

OPEN LETTER TO SENATE ANTITRUST SUBCOMMITTEE

October 1, 2005

U.S. Senate Committee on the Judiciary, Subcommittee on Antitrust, Competition Policy and Consumer Rights 224 Dirksen
Senate Office Building, Washington D.C. 20510

Senator Mike DeWine, (R-Ohio), Chairman

Senator Herbert Kohl (Wisconsin) Ranking Democrat

Senators Joseph R. Biden Jr. (D-Delaware); Sam Brownback (R-Kansas); Russell Feingold (D-Wisconsin); Lindsey O. Graham (R-South Carolina); Charles E. Grassley (R-Iowa); Orrin Hatch (R-
Utah); Patrick J. Leahy (D-Vermont); Charles E. Schumer (D-N.Y.); Arlen Specter (R-Pennsylvania)

Esteemed United States Senators---we wish to inquire---when are you going to deem it appropriate to honor your responsibility to enforce the Sherman and Clayton Antitrust Acts and the Commodity Act regarding the manipulation of the silver price on the COMEX? Your failure to do so is another reason why Americans are bitterly cynical about their Congress. Please be advised that this is an open letter and will be viewed in many foreign nations including Canada, Mexico, South America, Europe, Australia and the Far East, as well as by Americans including your constituents. The Commodity Exchange (COMEX) and its parent, the New York Mercantile Exchange (NYMEX) are the focal point of antitrust violations, as well as violations of commodity statutes. The president of the NYMEX as of August 2, 2004 is James Newsome. He arrived at that post as outgoing chairman of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC).

As chairman of the CFTC he addressed the Silver Users Association and concluded his speech to them on May 23, 2001, with the following found at www.cftc.gov/opa/speeches01/opanewsm-20.htm

“I look forward to working with you as we move forward.”

There is no need to detail in this letter the facts as to COMEX silver trading not being a level playing field; how that, virtually the sole parties under enforced rules and regulations are longs and the law is being flouted---that has been abundantly done by commodity analyst Ted Butler at www.butlerresearch.com

Imagine the uproar if in fall 1979 a man had been installed as president of the COMEX, who was on record as saying he looked forward to working with the Hunts! But manipulation is just that, Senators, whether long, but in today's case---SHORT.

At www.cftc.gov/opa/press04/opanewsome.resign.htm we read:

"I am very excited to be given the opportunity to serve as President of the New York Mercantile Exchange. The NYMEX is a valuable franchise that effectively serves the risk management and price discovery needs of the energy and metals industries. I look forward to building on the successes of the Exchange and have confidence that we will be able to do just that."

When Newsome referred to the metals industries, he cannot have been speaking of silver producers, for they have been cheated since the COMEX listed silver in 1963, and more so since the founding of the CFTC in 1975. We noticed Newsome's $145,600 salary as CFTC chairman increased to $1 million plus bonuses as NYMEX president, starting on August 2, 2004. As for risk management, what happens when the world starts a run on COMEX silver because they cannot obtain enough silver elsewhere?

So pervasive is the desire on the part of banks, governments and silver users to suppress the silver price, that a high-ranking official can make what is tantamount to an open declaration of the matter and no feathers are ruffled in the media. In the corrupt American financial markets, foxes always guard the chicken coops. And the loftiest sacrament of our fiscal policy is suppression of the silver price. An inquiry concerning the Silver Users Association sent to the American Antitrust Institute received NO reply www.antitrustinstitute.org Among other reasons for the silence has to be the fact that they are interlocked with the Brookings Institution (anti-silver money).

Esteemed Senators, since 1947 the apparent purpose of the Silver Users Association has been to hold silver prices as low as possible for their private benefit. To do this they have repeatedly encouraged dumping of silver by governments (central banks and treasuries), which practice has been termed “leasing” though since the metal is consumed, it cannot be returned in a normal “lease” sense, as was some silver sent overseas during WWII for coinage purposes. It appears that over two and one half billion people have been directly defrauded by silver leasing. That covers America, China, India and European nations, and others.

In The Mining Congress Journal of February 1943, page 49 there appeared a paragraph title, “New Organization Seeks to Depress Silver Price” and we read--- “Investigation has disclosed the fact that within the past four months a new organization has been formed in New York City, under name of the Silver Users Emergency Committee. It is made up of jewelers, silversmiths, and other industrial consumers of silver. This organization is behind the movement to depress the price of silver, and to establish a precedent of making Treasury silver a stockpile for their industrial requirements at 50 cents an ounce.”

