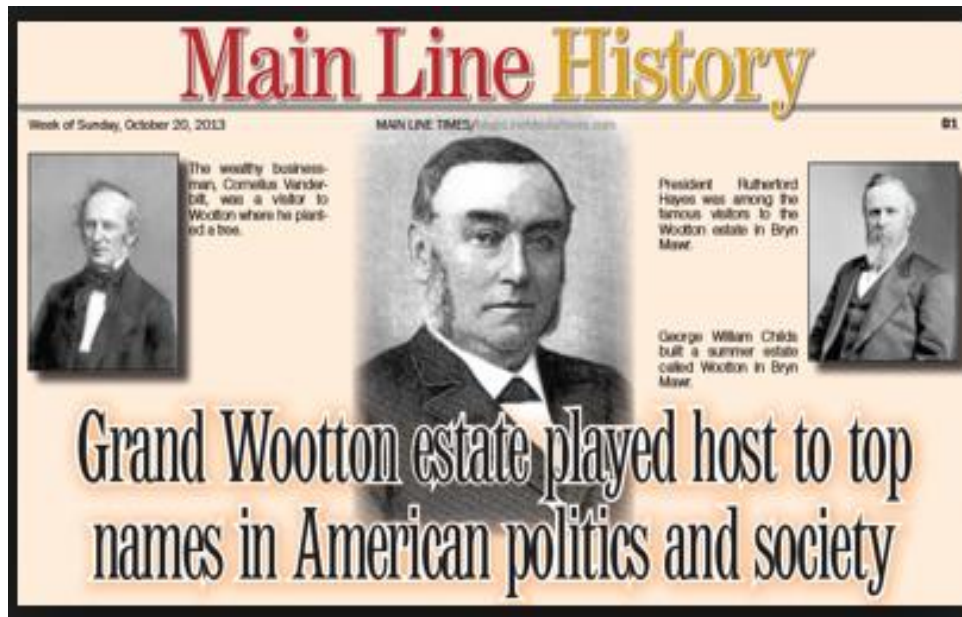

Another offspring of Joseph Anthony and Ellen Rozet Drexel we'll touch on, George William Childs Drexel (1868-1944) is described as a “banker, philanthropist, newspaper editor and publisher.” Find A Grave site says---

“He was the owner and editor of the Philadelphia Public Ledger. The paper was Philadelphia's premier newspaper at the turn of the century. His namesake and godfather, George Washington Childs (1829-1894), had made the Ledger a newspaper that was famous for its responsible and documented investigations of war profiteering and monopolies. Before it was absorbed in 1942 by a rival, The Philadelphia Inquirer, The Public Ledger was considered "the only newspaper any lady or gentleman should read" by Philadelphia society. As the death of his godfather's death in 1894, Drexel inherited Childs's estate, "Wootton" in Bryn Mawr.”

That’s a laugh, that the newspaper was after war profiteers and monopolists; more likely, it was after such operators as weren’t in on “The Plan,” meaning the British American universal government plan! Like his father, George William Childs Drexel was Episcopalian, regardless that the family originally in Austria was Roman Catholic. Another case of the Royals grabbing Papal territory! The “Grand Wootton” estate had 50 rooms and had an “impressive guest list of presidents, military heroes and business tycoons.”

George W.C. Drexel married Mary S. Irick, whose father was a Union Army General and a railroad developer in New Jersey.

Anthony Joseph Drexel Jr. (1864-1934) had as his parents Anthony Joseph Drexel (1826-1893) and Ellen Rozet Drexel (1832-1891). Anthony Drexel and Ellen Rozet married August 13, 1850.

Page 169 of “The Man Who Made Wall Street” ---admission the Drexels were antagonistic towards monetary silver---this was adding to their qualifications for eventual membership in The Pilgrims Society, and not only membership, but management too---

His letter now turned to business questions and to the burning political issue of the day: the populists' demand to increase the money supply through the free coinage of silver, which Tony opposed as an inflationary gimmick. Tony had long admired President Grover Cleveland's personal integrity;

Pilgrims Society media sources and Pilgrims Society sponsored economists in the 1930s, 1940s and 1950s repeatedly assailed silver certificate issuance as “inflationary” ---mind you, these former silver certs were our ONLY remaining backed currency after public ownership of gold was outrageously banned in spring 1933 by Pilgrims Society collaborator Franklin Roosevelt! Two of his sons became members as did his daughter in law, Tobie Roosevelt, a current Pilgrims member!

You can't search the entire book as only sections are available. My opinion is this passage was about Anthony J. Drexel Jr. (“Tony”); however, undoubtedly Drexel Senior and Junior were both hostile towards monetary silver! “America's 60 Families” (1937) by Ferdinand Lundberg, who appears to not have known about The Pilgrims organization, wrote on page 16 that the “Social Register” for 1934 listed 18 Drexels. Page 25 had Lundberg remarking “The Drexels claims to great wealth are well known.”

Anthony Joseph Drexel Jr.

July 14, 1905 New York Times---

Drexel Buys Rothschild's Yacht.

query.nytimes.com/gst/abstract.html?res...

John R. Drexel of Philadelphia has bought the steam yacht [], which belonged to the late Baron Nathaniel de Rothschild. The Veglia is a 1 steel screw steam yacht ...

A.J. Drexel Jr. married Margarita “of the Baltimore Armstrongs.” He was a “close friend of King Edward VII” and was a member of New York clubs---the Union, Knickerbocker and New York Yacht, but apparently not a Pilgrims member. Possibly a streak of latent Catholicism was holding the King back from admitting him into membership. Drexel’s sister in law became the mother of the Princess of Braganza (Portugal). A.J. Drexel Jr. and his wife were parents of Anthony Joseph Drexel II (1887-1946) who married Marjorie Gould, whose uncle Edwin Gould (1866-1933) was a member of The Pilgrims Society and son of “the most hated man in America,” Jay Gould (1836-1892) of railroad and gold corner infamy. Their son John Armstrong

Drexel (1891-1958) surprise, surprise! He became a member of The Pilgrims London (more on that to follow). Another son, Louis Drexel (1896-1962) became son in law to Sir Henry Grayson, an English shipbuilder. Some more on Drexel (1864-1934) ---

<https://www.findagrave.com/memorial/14193298/anthony-joseph-drexel> ---

International Banker. He was the son of financier Anthony J. Drexel. He was the first treasurer of the Board of Directors of the Drexel Institute of Technology. He entered into an unhappy marriage with Margarita Armstrong. Because of the unpleasantness of the divorce, he lived most of the rest of his life in France and England. They had several children: Anthony, Jr., Margaretta, John Armstrong, and Louis. Among his friends was King Edward VII of England.

Anthony Joseph Drexel Sr. ---curiously named senior
When his father was actually the senior A.J. Drexel---
Born September 9, 1864 died December 14, 1934---
The Drexels have very largely avoided
Being chronicled in "Who's Who" ---

He was older and heavier
Than previous image.
More from previous link---

International Banker. He was the son of financier Anthony J. Drexel. He was the first treasurer of the Board of Directors of the Drexel Institute of Technology. He entered into an unhappy marriage with Margarita Armstrong. Because of the unpleasantness of the divorce, he lived most of the rest of his life in France and England. They had several children: Anthony, Jr., Margareta, John Armstrong, and Louis. Among his friends was King Edward VII of England.

The Automobile Magazine
Volume 6, 1903, page 261.
No other web references
To a Jay Drexel Rockefeller;
Most likely a con job! ---

Jay Drexel Rockefeller, the richest man in America, offered him ten million dollars for the horse, and before the dawn of another day the plutocrat had taken Creeper (as he dubbed him) to his farm in California, and with his family all hanging on somehow, he went out for a five-mile ride.

(Something's wrong with the above blurb!)

WHO'S WHO IN PENNSYLVANIA

Page 189, "Who's Who In Pennsylvania" (1904) ---

DREXEL, Anthony J.:

Capitalist; born in Philadelphia; son of the late A. J. Drexel, banker. Married Margarita Armstrong. Member of Philadelphia and many other prominent clubs. At present traveling in Europe. Address, care Drexel, Harjes & Co., Paris.

John Rozet Drexel (1863–1935, a year older than A.J.D. II) who married Alice Gordon Troth (1865–1947) was by all appearances the most important offspring of Anthony Joseph Drexel and Ellen B. Rozet, because he's the connecting ancestor to our present focus member of The Pilgrims Society, John Rozet Drexel IV with his wife Jacqueline Astor Drexel, also a member as of the 2014 roster! According to <https://www.findagrave.com/memorial/104886143/alice-gordon-drexel> ---

Alice Gordon Troth Drexel was Matriarch of the Drexel Family, prominent art collector, a famed 'society climber' and an extremely wealthy heiress. Alice was the daughter of William Penn Troth and the former Clara Sharpless Townsend of Philadelphia and she was accustomed to all the gaiety and glittering entertainments her social class demanded. She married John R Drexel SR, son of Anthony Drexel who founded Drexel University, on April 27 1886. His wedding gift to her was $1 million in cash and boatloads of jewels. They had a son, John R II, and soon she went about spending the Drexel fortune. First came a large limestone palace on Fifth Avenue, built by Horace Trumbauer at a cost of $500,000. Then came a modest cottage in Newport, called Cliff Lawn, which was later given to John Jr. Then, a massive tudor mansion called Fairholme, built right down the street from Cliff Lawn. Following all of this was an endless supply of Jewels, clothes, antiques, paintings, yachts and parties.

John and Alice Drexel bought a valuable mansion in Paris and had costly homes in Newport Rhode Island, Philadelphia and New York. We read from the previous source of her habit of often spending $70,000 a day---

A typical day for her would be waking up, get dressed, have breakfast, change clothes, go shopping, spend $50,000, got out to lunch, spend another $15,000, go to a Parisian spa, go home, change for dinner, have dinner at a prominent hotel, spend $1,000 on dinner, go home, spend another $1,000 on way home, change clothes again, go for a drive, spend another $3,000, go back home, then go to bed. She was constantly ordering new furniture and antiques, and was always redoing her townhouse. She almost daily ordered new clothes and had all of her food shipped from New York City.

<https://www.findagrave.com/memorial/104847293/john-rozet-drexel>

“John Rozet Drexel Sr was a prominent socialite in New York City, Newport and later Paris. He was born to Anthony Drexel, founder of Drexel University, and he grew up a lavish lifestyle in his hometown of Philadelphia. He inherited more than $23 million from his father. He married Alice Gordon Troth, who had grown up a life of complete excess and was accustomed to luxury. They had a son, John R Drexel II, who grew up at the family’s homes in New York City and Philadelphia and their summer cottage in Newport, called Fairholme. At the start of the Great Depression, Alice dragged John to Paris, where they bought a large townhouse and filled it with beautiful French antique furniture. They developed a large art collection and had a large addition added to house it. The collection grew so much that they bought the townhouse next door to house it. They also demolished the home behind them and built a large garden. John died in Paris in 1935.”

John Rozet Drexel (1863-1935) and his wife Alice Troth Drexel (1865-1947) ---

He was often called John R. Drexel I (the first).

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "John R. Drexel". The signature is written in dark ink on a light-colored background.

Finishing this account we read---

When she died in 1947, she left everything to her grandson. This included all of her money (in cash, $7 million), jewels, gems, paintings, silverware, gold, furs, clothes, personal affects, furniture, rugs, chairs, vases, artwork, statuary, sculptures, glassware, antiques, masterpieces, documents, personal papers, stock, interest, Paris property, New York property, Newport property, Philadelphia property and a large trust.

New-York Historical Society | Mrs. John R. Drexel, Sr. (d. 1947)

<https://www.nyhistory.org> > collections > Luce Center ▾

Alice Gordon Troth of Philadelphia was the daughter of William Penn Troth and Clara Sharpless (Townsend) Troth. Her husband was the son of Anthony J.

Page 209, “The Quaker Ogdens in America” (1898) --- Shows John and Alice Drexel were married in an EPISCOPALIAN ceremony---the dominant
Drexels converted from Roman Catholicism
To Episcopal/Church of England---reason Being they wanted to advance in the World power structure!

ALICE GORDON TROTH (Clara G. Townsend⁴⁷³, Samuel¹⁸⁴, Hannah Ogden⁸⁴, Samuel³⁰, Samuel⁶, David¹), b. 8 mo. 9, 1865; m., St. James' Prot. Epis. Church, Phila., by Rev. Dr. Morton, 4 mo. 27, 1886, JOHN ROZET DREXEL, eldest son of the late Anthony Joseph Drexel, banker, Phila., Pa., and Ellen Rozet, his wife. Res., New York City, N. Y. Oc. husb., broker and banker.

Children :

- 1460. LILLIAN MAE DREXEL, b. 6 mo. 9, 1889; d. 10 mo. 6, 1894.
- 1461. JOHN ROZET DREXEL, JR., b. 9 mo. 11, 1890.
- 1462. ALICE GORDON DREXEL, b. 1 mo. 20, 1892.
- 1463. GORDON PRESTON DREXEL, b. 1 mo. 10, 1895.

Page 189, “Who’s Who in Pennsylvania” (1904) ---

DREXEL, John R.:

Capitalist; born in Philadelphia. Married Alice G. Troth. Member Philadelphia and various other clubs. Address, 636 Fifth Ave, New York, N. Y.

He was unrevealing of himself to not specify which clubs; the leading ones in Philadelphia to be sure and most likely at least one near Wall Street in NYC since he gave a NYC address. Note spelling error "Troth" instead of Troth. The Philadelphia Club was founded in 1834

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Philadelphia_Club

<https://www.findagrave.com/memorial/104847293/john-rozet-drexel>

John Rozet Drexel Sr was a prominent socialite in New York City, Newport and later Paris. He was born to Anthony Drexel, founder of Drexel University, and he grew up a lavish lifestyle in his hometown of Philadelphia. He inherited more than $23 million from his father. He married Alice Gordon Troth, who had grown up a life of complete excess and was accustomed to luxury. They had a son, John R Drexel II, who grew up at the family's homes in New York City and Philadelphia and their summer cottage in Newport, called Fairholme. At the start of the Great Depression, Alice dragged John to Paris, where they bought a large townhouse and filled it with beautiful French antique furniture. They developed a large art collection and had a large addition added to house it. The collection grew so much that they bought the townhouse next door to house it. They also demolished the home behind them and built a large garden.

<https://www.geni.com/people/John-Drexel-I> ---

John Rozet Drexel, I

Birthdate:	March 03, 1863
Birthplace:	Philadelphia, Philadelphia, PA, United States
Death:	May 18, 1935 (72) Paris, Paris, Île-de-France, France
Place of Burial:	Philadelphia, Philadelphia, PA, United States
Immediate Family:	Son of Anthony Joseph Drexel, Sr. and Ellen B Drexel Husband of Alice Gordon Drexel Father of John Rozet Drexel, II Brother of Emilie Taylor Biddle; Sarah Rozet Van Renssalaer; Frances Katherine Drexel; Anthony II Joseph Drexel, Jr.; George William Childs Drexel and 1 other

John R. Drexel house on
62nd Street NYC--- (1903)

John Rozet Drexel II from all the information I have (semi-complete, some gaps) was like his father, never a member of The Pilgrims Society. He was connected to many members however. His son became a Pilgrims member and his grandson also became a member and the grandson is a current executive committee member. Before we focus on John R. Drexel III and his son Drexel IV, we want to look more at John Rozet Drexel II and we need a flashback to consider the Drexel Institute of Philadelphia founded in 1891 by Anthony Joseph Drexel (1826-1893) who was grandfather to J.R. Drexel II. In 1969 the Drexel Institute was rebranded as Drexel University.

<https://www.findagrave.com/memorial/104893334/john-rozet-drexel> ---

John Rozet Drexel, II

BIRTH	1890 Philadelphia, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, USA
DEATH	16 Mar 1936 (aged 45–46) Beacon, Dutchess County, New York, USA
BURIAL	Woodlands Cemetery Philadelphia, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, USA

John R Drexel II was a member of the Drexel family who loved flying (and crashing) planes. He was the extremely irresponsible son of John R Sr and Alice Troth. He grew up a life of extreme excess and spent his summers in Newport.

He married Elizabeth Thompson and they had a son, John R Drexel III, also known as Johnny, in 1919. It was that year that his father bought him his first plane, valued at $5,000. Soon after his first flight in the plane, John crashed it into a river. No matter, his father bought him another, this one valued at $9,000. 2 months later, John rammed the plane into the boathouse of his family's Philadelphia estate. The next two planes he crashed onto the driveway of his Long Island estate. The fifth he slammed into the side of his Newport home, Cliff Walk. The sixth and seventh both were banged into his neighbor's houses in Philadelphia. The eighth had a faulty propeller and it snapped while he was in mid-air, which resulted in him crashing it into his wife's flower garden at their home in Philadelphia. His ninth and final plane he rammed into the ground in a valley outside of Paris, where he was visiting his mother. This resulted in him being paralyzed from the waist down.

He died in 1957, with more than $50 million in his will. John had never really done anything in his life, and so his main source of income was the interest from his inheritance.

John Rozet Drexel, II (1890-1936) - Find A Grave Memorial

<https://www.findagrave.com> > ... > Philadelphia > Woodlands Cemetery ▾

John R Drexel II was a member of the Drexel family who loved flying (and crashing) planes. He was the extremely irresponsible son of John R Sr and Alice Troth.

John Rozet Drexel II, 1890-1936, although not deemed suitable for membership in the Royalist Pilgrims Society, nonetheless fathered John Rozet Drexel III who not only became a Pilgrims member but was on their executive committee as of 1969 and most likely earlier, and may have been a Pilgrims member as early as 1958. The gap between the 1957 and 1969 rosters is the biggest research data gap I have. Drexel II seems to not have had the necessary mentality to seek increases in his and his family's wealth. His son would reverse this course of complacency. Before moving along to consider John Rozet Drexel III (1919-2007) we need to have a look at the first Drexel to have become a Pilgrims member---John Armstrong Drexel (1891-1958), grandson of Anthony Joseph Drexel (1826-1893) who was the chief mentor to the original John Pierpont Morgan Senior (1837-1913).

FIRST DREXEL IN THE PILGRIMS SOCIETY!

John Armstrong Drexel
1891-1958

John Armstrong Drexel (1891-1958)
Was grandson of Anthony J. Drexel
(1826-1893) who was the Mentor of J.P. Morgan Senior---

John Armstrong Drexel - Wikipedia

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/John_Armstrong_Drexel ▼

John Armstrong Drexel (October 24, 1891 – March 4, 1958) was an American aviation pioneer who was a member of the prominent Drexel family of Philadelphia ...

Early life · Career

The Pilgrims London 1924---

Drake was with the British War Office---

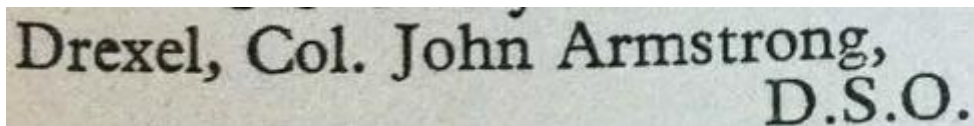

Lieut.-Col. R. J. Drake, D.S.O.
Col. John A. Drexel, D.S.O.

The Pilgrims London 1940---

Drexel, Col. John Armstrong
D.S.O.
du Cros, Captain George

Du Cros was son of the founder of Dunlop Tire Company & showed USA manufacturers how to Make pneumatic tires.

The Pilgrims London 1945---

Drexel, Col. John Armstrong,
D.S.O.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/John_Armstrong_Drexel

John Armstrong Drexel was a partner in William P. Bonbright & Company, securities and merchant banking, along with August Belmont IV. Drexel was a director of Anglo South American Bank. Belmont IV was grandson of August Belmont Jr. who was an original Pilgrims member in New York in 1903; his father was chairman of the Democrat National Committee! From "Michigan Manufacturer & Financial Record" March 18, 1914, page 26--- and attractive return. The properties in which William P. Bonbright & Company are interested embrace nearly every state in the Union as well as parts of Canada and Mexico.

MICHIGAN
MANUFACTURER
AND FINANCIAL RECORD

William P. Bonbright & Co.....

BANKERS AND BROKERS

29 NORTH TEJON AND 107 EAST KIOWA STREETS
COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO.

Mines and Mining Stocks, Bonds, Mortgages, Real Estate

AND A GENERAL BANKING AND INVESTMENT BUSINESS..INTEREST ALLOWED ON MONTHLY BALANCES AND TIME DEPOSITS

LONDON OFFICE: 15 George Street, Mansel House, E. C.

John Armstrong Drexel as we saw was a director of Anglo South American Bank, of which Wiki says---

“A part of the vast financial network supporting the British Empire, it was an overseas bank with its head office in London, and the bulk of its operations abroad.”

ANGLO-SOUTH AMERICAN BANK, LIMITED
New York Agency, 49 Broadway

Other branches in

Paris	Argentina
Bradford	Chile
Manchester	Peru
Mexico	Uruguay

Anglo South American Bank had Tentacles all over South and Central America---

The Pilgrims 1954 London---Drake appears to be a Member of the family line of Sir Francis Drake who Raided Spanish silver on the oceans starting in 1572---

1953	Drake, A. E. C., C.B.E.
1922	Drexel, Colonel John Armstrong, D.S.O.

The Pilgrims London 1957---

Drexel, Colonel John Armstrong, D.S.O.
Drysdale, Sir Matthew Dudley, The Earl of

The Earl of Dudley---

Drysdale was chairman of Lloyd's of London and a director of the silver antagonistic Barclay's Bank. The Earl of Dudley was a two time member of Parliament (his daddy was Governor General over Australia) and held interests in coal and steel. He married into the family of the Dukes of Sutherland who represented fantastic wealth, often being called "leviathans." William Dudley associated with the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and by now a possible member of The Pilgrims NYC is an offshoot!

We are now ready to examine John Rozet Drexel III (1919-2007), Pilgrims Society executive committee 1969 roster---as soon as we review another member of The Pilgrims; a man with lineage of Biddles, Drexels and Livingstons!

DREXELS CONNECTED TO BIDDLES OF 2ND UNITED STATES BANK!

Anthony Joseph Drexel Biddle Jr., (1897-1961), Pilgrims Society, “Democrat,” was Ambassador to nine (9) countries (1933-1961; received decorations from 15 countries) whose GG Father was Nicholas Biddle, president of the THIEVING second United States Bank, gold and silver suppressors---regardless that his bio info following doesn’t so state, he was sigh, another Episcopalian and more confirmation of the dominant pattern in The Pilgrims United States---ahh yes, he was also a Democrat as The Society maintains top influence in both parties---we are told he was “born into a respectable family with a strong Philadelphia name,” oh really? His ancestor Nicholas Biddle, after President Jackson shuttered the second United States Bank (central bank), gathered up lots of its paper notes (worthless currency) and proceeded to exchange them for lots of land across Pennsylvania from people he was able to awe, slick and con! AJDBJR was a member of the “visible” Pilgrims Society, an outer ring known as the Order of the British Empire. Lots of highly placed Americans (“globalists”) are members---vaccine huckster Bill Gates and gun grabber Mike Bloomberg!

The Pilgrims NYC 1957---

Biddle, Major General Anthony J. Drexel

His first marriage was to Mary Lillian Duke and thereby became son in law to Benjamin Newton Duke (1855-1929) who was a charter member of The Pilgrims NYC in 1903---

His mansion in Durham, North Carolina---

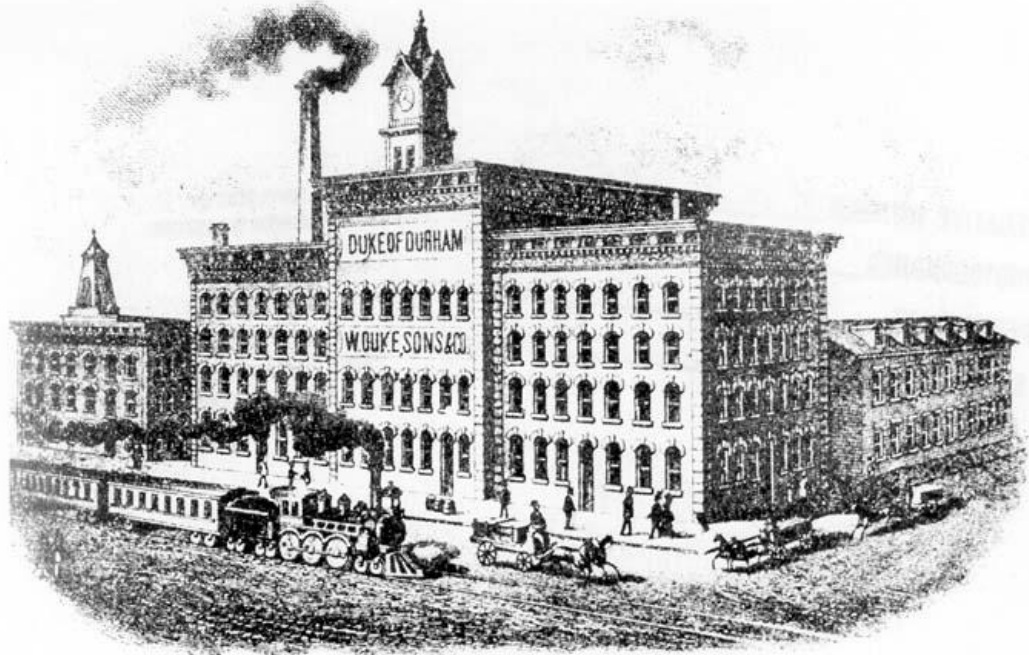

His mansion in New York City---

Duke was very wealthy via inheritance (and expansion) of tobacco, railroads, banks, electric power and other enterprises. The $3.7 billion Duke Endowment bears the family name, as does Duke University ($8.5 billion endowment) and Duke Energy (29,000 employees). Ferdinand Lundberg in "America's 60 Families" (1937) remarked on page 357---

"THE GREATEST SECRECY SURROUNDS THE DUKE ENDOWMENT. THE DUKE ENDOWMENT DOES NOT WANT ITS INNER OPERATIONS SCRUTINIZED."