This was at a time when Treasury had been paying 64.64 cents an ounce for silver. The silver users wanted taxpayers and miners to subsidize them. The silver was for monetary and defense purposes, not for their use. They should have accessed silver elsewhere. Banking interests wishing to eradicate silver as a monetary basis assisted the silver users in getting the metal on an accelerated agenda after WWII.

What exactly does Mr. Newsome intend to do for the apparent benefit of the Silver Users Association since in his own words he admitted to working with them? Is Newsome merely a self-confessed submissive puppet? Does he intend to deny delivery to all outside the SUA? On what legal basis do their rights exceed the rights of others? In a coming delivery failure and shortages, the SUA will have done its part to cause manufacturers outside its ranks to be unable to obtain silver, and those affected manufacturers should bring suit against the SUA. They should get silver and the SUA should not. Silver Institute, will you please comment?

Newsome as CFTC chairman was a member of the President's Working Group on Financial Markets, along with Sir Alan Greenspan, British agent, of the Federal Reserve. The community of interest in suppressing the silver price extends far deeper than an industrial users group wishing to access supplies cheaply---so cheaply in fact, that mining concerns and entire foreign producing economies are harmed over decades long duration.

The annual silver shortfall cannot continue to be serviced by lease silver. Those days look to be ending with the apparent return this fall to China of 27.5 million ounces of silver by American International Group. That figure cannot possibly be more than two percent of lease silver dating from the mid to late 1980's. If more silver must be returned than is known to exist, heads should roll---especially those of the regulators who permitted such serious fraud. Those who had nothing to do with creation of fantastic imbalances understandably refuse to become sacrifices for the marauding New York financial community in any potential frenzy to return "leased" silver. It should be returned at free market rates, causing their insolvency, and they must not receive taxpayer bailouts nor should currency plant printing presses be turned on for them.

United States Treasury officials, the fiduciary representatives of the American taxpayers, coldheartedly defrauded the public over the years by gifting silver below replacement cost to the Silver Users Association. Did secret payoffs frequently occur? Now we hear from the Treasury that it has the power under a 1977 act to seize gold and silver from investors. What is the plan, Senators---to confiscate our silver and deliver it to the SUA? I don't quite see this event taking place because the scandal would be far too severe. The rest of the world is watching---the same world that is revolting against dollarization! How can the Federal Government tell us we are to be stripped of our silver coins, when the Constitution upon which this nation is based, mandates citizen use of such coins? The Silver Eagle program of the U.S. Mint is known worldwide. These facts cannot be secreted nor can they be repudiated.

Additionally, we are aware that many in Congress and the Judiciary own gold and silver and other natural resource mining shares. Congress and the courts can hardly commit such an outrage as allowing our shares to be “frozen” while theirs continue to trade freely, making shares much scarcer, turning us into paupers and themselves into Midases! We do not believe company managements would be willing to take dividends from everyone else, in order to pay vastly greater dividends to shareholders on Capitol Hill. You are going to have to defect from the globalist banking community and move to the metals realm if you wish to be financially viable in the future, because this fake money system is burning itself out. All has been set in motion, the flames will blaze. Mexico and Argentina are returning to intrinsically sound metallic money in spite of the subversive elements battling to prevent it. More people are catching on daily that they can only protect their savings by holding it in precious metals.

The Federal government need institute no silver rationing system. A free market, untampered with, can distribute resources to where they should go---the highest bidders. In any tyrannical system of attempted Fascist price controls on silver you will immediately find that foreign produced silver will not come to the United States. It will follow its own path elsewhere to the highest prices offered. We had this lesson in World War II. We haven't produced enough silver domestically to meet our internal needs for generations. One item of intervention alone should be instituted---members of the Silver Users Association should be banned from buying silver at open market rates. A punitive surcharge should be added to their cost because they have played pivotal role in causing the shortage with chronically low prices. The surcharge must not go to the Treasury Department, since they have been accomplices to the long years of thefts. But they must not receive any silver at all from domestic sources (mining and disinvestment), until after the total requirements of those outside their ranks are first met.

Additionally, the users group must be forced to restore the 165.5 million ounce military stockpile, and all the monetary silver that was once held for certificate redemption and coinage, which was melted and sold to them in the shady Treasury “auctions” 1967-1970 and before. An International Silver Treaty must be reached by which those who leased silver must be forced to return it, to the last gram. If this results in their liquidation, we shed no tears---they have no one else to fault.

It is well known that bankers are against use of silver as medium of exchange. Silver would limit their powers because they cannot “create” silver as credit and paper money are created. The “scratch of a clerk’s pen in the books of a bank” is money, said Geoffrey Crowther, World War II editor of The Economist. Senators, bankers have made so many such scratches that the world is bleeding from monetary putrefaction, because promises to pay aren’t payment. The Silver Users Association companies have relationships with the largest banks in the nation. These are often called the “bullion banks” such as JPMorganChase, involved in gold and silver leasing, swaps and derivatives.

A look into the campaign contributions you Senators received in a recent election cycle shows that Brownback, Hatch, Specter, Schumer, DeWine and Graham---54% of the Antitrust Subcommittee---received funds from Bankpac (American Bankers Association). Talk about tentacles! Bank of America is another Silver Users Association member and it contributes to Bankpac. Martin Feldstein heads the anti-silver National Bureau for Economic Research, headed the anti-silver American Economic Association and sits on the board of silver price antagonist American International Group. His wife Kathleen is a Bank of America director. For Senator Hatch to represent a state historically pro-silver, then to accept funds from an anti-silver organization, is disrespect to all the deceased gentlemen who once represented that state’s silver contribution. I received no response from the Utah Mining Association concerning the nonintervention of Senator Hatch in the COMEX silver swindle. Because some commodities may not be shortside targets does not justify silver’s maltreatment. Kennecott is a member of the UMA and provides Silver Users Association member Tiffany & Company with at least one million ounces of silver per annum.

Gold Anti-Trust Action committee director Ed Steer has again taken the silver executives to task for remaining silent on the COMEX problem, but polymetallic mining managements have also failed their shareholders.

Receiving contributions from Citigroup were Senators Brownback, DeWine, Graham, Grassley, Hatch, Schumer and Specter---63% of the committee members. Citigroup owns almost 13% of the Mexican banking market through Banamex and must be very worried over the drive there to restore silver as money (“Mexico’s Banks Distrusted By Many,” Dallas Morning News, May 29, 2004, page 9-D). In contrast, do Mexicans distrust a silver coin in their hand? You know the answer to that. People are realizing that a precious metal coin stands in relation to fiat currency in an even better way than a gallon of milk stands in relation to an empty container.

Sanford Weill head of Citigroup is a Du Pont director, Silver Users Association member whose internationally known nickname is “merchants of death.” Arthur Zankel, Citigroup director, committed suicide on July 28, 2005. Andrall Pearson, a Citigroup director, has been accused of activities so bizarre and horrible I will not repeat them here, see www.etxt.org/zines/ASCII/HoE/hoE-0588.txt for details and this source has yet to be sued for libel.

www.iiipublishing.com/citilord.htm features the article, “Citibank---Lords of Corruption.” We find a description of Citigroup’s involvement with narcotics money laundering (including Mexico) at www.narconews.com/whitecollarterror1.html What sort of lunatics are you running with, Senators? Do you care more about the banks you receive funds from, than about your states? The old saying comes to mind, “When the Senate roll call is taken, the members either say “present” or “not guilty.”

Old Chinese opium dealer HSBC, another Silver Users Association member, owns a similarly large proportion of the Mexican banking market. Senator Leahy received $38,600 from Time Warner and $24,650 from General Electric---controlling major media---the same news organizations who have intentionally blacked out the news of the Mexican movement for remonetization of silver in which all 31 Governors united in support as of November 30, 2004 www.plata.com.mx In contrast to the deafening silence here, 176 newspaper and magazine writers of the Journalists Club in Mexico City declared for silver coinage.

The Mining Congress Journal, September 1939, page 51, remarked that at the second Western Governors Silver Conference at Salt Lake City, governors of Utah; Nevada; Arizona; Idaho; Montana; Colorado; California; Oregon; New Mexico; and Washington, or their appointed representatives, reaffirmed the position they first outlined in their first meeting at Reno, Nevada, on March 29, 1939, the first plank of which read---

“We favor a metallic base for United States currency, with the employment of both gold and silver in such base.”