This Duke family that Anthony Joseph Drexel Biddle Jr. married into? It controlled the planet's biggest tobacco company, the American Tobacco Company, organized as another infamous "trust" in 1890. An earlier industrial plant they owned---

His info in the 1960-1961
"Who's Who in America" ---

A. J. Drexel Biddle, Jr.

BIDDLE, A. J. Drexel, diplomatic service (ret.); b. Philadelphia, Dec. 17, 1896; s. A(nthony) J(oseph) Drexel and Cornelia Rundell (Bradley) B.; grad. St. Paul's Sch., N.H., 1915; LL.D., Temple U., 1938, Drexel Institute of Technology, 1955; married Mary Duke; married 2d, Margaret Thompson Schulze, 1901; m. 3d, Margaret Atkinson Loughborough, 1946. Engaged in shipping business; mining bus., South Africa, 1931-34; minister to Norway, 1935-37; ambassador to Poland, 1937. Accompanied Polish govt. in forced move from Warsaw to several capitals in Poland, 1939, and to Angers, France. Interim ambassador, France, 1940, when French govt. moved seat to Tours, then to Bordeaux; A.E. and P. to govts. Poland, Belgium, Netherlands, Norway, Greece, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, also minister to Luxembourg, 1941-44; ret. from diplomatic service, 1944. Chmn. Pa. Aeros. Commn., State Armory Bd., Govtl. Reorgn. Commn.; ex-officio mem. State Vets. Commn.; ex-officio mem. bd. trustees Soldiers and Sailors Home; trustee Temple U. Asst. sec. Dem. nat. conv., Phila., 1936. Served with U.S. Army, 1917-18, advancing to capt.; active duty as lt. col., U.S. Army, 1944, advancing to brig. gen., 1951; dep. chief European allied contact sect. SHAEF; chief allied contact sect. USFET, 1945, EUCOM, 1946-48; dep. fgn. liaison officer, Gen. Staff Corps, Dept. Army, Washington, 1948, fgn. liaison officer, 1950-51; exec. Nat. Mil. Reps., SHAPE, 1951-53; spl. asst. to chief of staff Dept. Army, Washington,

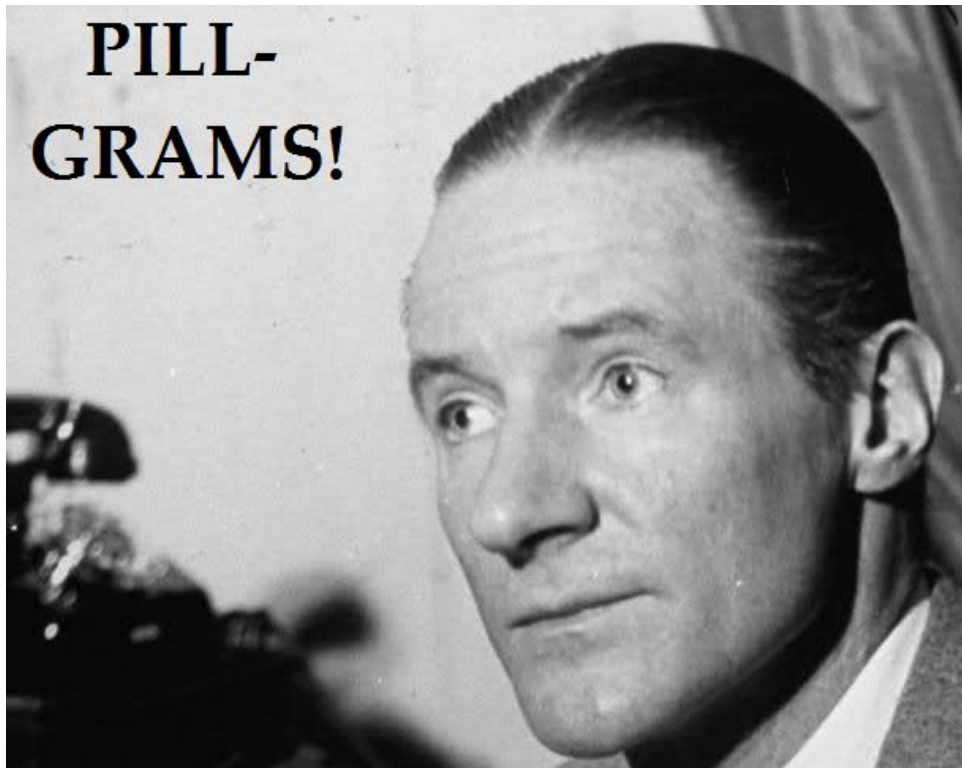

His first marriage to Mary Duke had him as son in law to His second marriage to Margaret Thompson Schulze (her second hubby) acquired for him as a father in law, famous mining magnate William Boyce Thompson (copper, zinc, lead, silver) who was born in Virginia City Nevada (not found in assorted Pilgrims rosters; info is incomplete). His third marriage was to a woman who was with a United Nations agency.

51; exec. Nat. Mil. Reps., SHAPE, 1951-53; spl. asst. to chief of staff Dept. Army, Washington, 1953-55; now adj. gen. Pa., with rank maj. gen. Pres. Assn. U.S. Army, 1958. Recipient Meritorius Service medal State of Pa., for cementing Polish-Am. relations; Pa. Distinguished Service medal, 1958; Legion of Merit (U.S.); Palmes d'Academie, Legion of Honor, Croix de Guerre with palm (France); Grand Cross Order of White Lion, Medal of Merit (1st class) (Czechoslovakia); Medal of Valor, Gold Cross of Merit with crossed swords, Grand Cross Polonia Restituta (Poland); Order Cross of Yugoslavia, Medal of Merit (1st class) (Yugoslavia); Grand Cross Order of St. Olaf (Norway); Officer Order of Leopold I, Mil. Order (1st class) (Belgium); Order Brit. Empire; Commenda dell' Ordine della Corona d'Italia (Italy); Comdr. Order Couronne de la Chêne (Luxembourg); Grand Cross Orange-Nassau (Netherlands); Grand Cross Royal Order of Phoenix (Greece); Medal of Mil. Merit (1st class) (Mexico); Order of Merit (Brazil); Comdr. Order of St. Charles (Monaco). Clubs: Philadelphia, Racquet and Tennis (Phila.); Brook, Knickerbocker, Union, Racquet and Tennis, River (N.Y.C.); Travelers (Paris). Mem. Am. court tennis teams competing for Bathurst Cup, 1932, 33, 34; winner court tennis championship, France, 1933. Address: The Adjutant General of Pa., IGMR, R.D. 2, Annville, Pa.

He was a member of five Manhattan Clubs well interlocked with The Pilgrims; which notice he decided to exclude from his info! Among his numerous strings to pull were chairman of Pennsylvania Aerospace Commission, Pennsylvania State Armory and trustee of Temple University---

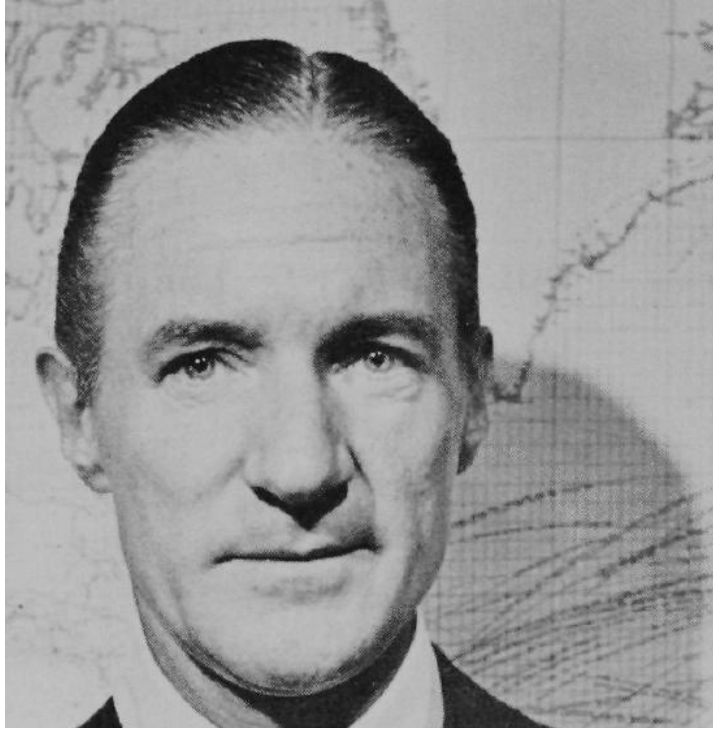

He gave the Drexel family its first representation (Maternally) in The Pilgrims USA by 1957; he May have been a member by 1955---

He provided intelligence that contributed to the planning of “Operation Overlord,” the Allied invasion of Europe late in World War Two. He was the featured character in the 1967 Disney Pictures release, “The Happiest Millionaire.” It was adapted from a 1955 book entitled “My Philadelphia Father” by Cordelia Drexel Biddle Duke.

Drexel Biddle posing by a map of Greenland---

<https://alchetron.com/Anthony-Joseph-Drexel-Biddle-Jr> ---

Drexel Biddle Jr. was on General Eisenhower's staff during WW2; The Pilgrims NYC 1957 shows Eisenhower as "honorary" president of The Pilgrims USA.

According to this link

https://prabook.com/web/anthony_joseph_drexel_biddle.iii ---

His son was with Chase Manhattan Bank (1975-1981 and again in 1989 to 1998) and in 1998 was an adviser to the United Nations Conference on Climate Change; during 1982 to 1989 he was with Drexel, Biddle & Company in Philadelphia and has been involved with Constitution Cruise Lines; Flint Hills Drilling Company; ELM Capital; Hanseatic Group; Resicontrol Brazil; U.S. Environmental Export Council; Army-Navy Club in DC (site of many Silver Users Association annual meetings) ---see link above--- Other Biddle family members have been in The Pilgrims (Berwind was the planet's biggest coal mining magnate) and a director of Morgan Guaranty Trust; can you get the picture? OTHER wealthy people are on the world finance stage; NOT "ROTHSCHILD ONLY!" ---

The Pilgrims NYC 1924---Biddle was
Also in 1926, 1927 and 1933---

S. Reading Bertron
Edward J. Berwind
Samuel R. Betts
David H. Biddle

EDWARD JULIUS BERWIND
PRESIDENT BERWIND-WHITE COAL MINING CO.
BITUMINOUS STEAM COALS

Berwind mansion in Providence Rhode Island---

Interior was lavish beyond belief and had Megamillions in original paintings---

According to this link ---

“In this residence, the Berwinds received the most prominent people of their time, be they political figures such as Theodore Roosevelt, Kaiser Wilhelm II of Germany, Prince Wilhelm of Sweden, or others like their friend Elizabeth Wharton “Bessie” Drexel (1868-1944).”

Bertron was chairman of American-Russian Chamber of Commerce (helped market Bolshevik Bonds, along with other Pilgrims members Alvin Krech, Charles P. Coleman and Albert

Wiggin) which saved the Russian Reds from losing control in the 1920s; Bertron admitted to being in Skull & Bones Society; he omitted mention of his membership in The Pilgrims! (“Who’s Who in America” 1928, page 283). The Pilgrims are the senior society; NOT BONES! The Pilgrims covers America; Bones is limited to ONE major university (and the Harvard endowment is billions larger!) Bertron of 40 Wall Street was a director of Bertron, Griscom & Company (Griscom was a member); San Juan Puerto Rico Sugar Company; Wire Wheel Corporation of America; Atlantic Safe Deposit; New York Indemnity Company; National Surety Company; United Gas & Electric; Electric Bond & Share Company; International Equities Corporation; others (“Who’s Who in America,” 1928, page 283---

Livingston Ludlow Biddle (1877-1959) was Anthony Joseph Drexel Jr.’s brother; showing linkage to the great Livingston dynasty.

Craig Biddle (1879-1947) was uncle of Anthony Joseph Drexel Biddle Jr.; Craig “traveled extensively in Europe, socializing with European nobility and royalty.” Craig’s daughter Laura married into the old line Dutch colonial Rhinelander family (Pilgrims Society) possessed of large landholdings dating back to the 1600s. Among the genealogical Rhinelander links are to the Duke of Braganza (Portuguese royalty).

In connection with Anthony J. Drexel Biddle Jr. we must mention Angier Biddle Duke (1915-1995) having a genealogical tie to this Pilgrims member we just looked at; these genealogies become tedious but are always meaningful (A.B. Duke was his nephew); what better way to bind a spiderweb together than by linkage to the same family tree? Like his older relative, Angier Biddle Duke was a “Democrat” and traced to Nicholas Biddle, president of the second United States Bank (1816-1836) demolished by President Jackson. Wiki states---

“Angier Biddle Duke (November 30, 1915 – April 29, 1995) was an American soldier, diplomat in the United States Foreign Service and a White House aide. In 1952, at age 36, he became the youngest American ambassador in history when he was appointed to be the U.S. Ambassador to El Salvador. Duke was born in New York City. His father was Angier Buchanan Duke (1884–1923) and his mother was Cordelia Drexel Biddle, later

Cordelia Biddle Robertson. Angier Buchanan Duke was an heir to the American Tobacco Company fortune while Cordelia Drexel Biddle was a member of the Biddle family who were prominent in business, political and cultural affairs in Philadelphia. Angier Biddle Duke's only sibling was Anthony Drexel Duke (1918–2014). After separating in 1918, Duke's parents divorced in 1921. His paternal grandfather was Benjamin Newton Duke (1855–1929), a major benefactor of Duke University and brother of James Buchanan Duke, himself the father of Doris Duke, Angier's cousin. His maternal grandfather was Anthony Joseph Drexel Biddle, Sr. Through his mother he was a great-great-grandson of banker Anthony Joseph Drexel. Duke attended St. Paul's School in Concord New Hampshire. He dropped out of Yale University in 1936.”

(St. Paul's School is Episcopalian; current tuition $60,000).

“In 1979, the administration brought him back again to serve as the U.S. Ambassador to Morocco, a position he held until 1981 when he was succeeded by Joseph Verner Reed, Jr. following Ronald Reagan's election to President. From 1992 to 1995, Duke served as the elected president of the Council of American Ambassadors. In 1936, he married Priscilla Avenal St. George (1919–1995). She was the daughter of George Baker Bligh St. George and Katharine St. George, a member of the U.S. House of Representatives from New York. Her maternal grandmother, Catherine Delano Collier, was the younger sister of Sara Delano Roosevelt, the mother of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt and her great-grandfather was George Fisher Baker, the financier and philanthropist. Her father was the grandson of Robert St George, himself the son of Sir Richard Bligh St George, 2nd Baronet Before their divorce in August 1940, they were the parents of:

“Angier "Pony" St. George Duke (1937–2014), who married Mary Ellen Haga in 1973. He was known for infecting Margaret Housen with gonorrhea in 1970.”

(Note that George Fisher Baker was an original Pilgrims member in NYC in 1903 while J.P. Morgan Senior was not until 1910! And that Baker was personally much wealthier than Morgan and more influential in the railroad industry!)

“Following their divorce, Priscilla married State Senator Allan A. Ryan, Jr. (1903–1981) in 1941. In November 1940, the 26 year old Duke married the 34 year old Margaret Screven White immediately after her divorce from J. M. Tuck. Margaret had also been married to Fitzhugh White and was the daughter of Franklin Buchanan Screven, great-granddaughter of Admiral Franklin Screven, commander of the Confederate USS Merrimack, and a descendant of Thomas McKean, a signer of the Declaration of Independence.”

“They divorced in 1952; the same year Duke married Maria-Luisa de Arana of Spain. She was the daughter of Isabella de Zurita and Dario de Arana and the granddaughter of the 10th Marquis de Campo Real, members of the Basque nobility of Bilbao. His third wife died in a plane crash in 1961.”

Maria-Luisa Duke (b. 1954) and Drexel Dario Duke (b. 1957).

“In 1962, he married Robin Chandler Lynn (1923–2016), who served as the United States Ambassador to Norway during the Clinton administration. She had previously been married to Jeffrey Lynn, the actor and film producer, and was the daughter of Richard Edgar and Esther Chandler Tippet. They lived together at 740 Park Avenue in New York. Robin and Angier remained married until his death in 1995. Angier Biddle Duke, Jr. (b. 1963). Duke died at age 79 from being struck by a car while rollerblading.”

Advertisement circa 1949---

Served at DUKE FARM, SOUTHAMPTON, N.J.
THE SUMMER RESIDE OF
Mr. and Mrs.
Angier Biddle Duke

YOU HEAR IT EVERYWHERE...
“finest beer served ...anywhere!”
Your Taste will tell you why!

Internationally
 Famous Pabst
Blue Ribbon

© 1962 Pabst Brewing Company, Milwaukee, Wis.

Angier Biddle Duke (right) with President Kennedy circa 1962---

Angier Biddle Duke in hat with King of Saudi Arabia---

Angier Biddle Duke in State Department office---

He was on Duke University Development Board.
He seems distressed thinking about commoners!

The NY Times, May 22, 2014, speaking of his younger Brother (applies to him also) remarked---

In 1915, when Mr. Duke's parents were married in Philadelphia before 1,200 guests, their union made headlines for the fact that "one of the oldest and richest Philadelphia families was united with one of the richest families of the South," as The New York Times reported.

Three CROWN LOYALIST dynasties!

Descended from three American dynasties, Mr. Duke was reared "in a milieu of townhouses, country estates, private railroad cars and servants," as The Saturday Evening Post wrote in 1955.

The 1974-1975 “Who’s Who in America” page 854 shows Angier Biddle Duke was president of Duke International Corporation (1945-1948) and at that time he was a trustee of Westminster College (founded in 1852 in Pennsylvania) and Institute of American Universities at Aix-en-Provence France; chairman of Neuwirth Investment Fund. The 1994 “Who’s Who in America” pages 941-942 showed as of 1988 he was president of the Duke Family Association; he was a trustee of Long Island University (1981-1990); president during 1978-1979 of the National Committee on American Foreign Policy; chairman since 1981, World Affairs Council of Long Island.

His World Affairs Council info---

The Board

Founder: The Honorable Angier Biddle Duke

Angier Biddle Duke, 79, an Ambassador And Scion of Tobacco Family

<https://www.nytimes.com/.../angier-biddle-duke-79-an-ambassador-and-scion-of-tobacc...>

May 1, 1995 - Former Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger praised him, <https://us-jf.org/about-the-foundation/history/>

1980 image from United States/Japan Foundation shows Angier Biddle Duke And wife Robin with Japanese shipbuilding Magnate Ryoichi Sasakawa---they created This group in 1981 working with the Trilateral Commission, run by fellow Pilgrims member David Rockefeller Who was often called “chairman Of the world’s cash flow” ---

米日財団

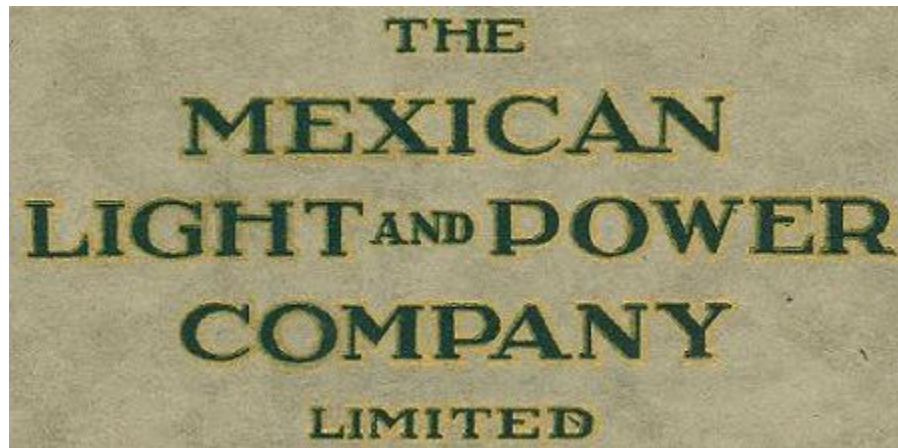

United States-Japan Foundation

The Pilgrims NYC 1957---

Draper, Jr., Major Gen. William H., USAR, D.S.M., M.M.
Dryfoos, Orvil E.
Duke, Angier Biddle
Dulles, The Hon. John Foster (Secretary of State of the U. S.)

Dryfoos was a New York Times official and son in law of another member and publisher of the NYT, Arthur Sulzberger; both were Jews in this Episcopalian majority Pilgrims Society. Remember it's also the advertisers who influence editorial and reporting policy not only the execs. Note the high USA officials in The Pilgrims Society, which we never hear anything about (most especially NOT at U.S.A. Watchdog! Hunter used to be employed by Pilgrims Society interests! Major Generals, Secretaries of State, Ambassadors and more in this unknown can; never any mention anywhere!) Draper was with National City Bank, Bankers Trust and Dillon Read & Company. In 1965 Draper cofounded the Population Crisis Committee with Pilgrims Society member Lamot Du Pont Copeland, associated with the world's largest industrial silver user. Draper also became chairman of Mexican Light & Power Company (1954-1959) after which they made him chairman of Combustion Engineering (1960-1964). He was a member of the Army-Navy Club in D.C., site of many Silver Users Association meetings. Draper was also the first USA Ambassador to North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Heavy hitters, these Pilgrims Society members, a matter of no interest whatsoever to the battalion of You Tube interview (sales and marketing) channels because I never charge a cent for my research! That makes me a BAD man!

The Pilgrims NYC 1990 shows Angier Biddle Duke and the father and son Drexels---that's so egotistical they listed him as "The Right Honorable," that's a purely British BS designation, shows how British the USA Pilgrims "lodge" is---Commander of the British Empire---

Angier Biddle Duke's wife, Robin Chandler Duke was listed as a Pilgrims member by the 2002 roster (very likely by 1996) --- notice Anthony Drexel Duke---younger brother of Angier Biddle

Duke. A.D. Duke (deceased 2014) was a governor of the Maidstone and Piping Rock clubs and in realty investments--- page 40 of “The Pilgrims of Great Britain” (short run book, 2003), page 40 mentioned “the American Pilgrims had a ten year waiting list,” and Anthony Drexel Duke probably waited the full decade to be admitted---however, “The Pilgrims of the United States” (2003) page 28, shows that as of 1976, the USA branch had 104 (conspirators) on a seven year waiting list. To date, I have yet to see any leaked waiting list---

Dupee in a few words is---the most influential Free Mason in the Western hemisphere; he ties so many societies together it can make you dizzy contemplating it! Dupee---

Duke, Anthony Drexel
Duke, Mrs Angier Biddle
Dupee, Matthew D

The Stowe Vermont Reporter which the Biddle-Duke family owns reported on February 11, 2016 that in 1959 she arranged for then Vice President Nixon and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev during a Russian tour to each pose with a Pepsi in their grasp. We also notice---

While arranging an exhibit of Peruvian Inca gold at the Pepsi building on Park Avenue, she met Angier Biddle Duke. They married in 1962 and lived in Washington, D.C., where he was chief of protocol for President John F. Kennedy. Mr. Duke's family made its fortune in tobacco and founded Duke University and Duke Energy.

Market cap on 2/19/19 = $64 billion---

Following the death of JFK, Duke worked alongside her husband, who was ambassador to Spain, Denmark and Morocco before moving to London. There, Duke became co-chair of Population Action International (1975-96), formed in response to the growing economic and environmental challenges of the global population explosion.

They have a eugenics goal of taking world population

Down below 500 million Crown serfs!

Duke became a trustee of the International Planned Parenthood Federation and president of the National Abortion Rights Action League's Pro-Choice America and the National Abortion Rights Action Committee and consultant for the United Nations Fund for Population Activities. She spent 30 years advocating for women's access to birth control, family planning, family health care and education.

Duke was a board member, trustee and chair of numerous corporate, foundation and organization boards, including the U.N. Association of the United States, Guggenheim Foundation, Rockwell International, American Home Products Corp., International Flavors and Fragrances, Emigrant Savings Bank, Worldwatch Institute, Charles A. and Anne Morrow Lindbergh Foundation, Millennium David and Lucile Packard Foundation, US-Japan Foundation, World Affairs Council and the advisory board of the Tolstoy Foundation, among many others.

Among the “many others” she was a trustee of the World Childhood Foundation, which causes some disquietude to contemplate! Naturally the above account omitted to mention her Pilgrims Society membership and that of her deceased husband! Robin Chandler Duke passed away at Bishop Gadsden Retirement Community---an EPISCOPALIAN institution! Note that she was a trustee of the Guggenheim Foundation, named for a Jewish mining dynasty who converted to EPISCOPALIAN! Even so, I’ve never found anyone with paternal nor maternal Guggenheim ancestry who was a Pilgrims member; but lots of non-Guggenheims surrounding the propulsion of that fortune, EPISCOPALIANS, who were Pilgrims members! For details on the Guggenheims see the August 2017 release

http://www.silvermarketnews.com/articles/VastMiningFortuneRepresented_Savoie082517.pdf

The Pilgrims

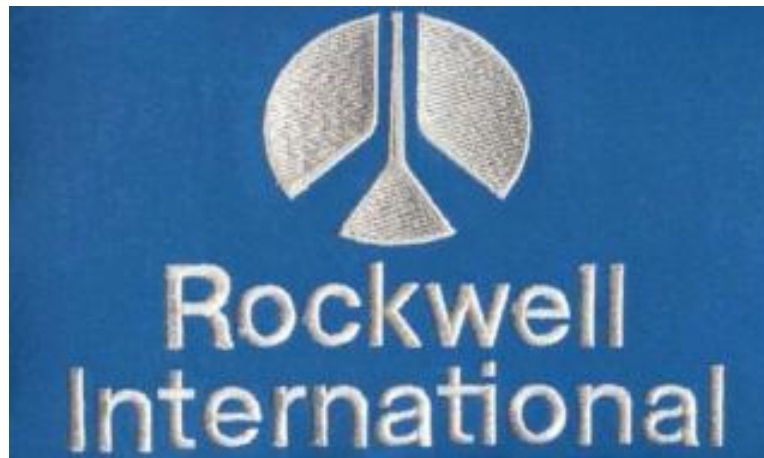

As to Robin Chandler Duke
(1923-2016) we need a Brief background---

According to more than one source; we'll use
<http://www.nndb.com/people/816/000124444/> ---

Robin Chandler Duke chaired the United States delegation to UNESCO in 1980, United Nations Educational, Scientific & Cultural Organization. During 1958 to 1962 she was V.P. for public relations at PEPSICO. (Elsewhere we find she handled their sugar futures.) Much more recently she became a fellow of the American Academy of Arts & Sciences; a member of the Council of American Ambassadors, of which her Pilgrims hubby was president; member of the Council on Foreign Relations (hubby also); she was a trustee of the David & Lucille Packard Foundation (Hewlett-Packard fortune); involved with Howard Dean for America campaign (radical Democrat); a member of Friends of Hillary (globalist Democrat and brown-noser of Crown Prince Charles, a Royal sponsor of The Pilgrims Society); a member of Gore 2000; a supporter of John Kerry for President (married into Heinz fortune, Pilgrims Society); a member of Kerry Victory 2004; a member of New Leadership for America Political Action Committee; she received the Margaret Sanger Award in 1997 (birth control, population reduction, abortion and eugenics); a past president of NARAL, National Abortion Rights Action League; former chair of Population Action International; member Democrat Congressional Campaign Committee; board of directors of American Home Products Corporation and Rockwell International, defense contracting giant---

The “Who’s Who in America” 2005, page 1248 shows she was a Rockwell Corporation board member during 1977 to 1995. The WWIA also showed she was at that time a director of East River Bank, United States-Japan Foundation, Institute of International Education and International Flavors & Fragrances ($4.6 billion assets 2017) ---an earlier director was J. George Harrar (Pilgrims Society) of the Rockefeller Foundation---

Not to think “this is far removed from silver suppression;” not at all, remember she was the wife of a man who descended from the president of the second United States Bank and was a PM antagonist, and also from Anthony Drexel, mentor of the original J.P. Morgan, whose name is now part of JP Morgan

Chase Bank! All these educational institutions these people are trustees of, in their economics faculties you'll find no support for remonetization of gold, much less for silver!

She passed away in 2016; she was still listed in The Pilgrims NYC roster 2014---asterisk indicates lifetime membership regardless of health conditions---

DuGan, Gordon F
Duke*, The Hon Robin C

We're finally ready now to progress to an overview of John Rozet Drexel III (1919-2007; Pilgrims Society executive committee 1969). But you want something on Gordon DuGan so as to not be left wondering! This member represents megabillions in commercial realty operations and has been associated with Superconducting Core Technologies. His entire profile (MINUS mention of his membership in The Pilgrims) is very extensive--- still one of the youngest Pilgrims members currently---his slot was arranged by earlier member William Polk Carey with whom he was associated---

<https://www.bloomberg.com/research/stocks/private/person.asp?personId=109213&privcapId=6452445>

JOHN ROZET DREXEL III
1919-2007 PILGRIMS
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

John Rozet Drexel III had for parents as we saw (refresher) John Rozet Drexel II, sometimes known as Drexel Jr. and Elizabeth Thompson. His mother lived 1896-1943. Drexel III, like David Rockefeller, graduated from Harvard, not Yale; and therefore, neither was EVER a member of Skull & Bones Society, which though important, is there to distract from The Pilgrims Society. Drexel III was a member of the New York Yacht Club (below); sources aren't interested in mentioning his activities in The Pilgrims Society!

<https://www.findagrave.com/memorial/131808020/john-rozet-drexel> ---

Born in New York City to John Rozet Drexel Jr. and Elizabeth Thompson, the great-great-great-grandson of Francis Martin Drexel, founder of Drexel & Company. His great-great grandfather Anthony J. Drexel founded Drexel University in Philadelphia in 1891.

Mr. Drexel spent much of his childhood in Neuilly, France, where his grandmother lived. Educated at St. Mark's School and graduated from Harvard in 1942, he married Mildred Sophia Noreen Stonor, the daughter of Lord and Lady Camoys of Stonor Park, Henley, England, at the beginning of World War II. The Drexels lived in New York City, Newport, Rhode Island and Palm Beach where he was on the board of the Good Samaritan Hospital. He served on the boards of numerous clubs: Spouting Rock Beach Association, Clambake Club and the Reading Room in Newport; the Bath and Tennis and Everglades Clubs in Palm Beach; and the Jupiter Island Club in Hobe Sound. He was a member of the Knickerbocker, Union and River Clubs in New York.

Father of Noreen, Pamela, Drexel and John Drexel IV and grand father to Andrew Bradford Hastings and James Drexel Walker, Nicholas Astor Drexel, and William James, Fergus John, Aidan Thomas and Finnian David O'Farrell; and three great grand children, Erin, Jordyn and Jackson Walker.

Father in law of John R. Drexel III was Ralph Stonor, the 5th Baron Camoys of Great Britain (1884-1968) who to the limits of my information (there are gaps) was not a member of The Pilgrims London. We will have another look at this Stonor family who hold title of Baron Camoys later since the 5th Baron Camoys was grandfather of the 7th Baron Camoys (naturally) and Baron # 7 did become a member of The Pilgrims London; and additionally because daughter of the 5th Baron Camoys was Mildred Noreen who married John R. Drexel III---

John Rozet Drexel III (1919-2007)

PILL-GRAMS!

Executive Committee!

Drexel III was The Pilgrims treasurer
For eleven years (from 2014 roster) ---

Treasurers
RAC SMITH	1903-1905
WM CURTIS DEMOREST	1906-1929
JOHN S ROGERS	1930-1934
ELIOT TUCKERMAN	1935-1953
CG MICHALIS	1953-1968
JOHN M SCHIFF	1968-1985
JOHN R DREXEL III	1985-1996
EBEN W PYNE	1996-2004
MINER H WARNER	2004-2005
THE HON ROBIN CHANDLER DUKE	2005-2010
PETER LAWSON-JOHNSTON	2010-

(Lawson-Johnston is the Episcopalian who took Over the giant Jewish Guggenheim mining and Smelting fortune after they converted to The Episcopal Church!

Drexel's wife Noreen lived
1922-2012

This was the mother of 2nd generation Pilgrims
Member John R.
Drexel IV.

Her God-daughter is Gladys Vanderbilt Szapary

Noreen Stonor Drexel - Social Register

<https://www.socialregisteronline.com/noreen-stonor-drexel>

... Millerton, NY, and Mrs. William J. O'Farrell Jr. (E. M. Noreen Drexel) of Jamestown, RI; seven grandsons; two great-granddaughters; and one great-grandson.

<https://www.socialregisteronline.com/noreen-stonor-drexel> ---

Mrs. John R. Drexel III (Hon. M. S. Noreen Stonor), 90, of Newport and Palm Beach died unexpectedly in Newport on November 6, 2012, after suffering a stroke.

Born the Honorable Mildred Sophia Noreen Stonor in Henley-on-Thames, England, in 1922, Mrs. Drexel was the youngest child of Ralph Francis Julian Stonor, 5th Baron Camoys, and the former Mildred Constance Sherman, of Stonor Park, England. Stonor Park has been in the family since the 11th century.

We'll have a look at Number Five Baron Camoys and his grandson
Number Seven Baron Camoys, who became a member of The Pilgrims of Great Britain back in 1978!

Mrs. Drexel came to Newport as a teenager on the eve of the Second World War with her mother, the daughter of William Watts Sherman, a prominent New York businessman and treasurer of the Newport Casino. On her American side, she was a descendant of Roger Williams, founder of Providence Plantations (renamed Rhode Island), and of Nicholas Brown, a Providence merchant and co-founder of what was to become Brown University. Her English ancestors were Roman Catholics who became Recusants when Henry VIII attempted to abolish the Catholic Church in England. Members of her family were severely punished for refusing to renounce their religion. As a result, Mrs. Drexel's family tree includes eight Roman Catholic saints.

W.W. Sherman was a member of the Saint Nicholas Society of New York, which very much is still in operation, and represents heritage of old-line Dutch Colonial wealth in New Amsterdam (renamed New York in 1664). That society is well interlocked with The Pilgrims. Sherman may have been related to the Treasury Secretary John Sherman and General William T. Sherman (haven't checked it out). W.W. Sherman was a partner in Duncan, Sherman & Company, what today we'd call a "boutique private investment bank" but the lead partner was William Butler Duncan who was president of The Pilgrims New York (1907-1912). Guess what! J.P. Morgan Senior was with Duncan. Sherman & Company for a time starting in 1857; the year of a financial panic! Duncan was chairman of the important Mobile & Ohio Railroad which eventually had 1,536 miles of railroad track. Roger Williams (1603-1683) as they noted founded what became Rhode Island. Nicholas Brown (1729-1791) held interests in an iron foundry, a distillery, tobacco and made a slave trading foray. A member of this same Brown family, Thatcher M. Brown III (Pilgrims 2014 and earlier lists) is at Brown Brothers Harriman (represents $4.2 TRILLION). The Brown lineage intersected with Bayards, Mellons, Vanderbilts, Goelets; no surprise. John Nicholas Brown II (1900-1979) was a member of The Pilgrims. His son John Carter Brown III (Pilgrims 1986) married Constance Mellon Byers; the same Pilgrims Society family as in the name of Bank of New York Mellon (represents $32 TRILLION; and NO ROTHSCHILDS!). J.C. Brown III's second wife was Pamela Braga Drexel---who---guess what---was the first wife of Pilgrims Society member John R. Drexel IV, since married to Jacqueline Astor! Braga is old Portuguese nobility! Finally from the preceding scan we note that the ancestors of Noreen Stonor Drexel remained Catholic after King Henry VIII of England founded his Protestant Anglican Church of England in AD 1534, and took heat because of it. In fact, the Stonors, formally known as the Earls of Camoys, remain Roman Catholic to this day; we shall probe as to why. We notice the obscure name “Braga” in several Pilgrims rosters. It traces to Portuguese nobility! Portugal colonized Brazil, bigger than Australia, and left their language there, and extracted vast mineral wealth in gold, diamonds and more.

Mrs. Drexel was born into circumstances that did not require her to do anything with her life, but do so she did. Early in her life she became chair of Bundles for Britain and headed the Newport War Bond Drive. She volunteered at the Newport Naval Hospital, where she had many jobs. Working in the motor pool as an ambulance driver, she was often on the scene of fires, hurricanes and other disasters. Her tenure at the Naval Hospital continued through the Second World War, the Korean War, and the Vietnam War.

Just like the Astors, the Drexels have war mongered to Support their “Pilgrim Partners” in Great Britain!

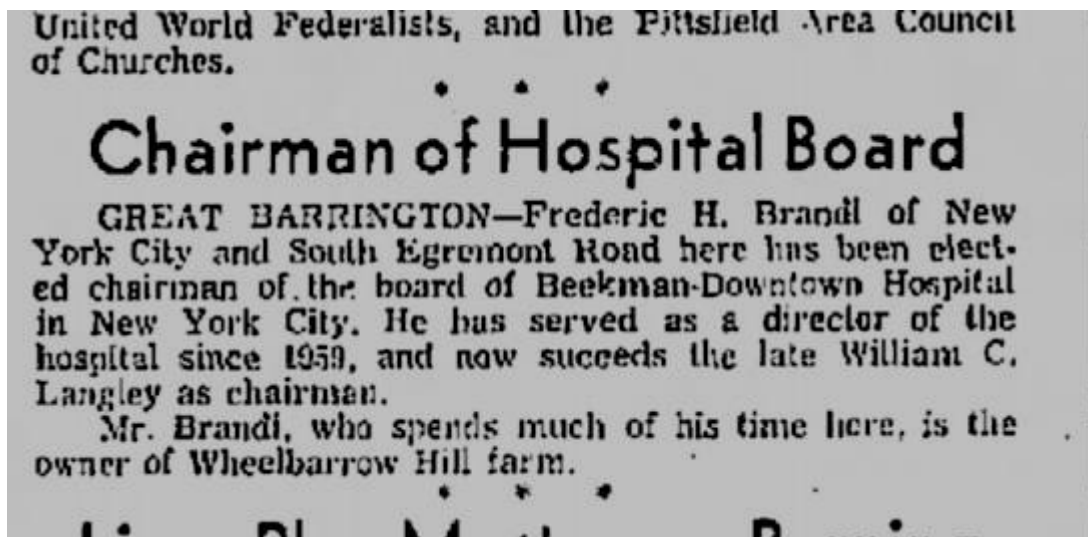

For a time, Mrs. Drexel lived in Palm Beach, where she ran the American Red Cross office. An early advocate of substance abuse prevention, she launched a program with the local police geared to teaching youngsters about the dangers of substance and drug abuse. Students were taken to local jails to witness the havoc that such abuse could cause in life. She founded the Childbirth Education Association of the Palm Beaches and helped produce a movie, First Breath, which promoted the Lamaze Method and gave mothers- and fathers-to-be information on what to expect during the birthing process. She would smile when recalling how, on opening night, several prospective fathers fainted when they saw what was coming.

The American Red Cross raised over $500 million for “Haitian Relief” after the big 2010 earthquake. The ARC then did

What? It built six homes for the homeless there!
Pilgrims Society members always run RIPOFFS!

In New York, Mrs. Drexel was involved in the Hospital for Special Surgery, the Beekman Downtown Hospital, Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, and the New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center. She was chair of Women's Division of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York.

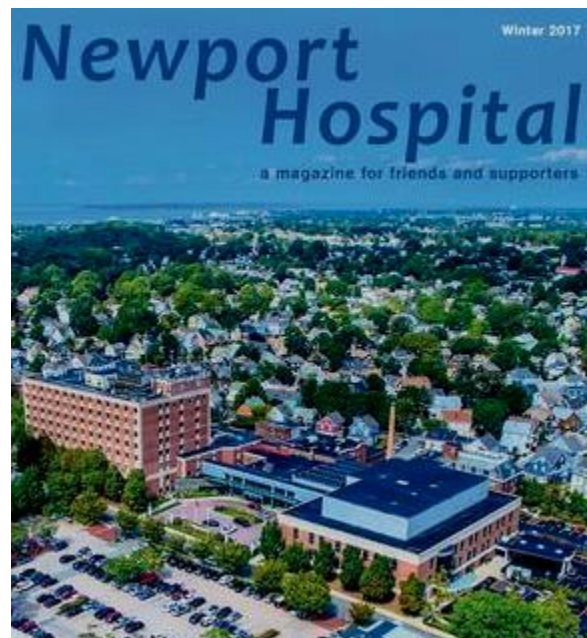

The North Adams Massachusetts Transcript, February 1, 1963, Page 7; Brandi was one of three Pilgrims Society members who Seized control over Trans World Airlines from nonmember Howard Hughes; the other two were Gilbert Fitzhugh of Metropolitan Life & David Rockefeller of Chase Manhattan Bank---

Drexel III's wife was involved in no less than FIVE important Manhattan hospitals! BIG money in the hospital business! BIG money in the cancer treatment biz! Artemisinin or Lactoferrin for cancer? They'll NEVER mention these Cancer fighters! "BEEKMAN" is the name of a family

Tracing to the 1600s with huge colonial landholdings;
Fenwick Beekman M.D. was on The Pilgrims 1957
Executive committee!

In Newport, Mrs. Drexel was a trustee and chair of the Alletta Morris McBean Charitable Trust. Under her leadership, the Trust has supported the Newport Hospital, Salve Regina University, churches, the Touro Synagogue, the City of Newport, social service organizations, schools, libraries, and many other charitable organizations. The recurrent themes of her lifetime of work have been health care and education. The Noreen Stonor Drexel Birthing Center at Newport Hospital welcomes children to a city that Mrs. Drexel has done so much to improve. In recognition of her service to the City-by-the-Sea and many others, she was awarded the degree of Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters in 1989 by Salve Regina, on whose board of trustees she served for many years.

Drexel III's wife was associated with this Catholic university; yet he was Episcopalian, and her funeral service was Episcopalian. Seems to be a case of keeping one foot in both major camps! The JEW BAITERS read about a synagogue and from that TINY connection start hollering “see, the Jews run The Pilgrims!” Oh really? Is that why David Tevele Schiff on The Pilgrims executive committee converted to Episcopal Church? That’s why Caspar Weinberger became treasurer of the Episcopal Diocese of California and a member of The Pilgrims?

Mrs. Drexel also practiced the most elemental form of charity, aiding the ill, the troubled, the poor, one person at a time, working in soup kitchens and for Meals on Wheels. A member of the board of governors of the American Red Cross in the 1970s, she was appointed by the president of the organization, because of her “broad outlook on humanitarian matters,” to represent the League of Red Cross at the United Nations, where she worked for several years. She was an active member of the Foundation for International Child Health and the White House Conference on Children and Youth.

Here we are again with the Red Cross and the globalist United Nations; a Drexel is comfy in that environment. The Foundation for International Child Health is in the Netherlands. A Drexel involved with the White House? How unsurprising.

Predeceased in 2007 by her husband of more than 66 years, Mrs. Drexel is survived by her children, Ms. Pamela Drexel (Walker—Pamela N. Drexel) of New York, John R. Drexel IV of Millerton, NY, and Mrs. William J. O'Farrell Jr. (E. M. Noreen Drexel) of Jamestown, RI; seven grandsons; two great-granddaughters; and one great-grandson.

Following her funeral in Newport, Mrs. Drexel was flown to England, where she was buried near her mother and other relatives in the churchyard at Pishill Church on a hill overlooking Stonor Park, where she had lived until she came to the United States. She is now where she wanted to be, "at peace under an English heaven."

<https://turnto10.com/news/local/drexel-daughter-shares-memories-of-stonor-lodge> This NBC News affiliate covering Rhode Island reported that a fire completely destroyed the "Stonor Lodge" in Newport, residence of Drexel III and his wife Noreen Stonor Drexel, on February 16, 2016. Their daughter Nonie Drexel, who resides in Scotland, was interviewed about the grand old house which her mother's estate sold in 2012. Good timing, huh? Or is there a deeper story here? 9,000 square foot mansion before and during the blaze---

Nonie Drexel, sister of Pilgrims member John R. Drexel IV, owns Scottish Genetics, which is a cattle breeding operation dealing with beef raisers worldwide; she also supplies much beef to European restaurants.

Scottish Genetics - Highland Cattle Breeding & Artificial Insemination.

<https://www.scottishgenetics.com/> ▼

Highland Cattle breeding programs by artificial insemination (bull semen) or embryo transfer to introduce Scottish Genetics.

On April 22, 2007, the United Press International reported the Death of John Rozet Drexel III minus info on The Pilgrims---

Drexel was the great-great-great grandson of Francis Martin Drexel, who founded the banking house of Drexel & Co. in 1837. Drexel's great-great grandfather, Anthony J. Drexel, was a partner with financier J.P. Morgan and founded Philadelphia's Drexel University in 1891.

Born in 1919, Drexel graduated from Harvard in 1942. He reportedly spent most of his life managing family finances and directing its philanthropic activities.

As well-known socialites, Drexel and his wife attended charity galas and debutante balls in the 1940s, '50s and '60s, when such events often made society-page headlines. Drexel's wife, the former Noreen Stonor, was born into British royalty.

Link URL

John R. Drexel III, 87; headed family of powerful bankers

The Boston Globe

By Associated Press | April 24, 2007

NEWPORT, R.I. -- John R. Drexel III, the head of a powerful Philadelphia banking family and a noted socialite, has died, his daughter said. He was 87.

Mr. Drexel died April 13 of heart failure at his Newport estate, said his daughter, Noreen O'Farrell.

Mr. Drexel was a great-great-great-grandson of Francis Martin Drexel, who founded the banking house Drexel & Co. in the early 19th century. His great-great-grandfather was a business partner of financier J.P. Morgan and founded Drexel University in Philadelphia.

For most of his life, Mr. Drexel managed his family's fortune and devoted himself to charities benefiting Newport Hospital, Good Samaritan Medical Center in West Palm Beach, Fla., and an animal shelter in Middletown.

Mr. Drexel leaves his wife, Noreen Stonor, and a daughter.

The couple played host to the prominent and wealthy over the years.

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor were guests at their home, while a party for their 25th wedding anniversary attracted Aldriches, Astors, and Rockefellers. ■

Drexels, Morgans, Aldriches, Astors, Rockefellers; all Pilgrims Society families led by history's most powerful family---the WINDSORS!

John R. Drexel III was a member of the Knickerbocker (founded 1871), Union (founded 1836) and River (founded 1931) Clubs in New York; all well interlocked with The Pilgrims Society. He was a member of The Reading Room Club (founded 1854) in Newport Rhode Island; the Everglades Club (founded 1918) and the Bath & Tennis at Palm Beach Florida and the Jupiter Island Club at Hobe Sound, Florida---

John Rozet Drexel III---

Knickerbocker Club NYC---

Exterior---

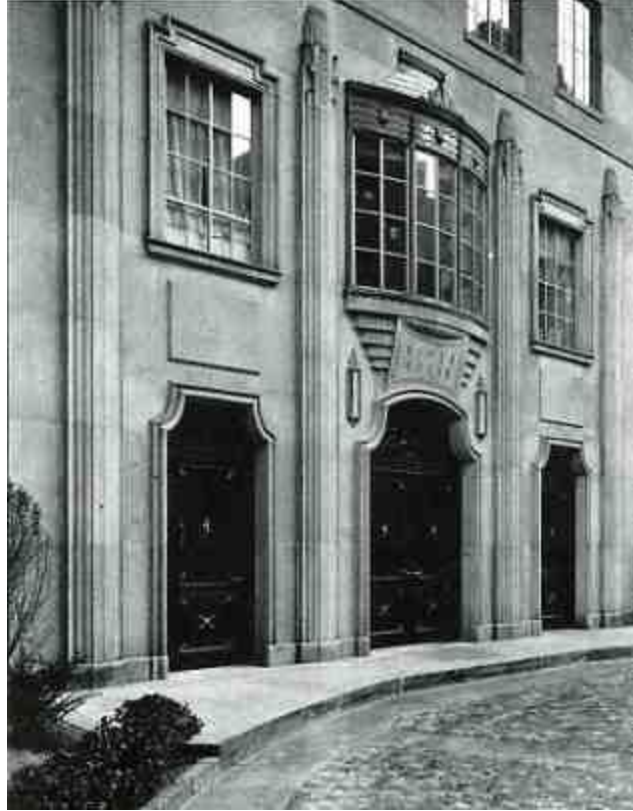

John Jacob Astor IV, Anthony Joseph Drexel Biddle Jr.
& Pierpont Morgan Hamilton (all Pilgrims) were Members of the Union Club NYC---

Interior---

The River Club is in River House NYC
Where many Pilgrims members
Have resided---

The Reading Room Club at Newport Rhode Island;
Pilgrims member
Vincent Astor
Belonged---

John R. Drexel III was a member of the Bath & Tennis Club, Palm Beach Florida---

Founded in 1924 by Mrs. E.F. Hutton (heiress to General Foods fortune) ---
W.E. Hutton became a Member of The Pilgrims---

The Everglades Club at Palm Beach Florida is “the preeminent and most exclusive social club in Palm Beach Florida. The Club has no sign, no web site, and no Wi-Fi. Cell phones are prohibited. Membership dues are $450,000 a year.” The Everglades Club has been faulted for being very anti-Jewish and anti-Black. As to anti-Catholic; I don’t know; apparently the fact that John R. Drexel’s ancestor Francis Martin Drexel died Catholic in 1863 wasn’t a block against him being a member. I suspect it’s very heavily Episcopalian.