Contrast that to the bankrupt cellulose litter we get from Crown agent Alan Greenspan. Speaking of which, since Mr. Bush announced no tax increase to pay for New Orleans and Gulf Coast reconstruction, that means we will be hit with more “inflation tax” by newly issued “money.”

In Senator Kohl we find his namesake Kohl’s Department Stores has as its primary bank, Bank One, merged into buccaneer galleon JPMorganChase, from which Senator Grassley received PAC funds. A foreign-based banking concern appears in contributions to Senators DeWine, Grassley and Hatch, that being UBS Americas Fund for Better Government. UBS is the Union Bank of Switzerland, implicated by silver analyst Ted Butler as being a probable large-scale issuer of unbacked silver certificates. Senator DeWine is also a beneficiary of PAC funds from Mellon Financial Corporation, whose founding family has controlled five Treasury Secretary terms during the 20th century. Mellon manages $4.2 trillion (not billion) in assets and its chairman heads the 2005 Federal Reserve Advisory Council www.mellon.com/investorrelations/biographies/mcguinn.html

Another organization contributing to Senators Feingold, Leahy and Schumer is the National Committee for an Effective Congress. Founded in 1948 by Eleanor Roosevelt, FDR’s wife, the NCEC is a front for what is known to increasing numbers of gold and silver investors as the “paper money mob.” On April 12, 1948, The Pilgrims of Great Britain hosted a dinner in honor of Eleanor Roosevelt in London. The Pilgrims are the Society prominently associated with the Bank of England and the London, Canadian and Australian international banks, as well as the Federal Reserve System and the New York megabank upper management and directors. Eleanor Roosevelt’s son John A. Roosevelt of The Pilgrims was a director of Bache Group in 1980 when the Hunt brothers and their overseas partners were crushed by COMEX actions causing the silver price to collapse. John Leslie, head of Bache Group, was also a member of The Pilgrims, and Bache Group (named after Jules S. Bache of The Pilgrims) emerged strangely profitable while the Hunts and Arabs caught fire. Prudential Financial Derivatives bought Bache Group in 1981. PFD is a Silver Users Association member and very active in current trading! Its parent, Prudential Financial, is interlocked with JPMorganChase and also with the Brookings Institution (opposed to silver money!) Paul Volcker, ex Federal Reserve chief, is a Prudential director. Theodore Roosevelt IV was with silver short Lehman Brothers, 1985-1997.

Thomas Finletter of The Pilgrims, former ambassador to NATO, served as chairman of the National Committee for an Effective Congress in the 1970’s, and today we find Rivington Russell Winant on the NCEC board. His father was head of our Social Security 1935-1937 then became ambassador to Great Britain, and member of The Pilgrims. His mother Constance was a member of the New England Russell family associated with Skull & Bones Society and the old opium trade in China. Helen C. Vanderbilt, of a founding family of The Pilgrims, is also on today’s NCEC board. The Vanderbilts host the American Economic Association (opposed to silver money) at Vanderbilt University. The apparent mission of the NCEC is to ensure Congress is effective in maintaining the control of the dynasties back of the Federal Reserve.

Other connections and relationships of your Subcommittee on Antitrust are alarming. Senator Feingold received a Rhodes Scholarship in 1975. Far from being simply a distinguished educational accolade, the Rhodes Scholars are a powerful faction of British influence, described in the American Review of Reviews, May 1902, pages 557-559 as an extension of the “secret society gradually absorbing the wealth of the world” (The Pilgrims). As Rhodes himself, financed in ventures by Lord Rothschild and the Crown, said of the Rhodes Scholars---

“I am on the lookout for those who will do the governing of the nations in the years that are to come.”

The conclusion is the Rhodes Scholars receive marching orders from higher-ups maintaining a virtually invisible profile---the financiers who call themselves The Pilgrims and rig the rich lists just like they rig the markets. The Rhodes trustees are currently linked to the Crown and the Rothschilds. Arizona Senator McCain, whose father was a member of The Pilgrims, is a close associate of Senator Feingold. Senator DeWine was national co-chairman of McCain for President in 2000. DeWine’s son Patrick also received contributions from Citigroup in his campaign to fill a seat in the House of Representatives. The fact that Patrick divorced his wife while she was pregnant with a third child, and married a woman connected with political advertising, is no scandal at all compared to the rigging of precious metals prices that affects billions of people.