An exclusive look inside the mysterious Everglades Club

<https://www.palmbeachpost.com/article/20110417/ENTERTAINMENT/812034354> ▼

Apr 17, 2011 - CLIK/HEAR: See more photos inside the ultra-exclusive Everglades Club Since the Everglades Club opened in 1919, non-members have ...

John R. Drexel III (1919-2007) of The Pilgrims Society's Executive committee additionally was a member of---

Jupiter Island has quaintness, and out-of-this-world wealth -
articles.latimes.com > Collections ▼

Jun 22, 2000 - That reticence has made Jupiter Island one of the nation's best-kept Jupiter Island Club,

Views of the JI Club are very hard to find---

FLORIDA'S RICHEST CLUB - Chicago Tribune

<https://www.chicagotribune.com/news/ct-xpm-1987-11-18-8703270262-story.html>

Nov 18, 1987 - It is probably the largest-and most expensive-private club in the world. ... of Jupiter Island, which sits in self-imposed exile off the ...

Nathaniel Reed's house in Jupiter Island, FL (Google Maps)

<https://virtualglobetrotting.com/map/nathaniel-reeds-house/view/google/> ▼

His father, Joseph, was a key developer of Jupiter Island and Nathaniel became President Hobe Sound Company, a real estate and holding company, ...

Nathaniel Reed was the son of Joseph Verner Reed (1902-1973) who was not a member of The Pilgrims; however, his other son (Nathaniel Reed's brother) WAS a member! The originator of this Reed family fortune, Verner Z. Reed (1863-1919) was one of the very wealthiest men in Colorado and made a fortune in the Cripple Creek Colorado gold mining district, and held silver and copper interests, branching out into sugar beets and petroleum. The Reed mansion---

Of Joseph Verner Reed Jr. (1937-2016; Pilgrims Society 1990 roster) we read---

“He served as United States Ambassador to Morocco from 1981 to 1985 and as Chief of Protocol of the United States from 1989 to 1991. He was also a descendant of Edward Doty (1599-1655), who immigrated to the United States on the Mayflower. He started his career as Private Secretary to the President of the World Bank, Eugene "Gene" Robert Black, Sr. (1898-1992). He then served as Vice President and Assistant to the Chairman of the Chase Manhattan Bank, David Rockefeller, from 1963 to 1981. In 1985, he became United States Deputy Permanent Representative to the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations. Two years later, in 1987, he became Under-

Secretary-General of the United Nations for Political and General Assembly Affairs.”

Black and Rockefeller were members of The Pilgrims.

Joseph Verner Reed (1902-1973), father of Nathaniel Reed and Joseph Verner Reed Jr. (Pilgrims) was the developer of the Jupiter Island Club starting in 1933 (“Who’s Who in America,” 1967, page 1750) and the Hobe Sound Company (land and real estate development) in 1933. The 2010 book “A Different Vision---The History of the Hobe Sound Company and the Jupiter Island Club” has this intro---

“This book traces the history of the Hobe Sound Company efforts to develop the Jupiter Island Club and Jupiter Island.”

The Palm Beach Post, July 11, 2018, noted in Nathaniel Pryor Reed’s obituary---

“He hobnobbed with the Bushes and members of FDR’s cabinet. Reed was environmental adviser to then-Gov. Claude Kirk in the 1960s and Assistant Secretary of the Interior to presidents Richard Nixon and Gerald Ford from 1971 to 1977. He knew how to navigate the halls of power. Reed founded 1000 Friends of Florida to advocate for better planning and controlled growth in Florida. Jupiter Island has been called, pound for pound, the wealthiest community in America. Broadway producer and diplomat Joseph Verner Reed used much of his oil and mining fortune to buy most of Jupiter Island in 1933. During World War II, the island and the club were destinations, far from the nosy press, for members of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's cabinet and other leaders. ^{Nat} Reed graduated from Trinity College in Hartford, Conn., in 1955, then served in Air Force military intelligence in Europe, the Middle East and North Africa."

REAL ESTATE VALUES AT JUPITER ISLAND ARE PAST SKY HIGH!
ALL THIS IS IN SOME SECRETIVE PILGRIMS SOCIETY TRUSTS!

Tuxedo Park New York is comparable to an extent and has had many Pilgrims Society members as residents for over a century.

<https://www.nvrealtygroup.com/fl/jupiter-island.php>

Jupiter Island Real Estate

Jupiter Island is an ultra private paradise situated between the Atlantic Ocean and the Intracoastal Waterway near the mouth of the Jupiter Inlet. Real estate on Jupiter Island ranges in price from $2 million for a four-bedroom classic home to more than $40 million for a custom, oceanfront estate. One of the wealthiest zip codes in the nation, Jupiter Island properties showcase the Atlantic Ocean coastline as the part of the front lawn and the Intracoastal Waterway in the backyard. These magnificent mansions rest on five to seven acres of land and boast unobtrusive views of the crystal blue ocean and white sand beach. Other exterior features include custom docks with personal boat lifts, resort-style swimming pools, outdoor kitchens and fire pits, tennis courts or putting greens, and manicured lawns with privacy hedges. Interior appointments often include media rooms, gourmet kitchens, marble flooring, and separate guest quarters. Read More

Nathaniel Reed was a trustee of the National Geographic Society and a director of the Natural Resources Defense Council, which appears to be a front lobbying to block mineral and timber development by interests not owned by Pilgrims Society members! His brother Joseph Verner Reed Jr. (1937-2016, Pilgrims 1990 and other years) ---some sort of egotistical British symbol below his row of medals---

John R. Drexel III was a member of the Jupiter Island Club at Hobe Sound, Florida, and would have been familiar with the Reeds. Drexel III was on the board of the Good Samaritan Hospital (below) in West Palm Beach Florida, since renamed Good Samaritan Medical Center; 333 acute care beds and 22 emergency room bays---location is 1309 North Flagler Drive (Flagler drive is named for Henry M. Flagler, 1830-1913, Standard Oil figure and in The Pilgrims 1908 NYC). Flagler became the biggest landowner in the state (Barron Collier, Pilgrims Society, was the second biggest). Flagler built railroads and luxury hotels and still today Flagler is remembered as “the father of Miami and Palm Beach.” He built a hotel of 1,100 rooms at Palm Beach and left Flagler College. Still today there is Flagler Development with in excess of 30 million square feet of commercial real estate developments! Drexel III rubbed elbows with powerful money interests!

John Rozet Drexel III (1919-2007, Pilgrims Society executive committee as of 1969 or earlier) had his funeral service at Emmanuel EPISCOPAL Church in Newport, Rhode Island! The Drexels converted away from Roman Catholicism and the Pope to the Anglican Church of England (USA Episcopal Church is affiliate) because they were highly aware of the Royals holding whip hand supremacy and superiority over ALL THINGS CATHOLIC!

The New York Times, April 22, 2007, reported the death of John R. Drexel III, whose name appeared on page 11 of the leaked 1980 list---

“Mr. Drexel was a great-great-great-grandson of Francis Martin Drexel who, in 1837, founded the banking house of Drexel & Company. His great-great grandfather Anthony J. Drexel was a partner of the financier J. P. Morgan and founded Drexel University in Philadelphia in 1891.”

John R. Drexel III, Socialite and Scion of a Banking Family, Dies at 87 ...

<https://www.nytimes.com/2007/04/22/us/22drexel.html>

Apr 22, 2007 - John R. Drexel III, scion of a powerful Philadelphia banking family and a prominent socialite in an era when the charity galas and debutante ...

John R. Drexel III, 87; headed family of powerful bankers - The Boston archive.boston.com > News > Boston Globe > Obituaries

Apr 24, 2007 - John R. Drexel III, the head of a powerful Philadelphia banking family and a noted socialite, has died, his daughter said. He was 87.

Observe! Drexel III “headed family of powerful bankers” and he

Was Episcopalian not Jewish! He was a Drexel not a Rothschild!

This “Rothschilds run world finance all alone” craze is the Most senseless, mindless mania to ever get hatched!

<https://idea.library.drexel.edu/islandora> ---

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Alice Gordon Troth (1866-1947) married John R. Drexel Sr. (1863-1935), the eldest son of Anthony J. Drexel (1826-1893) and Ellen Rozet (1832-1891). Alice and John Sr. had four children, but the oldest daughter died at a young age. Their eldest son John R. Drexel Jr. “Jack” (1890-1936) married Elizabeth Thompson (1896-1943), and had only one child, John R. Drexel III “Sonny” (1919-2007).

Alice Gordon Troth, born in 1865, was the daughter of William Penn Troth and the former Clara Sharpless Townsend of Philadelphia. Alice and John lived in Philadelphia, New York, and Rhode Island. In 1921, Alice and John left New York for Paris. Alice was close to her grandson John R. Drexel III who spent summers with her in France. When she died in 1947, she left her entire estate to her grandson.

Born in New York City, John R. Drexel III was educated at St. Mark’s School and Harvard College. He married Noreen Stonor, the daughter of Lord and Lady Camoys of Stonor Park, Henley, England, at the beginning of World War II. John R. Drexel III died April 13, 2007 at 87 years old at his home in Newport, R.I. from heart failure. He is survived by his wife of 66 years, Noreen, his son John Drexel IV, his daughters Noreen O’Farell and Pamela Drexel, his brother David Drexel, seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

St. Mark’s School is outside Boston Massachusetts.
St. Mark’s School is EPISCOPALIAN. Note that Drexel III
Attended Harvard, not Yale; and therefore was not a Member of Skull & Bones Society of Yale! Drexel III
Was among the Overlords of America due to being
On The Pilgrims Executive committee, a far Superior group to Skull & Bones! The Pilgrims
Society encompasses the entire country;
Bones is limited to YALE ONLY!

Rhode Island Heritage Hall of Fame says of Noreen Stonor Drexel---

Her background was the stuff of great English history. Stonor Park, which dates back to the eleventh century, was already more than 500 years old when it became a center for the religious controversy racking England during the Reformation. Catholic priests were hidden there, working to keep the faith alive and suffering ghastly torture and executions when they were discovered. Noreen's ancestors were Recusants and included eight martyred saints.

Salve Regina University was founded by the Sisters of Mercy; yes, very Catholic. It seems dubious that the Pope would ever willingly submit to the British Royal family nor vice versa. In my view, such connections are a way for both sides to feel each other out; to attempt penetration of the other; and to look for ways to collaborate in subjugating humanity despite that both groups intend eventual obliteration of the other. The Royals have had the decisive upper hand over the Popes since the defeat of the (Catholic) Spanish Armada in its attempted invasion of England in AD 1588. The invasion attempt wasn't only due to England raiding Spanish commerce and treasure; it was about forcing Papal control over England, and it FAILED! Noreen Drexel's husband was Episcopalian and she was Catholic! My conclusion is the Royal sphere is successful at infiltrating the Catholic sphere much more so than otherwise; reason for this conclusion is simple and convincing. Major Catholics publicly known to be Catholics are Pilgrims Society members and this isn't mentioned in public accounts! Highly placed Catholics are members of this Royalist Pilgrims Society which despite its enormous power profile, is a shadow organization unknown to the vast majority of people.

Page 116 of “Real Lace Revisited: Inside the Hidden World of America’s Irish Aristocracy” (2017) ---reports that Noreen Drexel was given an Episcopalian funeral same as her husband, John R. Drexel III, who predeceased her; then she got a Catholic burial in England---talk about one foot in two different worlds---note that predictably big shots were present--

Her funeral at St. John the Evangelist Church in Newport on November 10 was presided over by the lady Episcopal bishop of Rhode Island. The governor, Lincoln Chaffee, and past governor, Donald Carcieri, were in attendance, as was Senator Sheldon Whitehouse and many other dignitaries. A large reception was held afterwards at the Pell Center at Salve Regina University, which Noreen did so much to develop and now boasts both Stonor and Drexel Halls. The next day Noreen’s body was taken to England for a Catholic funeral mass and burial beside her mother in a village cemetery high in the Chilterns, with a beautiful view of her birthplace, Stonor Park.

The Pilgrims are a Royalist, not a Papal, sponsored group. The Royals of England and the Papacy were in conflict long before King Henry VIII started the Anglican Church of England in AD 1534. On December 29, 1170, Thomas Becket who was (Catholic) Archbishop of Canterbury was hacked into pieces by knights representing King Henry II of England. Over the next nearly 364 years the Kings of England somewhat tolerated continuation of this Papal religious domination in England; their patience ended when Pope Clement VII refused to grant a marriage annulment to Henry and he started his own church. On July 11, 1534, the Pope excommunicated Henry and Henry retaliated with measures including the Treason Act of 1534 with a cooperative Parliament, making it a death penalty to refuse to acknowledge the King as absolute head of the Church of England. The position of Archbishop of Canterbury remained but was thenceforth Protestant Anglican, not Catholic. Sir Thomas More refused to acknowledge Henry's supremacy in religious affairs in England, and Henry ordered his head to come off, which it very promptly did. The last embedded link says this--- “Clement died in September 1534 and was succeeded by Paul III, and Paul used his power of excommunication against Henry, followed by his rescinding Henry's title as "Defender of the Faith." England's parliament declared that title still valid. Pope Paul had to watch – powerless – as Henry "nationalized" all Roman Church property in England into his personal ownership and sold off these properties to the highest bidders among the aristocracy and the gentry. Roman priests in England were dismissed unless they swore an oath of conformity to Henry's new Church. Those who would not were dispossessed of their positions and livelihood, or if they made too much political noise they executed as "recusants" – dissidents.” Henry executed various Catholics.”

Not all “recusant” Catholics were done away with; the Stonor family being a prime example. The Cecil family became very high advisers to English monarchy and ran a sort of “Secret Service” or “CIA” and had various Catholics tortured occasionally in the Tower of London. My opinion about the Catholic recusants whose lives were tolerated is that it was for subversive penetration against ongoing Catholic attempts to retake England, all of which miserably failed. You can get more info at such links as <http://www.elizabethan-era.org.uk/elizabethan-recusants-recusancy-laws.htm> Keep this overview in mind when we discuss the Stonor dynasty which would centuries later intersect with Drexel lineage by marriage.

Drexel III and wife Noreen at Red Cross Ball, Palm Beach Florida---

Noreen Stonor Drexel (left) with Jacky & John Kennedy---

<https://virtualglobetrotting.com/map/john-r-drexel-iiis-house-former/> ---

“John R. Drexel III was a member of the Philadelphia Drexel family who made their fortune in banking and founded Drexel University. Former First Lady, Jacqueline Kennedy, spent the night before her wedding to John F. Kennedy at the home. She was close friends with Drexel's wife, Noreen.”

<https://www.palmbeachdailynews.com/article/20> ---

Posted Nov 11, 2012---

“Funeral services took place Saturday for Noreen Stonor Drexel, who died Tuesday, Nov. 6, 2012, at her Newport, R.I., home. She was 90 years old and until recently was a winter resident of Palm Beach. Born in Henley-on-Thames, England, to an aristocratic family, she was the youngest child of Lord and Lady Camoys of Stonor Park, England. Her mother, Lady Camoys, was Mildred Watts Sherman of Newport, a descendant of Roger Williams, founder of the State of Rhode Island, and of John Nicholas Brown, a founder of Brown University.”

“As war loomed in England, Lady Camoys took her daughter, still a teenager, to Newport, where she became active in the war effort. She was head of the Newport War Bond Drive and served as chairwoman of Bundles for Britain. She was a former winter resident of Palm Beach, where she was active with the American Red Cross and served as honorary chairwoman of the Red Cross Ball for many years. In New York, she was involved in the Hospital for Special Surgery, the Beekman Downtown Hospital, Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, the New York Hospital Cornell Medical Center and the New York Lying-In Hospital, where she was chairwoman of the Woman’s Division.”

“In the 1970s, she was appointed by the then-president of the American Red Cross to be the Representative of the League of Red Cross Societies at the United Nations, a post she held for several years. In Newport, Mrs. Drexel was a trustee and chairwoman of the Alletta Morris McBean Charitable Trust, which supported Newport Hospital, schools, libraries, churches, social service organizations, the City of Newport and many other charitable organizations. The Noreen Stonor Drexel Birthing Center at Newport Hospital is named for her. Funeral services took place at the St. John the Evangelist Episcopal Church in Newport.”

Something else on John Rozet Drexel III, another item which very dutifully omitted any faint whisper of Drexel’s Pilgrims Society activities---

April 22, 2007

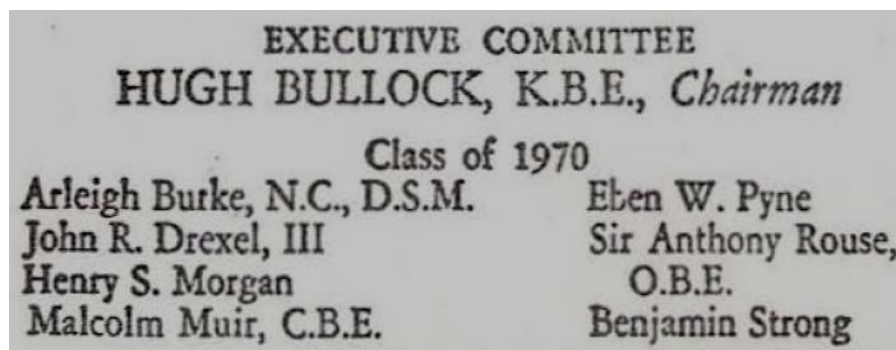

<https://www.nytimes.com/2007/04/22/us/22drexel.html> ---

“John R. Drexel III, scion of a powerful Philadelphia banking family and a prominent socialite in an era when the charity galas and debutante balls of the affluent dominated society-page headlines, died April 13 at his estate in Newport, R.I. He was 87. Through most of his life, John Rozet Drexel III managed the family’s finances and directed its philanthropic activities, taking particular interest in local hospitals. Mr. Drexel’s wife of 66 years, the former Noreen Stonor, is a daughter of Lord and Lady Camoys of Stonor Park, Henley-on-Thames, England. The Camoys are one of England’s oldest Roman Catholic families.

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor were frequent guests at the Drexels' homes. In 1965, the guest list for their 25th wedding anniversary included notable names like Aldrich, Astor, Auchincloss and Rockefeller. Besides his daughter Noreen O'Farrell and his wife, Mr. Drexel is survived by another daughter, Pamela Drexel; a son, John Drexel IV; a sister, Jane Porteous; a brother, David; seven grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren. Ms. O' Farrell said her father, who was fluent in French and could manage in several other languages, should have been a diplomat."

Noreen Drexel O' Farrell was married---yes---in an EPISCOPALIAN ceremony!

The Pilgrims NYC 1969 roster shows the first Drexel in NYC I can document & he's on The executive committee---very likely he Was a member since late 1950s or The early 1960s---husband of Noreen Stonor Drexel---

For the valid purpose of outlining the sort of men Drexel III (and later Drexel IV) was associated with on The Pilgrims NYC executive committee we'll do a brief rundown of these shady characters!

Hugh Bullock was a second generation member and was president of The Pilgrims USA (1955 to 1996) and ran a cluster of investment entities at 1 Wall Street. Yes! He was Episcopalian! He was a trustee of Roosevelt Hospital and an official of Investment Bankers Association of America. He was a KBE, Knight of the British Empire and a member of the St. George's Society, founded in 1770 as a British loyalist front; this is the original "Pilgrims Society;" it continues as a group, but in 1903 The Pilgrims were organized to cover the country rather than New York only. He was a member of the New York Yacht Club and his daughter married into the International Harvester fortune. ("Who's Who in America" 1966, page 293) ---

“The Pilgrims of the United States” (2003), pages 124 and 125 show Hugh Bullock in different poses with Queen Elizabeth II to his left; a two page display photo (126-127) shows the Queen again immediately to Bullock’s left. Alarming, on the wall above this meeting of several hundred (conspirators) was a crown symbol, perhaps six feet by six feet, over the clandestine meeting of United States loyalists to the Royal family.

He was a member of the National Institute of Social Sciences in NYC (eugenics, his kind are superior to others and should decide who can have kids!) He descended from Captain Hugh Bullock (1577-1650) who was given a Royal land grant in old Virginia Colony of thousands of acres.

THE NATIONAL INSTITUTE
OF
SOCIAL SCIENCES

Admiral Arleigh Burke was with the Navy (1923-1961) rising to Admiral and Chief of Naval Operations, he supervised action in the Korean War. They placed him on boards including Thiokol Chemical Corporation, DuKane Corporation, Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock, Chrysler, First National Bank of Washington, Capitol Radio Engineering Institute, Federal Services Finance Corporation and Foster Wheeler Corporation. He was a member of the Inner Wheel Club and the Army-Navy Club in D.C. (site of Silver Users Association meetings). "Who's Who," 1966, page 298. Morgan was third generation member of The Pilgrims and founded silver antagonist Morgan Stanley in 1935 with Harold Stanley, Pilgrims Society. Henry was a director of Aetna Insurance and General Electric. Henry (next) married Catherine Adams, a direct descendant of both Presidents Adams, who both supported a central bank! --- Charles F. Adams (Pilgrims 1969) was chairman of Raytheon defense contractor and in the same family; H.S. Morgan---

Muir, Master of the British Empire, was publisher of Newsweek. He was Episcopalian.

Pyne of Citibank inherited several huge 1800s fortunes in banking, railroads and public utilities. Rouse descended from Anthony Rous (1555-1620) who was a huge landowner and Member of Parliament. “The Rouse family traces its lineage back to Sir Robert LeRous, knight baronet under Edward the Black Prince.” Strong was the son of Benjamin Strong, first president of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

NYC Pilgrims 1974 (John Astor too) ---

Draper, Jr., Maj. Gen. William H.
USAR (Ret.), D.S.M., M.M.
Drexel, III, John R.

John R. Drexel, III
G. Keith Funston
John W. Gardner, M.F.
Thomas S. Gates

Class of 1978

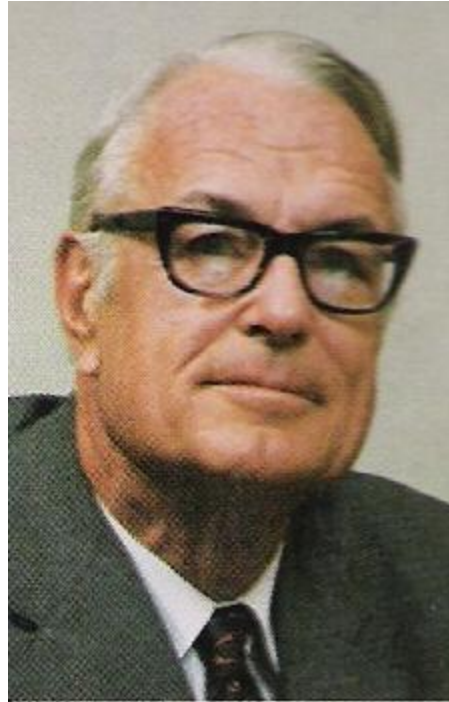

John M. Meyer, Jr., K.B.E.
Francis T. P. Plimpton
Dean Rusk, M.F.

1980 Pilgrims (below) shows only Drexel III and this excerpt shows their executive committee. Funston became president of the New York Stock Exchange in 1951 all the way into 1967 and was a director of Metropolitan Life Insurance; Illinois Central Industries; IBM Corporation; Putnam Trust Company; Chemical Bank New York; National Aviation Corporation; Paul Revere Investors; Avco Corporation; Republic Steel; Winn-Dixie Stores; Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection & Insurance; Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation; American Cancer Society; Episcopal Church Foundation and International Executive Service Corps (“Who’s Who in America” 1974, page 1083). He chaired Olin Mathieson (1967-1972) founded by earlier Pilgrims member John M. Olin.

Yes, Funston was Episcopalian (“Who’s Who in America” 1967, page 739. He was “special assistant to chairman War Production Board” in D.C. in World War 2 and a trustee of Beekman Downtown Hospital NYC (Beekmans Pilgrims Society represented and large landowners from 1600s Dutch colonial New Amsterdam) ---

G. Keith Funston

PILL-GRAMS!

Class of 1981

John R. Drexel, III

G. Keith Funston

John W. Gardner, M.F.

Thomas S. Gates

John M. Meyer, Jr., K.B.E.