Senator Specter is a 1956 Yale graduate and we would inquire of him---which Yale super-fraternity is he a member of (all founded in association with British-American banking interests and with ties to the old Chinese opium trade!) As for Senator Kohl, we see that Herbert Simon of Simon Property Group is a director of Kohl’s Corporation. SPG is notorious for working with municipal governments in seizing homeowners’ residences to expand shopping malls, a matter recently upheld by Supreme Court Justice David Souter, another Rhodes Scholar. Average persons should not be allowed to own land, just the baronial rich (communism/feudalism/New World Order).

Senator Schumer was on the staff of Rhode Island Senator Claiborne Pell in 1973, who helped the Silver Users Association and is related to John Howland Gibbs Pell of The Pilgrims, financier who was chairman of the Colonial Lords of Manors in the 1970’s, a hereditary organization whose roots trace to British collaborators in North America (to October 6, 1666 in his case!) British banking interests have actively worked against use of silver as money for many generations all over the world. By demonetizing silver money and installing a paper-spewing central bank, the British got control of many national economies.

Senator Leahy is on the board of visitors of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, where tremendous quantities of silver were once stored---now long since consumed by the Silver Users Association. Are the military personnel of this nation aware that due to lobbying by the Silver Users Association, we have no strategic silver reserve for high-tech military applications? Taxpayers are invariably fair-minded citizens and will expect those who caused the problem to answer for it--- scapegoats are not acceptable!

Senator Biden represents Delaware, a state tightly controlled by the Du Pont family of silver users, with a long history of connections to created paper money. Biden has been at a meeting of Bilderberg, political extension of The Pilgrims Society to bring transitory politicians into the sphere of influence. Central bankers are always in attendance at the blacked out and heavily guarded meetings, representing institutions that have leased silver and gold to suppress the price. Senator Brownback was on the staff (1990-1991) of Carla Hills, U.S. Trade Representative who helped export America's manufacturing base. The Trilateral Commission conducted most of that sabotage. Two members of The Pilgrims---David Rockefeller and his Harvard roommate, George S. Franklin Jr, founded it in 1973 and Carla Hills is a member.

Your Subcommittee on Antitrust oversees the Federal Trade Commission and more importantly, the Justice Department, where the Attorney General is supposed to bring antitrust actions against responsible parties when appropriate. How can the Justice Department, and your Subcommittee, perform your proper functions of enforcing the law, when you are under SO much influence from financial interests determined to forever destroy silver and gold as monetary metals? This presents the spectacle of a three-ring circus to the entire world. It's shocking that other nations are closer to free market trading conditions than the United States. Immediately after the twin towers collapsed in September 2001, banking interests rushed to pile on naked shorts in silver, when some 40 million ounces was temporarily buried under the rubble, none of it deliverable.

Gold has similarly been manipulated to unrealistic low levels in the insane drive to make fiat money absolute. The Gold Anti-Trust Action Committee features highly informed parties whom you should interview in public sessions www.gata.org

As for silver leasing or dumping, it has been taking place for generations before the Hunt silver bubble. Francis Brownell, chairman of American Smelting & Refining, in his article "The Silver Situation," that appeared in the Mining Congress Journal for September 1930, remarked (page 680) ---

"Governments pursue the policy of throwing silver upon the market whenever prices strengthen."

That statement was an uncanny parallel to Greenspan's infamous remark as to central banks standing ready to lease gold in increasing amounts should the price of gold rise! The time for these paper money supporting games is ending. In another desperation bid to save the fiat U.S. dollar, is the Bush administration planning to "nuke Iran" before March 2006, when a competing petroleum exchange is due to open there? Do they plan for oil to be traded in gold rather than in dollars? Our foreign and domestic policy will become healthy again only when the Council on Foreign Relations is no longer used as a staffing agency for the State Department, Treasury and many Federal agencies.

To you Senators we say, if you have a trace of conscience left after unfathomable associations with such Mephistophelean elements, save yourselves from the full wrath of the public by disassociating yourselves from the corrupt soft money bloc. Take appropriate action against continued attempts by central banks and the associated megabanks to depress precious metals prices. We have been living a full-blown delusion since 1971, that paper money by itself is wealth. Please take a prompt from your Mexican counterparts and if you believe in God, as you express varying religious affiliations, we warn you, do not go to your graves protecting corruption!

Mexican Congress member Martha Camarena says of silver---“we are going to have, once again, a money that is our own.” Another Mexican Congress member, Jose Gonzalez Garza, comments---“there is a dollar crisis coming, and we must be prepared; this silver coin can very well be the lifesaver for the Mexican economy.”

Gold and silver investors as well as taxpayers the world over are weary of flimsy sham fiat money that continually depreciates because it is bogus. Mexico is the focal point for monetary purification. A booklet called “The Silver Coin In Mexico” by Hugo Salinas-Price, leading businessman and organizer of the Mexican Civic Association for Silver, is being distributed through channels worldwide. It features the Mexican Congress members just quoted. Soon it will not matter that the American media refuses to cover the Mexican silver movement! The morally lifeless news networks will be pushed aside as paper money fails and real money returns. The so-called “Amero,” intended fiat currency for a North American Union of U.S., Canada and Mexico by 2010, is running into a terminal obstruction with any proposed silver remonetization!

“There are those countries in which teeming millions exist that know only silver as a basic money. Today, the people of India have raised the price of their silver, and are imploring that we send more silver to them. Today, in France, the masses of the people of France are praying---clamoring for silver. I will tell you why. Those governments have issued paper money, paper money, paper money, until the masses of the people of the subjugated countries have lost faith in controlled currency, because they know the printing press runs on forever, and they have gone through a period in their history when they could hold a bale of the paper in their hand, and couldn’t get a loaf of bread for it, but the fellow with a little piece of silver coin tucked away in his pocket could buy the necessities of life; and so the teeming millions of the world are asking for silver.”

Senators of the Subcommittee on Antitrust, the Mexican people are returning to silver money, and the banking interests you shill and marionette for cannot prevent it. Sufficient silver will be consumed in Mexico for domestic coinage that the supply of 1,000-ounce deliverable bars off the COMEX will contract. That added to mounting investment demand will break the back of the shorts and users. Will you commit political suicide by refusing to halt the naked short selling of silver in Manhattan? This thing is going to blow up!

When banking interests determined to exterminate silver and gold as money routinely sell short on paper far more silver than could possibly be represented by legitimate hedging, and antitrust officials take no action save rudely issued denial of the problem, or refusal to reply; when only one traded commodity has an industrial users association working to hold the price low, and encourages governments to dispose of the silver supposedly owned by the inhabitants of their respective nations at fire sale prices; when rights of mining companies and their shareholders are trampled upon; when all major media in America black out news of the Mexican silver initiative; when lives of military personnel are imperiled due to the industrial users lobby looting the silver reserve for stupid fripperies such as grossly overpriced jewelry; and when, in horrific escalation of the crass travesty, a Federal official who says he wants to work with the cartel, is elevated to the presidency of the exchange that oversees silver trading, the informed investors and concerned taxpayers of the United States, and the world, look on in stunned dismay at the monumental corruption and remind you Senators that in refusing to act to reign in the abusive practices, you are verifying that your refusal to follow the law is proof that your associations and the contributions you receive, are the reason why! As the COMEX silver scandal erupts, your constituents will hold you answerable for the criminality! We are truly thankful to not be in any of your shoes when that time of reckoning arrives. Liability for the financial savagery that takes place will be laid at the doorstep of every regulator who failed to act---yourselves, the CFTC, the Attorney General, the spooky

New York Attorney General and others.

The fix in on the silver price is the most fantastic situation in the history of ANY market. Many rich folks, members of "outer ring" organizations, must have received instructions long ago to not buy any silver, because a runaway silver price and widespread use of silver as money could spell the END of fiat currency. In sending numerous messages to active and retired military officers, I have yet to receive one response concerning the depletion of the U.S. military silver stockpile. Over 20 officials of the national headquarters of the Veterans of Foreign Wars declined a response, except one who was seething because I "shotgunned" my message to everyone there. It is a great infamy that military officials are more interested in covering up this scandal, than in acting to assure supply of strategic war material. Senator Leahy, take note! "Dereliction of duty" applies to all these military personalities! It is clear that the fix on the silver price extends to the military. Numerous members of the bankers Council on Foreign Relations are Generals, Admirals and Colonels. A few who move higher up become members of The Pilgrims---the "World Money Power," agents for the paper money mob.

To all concerned who read this open letter, please distribute it as far across the Internet as you can, in order that these Senators cannot dodge responsibility for allowing the COMEX naked silver shorting disgrace. On behalf of the sound money movement, Charles Savoie.