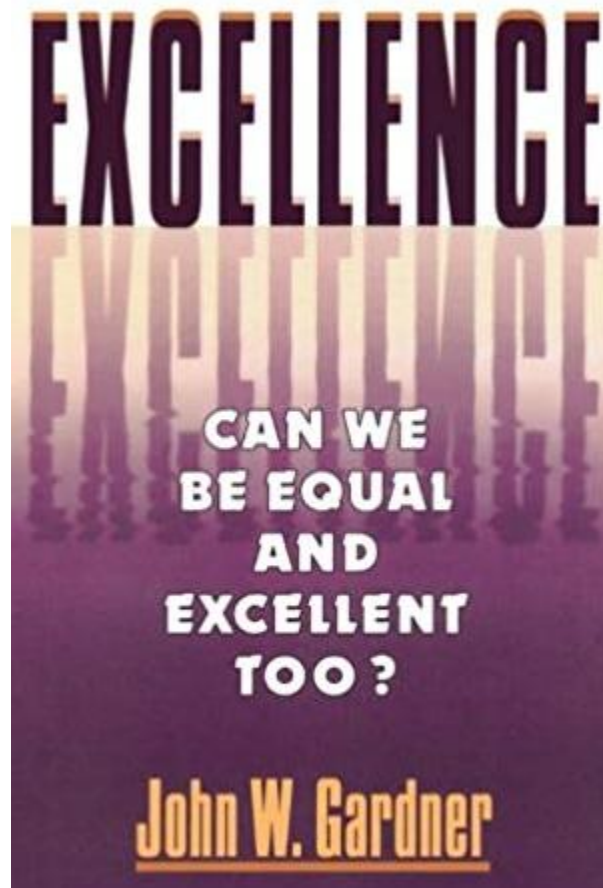

Francis T.P. Plimpton

Dean Rusk, M.F.

Continuing with a brief review of Drexel III's associates on The Pilgrims 1981 executive committee, John W. Gardner had a degree in psychology and was with the wartime Federal Communications Commission (1942-1943) and in 1946 he became an official of the Carnegie Corporation of New York, a seriously subversive tax exempt foundation left by Pilgrims Society member Andrew Carnegie. As of 1968 Gardner remained a consultant to CCNY; during 1955 to 1965 he was its president and during the same years he was simultaneously president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching (globalism). Gardner chaired the Urban Coalition (1968-1970, elitists managing commoners in metro areas); he became chairman of Common Cause in 1970, a front used by elitists to hoodwink the simpleminded into supporting their own loss of rights.

In 1961 Gardner authored “Excellence” asking the question on the back cover, “Can we be equal and excellent too” this was a eugenics thrust! In 1960 he was on JFK’s Task Force on Education; in 1959 to 1962 he was a “social sciences adviser” (eugenics again) to the National Science Foundation. In 1964 Gardner chaired President Johnson’s Task Force on Education and chaired the White House Conference on Education in 1965. He became a trustee of Stanford University in 1968 and later a Rockefeller Brothers Fund trustee. He was in the quirky elitist Bohemian Club in San Francisco and was a director of the prestigious American Academy of Arts and Sciences (“Who’s Who in America,” 1974, page 1099). Ahh yes, in 1965 to 1968 Gardner was Secretary of Health Education and Welfare Department.

Thomas Sovereign Gates (born 1906; Pilgrims executive committee by 1972) became associated in 1928 with Drexel & Company Philadelphia. During 1940 to 1953 Gates was a partner in Drexel & Company. From there he vaulted upwards into the post of undersecretary of the U.S. Navy (1953-1957); he became Secretary of the Navy (1957-1959) and Secretary of Defense 1959 to 1960. In 1961 to 1965 Gates was president of Morgan Guaranty Trust and chairman 1965 to 1970. Gates was a member of Rockefeller University Council and a trustee of the (Episcopalian) Foxcroft Academy and the University of Pennsylvania. Gates was adviser to School of Advanced International Studies at Johns Hopkins University and the National War College. Gates was on such boards as Cities Service Company; General Electric; Scott Paper; Bethlehem Steel; Smith Kline & French Labs (pharma); Insurance Company of North America; Campbell Soup et cetera (“Who’s Who in America” 1974 page 1108). He was a member of the Economic Club of New York, very opposed to monetary use of silver and a director of the Academy of Political Science. Notice major steel interests allegedly competitors---Republic and Bethlehem Steel--both Pilgrims Society represented. Gates---

John M. Meyer Jr. was president of Morgan Guaranty Trust (subsidiary of J.P. Morgan & Company) and a director of United States Steel (more steel interests under The Pilgrims umbrella) and a board member at the very large Aetna Life Insurance Company and he also founded the highly influential Depository Trust Company of New York, renamed as---

Francis Plimpton was of a VERY old English family and was with Debevoise & Plimpton, major NYC law firm for Pilgrims Society dynasties. He was with the secretive gold dealing Reconstruction Finance Corporation in D.C. (1932-1933). He was deputy U.S. rep to the United Nations (1961-1965) and was a U.S. delegation member to the 15th-19th General Assemblies of the U.N. (1960-1969) and was president of TIAA, Teachers Insurance & Annuities Association, enabling him to manipulate large sums and play with teachers financial security. He was a trustee of College Retirement Equities Fund---

Classified Catalogue of the Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh

<https://books.google.com/books?id=eOXUAAAAMAAJ>

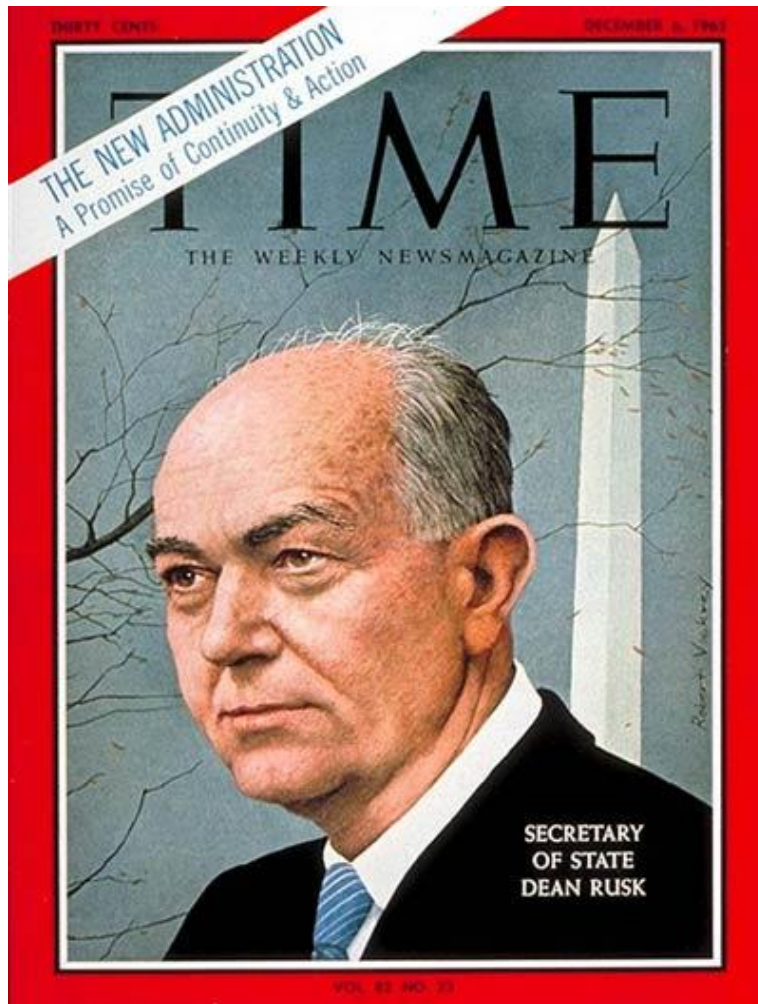

Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh - 1914 - Classified catalogs (Dewey decimal)

Account of one of the most ancient and illustrious of English families, in which the of Plimpton or Plympton in America and of Plumpton in England.

Almost unbelievably, Plimpton was simultaneously a trustee of Amherst College, Barnard College, Phillips Exeter Academy, Athens College (Greece), Lingnan University (China), Union Theological Seminary, and an overseer of Harvard University. He was a member of the Society of Mayflower Descendants and the Colonial Society of Massachusetts. He was Presbyterian (Scottish Crown loyalists), the second most important religious faction in The Pilgrims NYC (page 1687, 1966 "Who's Who in America.")

Dean Rusk was a Rhodes Scholar and became president of the Rockefeller Foundation (1952-1960) and became Secretary of State in 1961. Rusk was a Democrat, Presbyterian and member American Society for International Law (“Who’s Who,” 1966, page 1838). You sure can’t say these DREXELS aren’t running with other extremely wealthy and powerful operators, and all united under the aegis of this super secret Royalist sponsored Pilgrims Society!

1986 NYC---

Drexel, III, John R.
Drexel, IV, John R.
Duke, The Hon. Angier
Biddle, C.B.E.

The Pilgrims 1990 NYC---shows Angier Biddle
Duke a Commander of the British Empire---

Drexel, III, John R.
Drexel, IV, John R.
Duke, The Rt. Hon. Angier
Biddle, C.B.E.

The Pilgrims 1995 NYC---

Drexel, III, John R.
Drexel, IV, John R.

The Pilgrims 2002 NYC---

Drexel III, John R
Drexel IV, John R
DuVal, Philip Livingston Rollin

Having posted many authentic names from Pilgrims lists, Catherine Austin Fitts and her pal Cynthia McKinney can say they found the names, and refuse to give me ANY mention!

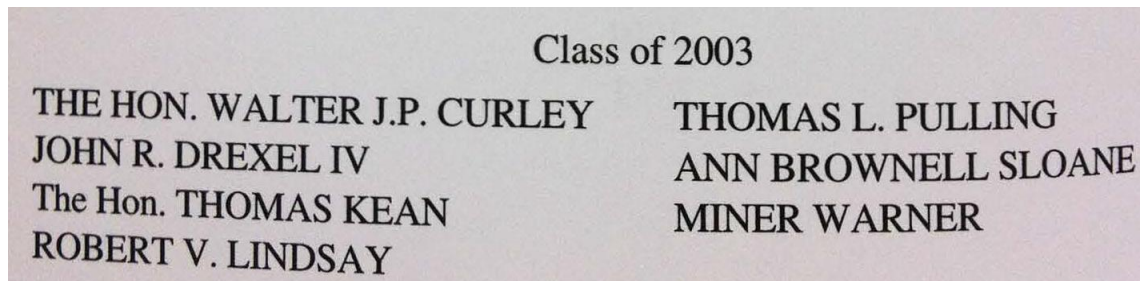

With the immeasurably perverse father and son Drexel team you notice above a really sly, crafty member, covered in the cobwebs of anonymity representing the tremendous veiled Livingston dynasty. Next scan following dated 2003, Curley a venture capitalist was Ambassador to Ireland (1975-1977) and to France (1989-1993). He was New York City Commissioner of Public Events and Chief of Protocol (1973-1974). According to the Ireland/United States Council, Curley was a partner in J.H. Whitney & Company until 1974. John Hay Whitney was a very important Pilgrims Society official descended from part of the old Standard Oil Trust; he was Ambassador to England and funded “Gone With the Wind” in 1939. Curley was on such boards as New York Life Insurance; Fiduciary Trust International; Bank of Ireland; Crane Company; Fairchild Camera & Instrument; Guinness Peat Aviation; Independent Newspapers (Dublin); New Yorker Magazine; American Exploration Company; Sotheby’s Holdings; and the large Banque Paribas in Paris (Paribas = Paris and the low countries, Netherlands).

BNP PARIBAS

Curley was a trustee of New York Public Library; The Brooks School; The Buckley School; Barnard College and authored "Monarchs in Waiting."

Thomas Kean, a Roosevelt family relative was Governor of New Jersey (1982-1990) and chaired the 911 Commission (2002-2004), a matter which "911 Truth" groups have ZERO INTEREST in being told about Kean's Pilgrims membership! NO INTEREST WHATSOEVER! Kean was president (1990-2005) of Drew University. His grandfather and great uncle were both U.S. Senators. Kean has a lavish mansion in Bedminster, New Jersey, where President Trump has realty operations. Kean at right looking especially shady and giving off "Pilgrimized" vibes-

--

Wiki states---

“Kean has served as chairman of The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, the nation’s largest health philanthropy; the National Campaign to Prevent Teen and Unplanned Pregnancy; the Carnegie Corporation of New York; Educate America; the National Environmental Education and Training Foundation; MENTOR: The National Mentoring Partnership and the Newark Alliance. He has sat on corporate boards including ARAMARK, UnitedHealth Group, Hess Corporation, Pepsi Bottling Group, CIT Group Incorporated, and Franklin Templeton Investments. Kean is a partner in Quad Partners, a private equity firm that invests in the education industry.”

UnitedHealth Group

Wiki listed eight awards Kean has received, but omitted to state Kean's receipt of an award from The Pilgrims Society. At this link <https://www.carnegie.org/about/trustees-and-staff/thomas-h-kean-chair/> we find---

“Kean currently serves as trustee of the board of Carnegie Corporation of New York and is co-chairman with Congressman Lee Hamilton of the National Security Preparedness Group. He is also a member of the Council on Foreign Relations, American Academy of Art & Sciences and the Vice Chairman of the National Committee on U.S.-China Relations. He received Pilgrims of the United States Medallion of Service to the Nation.”

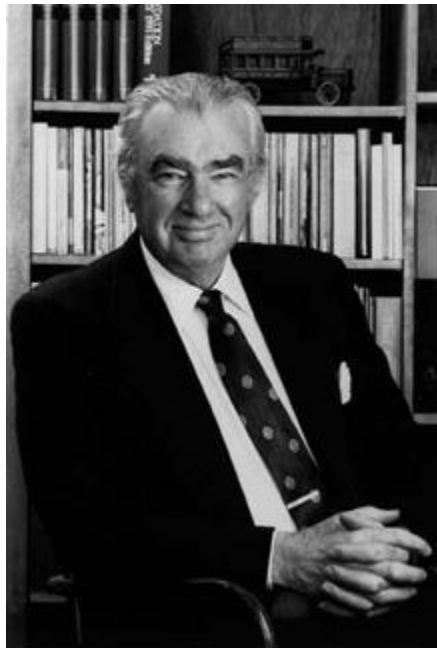

That link also mentions Kean as chairman of THK Consulting and was a trustee of Princeton University and Teachers College of Columbia University. Is The Pilgrims a secretive influence network, or what? Greg Hunter sure has distanced himself from this thing; he's a former employee of media interests they own! Robert V. Lindsay was a J.P. Morgan official and brother of NYC Mayor Lindsay. Pulling was with Citigroup; his grandfather was a Pilgrims member (Russell Leffingwell) who retired as chairman of J.P. Morgan & Company in 1950. Pulling is a Long Island University trustee and has his hands on numerous levers of influence and is "in" with the perverse Roosevelt family. Pulling is a Henry Luce Foundation (Time Magazine fortune) trustee and they mention he's a CFR member and are silent on his Pilgrims activities! Page 146 of "The Pilgrims of the United States" (short run book, 2003) shows Pulling directly facing Royal Crown Prince Philip, sponsor of The Pilgrims Society. Pulling at left with Pilgrims member

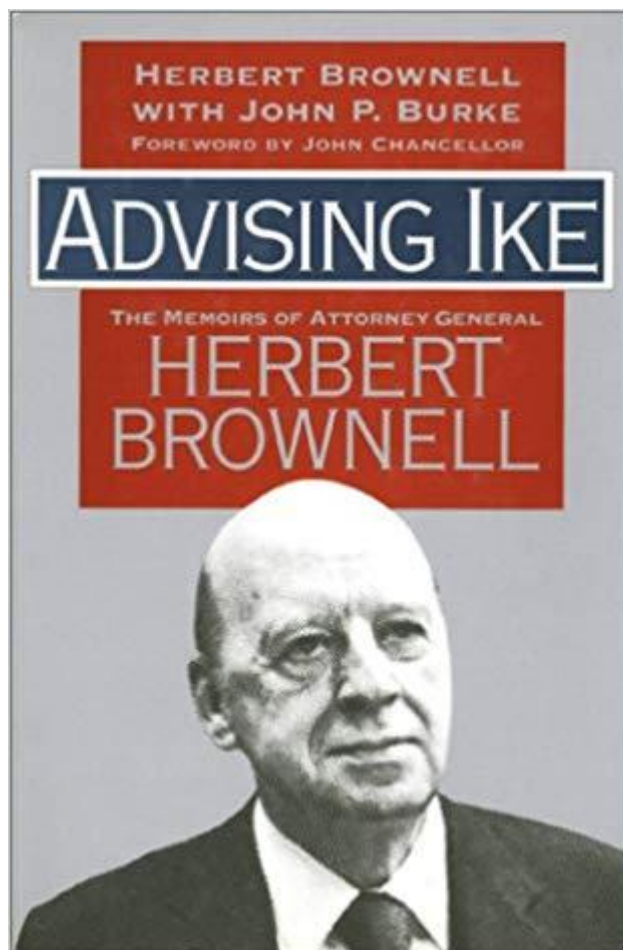

William Van Den Heuvel, who married into the Music Corporation of America fortune---

Henry Luce III, president
Of The Pilgrims NYC
1997-2005---

Ann Brownell Sloane is the daughter of Pilgrims member Herbert Brownell. She's "concerned" about Mexico and Latin America and is a director since 1991 of Inter-American Foundation. Herbert was U.S. Attorney General (1953-1957) and was U.S. rep at the World Court at The Hague, Netherlands. In 1972-1974 he was U.S. Envoy to Mexico for negotiations about the Colorado River.

Miner Hill Warner is the president of The Pilgrims NYC since 2005. He has strong Mayflower ancestry, has done mega billion dollar deals in Russia (petrochemicals) and manages the enormous Collis P. Huntington fortune (Southern Pacific Railroad, Central Pacific Railroad, Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, gold mines and The Crime of 1873!) Warner's old man was a Pilgrims member with European-American Banking Corporation. Current official leader of the USA branch of history's most powerful and dangerous organization, Miner Hill Warner---

(Link) ---

Mr. Miner H. Warner co-founded Public Resources International in 1992 and serves as its Chairman. Prior to 1992, Mr. Warner spent twenty years in investment banking divided between London and New York. His banking experience includes service with Salomon Brothers, where he co-founded international banking, and Merrill Lynch, where he was responsible for sovereign and international distressed debt advisories. In addition to the negotiation of international debt settlements, Mr. Warner advised on the recapitalization of the Lithuanian state oil refinery (which at the time of engagement was valued at its scrap price and which a few years later had a market value of $2.5 billion) and on the restructuring through transfer of assets of NKNK, the largest petrochemical complex in Russia. He also organized the initial funding for an international distressed debt fund that today has more than $3 billion in managed assets. Mr. Warner is a graduate of Harvard College, Institut d' Etudes Politiques (Paris), London School of Economics, and University of Pennsylvania Law School.

NKNK Russian petrochemical refinery---

These are close associates of John Rozet Drexel IV
On The Pilgrims current executive committee!

¶ The name of the Society shall be THE PILGRIMS.

THE LORDS CAMOYS OF ENGLAND & DREXELS

Now we arrive at a discussion of the Stonor dynasty of England holding hereditary title of Earls of Camoys, Baron

Camoy's; publicly still Roman Catholic, out of public view members of the Royalist Pilgrims Society sponsored by the same Protestant Anglican dynasty that runs the Church of England---the Windsors. Since the Drexel union with the Stonors impinges so dramatically on the Drexels themselves, we had to touch on the Stonors.

Ralph Thomas Campion George Sherman Stonor, 7th Baron Camoy's GCVO PC DL, is a British peer and banker who served as Lord Chamberlain of the United Kingdom from 1998 to 2000, and the first Roman Catholic Lord Chamberlain since the Reformation. Wikipedia

Lord Camoy's, (image below, House of Lords beginning in 1976) and in The Pilgrims of Great Britain leaked list dated 1980 and more recent rosters including the most recent we have (2014), is a descendant of King Charles II of England (1660 to 1685) and of the Earls of Camoy, English aristocrats dating back over 850 years <http://www.stonor.com/home.htm> and of Baron Henry Bergavenny, a member of Parliament and owner of iron foundries who in 1601 was granted a Royal monopoly on production of military ordnance for England. A member of the House of Lords since 1976, Camoy's was a director of luxury goods auctioneer Sotheby's, 1993 to 1997. In 1979-1981 he was an official of the European Economic Community. In 1968 Camoy's became managing director of National Provincial & Rothschilds Limited, and in 1969 to 1975 held the same post at Rothschild Intercontinental Bank in London; in 1975 he became managing director of AMEX Bank and chairman till 1978. Camoys is a relative of the Drexel family of Pilgrims Society members in the U.S. long associated with J.P. Morgan & Company (Drexels originally from Austria). He was managing director of Barclays Merchant Bank, 1978 to 1984 and its chairman till 1986. He was a Barclay's Bank International director, 1980 to 1994, a major silver suppressor, same as Rothschilds; and is a member of the City of London Fishmongers Company guild. Camoys was a Lord in Waiting to Queen Elizabeth II, 1992-1997, and a Permanent Lord in Waiting since 2000. From 1991 to 2006 he held official standing in Vatican financial management---a Crown agent active in Vatican money management and investment affairs http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Thomas Stonor, 7th Baron Camoys He held other directorships including Mercantile Credit; National Provident Institution; Invesco Perpetual and of 3i Group, formed in 1946 by the Bank of England and Pilgrims Society run London megabanks; its symbol strongly suggests "Illuminati" heraldry---

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Thomas Stonor, 7th Baron Camoys ---

“Lord Camoys was made a Knight Grand Cross of the Royal Victorian Order (GCVO) in 1998, and a Privy Counsellor (PC) in the same year.”

The Pilgrims 1986 London shows
he was admitted in 1978---

1978 Camoys, The Lord

The Pilgrims Society London 2014---

2009 Cadbury, Peter H G
1997 Cairns, The Earl, CVO, CBE
1978 Camoys, The Rt Hon the Lord,
GCVO, DL

Cadbury of DTZ Corporate Finance and was deputy chairman of the old line City firm Morgan Grenfell, which merged into the silver antagonistic Deutsche Bank. The British and Americans have had their hands deep into German finance long after the fall of the Berlin Wall. Cadbury has been involved with various other financial operations and Celltech Group. An earlier member of the Cadbury family was a director of the Bank of England (1936 to 1961), namely Laurence J. Cadbury (“The International Year Book & Statesmen’s Who’s Who” (London, 1969) and note that Cadbury was also a member of The Pilgrims.

https://wikivisually.com/wiki/Simon_Cairns,_6th_Earl_Cairns

The Earl Cairns succeeded his father in the Earldom in 1989 and was vice chairman of Mercury Securities (1984-1986); managing director of S.G. Warburg & Company (1979-1985); chairman of Voluntary Overseas Services (1981-1992); chief exec at S.G. Warburg (1991-1995); from 1990 to 2000 Cairns was receiver general of the Duchy of Cornwall (direct underling to Royal Crown Prince Charles); he became chairman in 1995 of Commonwealth Development Group; he chaired BAT Group (British American Tobacco) 1995 to 1998; vice chairman of Zurich Allied 1998-2000; in 2007 Cairns became chairman of CELTEL (mobile telecommunications in Africa); his ancestor was Lord Chancellor of Great Britain and chancellor of the University of Dublin and a member of the Middle Temple (law) in London. Sir Siegmund Warburg (Pilgrims) was Jewish but The Earl Cairns family are Anglicans---

Action on Smoking & Health says---

BRITISH AMERICAN TOBACCO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR AROUND 660,000
DEATHS EVERY YEAR

The following links are in regard to Baron Camoys advising the Vatican to make reforms (?) in its financial management; the second link mentions about 80% of donations Catholics believe are going to help the poor, are NOT going to help them. Naturally nowhere is there mention of Baron Camoys Pilgrims Society activities, nor in the book!

<https://www.telegraph.co.uk/news/worldnews/europe/vatican-cityandholysees/11976608/British-aristocrat-warned-Vatican-it-needed-to-sort-out-its-finances.html>

<https://www.telegraph.co.uk/news/worldnews/the-pope/11973084/Vatican-is-a-black-hole-of-mismanagement-and-greed-claims-new-book.html>

Lord Camoys letter to Vatican officials is reprinted in this book. This link states (pages not numbered) ---

It is the afternoon of September 12, 1978. Pope John Paul I, after only eighteen days of his pontificate, discovers that a powerful Masonic lobby with 120 members is active within the Curia. The news is disconcerting. Rather than abiding by the words of the Gospel, cardinals, bishops, and senior clerics are beholden to the vows of the Brotherhood of Freemasons—an intolerable situation. So on September 19, the new Pontiff starts to draft a plan for a radical reform of the Curia.

The top Mason in Great Britain? Royal Crown Prince Philip, a sponsor of The Pilgrims Society. Now returning this Stonor family of Roman Catholic “recusants” who also happen to by loyalists to the Crown we note that Walter Stonor was a Member of Parliament starting in the year 1477. Sir John Stonor (1281-1354) was appointed Lord Chief Baron of the Exchequer and later became Lord Chief Justice of England; he held diplomatic positions regarding (Catholic) France and (Catholic) Spain. Sir John was “the principal architect of the family's fortunes in Oxfordshire and elsewhere.” We’ll touch on some highlights of Stonor family history before moving on to John Rozet Drexel IV currently on the executive committee of The Pilgrims NYC.

Stonor: one family's home for over 8 centuries! But for how ... - BC Ing U

b-c-ing-u.com/.../stonor-one-familys-home-for-over-8-centuries-but-for-how-much-l... ▼

Oct 2, 2014 - The Stonor family name comes from the stones, so their link with the land obviously pre-dates ... The family crest is a hill with prominent stones.

Stonor Park, the name of the English mansion home to this family for the better part of a thousand years, has 70 rooms.

<https://www.stonor.com/>

HOME TO THE STONOR FAMILY
FOR 850 YEARS

The artworks in this mansion are more valuable than
The new car inventory of many large dealerships---

Witten by a Stonor family member---

Republished as---

NATIONAL BESTSELLER

THE DEVIL'S BROKER

SEEKING GOLD, GOD, AND GLORY IN 14th CENTURY ITALY

FRANCES STONOR SAUNDERS

"Addictively readable, handsomely produced, and compellingly intelligent"

— The Sunday Times (U.K.)

The book is about Sir John Hawkwood (1323-1394), English mercenary par excellence, whose line maternally manifested over 500 years later in Edwin W. Coggeshall, real estate and mortgages (Pilgrims NYC 1908!)

Nicholas Stonor is currently a QC (Queen's Counsel.) Great, great grandfather of the Current Baron Camoys 7th, Pilgrims Society, was Lord in Waiting to Queen Victoria in the 1880s and 1890s; this family's far flung interests included a distillery in British India. Interesting how the Drexels were Catholic in Austria; remained Catholic upon relocation to America; but the first Drexel generation born here became Episcopalian; and in all those many decades, the Stonors remained openly Catholic; and both families were allowed Pilgrims Society representation; therefore---John Rozet Drexel IV and the 7th Baron Camoys, members of this hidden Pilgrims Society on opposite sides of the Atlantic Ocean---are first cousins. “We’re mostly family in The Pilgrims Society” is something that echoes in these complex perverse genealogies I’ve reviewed, enough to make me ill at times. That’s enough on Baron Camoys, you can see he made his presence (and still does) felt in the world of ultra high world finance. Now after a brief rundown on Pamela Drexel Walker, daughter of John R. Drexel III, finally we’ll take a closer look at John Rozet Drexel IV currently on The Pilgrims NYC executive committee, and a member at least since 1986.

Pamela Drexel Walker (1943---), daughter of John R. Drexel III and Noreen Stonor Drexel was married to Bradford Hastings Walker, a Vanderbilt family relative--- (October 7, 1966) --- Pamela is older sister of current Pilgrims Society member John R. Drexel IV---

<https://www.nytimes.com/1966/10/07/archives/pamela-n-drexel-engaged-to-wed-bradford-walker-1959-debutante.html>

They divorced in 1977.

At https://prabook.com/web/pamela_drexel.walker/320448 we notice Pamela Drexel Walker attended the extremely reactionary New School for Social Research (eugenics, 1967) and Sarah Lawrence College, which often has Pilgrims members as trustees.

She ran a business in California, Pacific Psychotherapy (ugh! 1970 to 1977) and in 1977-1979 was senior adviser to Trans-Century Foundation in Washington D.C., another globalist entity. In 1979-1980 she was an official of Partners Americas; executive director of Arts International in C.C. (1983-1986); official in 198-1987 of International Festival of the Arts NYC; since 1978 has been an “evaluator” for National Endowment for the Arts; currently also director House Foundation NYC; Academy London; Crossways Productions; District Curators; and Helicon Foundation. She has two sons, Andrew B.H. Walker and James Drexel Walker. Pamela Drexel Walker was a political booster of Rhode Island Senator Claiborne Pell (Pilgrims Society member) who voted for the Coinage Act of 1965, removing most silver from our coinage! Pell descended from George M. Dallas who was with the second United States Bank, which fought against note conversion into gold and silver! The Walkers, Drexels etc. are listed in The Peerage of England and Europe.

JOHN R. DREXEL IV &
JACQUELINE ASTOR DREXEL
BOTH PILGRIMS SOCIETY!

A custodian of the world's Future; John Rozet Drexel IV
On The Pilgrims Society
Executive committee NYC---

Daughter of 2nd generation Pilgrims member John Astor (1912-1980) ---

On page 146 of “The Pilgrims of the United States,” (2003, short run book) we see John R. Drexel IV on the executive committee of the society. That photo shows Drexel within three feet of Royal Crown Prince Philip, sponsor of The Pilgrims Society. He married Mary Jacqueline Astor, of the lineage of John Jacob Astor, “Landlord of New York” in the 1840’s and a power in the second United States Bank along with the Du Ponts (crushed by Andrew Jackson because he knew it was an abomination!) The Bank set up barriers against convertibility because full fiat is what they stood for! The Drexels and Biddles intermarried; Nicholas Biddle headed the second United States Bank!

BANK of the UNITED STATES

<https://www.nytimes.com/1984/02/15/style/jackie-astor-and-j-r-drexel-4th-wed.html> The NYT, February 15, 1984, reported -- (note that the woman with the Italian name was Jacqueline’s stepmother) ---

“Jacqueline Astor, the daughter of Mrs. Sonio Coletti-Perucca of Mill Neck, Long Island, and John Astor of Miami, was married in New York on Friday to John R. Drexel 4th, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Drexel 3d of New York, Newport, R.I., and Palm Beach, Fla. Herbert F. Ryan, First Deputy City Clerk, performed the ceremony in the Municipal Building. A church ceremony is planned for next month. The bride, who is known as Jackie, is a real-estate broker at Sotheby’s International Realty in New York. She graduated from the Masters School in Dobbs Ferry, N.Y., and New York University. Her father is an investor. She is a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gretsch of Brooklyn, and the late Col. John Jacob Astor, who was lost when the Titanic sank, and the late Madeline Force Fiermonte.”

“Mr. Drexel, who is known as Nick, is a partner in Kidder, Peabody & Company in New York. He is an alumnus of St. Mark’s School in Southborough, Mass., and Columbia University. His previous marriage ended in divorce. His father is an investor. The bridegroom is a grandson of the late Mr. Drexel Jr., the late Mrs. Thompson Drexel of Philadelphia and the late Lord and Lady Camoys. He is descended from Roger Williams, founder of Rhode Island; Chad Brown, and Anthony Drexel, who established the Drexel banking house and the Drexel Institute of Technology, now Drexel University, both in Philadelphia.”

<https://www.bloomberg.com/research> --- this is the brother in law of current Pilgrims executive committee member Drexel IV.

I don't see O' Farrell in Pilgrims lists; Drexel IV represents His interests in the group, plus naturally the Drexel family.

Mr. William J. O'Farrell, also known as Bill, is the Co-Founder and Chief Executive Officer of Body Labs, Inc. Mr. O'Farrell was a Co-Founder and Chief Executive Officer of SpeechWorks International. He served as the Chief Executive Officer at OpenAir.com, Inc. He co-founded SpeechWorks International, Inc. along with a research scientist from MIT in 1994 and served as the Chairman since May 1994. Additionally, Mr. O'Farrell served as the Chief Executive Officer of SpeechWorks International, Inc. from September 1994 to March 1998. From 1990 to 1994, he was employed as the President at the Company of Science & Art (CoSA). Prior to assuming his position at CoSA, Mr. O'Farrell was an Associate at the law firm of Brobeck, Phleger and Harrison in San Francisco, where he worked with numerous high-tech start-up companies and venture capital firms. Additionally, from March 1999 to June 2001, Mr. O'Farrell served as the Chairman at OpenAir.com, Inc until 2008. He served as the Chief Executive Officer of Ground Floor, LLC, since December 1998. He serves as a Member of Advisory Board at Velocity Equity Partners, LLC. He is a graduate of Brown University and Harvard Law School.

<http://atlanticpartnership.org/people/john-r-nick-drexel/>

This is an important Pilgrims Society front!
As always, the goal is to bring America
Back under full British control!

AP People

John R. Drexel IV

John R. Drexel IV (“Nick”) is a Co-Founder and Managing Director of HD1, LLC. The firm focuses on providing consulting and project management services to clients engaged in forestry, agriculture, sustainable energy and K-12 education. In addition, Mr. Drexel is Chairman of Sage 3, LLC, a family owned company providing investment and business services, primarily to several (unrelated) family offices and charitable trusts. He also serves on the Boards of several privately owned companies.

Good luck finding out much about HD1 and Sage 3!
More so on the “privately owned companies.”

Previously, Mr. Drexel was a Managing Director of Kidder, Peabody & Co., Inc. and President and CEO of its subsidiary, Kidder Peabody International Investments, Inc. He also was President of Concord International Investments, LP. His career in the financial services industry began at Fiduciary Trust Co., Inc. where he was an Investment Officer. Mr. Drexel also served on the staff of former Senator Claiborne Pell (D-RI) for five years.

KIDDER, PEABODY & COMPANY

FOUNDED 1865

Kidder Peabody merged into Paine Webber, run by Pilgrims Society member James W. Davant, who Married into the Du Pont family of Pilgrims Society members and industrial silver users.

Concord International Investments Group, LP
New York • Cairo • Tokyo

Concord has links to other Pilgrims members (Remy Trafelet and John Train for ex).

Fiduciary Trust had assets under management Of $50 billion by the late 1990s; it was Founded in 1931 “by families for families.”
PILGRIMS SOCIETY FAMILIES!

Fiduciary Trust
International

Drexel IV was on staff with Rhode Island Senator Claiborne Pell, an inheritor of three separate Fortunes; Pell was in deep with the Silver Users Association! Pell voted for the Coinage Act of 1965, removing most silver from USA coinage! Pell surfaced in The Pilgrims 1974 next to his Relative John H.G. Pell, of Wall Street Investing Corporation who was in the 1969 NYC Roster!

Mr. Drexel currently serves on the Boards of the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute (an Incorporator), The Pilgrims (Executive Committee and President of its Foundation), The Atlantic Partnership (Director), The New Hudson Foundation (Trustee), The Pave the Way Foundation (Director), The Order of St. John of Jerusalem (as a Bailiff Grand Cross, and in its Priory in the US as Prior Emeritus and Life Governor).

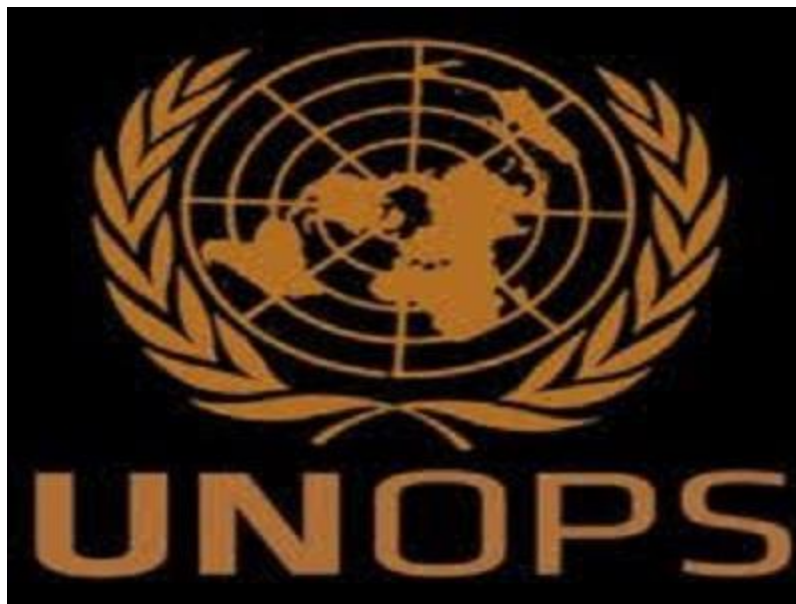

The Pilgrims Foundation, Inc

John R Drexel IV, President

He recently completed terms as a Trustee of Drexel University and the New Zealand Government Trade and Industry (Advisory Board). He also has served the UN in advisory capacities, including on the Advisory Boards of the UN School and UNOPS (UN Office of Project Services) as well as the Business Advisory Committee (based in New York City).

Mr. Drexel lives with his wife Jackie in Millerton, NY. Their son, Nicholas A. Drexel, is a senior at Trinity College in Hartford, CT.

Trinity College, founded in 1823, is Overwhelmingly Episcopalian.

<http://atlanticpartnership.org/about-atlantic-partnership/>

Atlantic Partnership was first established in the UK in 2001 and recently celebrated its first decade. Its Chairman in the UK is Lord Powell. The Chairman of Friends of Atlantic Partnership Inc is J.R.Drexel IV. More details under Who We Are.

Lord Powell is a member of The Pilgrims London, as expected.

<http://atlanticpartnership.org/about-atlantic-partnership/what-we-do/>

Because of the unique convening power which Atlantic Partnership has demonstrated over the past decade, it has been able to attract speakers at the highest level, who have themselves faced the challenges listed above, and can pass on their experience to our audiences. They have included heads of government and ministers; leaders of international organisations; members of congress and parliamentarians; senior military leaders; heads of banks and businesses; economists and academics. While the majority come from North America and Europe we have also reached further afield to, for example, Australia and Pakistan.

Heads of banks, military leaders, influence network.

John R. Drexel IV - Powerbase

powerbase.info/index.php/John_R._Drexel_IV ▼

Mar 16, 2013 - Globalisation: Atlantic Partnership. John is currently the chairman of Sage Advisors. In this capacity he provides investment and business ...

OUR ADVISORS - Novatron INC

www.novatroninc.com/page/445259584 ▼

John R. Drexel IV: John R. Drexel IV ("Nick") is the former Managing Director of Drexel is Chairman of Sage 3, LLC, a family owned company ...

Novatron: The Leader in Air Treatment

Novatron has developed an innovative Advanced UV System (AUVS) technology that multiplies UV intensity. It provides much higher performance levels than those of other UV air treatment systems.

The AUVS technology provides a breakthrough capability for sterilizing air to protect against harmful biological substances such as viruses and bacteria and for eliminating ozone pollution from industrial airstreams.

Air Sterilization

The AUVS technology is ideally suited to produce sterile air for pharmaceutical and medical product manufacturing. It is also effective in protecting people in critical government and commercial buildings against airborne biological contaminants. Other applications include health care environments where sterile air is critical.

Ozone Abatement

The extremely high UV intensity, high doses and large volume uniformity achievable with the AUVS technology enable efficient destruction of harmful ozone emissions from industrial processes.

The intensities and doses required for abatement of ozone in large volume air streams emanating from industrial processes cannot be produced using conventional UV technology. Novatron's ozone abatement products provide a cost effective, reliable and efficient means of destroying ozone pollution in air streams.

Novatron's UV Air Treatment Equipment Is Installed at the Pentagon

This had to do with four digital related patents---

[PDF] John R. Drexel IV - Federal Communications Commission

<https://ecfsapi.fcc.gov/file/6515782852.pdf> ▼

Nov 4, 2003 - 1750 K Street, NW, Suite 12008. John R. Drexel IV. Managing Par
Dc 20006. Tel: (212)996-7333. Email: stick228@a01.~0m ...

Board of Trustees | About Us | Global Health | Global Health Service ...
globalhealthservicecorps.org/about-us/board-of-trustees/ ▼

John R. Drexel IV ("Nick") is a Co-Founder and Managing Director of HD1, LLC. The firm focuses providing consulting and project management services to ...

At this URL we notice---

The Board of Directors and the Board of Advisors—Pave the Way Foundation
Thank you for supporting the efforts to research this controversial subject from the beginning.

Board of Directors

Elliot M. Hershberg, Chairman of the Board of Directors
Gary L. Krupp, KC*SG OStJ, Founder/President
Meredith S. Krupp, Founder/Director
Harry M. Epstein, Treasurer

Howard Appel
Rabbi Benjamin Blech
Stanley Browne
Daniel Buttafouco, Esq.
John Catsimatidis
Br. Austin David Carroll, FSC, PhD
William Cox, Esq.
John Dibari,
John R. Drexel IV
Robert Fonti
Robert Gaynor
David S. Hauser, PDE
Richard I. Kandel
Gary Melius
Doyle Mills
Frank MacKay
Jacob Parker
Norman Weisfeld

Linda Sussman, Administrative Director

John Catsimitadis is rated around $4 billion while figures for Drexel IV are virtually nonexistent; his family has had many more decades to absorb wealth. Catsimitadis daughter married Richard Nixon's grandson Christopher Nixon Cox. His father Edward Finch Cox, Pilgrims Society, has lineage to tremendous Pilgrims Society dynasties---Schuylers, Bayards, Winthrops, Delafields and Livingstons. We could review the other names (William Cox, obvious) but you get the picture. Don't fall for the stupid Jew baiters hollering "see, several Jews there, that means the Jews tell Drexel what to do," no they do NOT!

We need to look at two important entities on Drexel IV before wrapping this research up with review of Drexel University and Drexel Burnham Lambert, a big investment bank that went bust years before Lehman Brothers, and which was implicated in massive silver shorting. The first is Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution and the second is the Order of Saint John of Jerusalem, USA branch (called a “Priory”), in which Drexel IV holds the titles of Bailiff Grand Cross and lifetime Governor.

JOHN R. DREXEL IV OF
THE PILGRIMS EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE AND WOODS
HOLE OCEANOGRAPHIC INSTITUTION!

Location is at Woods Hole on the Atlantic coast, 76 miles

South southeast of Boston.

<http://atlanticpartnership.org/people/john-r-nick-drexel/>

We saw this earlier but as a refresher, Drexel IV is a Top honcho (most likely THE top one) at the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution---

Mr. Drexel currently serves on the Boards of the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute (an Incorporator), The Pilgrims (Executive Committee and President of its Foundation), The Atlantic Partnership (Director), The New Hudson Foundation (Trustee), The Pave the Way Foundation (Director), The Order of St. John of Jerusalem (as a Bailiff Grand Cross, and in its Priory in the US as Prior Emeritus and Life Governor).

Assets in 2016 were $325.6 million.

The Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution is dedicated to advancing knowledge of the ocean and its connection with the Earth system through a sustained commitment to excellence in science, engineering, and education, and to the application of this knowledge to problems facing society. LEARN MORE »

<http://www.whoi.edu/main/partners-sponsors> include the United States Geological Survey (of course); National Science Foundation; National Oceanic & Atmospheric Administration; Department of Defense; Office of Naval Research; Department of Energy; National Institutes of Health; Army Corps of Engineers; National Aeronautics & Space Administration; Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Scripps Institution of Oceanography; Marine Biological Laboratory of the University of Chicago; Consortium for Ocean Leadership; Indian Council of Scientific & Industrial Research; University of Tokyo; Tiffany & Company (gold, silver and diamond users!) Naturally this is a partial list; you get the picture. At

<https://www.whoi.edu/main/topic/seamounts> we find---

Why are they important?

Although they are often hidden beneath the ocean (often making them a navigation hazard, particularly for submarines), seamounts are nevertheless ubiquitous and fundamental geological features; studying them gives us insights into the forces that have shaped the face of our planet. Forged and altered by volcanic and tectonic processes that are intimately linked to the deep earth, they are also being targeted by mining companies that hope to harvest the minerals that often collect around seamounts as a result of hydrothermal activity.

<https://www.whoi.edu/news-release/panel-to-discuss-deep-sea-mining-at-aaas-meeting>

Panel to Discuss Deep-Sea Mining at AAAS Meeting

TOPICS: | ECOLOGY & BIODIVERSITY | HYDROTHERMAL VENTS | LIFE | RESOURCES | SEAFLOOR | SEAFLOOR MINING
| SEAMOUNTS

SHARE THIS:

FEBRUARY 17, 2017 Home to an immense diversity of marine life, the deep ocean also contains valuable minerals with metals such as nickel, copper, cobalt, manganese, zinc, and gold, and rare-earth elements used in electronic technology like smart phones and medical imaging machines. As demand for these resources increases and supplies on land decrease, commercial mining operators are looking to the deep ocean as the next frontier for mining.

Currently, there's no mining occurring in the ocean deeper than the continental shelves, but the industry is moving forward quickly. Many of the engineering challenges associated with working in the deep sea have already been addressed by the offshore oil and gas industry. Different types of machines for mining have been built and the components for mining systems are currently being tested in deep-sea deployments.

About 27 countries have already signed contracts to explore for deep-sea resources with the International Seabed Authority (ISA), the organization that controls mineral exploration and exploitation in the area beyond national jurisdiction. And the first deep-sea mining project —Solwara 1 within the jurisdiction of Papua New Guinea—is scheduled to begin in 2019 by Nautilus Minerals.

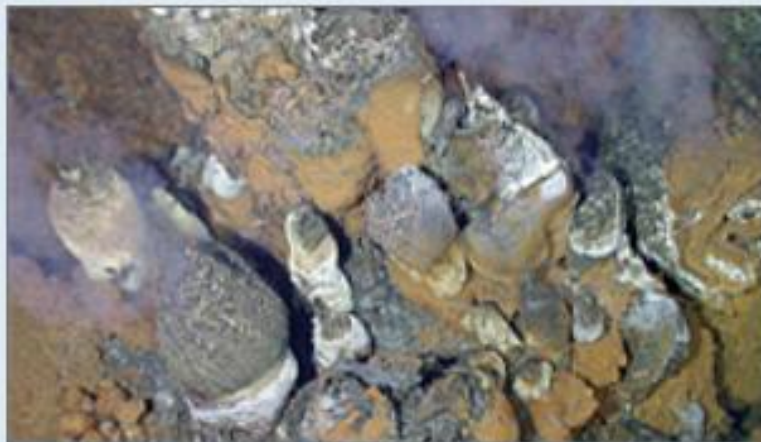

<http://www.whoi.edu/main/topic/hydrothermal-vents> ---

Why Do They Matter?

Hydrothermal vents act as natural plumbing systems that transport heat and chemicals from the interior of the Earth and that help regulate global ocean chemistry. In the process, they accumulate vast amounts of potentially valuable minerals on the seafloor.

The mammoth copper mines of Cyprus, for example, were formed by hydrothermal activity millions of years ago before those rocks were uplifted from the seafloor to become dry land. Commercially valuable mineral deposits are believed to exist on the seafloor near hydrothermal vents, and a few companies have had plans in development for years to exploit some of these. The difficulty of mining in deep water near fragile ecosystems and the relatively small size of ocean bottom deposits compared to those on land have so far prevented seafloor mining from becoming commercially viable.

<http://www.whoi.edu/main/topic/ocean-resources> ---

Seafloor Mining

What is Seafloor Mining?

The ocean contains a complex combination of physical, chemical, biological, and geological processes that sometimes result in commercially viable forms of a wide range of minerals. This is particularly true in the deep ocean at areas around hydrothermal vents where hot, chemical-rich fluids pouring up from beneath the seafloor produce potentially valuable deposits. A few efforts to mine deposits on the seafloor have succeeded, but to date, not many have overcome the technical challenges involved in retrieving large amounts of material from the deep ocean.

Some successful mining has already occurred in relatively shallow waters less than 200 meters. In the 1960s, Marine Diamond Corp. recovered nearly 1 million carats from the coast of Namibia. Today, de Beers obtains a significant portion of its total diamond production from the continental shelf of southern Africa. Mining operations in deeper waters have led to a very different results: When investors tried about 40 years ago to retrieve potato-sized manganese nodules scattered on the ocean floor, almost half a billion dollars worth of prospecting couldn't make their efforts profitable.

Since then, the mining industry has been hard at work developing specialized dredgers, pumps, crawlers, drills, platforms, cutters and corers, many of them robotic and all designed to work in the harsh conditions of the deep ocean. In addition, increases in the price of many materials such as copper, plus increasing demand from emerging economies is making such ventures more economically feasible. Recent discoveries of rich deposits on the seafloor and advances in technology are generating renewed interest in seafloor mining, including more diamonds, iron sands, cobalt-rich manganese crusts, phosphorite nodules and even those problematic manganese nodules. The rising importance and increasing scarcity of rare earth elements is also making some take a new look at the possibility of refining these materials from seafloor sources.

Most attractive of all for the mining industry are the potential riches at deep-sea hydrothermal vents. Known for nourishing lush communities of exotic life, the vents also can be treasure troves of high-grade minerals. When the very hot, chemical-rich fluids that spout or seep from the vents meet the cold water of the ocean, dissolved minerals solidify from the fluids and billow into the water or fall onto the seafloor or build up into massive chimney-like structures. These chimneys appear to billow black or white “smoke” depending on the chemical makeup of the fluids. Many sulfide deposits on land likely were formed the same way and were later raised above sea level during the formation of islands and continents over millions of years. The island of Cyprus, for example, holds 30 massive sulfide deposits, which were a main source of copper for ancient Rome.

For a number of reasons, the mining industry’s interest in seafloor massive sulfides is focusing mostly on vent fields in the western South Pacific. Many of the vent fields are located within the exclusive economic zones of small island nations, eliminating the potential complications of mining the seabed that lies under international waters. Many hundreds of thousands of square kilometers of the region’s seafloor have been leased for exploration and mining could begin as early as 2019 off the coast of Papua New Guinea. [LESS]

Why is it important?

Seafloor mining has the potential to help meet demand for many minerals used worldwide and could help bolster the economies of developing nations in one of two ways. The mining could take place in a nation’s own exclusive economic zone, or it could take place on the seafloor under international waters, where the International Seabed Authority dictates that a portion of all mining profits benefit developing nations.

<http://www.whoi.edu/oceanus/feature/the-promise-and-perils-of-seafloor-mining> ---

Where the minerals are

The metals lie in what are called seafloor massive sulfide deposits. They form as the result of a series of chemical reactions that start when seawater filters down through permeable ocean crust into rocks heated by magma below. The heat catalyzes reactions that leach metals from the rocks into the fluids. The hot fluids—which can reach up to 750°F (400°C) under the pressure in the deep—rise buoyantly back to the seafloor. As they emerge from the crust, they encounter cold water, which causes metal sulfides to precipitate out of the fluids and form solid deposits near and on the seafloor.

The ocean's known sulfide deposits may be only a fraction of what's actually there. "There's a lot of real estate out there where no data have been collected," said WHOI geochemist Chris German.

The "Precious Metals from Deep-Sea Vents" workshop and colloquium was funded by the Elisabeth W. and Henry A. Morss, Jr., Colloquia Endowed Fund at WHOI, the ChEss (Chemosynthetic Ecosystem) project of the Census of Marine Life, InterRidge, Ridge 2000, and the WHOI Deep Ocean Exploration Institute.

The Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution's Deep Ocean Exploration Institute is "interested" in oil, gas and mineral deposits.

In 1994 the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea spawned the International Seabed Authority, or ISA, an independent treaty organization. It has jurisdiction over the seabed outside the exclusive economic zones that surround nations' shorelines. Heading the International Seabed

Authority is Britisher Michael Lodge of the famous Gray's Inn (law) London. He's not in the latest Pilgrims roster I have (2014) and may have become a member since; regardless in any case you may be certain he's in their "orbit" and may be related to the USA Lodge family (Pilgrims Society) ---

How much are manganese nodules worth?

This ton of nodules contained $109 worth of nickel, $72 of cobalt, $25 of copper, and $42 of manganese. It also contained $41 worth of molybdenum. By contrast, a ton of copper ore from an Arizona open pit mine is likely to have a value of $8.50.
Aug 2, 1981

Deep Sea Billions - The Washington Post

<https://www.washingtonpost.com/.../deep-sea.../0499af86-0d90-4667-baf5-3a3afe54590...>

Many Pilgrims Society members across the years have been officials of this “think tank” and would be an eye opener. It does appear this is a grab for the awesome mineral wealth on the world’s seafloors, seamounts, ridges and “abyssal” plains.

As expected, Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution across the decades has at all times been supervised by conniving Pilgrims Society members, ever alert 24/7 for all opportunities to “seize” and “absorb” wealth; Drexel IV and his old man have been highly acquainted with them.

Arthur Yorke Allen

<https://www.bloomberg.com/research/stocks/private/person.asp?personId=4120498&privcapId=4090364>

“Mr. Arthur Yorke Allen was a Managing Director at Douglass Winthrop Advisors LLC. He joined the company in 2004. From 1984 to 2004, Mr. Allen was an Officer and shareholder at Hovey, Youngman Associates, Inc. From 1983 to 1994, he was a Vice President at Citicorp Global Asset Management. For 11 years prior thereto, Mr. Allen was the Head of National Railway Publication Company. Previously, he was an Officer and Director of Neville, Rodie & Shaw, Inc., investment counsel. Mr. Allen is a trustee and finance committee member of Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, a Director and audit committee Chairman of the American Council on Germany, and a Trustee of Vineyard Open Land Foundation. He is a past Class Secretary in the Harvard Business School Owner/President Management Program. Mr. Allen received his B.A. from Princeton University in 1958.”

Another name in The Pilgrims NYC 2014 associated with Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution directly shows interest in mineral resource exploration and petroleum---Sovereign Exploration Associates International is in the shipwreck “artifact” recovery biz---

<https://www.bloomberg.com/research/stocks/people/person>

Mr. Thomas D. Mullins has been Member of Science Advisory Board of Sovereign Exploration Associates International, Inc., since July 13, 2006. Mr. Mullins served as a Trustee of Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution. He is a past Member of the Executive and Education Committees of the National Board of the Smithsonian Institution and Board liaison to the Smithsonian Tropical Research Institute, Panama; Trustee and Member of Corporation and Investment; Director of the Royal Oak Foundation; Fellow of The Royal Geographical Society and The Institute of Petroleum. Mr. Mullins is a member of The Royal Institute of International Affairs, Royal Society for Asian Affairs, International Institute for Strategic Studies, The Middle East Institute, The Asia Society, The Boston Athenaeum, Patrons of the Museum of Fine Arts - Boston, and Executive Committee of the International Friends of the London Library. He is a Member of Science Advisory Board of Historic Discoveries, Inc. Mr. Mullins is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania with later graduate studies at the American University of Beirut and Harvard Business School.

Additionally as per the 2014 Pilgrims roster---

<https://www.bloomberg.com/research/stocks/private/person>

Ms. Nancy S. Newcomb served as Senior Corporate Officer of Risk Management of Citigroup Inc. from May 1998 to April 2004. Ms. Newcomb served as Customer Group Executive of CitiCorp. from December 1995 to April 1998 and also served as Division Executive of Latin America from September 1993 to December 1995 and Principal Financial Officer, responsible for liquidity, funding and capital management from January 1988 to August 1993. She began her career with Citibank in 1968 as an Economist. She has been an Independent Director of Sysco Corporation since February 2006. She served as a Director of DIRECTV since February 7, 2006. She served as a Director of Moody's Corporation from February 22, 2005 to April 19, 2011. She serves as a Member of the Governing Council of the Van Leer Group Foundation, the Netherlands. She is a Trustee for Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute. She serves as a Trustee Emeritus Connecticut College. She serves as Chair Emeritus of New York Historical Society. Ms. Newcomb holds a BA degree of Connecticut College and received a Master's degree in Economics from the Boston University. She also completed the Program for Management Development at Harvard Business School. Ms. Newcomb's 35-year career with Citigroup, a major international financial services company, and its predecessors Citicorp and Citibank, provided her with experience in the areas of leadership, corporate strategy and development, finance, risk management and international operations. Ms. Newcomb developed extensive risk management experience throughout her career. She has had extensive international experience as head of worldwide treasury operations in over 100 countries, and co-head of Citigroup's global, multinational customer business.

Also in The Pilgrims 2014 roster we notice a George K. Moss, and he too is at Bloomberg as a Woods Hole trustee. These people are important associates of John Rozet Drexel IV. Like so many Pilgrims Society members, George K. Moss owns an expensive residence at Vero Beach, Florida.

<http://www.gkmoss.com/>

“George K. Moss Co., Inc. is a supplier of solid fuel boiler and combustion systems that burn green energy fuels to reduce greenhouse gases and global warming. Moss reciprocating, inclined and horizontal grate gasifiers and our fluidized bed combustion systems are capable of meeting the most stringent U.S. air emission regulations by implementing many different technologies to provide the required results. Moss provides five (5) different boiler system designs including water tube (high pressure - superheated boiler systems), hybrid, HRSG (Heat Recovery Steam Generator), fire tube and firebox to meet any customer application. Our solid fuel gasifier and fluidized bed combustion systems are capable of gasifying wood, biomass (shelled corn, wheat, corn stover, peanut, oat, coconut and rice hulls, pecan shells, sugar cane bagasse), coal, tire derived fuel (TDF) and municipal solid waste (MSW). By using renewable biomass fuels such as wood or agricultural waste, customers can dramatically reduce their carbon footprint. Our multiple boiler and combustion systems allows our designers to review the application and ensure our customers the correct system will be provided for their application. Because of the Renewable Portfolio Standards that are adopted by many states, Renewable Energy Certificates (REC) and carbon credits, Moss is becoming more heavily involved with co-generation systems (combined heat and power - CHP) ranging from 250 KW single-stage machines to 30 MW multi-stage co-generation condensing or extraction systems. Moss gasification and fluid bed systems can be equipped with thermal oxidizers (retention chambers) that thermally converts volatile organic compounds (VOC) contained in dryer exhaust into carbon dioxide and water

(primarily for the ethanol industry). Moss Energy is a division within Moss that provides engineering / procurement / construction (EPC) projects specializing in solid fuel boiler / combustion / cogeneration systems.”

“Moss has been in the steam related and combustion industry since 1958 and the hospital medical waste business since 1982. Our hospital medical waste equipment consists of medical waste autoclaves, medical waste shredders and all related accessory equipment, including compactors, conveyors and installation, in order to provide our hospital customers with complete turnkey facility capabilities. Because of regulation changes, we have recently added a confidential document paper shredding system to our product offerings in order to provide a centralized onsite shredding facility for hospitals in the United States. At Moss, we are constantly reviewing new products and technologies to meet future customer requirements. Our mission is to increase the profitability of our customers by delivering reliable, cost-competitive, clean energy solutions that maximize savings. Energy recovery technology is not new to our company but because of the current cost of fuel and our dependence upon foreign fuels, Moss is now providing new energy recovery products and services to save our customers thousands to millions of dollars a year in fuel and electrical costs. We appreciate and welcome the opportunity to solve your steam, combustion, energy, medical waste or shredding problems.”

We could review more Pilgrims Society members across the years supervising Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution. You get the picture and see why this sinister Drexel IV is so interested, and so involved in WHOI. Dennis Allen Scully is in The Pilgrims 2014, and a David B. Scully chairs Woods Hole organization currently. The Pilgrims NYC 1969 showed a Leonard Tyson Scully, an official of United States Trust Company of New York at 45 Wall Street, in which the Astors were long dominant.

MRS. JOHN R. DREXEL IV AND THEIR SON NICHOLAS ASTOR DREXEL

Jacqueline Astor Drexel, Pilgrims Society, daughter of John Astor (1912-1992), Pilgrims Society; Wife of John Rozet Drexel IV, Pilgrims Society executive Committee; inherited Post from J.R. Drexel III---

Image from Soldiers, Sailors, Marines,
Coast Guard & Airmen's Club.

Jackie Astor Drexel and Nicholas
Astor Drexel, her SPAWN---

<http://www.thepeerage.com/p20020.htm> ---

Nicholas Astor Drexel¹

M, #200192, b. 8 September 1987

Last Edited=10 Jul 2006

Nicholas Astor Drexel was born on 8 September 1987.¹ He is the son of John Nicholas Drexel and Mary Jacqueline Astor.

The son's prospects are near 100% certain to become a member of The Pilgrims USA NYC within ten years. He may already be as of the 2015 roster, which is where our complete info STOPS! These characters know all about---

Social Register Foundation
14 Wall Street, Ste 3F
New York, NY 10005-2141

THE ORDER OF SAINT JOHN OF JERUSALEM & JOHN DREXEL IV

There is some confusion about this group's origins and we could make a whole other lengthy essay on it; however suffice it to say that we are speaking of something that dates back most of 1,000 years and the English branch of it was Royally chartered in 1888 and this is the branch our focus Pilgrims Society member John R. Drexel IV is a leading official of. Its top sponsor is the British Sovereign, Elizabeth II and will be replaced in due time by Prince Charles taking the throne of England as King. The Order of Saint John of Jerusalem also has a more direct sponsor, Prince Richard the Duke of Gloucester. This group informally traces all the way back to the original knight crusaders to the Middle East (Holy Land) where they pillaged gold, gems and artifacts from the locals.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Order_of_Saint_John_\(chartered_1888\))

)

Order of Saint John (chartered 1888)

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

*This article is about the modern order chartered in the 19th century. For the original Catholic military Order of Saint John, see Knights Hospitaller.*

The Order of St John,^[3] formally the Most Venerable Order of the Hospital of Saint John of Jerusalem (French: l'ordre très vénérable de l'Hôpital de Saint-Jean de Jérusalem^[n 1]) and also known as St John International,^[4] is a British royal order of chivalry first constituted in 1888 by royal charter from Queen Victoria.

The Order traces its origins back to the Knights Hospitaller in the Middle Ages, which was later known as the Order of Malta. A faction of them emerged in France in the 1820s and moved to Britain in the early 1830s, where, after operating under a succession of grand priors and different names, it became associated with the founding in 1882 of the St John Ophthalmic Hospital near the old city of Jerusalem and the St John Ambulance Brigade in 1887.

The order is found throughout the Commonwealth of Nations,^[5] Hong Kong, the Republic of Ireland, and the United States of America,^[6] with the worldwide mission "to prevent and relieve sickness and injury, and to act to enhance the health and well-being of people anywhere in the world."^[6] The order's approximately 25,000 members, known as confrères,^[5] are mostly of the Protestant faith, though those of other Christian denominations or other religions are accepted into the order. Except via appointment to certain government or ecclesiastical offices in some realms, membership is by invitation only and individuals may not petition for admission.

The Order of St John is perhaps best known for the health organisations it founded and continues to run, including St John Ambulance and St John Eye Hospital Group. As with the Order, the memberships and work of these organizations are not constricted by denomination or religion. The Order is a constituent member of the Alliance of the Orders of Saint John of Jerusalem. Its headquarters are in London and it is a registered charity under English law.^[7]

“MEMBERSHIP IS BY INVITATION ONLY AND INDIVIDUALS MAY NOT PETITION FOR ADMISSION.”

The British based Order of Saint John is essentially an outer ring of The Pilgrims Society, same as the Order of the British Empire, though with an older flavor.

Shield symbol of the USA branch shows the USA eagle symbol, 13 stars for the Thirteen Colonies and shows a British Royal crown symbol above, indicating the loyalty of its USA members to Royalist England; the shield is of course an old Knight Crusader symbol, the white a claim of purity and the red, the blood of the knight's enemies---

The Pilgrims NYC 2014---Acuff is a Pilgrims Member; tall figure at right is Drexel IV who Is “Bailiff Grand Cross” and “Lifetime Governor” of the Order of Saint John Of Jerusalem, USA branch---

A. Marshall Acuff Jr.

Acuff has ties to Citigroup, Episcopal Church Foundation, College of William and Mary Foundation, Richmond Foundation and Silvercrest Asset Management.

Crown Prince Richard, Duke of Gloucester is Royal Patron of
The British Order of Saint John of Jerusalem and
Of The Pilgrims---

Grand Prior HRH The Duke of Gloucester, KG, GCVO

Prince Richard the Duke of Gloucester
A Royal sponsor of The Pilgrims Society!
Earlier photo shows their emblem---

As of 2010, the USA branch of the (British) Order of Saint John of Jerusalem had 1,163 members, 247 of which were in New York. They operate Saint John of Jerusalem Eye Hospital. What they do as social philanthropists is visible and other activities are quite in the shadows---

St John of Jerusalem
Eye Hospital Group

John R. Drexel IV Becomes Bailiff Grand Cross at First Investiture Held in Atlanta, Georgia

There were two "firsts" for the Priory in the U.S. at the 2010 Investiture, held November 5-7 in Atlanta, Georgia. As evidence of the Priory's growing presence in new regions, the highly successful Atlanta Investiture Weekend was organized by a hard-working, enthusiastic committee led by Hardwick Johnson Jr., EdD, KStJ, Regional Chair. The first ever to be held in a southern city, the Investiture was a true regional effort; the committee was assisted by Confrères from other southern states.

A highlight of the weekend was the investing of John R. Drexel IV as a Bailiff Grand Cross (GCStJ), the Order's highest grade. The grade dates back to the early centuries of the Order; the vestments worn by today's Bailiffs Grand Cross originated in those of medieval knights. The number of Bailiff or Dame Grand Crosses is limited to members of the Grand Council plus no more than 21 others, and the royal family. The first American ever to receive this honor, "Nick" Drexel led the Priory since its constitution in 1996 until 2008. He followed in the footsteps of his father John R. Drexel III, who headed the American Society for many years. Nick Drexel's wife, Jacqueline Astor Drexel, is a Commander in the Order, and his son Nicholas Astor Drexel is a third-generation Member.

John R. Drexel IV, GCStJ

Herewith a brief rundown of the similar sounding Catholic group with name similarity---

At this link <https://foreignpolicy.com/2011/01/19/who-are-the-knights-of-malta-and-what-do-they-want/> we find---

Who Are the Knights of Malta — and What Do They Want?

They're a secretive religious order with a long and bloody history and unique status under international law, but that doesn't mean they run the world.

"The Sovereign Military Hospitaller Order of Saint John of Jerusalem of Rhodes and of Malta is a Roman Catholic organization based in Rome with around 13,000 members worldwide. The group was founded in 1048 by Amalfian merchants in Jerusalem as a monastic order that ran a hospital to tend to Christian pilgrims in the Holy Land. At the height of its power, the order was also tasked by Rome with the additional military function of defending Christians from the local Muslim population. The Knights of St. John were just one of a number of Christian military orders founded during this period — including the fabled but now defunct Knights of Templar. When the Sultan of Egypt retook Jerusalem in 1291, the Knights of St. John went into exile, settling in Rhodes 20 years later. In 1523 they were forced from Rhodes by the Sultan's forces and settled in Malta, which they ruled until they were dislodged by Napoleon's army in 1798. The order settled in Rome in the mid-19th century, where it remains to this day."

"Despite its name, the Knights haven't had any military function since leaving Malta. Instead, the order has gone back to its charitable roots by sponsoring medical missions in more than 120 countries. When the order was founded, knights were expected to take a vow of poverty, chastity, and obedience upon joining. Nowadays, obedience is enough. Membership is still by invitation only, but you no longer have to be a member of the nobility. In recent years, the organization has become increasingly American in membership. The leader of the order, referred to as the prince and grand master, is elected for life in a secret conclave and must be approved by the pope."

“Despite having no fixed territory besides its headquarters building in Rome, the order is considered a sovereign entity under international law. It prints its own postage stamps and coins — though these are mostly for novelty value — and enjoys observer status at the United Nations, which classifies it as a nonstate entity like the Red Cross. The Knights maintain diplomatic relations with 104 countries. The order does not have official relations with the United States, though it has offices in New York, for the United Nations delegation, and Washington, for its representation at the Inter-American Development Bank. Because of its secretive proceedings, unique political status, and association with the Crusades, the order has been a popular target for conspiracy theorists.”

The Order of Saint John of Jerusalem, organized in 1888 by Royal charter of Queen Victoria, states they welcome people of any faith into their ranks; regardless, it's overwhelmingly Anglican in the United Kingdom and pervasively Episcopalian in America. J. Peter Grace (Pilgrims 1969 and other years) of Citibank, Kennecott Copper, Ingersoll Rand, Stone & Webster, Brascan and various other major corporations, was a member of the founding board of the Catholic Knights of Malta in America (“Who's Who in America,” 1978, page 1262). Grace was publicly Catholic, and underground as a member of the Royalist Pilgrims Society. It all comes off like intrigues against Rome so successfully carried out by William Cecil, the first Baron Burghley in the late 1500s, who ran a virtual CIA out of the infamous Tower of London where many Roman Catholics were tortured. To get to the absolute bottom---or top---of this linkage of Catholic groups with Royalist operatives isn't our goal, as it can't be fully achieved. The suggestion that the Royals are more successful penetrating the Vatican than otherwise is very strong.

John Shannon, Pilgrims Society, is the genealogist for the (Royalist) Order of Saint John in America and is or was head of the Saint George's Society in New York, tracing to British loyalists in 1770---he's an official of the College of Arms Foundation, and as such, a flunky for the Royal family---

John R. Drexel IV, executive committee
Member of The Pilgrims, is highest USA
Official of the Order of Saint John; he's a Royalist agent from stem to stern---

John R. Drexel IV Becomes Bailiff Grand Cross at First Investiture Held in Atlanta, Georgia

From the OSJ 2010 Annual Report---

“A highlight of the weekend was the investing of John R. Drexel IV as a Bailiff Grand Cross (GCStJ), the Order’s highest grade. The grade dates back to the early centuries of the Order; the vestments worn by today’s Bailiffs Grand Cross originated in those of medieval knights. The number of Bailiff or Dame Grand Crosses is limited to members of the Grand Council plus no more than 21 others, AND THE ROYAL FAMILY. The first American ever to receive this honor, “Nick” Drexel led the Priory since its constitution in 1996 until 2008. He followed in the footsteps of his father John R. Drexel III, who headed the American Society for many years. Nick Drexel’s wife, Jacqueline Astor Drexel, is a Commander in the Order, and his son Nicholas Astor Drexel is a third-generation Member.”

I regret this may add to the potential confusion, but feel I should mention---

<https://www.sosjinternational.org/frequently-asked-questions/>

Sovereign Order of St. John of Jerusalem,
Knights Hospitaller

<https://www.sosjinternational.org/who-we-are/membership-qualifications/> membership is by invitation and this version of the OSJ has strong linkage to Tsarist Russia. In Canada its indirect patron is Elizabeth II (followed by King Charles) ---

This is the Canadian branch emblem---

Who We Are

The Sovereign Order is an Ecumenical Christian Order, focused on the traditions of helping the sick and the poor and maintaining more than 900 years of tradition.

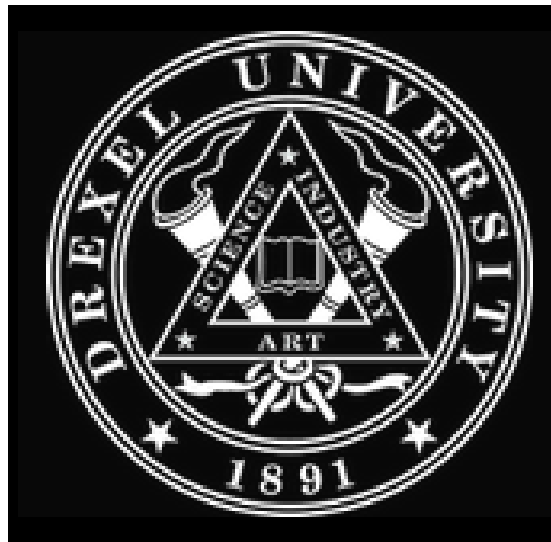

There is a group, The Alliance of Orders of Saint John of Jerusalem, which is liaison between all such by invitation only elite groups. Of all members of The Pilgrims United States currently, the two members connection the greatest number of bizarre hereditary and nobility groups are Guy Stair Saintry (actual name) and Matthew D. Dupee, who literally runs Masonry in America. Saintry is most secretive about his membership in The Pilgrims; he married into the old Dutch colonial Pierson fortune, tracing back over 350 years to New Amsterdam, which is what New York was known as till 1664.

https://ipfs.io/ipfs/QmXoyvizjW3WknFiJnKLwHCnL72vedxjQkDDP1mXWo6uco/wiki/Guy_Stair_Saintry.html he's a top dealer in rare paintings and other artworks---his father held interests in Carrier Corporation---

DREXEL INSTITUTE & DREXEL UNIVERSITY

DREXEL INSTITUTE
OF TECHNOLOGY

Page 181 “The Man Who Made Wall Street”---

The Drexel Institute, re-named Drexel University in 1969, remained faithful to Tony Drexel’s working class vision and to its gritty West Philadelphia location even as it evolved into an innovative university with 12,000 students. In 1983 it became the first American university to require access to personal computers for all students. At the dawn of the twenty-first century its engineering curriculum had been designated a national model by the National Science Foundation.

Original buildings of the Drexel Institute, mid 1890s---

Drexel Marches to War...

Hollis Godfrey https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Hollis_Godfrey was president (1913-1921) of the Drexel Institute. In 1916 he became an adviser to the warmongering Council for National Defense. Pilgrims Society members General Leonard Wood and Elihu Root created the CDN ("Who's Who in America" 1928, page 875). Revealingly, at the end of his listing, Godfrey stated (verbatim) ---“Special field, engineering economics, with special reference to field of wealth and effects of emergency on wealth.”

Drexel University has a $722 million endowment; 13272 undergraduates and 96 acres and was Recently ranked #49 in the world rankings of Universities for number of patents---

“Several family members have always sat on the University’s board of trustees”---page 181, “The Man Who Made Wall Street”

DREXEL UNIVERSITY

Department of Politics

College of Arts and Sciences

DREXEL UNIVERSITY

Center for the Advancement of STEM Teaching and Learning Excellence

NeuroNotes

DREXEL UNIVERSITY
Drexel
Neurosciences Institute
College of Medicine

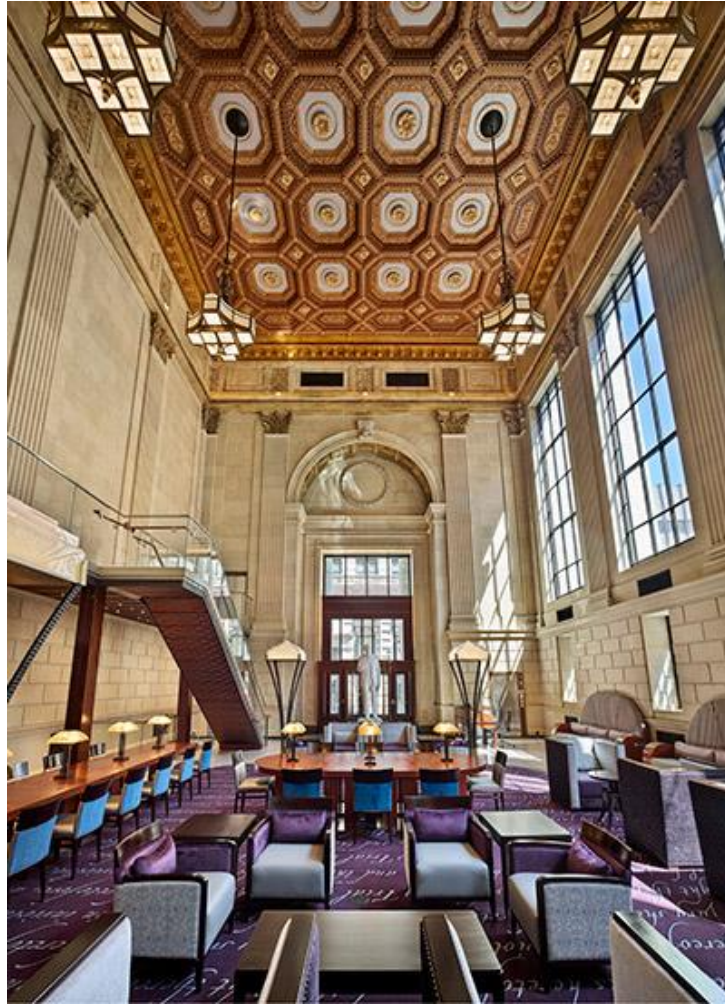

Drexel Business Solutions Institute---

Drexel University School of Law---

Another building of Drexel Law School---

Drexel Medical building---

DREXEL UNIVERSITY
COLLEGE OF MEDICINE

<https://drexel.edu/drexel-ventures/about/contact/>

Drexel Ventures is part of the Office of Corporate Relations and Economic Development and comprised of three collaborative teams: Tech Commercialization, Venture Commercialization, and Corporate Relations. We use our expertise in innovation, start-ups and private sector collaboration to connect our talented faculty, research programs and commercialization opportunities with industry, investors and entrepreneurs, enabling the flow of technologies from Drexel's labs to the global marketplace.

We work with companies to create new products and services through collaborative product development and commercialization; we support new companies through our advisory services, successful community incubator and network of venture partners; and we fund big ideas in our research labs and invest in our startups.

We fuel technology innovation on campus, in Schuylkill Yards and around the world.

It figures! Drexel University is a recruiting ground for American students to relocate to Oxford University in England to become Rhodes Scholars! A very few such will eventually also become members of The Pilgrims. "I am on the lookout for those who will do the governing of the nations in the years that are to come"---Cecil Rhodes, organizer of South African diamond mines, quoted in The Review of Reviews NYC, May 1902, page 557. Pilgrims Society members clandestinely supervise their inferiors, the Rhodes Scholars. Bill Clinton (President) was a Rhodes Scholar, and we've had RS on the Supreme Court, university presidents, Governors, actors, Ambassadors and much more. All loyalists to England, same as the Drexels, Biddles, Astors and their other genealogically linked families---notice the RS were established in 1903, same as The Pilgrims USA---

Rhodes Scholarship | Fellowships Office | Drexel University

https://drexel.edu/fellowships/search/fellowships/Rhodes_Scholarship/ ▼

Established in 1903 under the will of Cecil Rhodes, the Rhodes is the oldest and perhaps the most prestigious international graduate scholarship program in the world. A class of 83 Scholars is selected each year. This scholarship provides one to three years of study leading to a degree at Oxford University, England.

DREXEL UNIVERSITY

Center for Science, Technology and Society

College of Arts and Sciences

DREXEL UNIVERSITY

Westphal

College of Media Arts & Design

DREXEL UNIVERSITY

School of Education

drexel.edu/soe

Doubtful if he's any close relation to the R's!

ADAM ROTHSCHILD

COMMUNICATIONS ASSOCIATE

Education:

BA in English (Anticipated 2019)

Bio:

Adam Rothschild is a fourth year English major at Drexel University. Originally from Chicago, IL, Adam moved to Philadelphia in 2015 and has loved every minute since. In his free time, Adam attends DIY shows, reads, and plays board games. Current favorites are Settlers of Catan and Betrayal at House on the Hill.

DREXEL, MORGAN & COMPANY

Drexel Morgan & Co.

<https://www.drexelmorgan.com/> ---

“Drexel Morgan & Co. is a registered investment adviser and bank holding company. Together with its subsidiaries, the firm has in excess of $13 billion in assets under management or consultation as of December 31, 2017.”

We see the following at <https://www.drexelmorgan.com/our-heritage> ---

“The original Drexel Morgan & Co. was founded in the mid-1800s by Anthony J. Drexel with his protégé and partner, J. Pierpont Morgan. After Drexel’s death, the company reorganized in 1895 and became J.P. Morgan & Co., one of the original predecessors of what is today JPMorgan Chase. In 1979, George W. Connell, who spent more than 25 years with J.P. Morgan & Co. and later as Principal of Drexel & Company, (originally founded by Anthony Drexel’s father) left Drexel to create the firm now known as The Haverford Trust Company. Mr. Connell later established the Drexel Morgan & Co. name for his bank holding company. Our subsidiaries include The Haverford Trust Company and Drexel Morgan Capital Advisers, with combined assets under advisement or consultation in excess of $13 billion (assets as of December 31, 2017).”

Hugh P. Connell (Pilgrims 1990) is/was probably a relative of George W. Connell. John A. Fry, president of Drexel University, is a director of Drexel Morgan & Company. In all probability the Drexel family today led by Pilgrims Society executive committee member John Rozet Drexel IV, dominates in Drexel Morgan & Company.

WHAT ABOUT DREXEL BURNHAM LAMBERT?

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Drexel_Burnham_Lambert ---

Drexel Burnham Lambert, tracing to 1935 in an earlier firm, was organized in 1976 and went into bankruptcy in 1990 and became defunct by 1994. Founded as Burnham & Company in 1935 with money from a Kentucky whiskey distillery, it became Drexel Burnham & Company in 1973. Wiki states---

“In 1940, several former Drexel partners and associates formed an investment bank and assumed the rights to the "Drexel and Company" name. The old Drexel, which chose to concentrate on commercial banking after the Glass–Steagall Act regulated the separation of commercial and investment banking, was completely absorbed into the Morgan Empire. The new Drexel grew slowly, coasting on its predecessor's historic ties to the larger securities issuers. It merged with Harriman, Ripley and Company in 1965 and renamed itself Drexel Harriman Ripley. In the mid-1970s, it sold a 25 percent stake to Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, renaming itself Drexel Firestone.”

The “Morgan Empire” is not primarily the Morgan family and its marriage linkages to other families like the Pennoyers and Hamiltons, but to the totality of Pilgrims Society dynasties back of J.P. Morgan & Company, and today’s JPM Chase Bank. As of 1970, A. Brooks Firestone became a member of The Pilgrims Society London. The 2014 roster shows him still a member---

Drexel Firestone

The Harrimans had a solid history of membership in The Pilgrims. Joseph P. Ripley appeared in The Pilgrims NYC 1969. As to the “several former Drexel partners,” I wouldn’t figure they left without any continuing linkage to the great Drexel dynasty. More from Wiki---

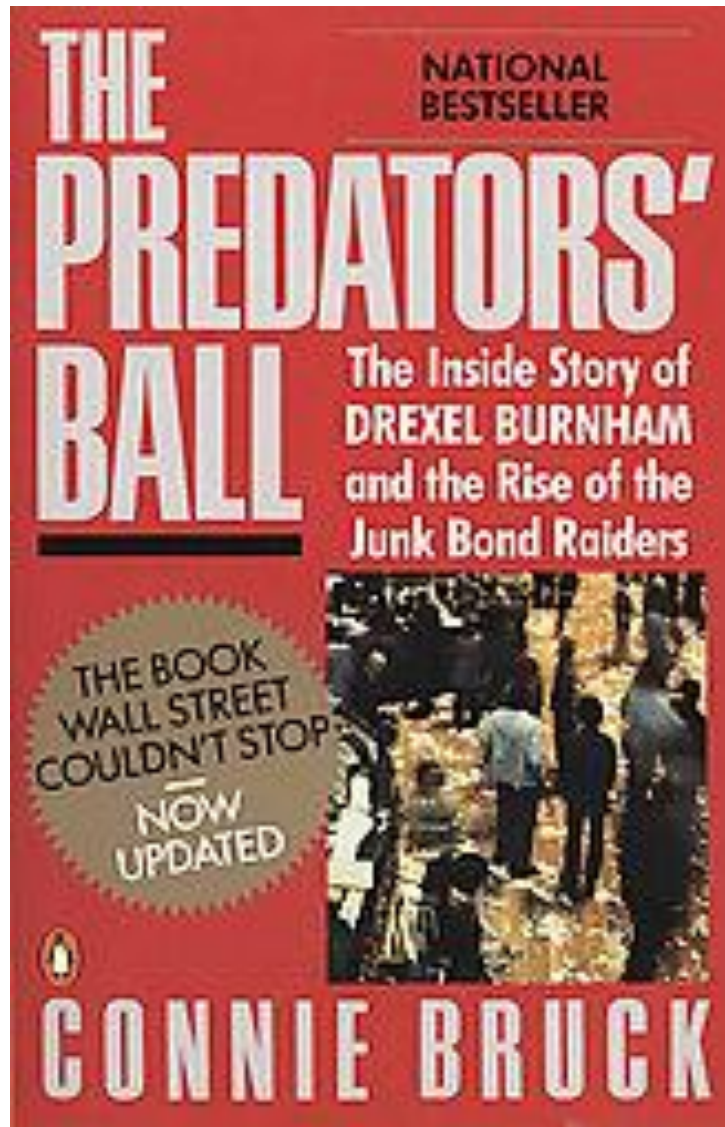

“Even though Burnham was the senior partner in the merger, the more powerful investment banks (whose informal blessing the new firm needed to survive on Wall Street) insisted that the Drexel name come first as a condition of joining the "major" bracket. Thus, Drexel Burnham and Company, headquartered in New York, was born in 1973 with $44 million in capital. In 1976, it merged with William D. Witter, a "research boutique" that was the American arm of Belgian-based Groupe Bruxelles Lambert. The firm was renamed Drexel Burnham Lambert, and incorporated that year after 41 years as a limited partnership. The enlarged firm was privately held; Lambert held a 26 percent stake and received six seats on the board of directors.”

Dean Witter Jr. (Pilgrims NYC 1974) and William F. Witter were related. Dean Witter Reynolds was capitalized over 17 times more than Drexel Burnham ($17.3 billion) and had Pilgrims Society member Richard S. Reynolds Jr. of the aluminum fortune behind it. In 1978 it merged into silver suppressor Morgan Stanley.

New York Magazine, March 1990 page 35 reported Drexel Burnham Lambert sold over $100 billion in junk bonds during 1977-1989. Page 37 mentioned that it was Mellon Bank withholding a line of credit in a Drexel Burnham Lambert deal that lit the torch to send the firm down the tubes. The Mellon dynasty, very likely wealthier than even the combined Astor-Drexel dynasties, is of course Pilgrims Society represented. The combusting of Drexel Burnham Lambert and the hard fall of Mike Milken, the junk bond mogul, very likely didn't cost the actual Drexel family a nickel.

Bestselling 1988 book makes no mention of John R. Drexel III nor any mention of The Pilgrims Society---

The 1960-1961 “Who’s Who in America,” page 418, showed I.W. Burnham II a partner in Burnham & Company and a director of Consolidated Copper Mines. Any silver byproduct was likely disposed of at “toss” prices, which was probably OK with him, regardless that he wasn’t known to be in The Pilgrims. Lots of outer circle types are also silver antagonistic; they follow the dominant drift!

<https://www.bloomberg.com/graphics/2015-drexel-burnham-oral-history/>

Above link Marc Faber, paid subscription newsletter peddler on You Tube interview circuit (they all give him free biz promos we are demanded to believe), once headed Hong Kong office of Drexel Burnham Lambert. Now we get to a juicier discussion!

On November 26, 2012, Ted Butler stated that as of 1983, the lead silver short was Drexel Burnham Lambert. The Drexels are also related to the Ponsonbys, the Earls of Bessborough, Pilgrims of Great Britain, one of which was Governor General of Canada. William B. Astor Jr. was with Bache & Company, that sold the Hunts and their silver play down the river.

At one time the chairman of Drexel Burnham Lambert was ex Securities Exchange Commission member John Sigsby Rees Shad, who had so many indicators of being a Pilgrims member, yet to my best info never did. A large info gap exists between 2002 and 2013 however. He didn't go into lockup like Mike Milken.

There is still on the scene a Drexel Burnham Lambert Holdings <http://www.dblholdings.com/home2> and focuses on "transaction sizes between $50 million and $250 million." It has strong ties to The Concorde Group and Blackhawk Capital Group. Management has background with Merrill Lynch, Morgan Stanley and Bankers Trust. Their HQ is at 17 State Street NYC. Its connections with the Drexel family are uncertain or TBD.

DREXEL BURNHAM LAMBERT

<https://www.wendys.com/peter-h-rothschild> ---

“Mr. Rothschild has been a director of the Company since May 2010. He served as a director of Wendy’s International from March 2006 until its merger with the Company in September 2008. Mr. Rothschild has been the Managing Member of Daroth Capital LLC, a financial services company, since its founding in 2001 and the President and CEO of its wholly-owned subsidiary, Daroth Capital Advisors LLC, a securities broker-dealer, since 2002. Prior to founding Daroth Capital LLC, Mr. Rothschild was a Managing Director and co-head of the Leveraged Finance and Industrial Finance groups at Dresdner Kleinwort Wasserstein and its predecessor Wasserstein Perella, an investment bank, where he worked from 1996 to 2001. From 1990 to 1996, Mr. Rothschild was a Senior Managing Director and head of the Natural Resources Group at Bear, Stearns & Co. Inc. and one of the founders of the firm’s Leveraged Finance and Financial Buyer Coverage groups. From 1984 to 1990, he was Managing Director at Drexel Burnham Lambert. Mr. Rothschild previously served as a director of Deerfield Capital Corp., predecessor to CIFC Corp., from December 2004 to April 2011 and as Interim Chairman of Deerfield Capital's board of directors from April 2007 to April 2011. Mr. Rothschild is also actively involved with various civic organizations and serves a member of The Mount Sinai Medical Center Samuel Bronfman Department of Medicine advisory board, the Tufts University School of Engineering board of advisors and the Tufts University Gordon Institute Entrepreneurial Leadership Program advisory board."

The name Kleinwort is from Sir Cyril Kleinwort (Pilgrims London 1969), an important financier in The City, and descended from William the Conqueror!

Yes! This is an actual Rothschild; I'm weary of genealogies; he's probably in the second tier of the dynasty---there are no Rothschilds in The Pilgrims since 1974 (possibly 1977) but they always have reps in the Society. If they'd convert to Anglican or Episcopal Church it very likely would boost their chances. The Royals decide who will be admitted---not the Rothschilds. However, I have no roster dated 2015 or later!

Capping off this discussion of Drexel Burnham Lambert, we note that in the previous firm Archie E. Albright was named CEO of Drexel Firestone in summer 1972---

Drexel Firestone Names New Chief - The New York Times

<https://www.nytimes.com/.../drexel-firestone-names-new-chief-drexel-firestone-picks-he...>

Jun 10, 1972 - Drexel Firestone, Inc. the investment banking and broker-1 age concern, announced yesterday that Archie E. Albright had been named ...

His name appears in The Pilgrims NYC roster dated 1990; apparently as an oversight they listed him twice; or perhaps he occupied dual membership slots! --- Arthur Yorke Allen has had a long association with Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution and would be highly acquainted with John R. Drexel IV on that account. Allen of Citicorp is a Winthrop family associate; very deep Crown loyalists connected to the founding of the Federal Reserve!

Albright, Archie E.
Albright, Archie E.
Allen, Arthur Yorke

Archie Albright, 76, Negotiated Merger of Drexel and Burnham - The ...

<https://www.nytimes.com/.../archie-albright-76-negotiated-merger-of-drexel-and-burnha...>

Jul 21, 1997 - Archie E. Albright, one of the first senior corporate managers recruited by Wall Street in the bull markets of the 1960's, died Tuesday at his home ...

Albright came by way of Patterson, Belknap & Webb, an important Pilgrims Society law firm and was placed on boards such as Grumman Corporation and the Foreign Policy Association.

There's another financial entity with the Drexel name, and while connections to the family are in a sense sketchy, the two obvious links to the family are very apparent.

Drexel Hamilton is active in investment banking, public finance, corporate debt, capital markets, equities and is based in Philadelphia. This very strongly suggests linkage to the actual Drexel family and I get the sense that the Hamilton in their name is about the Alexander Hamilton line---address is 601 Walnut Street in Philadelphia---

MY DEEPEST APOLOGIES!

Gee, I'm sorry I can't deliver any interesting content for interviews with USA Watchdog, SGT Report, Wall Street for

Main Street, Daily Coin, Reluctant Preppers, World Alternative Media, Solari Report, Financial Survival Network, X22 Report, Dark Journalist, Silver Doctors Elijah Johnson, Rogue Money, Future Money Trends, Sarah Westall, Dave Janda, Peak Prosperity, GoldSeek Radio, Palisade Radio, Daily Coin and so forth. Because to them “interesting content” evidently means “what do you have to market for purchase price to our audiences? WHERE’S YOUR PAY WALL?” If asked, they all insist they don’t get paid for these obvious sales and marketing promotions. Do you believe interviewers all do this for free? How many advertising businesses coast to coast provide free advertising for people selling things, then they ask the public to subsidize them by sending in donations? So they can provide free marketing services to people trying to sell things to them? You can’t “fight globalism” by misleading audiences as to financial relationships between hosts and interview guests! That’s my opinion as to what’s taking place. If you can see past blind personality worship of puffed up blowhards whose reason for being seems to be accessing your finances, what does this arena look like to you? The interviewers are helping guests draw money from audiences, and in return for that, the guests never compensate the hosts for these promotions? Sure! And you also know lots of hospitals that just never bill anyone! If you want to save $997, you can get all free resource stock picks in precious metals at 321 Gold! Notice the interviewers hardly ever hold guests to account for bad price and timing forecasts (“silver will never trade under $30 again,” fall 2012, still as this is released in October 2018, wrong since mid-April 2013!) More recently we are told “silver will be $100 in 2018” and then he added “or 2019” and if 2019, it could be on the final trading day and the “guru” would still be right. What a limp, wilted and hollow way to eventually be right. “Silver will be $100 an ounce in 2018” and then he adds to try and guarantee his call “Or 2019.” Anyone can say such things, where is the talent?

How much ability does it take to cast a net over an increasingly extensive span of time?

The very tediously overused word “caveat” is a psychological trigger switch buzzword that allows a “silver guru” to say he’s nearly never been wrong. “Silver will advance, unless it declines,” that’s a forecast? There is the suggestion that one gets recognition as an “expert” if he/she is paying interviewers for promotional interviews. We haven’t arrived yet at anyone admitting payments are happening; it sure looks like it; smells like it too. He’s had The Morgan Report You Tube channel for around five years; I was never once invited on, despite having had at his regular site the world’s biggest archive of silver history which I did all for free (I demanded my archive be taken down last September) due to I don’t care for this claim of “we aren’t paying to get interviews,” not credible. I populated his site with 1,940,000 words of free research, he came often to a particular large city; knew I was local to it; never ONCE asked to rendezvous with me. Most would have disassociated from him years sooner. But he’s in the Circle of Peers and deemed a guru and an expert. How about honesty Dave? Tell us how a person marketing something can get hundreds of free interviews! More likely they’re all remunerated sessions; free is not believable. Dozens of interviewers and their guests are party to a direct misrepresentation to their subscribers; unless the interviewers are doing it for free; again, not realistic.

Stop tossing money for anyone’s money grubbing subscriptions! They’re only so many mosquitoes trying to draw blood from you. I was in on a private placement with major SSRI in 2001, without any newsletter subscription! If you’ve a local metals dealer, do business there to help him stay in business as it could become more RISKY to ship PM’s! At least stay with top rated dealers like CMI in Phoenix.

It isn’t cool to be a free public service information provider when all the interviewers and guests are there to siphon money from their bamboozled audiences mesmerized by misplaced hero worship of personalities getting timing forecasts wrong for tedious years on end. We’d appreciate it if they’d just admit those are paid promotions. Reading remarks at Silver Doctors from the rank and file and on You Tube, people are catching on--the interviewers and their merchandising guests are all out to bleed off as much income as possible from audiences whose minds they've successfully massaged for years. These nasty below the belt tricks of denying guests pay for their wares being boosted are losing traction however. This October 2018 item below suggests progress so people who donate will realize they're subsidizing people selling things to them---notice lower right hand corner and lower left! "Includes paid promotion" OKAY! This is VERY NEW and only came by way of official and unofficial inquiries and pressure from a small committee including me and a You Tube comment poster. Zang reps for a gold numismatic coin dealer. Does anyone seriously believe she gets interviews for ITM Trading all for free? How much inter-dealer trading goes on between ITM and Silver Doctors? No objection to inter-dealer trading! But would she be covered at SD without business relationship? Not likely! ITM refused response to my inquiry; I received torrid denial from Miles Franklin that money was paid to have Andy Hoffman boosted, regardless that he had at least 62 interviews on this channel---how many businesses do you know who are so GD smart they can get so much free advertising? I reject the denials of interviewers and guest personalities! This isn't human nature to provide free advertising to people marketing things! True, the notice at left could refer to pop up ads, but it may also start someone wondering, “Is the entire session really just a paid ad,” it’s inexperienced and unreasonably trusting to believe otherwise.

THE SYSTEM DIED. THE RESET IS COMING. – Lynette Zang

Gold numismatics are remarkably bad instruments if needed for emergency barter money. Common date silver dimes are best and Mercury dimes are tops as no date check is needed; 1940-1945 issues are easiest to come by and have the least wear. I am happy to be swimming in dimes! Except that I have to cross state line to the west where they’re discreetly stored, New Mexico being more respectful of private property rights. Texas, dominated by Republicans, acts like Democrats on property rights! Still in some ways it’s OK to reside on a street same as members of three different police agencies.

Start my own channel? My writing efforts take up too much time after my other necessities. Besides, these operators already have established presence and could have fast forwarded info to the public; it would take years to build a channel. If something isn't offered for purchase to viewers, the subject content can't possibly be of any interest! The interviewer's record of guests defines that this is their viewpoint! So then I must assume God will severely chastise me for not being after the finances of anyone who reads my research pieces! What a disgrace to make info available on an all free basis! Plus I sure haven't revealed any "Hidden Secrets of Money," huh? He leaves people in the kid's end of the pool.

No You Tube interviews (for which I'd earn zero income) and no linking of these unique research pieces, for two reasons 1) sites are very reluctant to allow discussion of specific persons involved in major scale organized conspiracies and 2) no one is accepted into the Circle of Peers in the precious metals and alt news community if they aren't offering something for purchase to the public. In September 2018 I broke with Mister Morgan and insisted my content removed after 17 years of association. His perennially bad silver price predictions have made him the laughingstock of many understandably cynical investors.

Regardless as long as he can pay You Tube interview hosts like Silver Doctors, Reluctant Preppers, USA Watchdog, Palisade Radio, SGT Report and others for promotional sessions, he'll continue to be in their parlance a "returning guest." Marketing newsletter subscriptions appears to be virtually his sole reason for existing. Note that all "returning guests" are all peddling things for purchase, despite that they and their interviewers all deny any payments made for these business boosting interviews. Interviewers do a magnificent job of massaging small intellects into slavishly hero worshipping characters like Lynette Zang, Catherine Austin Fitts, Gerald Celente, Rob Kirby, Harley Schlanger, Michael Pento, Jim Willie and the rest of the heel nipping pack of merchandisers. A free info provider like me does NOT fit into these circles! They're running advertising businesses; I'm not marketing anything for purchase; I am not "fit" to be interviewed ("promoted"). Dave Janda can't mention The Pilgrims Society on his show because too many people know I've been writing about it for years and years, and mine is the most banned name out there.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch> Butler on Silver Doctors---

Ted has never understood the reason monetary metals are price suppressed is that rising prices discredit the Federal Reserve dollar. He also doesn't see there's a chance Chase got silver the same reason the Treasury once got so much more than Chase has now---to dump some here and there to manage prices for years to come, while devious tricks like cryptos draw trend investors away from PM. APMEX is a much bigger dealer than SD. Look at APMEX one oz silver offerings. Does that look like a shortage to you? It's all about we have inventory and want to turn it. Sure silver will run away someday but SD has had so many schemers like figures in The House of Wax as favorites who've made lousy predictions (Jim Willie, Morgan, Polny etc) and it's all about them peddling paid newsletter subscriptions and SD turning metal. If America is willing to risk war with Russia, China, Iran, North Korea, why wouldn't they have Chase acquire silver for dumping to maintain this near forever price cap? Protecting the Federal Reserve against a monetary competitor may be more important to Morgan Chase than profiting by becoming long silver! Buy silver, but realize you may have to will it to someone else who'll finally benefit. Sorry, but it could be this way. I hope sooner.

www.silverstealers.net

www.nosilvernationalization.org

<https://www.facebook.com/charles.savoie.96387>

<https://www.silvermarketnews.com/archives.htm>

Note new site of possible interest to Texas residents:

www.texaspetprotect.org

